Marin's Airport Gets U. S. Funds

Project To Start In Spring

Federal aid totaling $242,729 for reconstruction of the county airport at Novato has been allocated by the Federal Aviation Agency.

County Supervisor William A. Gnoss received notice of the allocation after returning yesterday from a trip to Washington, D.C.

The approval was a long time coming and not quite as much as asked, but Gnoss was elated. The airport improvement with realignment of the runway and room for hangars and aprons has long been one of Gnoss's pet projects.

54 PER CENT

Federal assistance to airports is on a 54 per cent basis. The county must pay 46 per cent of the cost.

The total project was estimated at $595,000 with the aviation agency asked for $321,000.

Gnoss, who met with Marshall Benedict, FAA chief administrator, reported the amount for Marin was reduced because of a cut in congressional appropriation from $72 million request to $61 million for projects throughout the country. However, United Press International reported from Washington that $72.5 million had been allocated nationwide.

FIRST PHASE

Asst. County Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson said the federal allocation will easily cover the first phase of the project, which includes land acquisition, runway, taxiway and apron construction, and earth fill on an area for future extension.

"We should be able to get started next spring," Knutson said.

As soon as there is written confirmation from FAA, land purchase agreements and closure of the airport lease with Harry O. Tollefson can be executed.

Supervisors have already agreed to pay $17,500 to terminate the lease prior to its 1970 expiration date, $126,955 for 49 acres and easements from the W. Q. Wright family, and $96,020 for 27 acres and easements from the Bodkin estate, all conditioned on approval from FAA.

CREDITS CLAUSEN

Gnoss, who went to Washington to attend a four-day conference of the National Assn. of Air Pollution Control Districts, said Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First District, should be credited for work he had done in informing the FAA of the proposal.

"I did not have to explain any of the plans," Gnoss said. "They were well informed."

There is $272,700 in the county budget for the local share of cost.

Consultants Fees Costing $232,166

By RICHARD LYTTLE

In three years, Marin County has spent or commited $232,166 for studies of various county problems by outside consultants.

The most recent consultant report came to the Marin County Transit District from New York consultants Coverdale and Colpitts with a $60,000 price tag.

That report's recommendations are pretty much the same as those made by Paul Fanning in an earlier $3,265 study for the transit district. In addition, the transit district board, made up of the five county supervisors and two city representatives, paid Arthur C. Jenkins $1,320.55 to do a preliminary survey and help select Coverdale and Colpitts.

Not all the money has come from Marin County taxpayers for these consultant reports. An economic development study by Stanford Research Institute, for instance, was supported with $18,800 in private subscriptions. The county coffers made up the balance of the $25,000 paid.

A sewer disposal study now being prepared by Brown and Caldwell of San Francisco for $73,000 is being supported by $8,000 from sewer districts which may benefit from the findings.

Sometimes the value of the studies has been questioned by supervisors themselves. That was the reason for getting a new transit study.

Officials would be hard-pressed to find value now in the two studies ordered on the courthouse sale problem. Supervisors authorized $5,000 for Stone and Youngberg to do a financial study and $4,600 for Marshall and Stevens to do a market study on the property.

Recommendations on the use of the land, including an underground parking lot and creation of a parking authority by the San Rafael city council, were still being debated when Harry H. Heifetz offered $900,000 for the property.

Supervisors agreed at once to go to bid for sale of the block. Such direct action was not included among the recommendations by consultants.

The toughest decisions usually gather the most reports. The long-debated county airport, for

Ex-Hoover Study Aide Appointed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan today named Gordon Paul Smith, 49, a management consulting firm executive, as his state finance director.

Smith, 49, West Los Angeles, is vice president in charge of the Los Angeles office of Booz Allen and Hamilton, a management consulting firm. He has been with the firm for 16 years.

The firm has done various studies on state government under contract—including a long report on the Department of Fish and Game nearly 10 years ago.

Smith's name had never been mentioned in speculation over possible appointments under the incoming administration for the $30,319-a-year post.

He will replace Hale Champion, a former newsman who has been finance director under Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Smith is a Republican. He took a leave of absence from the consulting firm in 1954 and 1955 to serve as a consultant to the federal Hoover Commission and has been responsible for all his company's work with state government.

Smith, a native of Salem, Mass., is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and received his master's degree in government management from the University of Denver. He did further work in public administration at New York University.

His background includes a period as special assistant to the president of Republic Aviation and three years with the Tax Foundation, a New York-based nonprofit foundation interested in economy and efficiency in government.

Home Building Up In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home building rebounded during November from its lowest level since World War II, the Commerce Department reported today, but still remained well below what the industry considers normal.

The department said new privately owned housing starts jumped 18.9 per cent during November, over the previous month, to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of one million units.

This compared with the revised October rate of 841,000 units, the lowest since World War II.

Although November's level was the lowest since December of 1946 — except for last October —the industry said it was "considerably heartened" by the rise and expressed hope the expected upturn in home building had arrived.

Atom Smasher Site Picked In Illinois

Closing out a competition that had involved dozens of communities across the nation seeking the gigantic enterprise, the Atomic Energy Commission announced the choice.

The 200 - billion - electron-volt proton accelerator is projected as the worlds' most powerful, designed to unravel many of the mysteries of the structure of matter.

Six sites to which the National Academy of Sciences had narrowed the choice have been under study by the commission since last March. One was near Sacramento.

"All six sites would have been suitable locations for this project," AEC Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg said. "Each proposal had many strong points, making the selection of one site an extremely difficult task. However, after weighing all factors the commission unanimously decided that the Weston site, which is near Chicago and also near the Argonne National Laboratory, is the most suitable location for this large project."

Although Congress has authorized and appropriated money for scientific studies of the project, construction has not yet been authorized.

The AEC said it will ask for $10 million in the budget for fiscal 1968, beginning next July 1, for initial design work. Funds for construction will be requested later.

Marin Mother Of 10, Widower To Marry

A 40-year-old divorcee, Mrs. Balaguy will be wed in the living room of her home at 1316 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley, to 54-year-old childless widower, James A. Crosby of 2208 Juniperberry Avenue, Lucas Valley.

Around 100 guests will watch as she makes her entrance on the arm of her son Gary,16, a Terra Linda High School student, who will give his mother in marriage.

"I feel very fortunate," said Mrs. Balaguy, who was divorced from her first husband two years ago. "James is the most considerate, most sincere, most affectionate, most tolerant man I've ever met.

"He's always wanted a family."

The Balaguy children, all wearing special wedding outfits, will line up in the living room for the ceremony. Gary is the oldest, then comes Helene, 14; Dennis, 12; Diane, 11; Karen, 9; Gregory, 8; Yvonne, 5; David, 4; Christopher, 3, and Daniel, 2.

The four oldest have each been allowed to invite a wedding guest. A babysitter has been engaged to watch the three youngest during the champagne reception after the ceremony.

Mrs.. Balaguy, who met her future husband when she worked in a local shop for a brief period, said she is a strict disciplinarian and has encountered no problems in raising ten children alone.

"But I think they need a man's companionship, the security that a man gives to a home.

Doesn't she think a childless man is brave to take on such a large ready-made family?

"Not only brave . . . what can I say? He's wonderful."

And that's what Jim Crosby's friends say.

He's employed in the service department at Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Corte Madera. His first wife died on Oct. 6. "We made a pact that if anything happened to either of us we'd remarry and have a family," said Crosby. "She'd be so pleased."

"I think it's one of the greatest things a man can do. You take a lady that has 10 children, that's pretty tough to get along."

Isn't he worried about taking on 10 children?

"I am a little nervous, but you ought to see those kids. They're all very well trained, and I'm not going to change that. Their mother did a wonderful job."

Caroling Is Canceled As Teachers Object

San Rafael High School's a capella choir was not allowed to sing Christmas carols at the school today because a group of "non-Christian" teachers objected, saying the singing of religious songs in a public school is illegal.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, hastily consulted by school authorities, agreed the carolling might be illegal.

Principal Allan S. Ellsberg said: "A group of teachers who do not believe in the Christian religion approached choir director Byron Jones and said the proposed carolling would not only be offensive to them, but would be illegal."

The choir and chorus, all high school students, had planned to march through the school corridors during the fourth period singing Christmas carols. The program was canceled.

"What's so ridiculous is that a Christmas concert was given in the school gymnasium last Thursday and the program included many carols," said Ellsberg. He did not know if the objecting teachers had been present at that concert.

The concert, incidentally, was tape recorded and will be heard over radio station KKHI at 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

Principal Ellsberg said he did not know which teachers entered the objection.

Jones refused to disclose the names, nor would he say how many. "It would be unethical," he said.

"It's the kids who were disappointed," he added. "The whole thing was their idea."

Instead of serenading their classmates, the 60 members of the choir rode in a bus to the Fifth Avenue Convalescent Hospital in San Rafael, where they sang carols to the patients.

Student Carolers Get Crowd In San Anselmo

Sixth graders of Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo caroled through the Hub City last evening in a street program that brought out throngs of adults and children.

Starting at United Market near the San Anselmo-San Rafael line, they made five stops as they headed west to wind up at the school. At each stop, as the carolers wound up their program with "Jingle Bells," a boy dressed as Santa alighted from a bus and passed out candy to children.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Kayo Hallinan Admitted To Bar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Terrence (Kayo) Hallinan was admitted to the State Bar yesterday when the State Supreme Court overruled a prior refusal of admission by the State Bar's committee of bar examiners.

Hallinan

Hallinan, 29, passed the bar examination in March 1965 but was refused admission because the examiners said his participation in antiwar and civil rights demonstrations showed a lack of respect for law and order.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere. Hallinan is a San Francisco attorney who was the Independent Progressive Party's candidate for President in 1952.

The Supreme Court's 6-1 decision cited that all demonstrations that Hallinan took part in were peaceful and that he explicitly renounced violent civil disobedience.

Justice Marshall F. McComb dissented, saying young Hallinan "acts on the belief that it is right to violate the law to achieve some ends believed by him to be socially and politically desirable."

Oklahoma Arrives

guided missile cruiser Oklahoma City has arrived in San Francisco Bay after 30 months of combat duty in Vietnam waters. The cruiser sailed through the Golden Gate at noon yesterday for a general overhaul and a long-awaited shore leave for her crew.

Trade Accord

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—The Rhodesian government has made a $5.6-million agreement to barter tobacco for French cotton piecegoods, reliable sources reported today. France abstained from the 10-0 U.N. Security Council vote in November 1965 that placed voluntary trade bans on tobacco and other Rhodesian commodities.

Plane Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's acquisition of a new antisubmarine warplane, first authorized three years ago, may be delayed until 1974. This was disclosed yesterday by Pentagon sources who said the Defense Department has ordered the Navy to take a further look at the billion-dollar program.

Longshoremen's Pie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A $13 million longshoreman's wage guarantee fund will be sliced up among 10,400 West Coast longshoremen and ship clerks with each worker getting about $1,200 extra in his Dec. 30 pay check.

No Ruby Hope

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Physicians have advanced no hope for curing Jack Ruby's cancer, said to be past the stage where surgery or radiation treatments could help. They said yesterday the 55-year-old slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald was resting comfortably, reading, and watching television.

Ike Progresses

Actress Divorces

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Movie actress and socialite Dina Merrill has obtained a divorce from Stanley M. Rumbaugh Jr. in Juarez, Mexico, according to reports from court officials in the neighboring city of El Paso.

Plans Travel

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno said today he will go abroad early next year, despite rising criticism against him at home, to attend a meeting of heads of states discussing Vietnam and ways to lessen world tension.

Job Injuries On Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An 8 per cent increase in job injuries has accompanied the sharp rise in employment in California this year, the state director of industrial relations said today.

There were 147,886 job injuries for the first nine months of this year, compared with 136,772 for the same period last year, said Director Ernest B. Webb.

He said there were 543 fatal accidents in the first nine months of 1966 compared to 548 during the same period of 1965.

Disney Eulogies Pour In

"He wasn't a boss to us. He was a friendly man who loved us and we loved him."

Eulogies poured in also from the famous after death came yesterday to the onetime Missouri farm boy whose creative genius delighted a troubled world.

The producer died 10 days after his 65th birthday and five and one-half weeks after a lung operation Nov. 7. An informed source told The Associated Press that the removed portion of the lung was cancerous and that the cancer had spread.

MICKEY MOUSE

In 40 years Disney's enterprises ranged from such screen delights as Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Snow White to the world-famous amusement park, Disneyland — with more projects ever in the works.

Fred MacMurray, star of six Disney films, said, "The joy he brought spanned the barriers of language, customs and nationality."

The empire will keep on growing, said Walt's older brother Roy, president and chairman of the board of Walt Disney Productions.

"Walt Disney's preparation for the future is a solid creative foundation," said Roy. "All the plans for the future that Walt had begun through motion pictures, the expansions of Disneyland, television production and our Florida and Mineral King projects will continue to move ahead."

PRIVATE SERVICES

Besides multimillion-dollar additions to Disneyland, the projects include a $100-million, 27,000-acre Disney World at Orlando, Fla., and a $35-million recreation facility at Mineral King in California's High Sierra.

Funeral services will be private. The family asked that in lieu of flowers contributions be made to the California Institute of the Arts, a college for studies in art and music. It is under construction on the Disney ranch in the San Fernando Valley.

Petty Theft Charge

Belvedere Police Officer William Brust booked Mrs. Christina Rae Black, 22, of 28 Circle Drive, Tiburon, into county jail on a petty theft charge after, he said, he observed her taking two potted plants from outside the Belvedere Safeway Store at 1:59 a.m. today.

DR. CARL COPPOLINO
Still in custody

Coppolino Acquitted In One Trial

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, acquitted of murder but still not free, was to return to his home state of Florida today to face yet another trial for his life.

Wracked with emotion, Coppolino, 34, was whisked from the Monmouth County Courthouse and returned to a jail cell yesterday after a jury found him innocent in the death of retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber.

Almost immediately, police authorities here made arrangements to fly the gaunt, dark-haired anesthesiologist to Sarasota, Fla., where he is expected to go on trial in February on a charge of murdering his first wife, Carmela.

A jury of 10 men and two women deliberated 4 hours and 27 minutes.

As the verdict was announced, Coppolino paled and was quickly given a nitroglycerine capsule which he takes when troubled by a heart condition.

The Coppolinos were married in October 1965, less than six weeks after Carmela Coppolino's sudden death of what was called a heart attack. Florida authorities charge that Coppolino killed her with a dose of anesthesia.

Coppolino was accused of strangling and smothering Farber, a Middletown, N.J., neighbor, with a pillow on July 30, 1963, as the colonel's wife, Marjorie, 52, watched in what she described as a hypnotic trance.

U.S. Owed $40 Billion In War Debts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The World War I debt owed to the United States by 17 nations jumped another $337 million in interest last fiscal year to more than $21 billion.

Only one country — Finland — even made any payments during that time.

Seventeen nations owe the sum almost 50 years after the "war to end all wars."

A new tabulation of World War I debt was prepared by the Treasury Department for the annual report of the secretary early next year. Officials made it available today on request.

It showed the total debt reached $21,028,604,481.26 as of last June 30. Interest accumulating during the fiscal year ending that date was $337,294,964.16.

The rest of the world owes Uncle Sam an additional $19 billion on World War II and post-war debts, not including interest.

If the total of about $40 billion were suddenly paid off, this country could reduce its own national debt from just under $330 billion to about $290 billion.

Three countries have paid off their World War I debts: Cuba, Liberia and Nicaragua. Of the remaining 17 only Finland is current in her payments.

Last fiscal year Finland paid off another $179,000 on outstanding principle and $174,352.50 in interest — a total of $353,252.50.

She still owes $4.9 million.

Payments on World War I debts, except from Finland, stopped after a one year moratorium was declared in 1932. The United States agreed in 1953 that no further payments need be made until final settlement of World War I reparations by Germany, a settlement nowhere in sight at this time with Germany divided.

Great Britain still owes the most on its World War I debt but also has paid more than any other country. Her debt as of June 30 was $9.6 billion. She has repaid about $2 billion on an original loan of $4.8 billion.

Venezuela Continues Sweep Of Castroites

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Deploying troops in the capital and the countryside, the Venezuelan government pressed a sweeping hunt for Castroite terrorists today.

The Defense Ministry said its forces killed Hugo Daniel Castillo, a tough, Havana-trained guerrilla leader known as "Comandante Behuma," 128 miles south of Caracas.

In the capital, army troops holding the campus of the Central University arrested the 15-man University Bureau of the Venezuelan Communist party. They rounded up 850 other suspects, including the party's youth leader Juvencio Pulgar, president of the University Federation of Student Centers.

Cubans Face Sparse Yule Minus Capitalistic St. Nick

Although there is no official position on the issue, Cuba's Communist regime softpedals the religious observance of Christmas.

Santa Claus is classified as a dirty capitalist and his memory is being erased from the minds of those who remember that he used to bring them gifts on Dec. 25.

The emphasis is on yearend fiestas and the Jan. 1 celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's assumption of power.

There will be a few toys, nuts and candy for children and some wine, rum and possibly an extra quota of meat and beans for their parents. But there are indications there will be less than the limited quantities available last year.

Ward Loses Try For New Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Max Ward, convicted of murder in the ambush slaying of Painters Union leader Dow Wilson, has been rejected in his bid for a new trial.

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington yesterday denied a new trial motion filed by Ward's attorney, Melvin Belli, who said prosecution evidence violated recent Supreme Court decisions against testimony by a co-defendant.

Elkington, however, granted Belli's motion that the start of Ward's life prison term be delayed until Jan. 4.

Marin's Airport Gets U. S. Funds

Project To Start In Spring

Federal aid totaling $242,729 for reconstruction of the county airport at Novato has been allocated by the Federal Aviation Agency.

County Supervisor William A. Gnoss received notice of the allocation after returning yesterday from a trip to Washington, D.C.

The approval was a long time coming and not quite as much as asked, but Gnoss was elated. The airport improvement with realignment of the runway and room for hangars and aprons has long been one of Gnoss's pet projects.

54 PER CENT

Federal assistance to airports is on a 54 per cent basis. The county must pay 46 per cent of the cost.

The total project was estimated at $595,000 with the aviation agency asked for $321,000.

Gnoss, who met with Marshall Benedict, FAA chief administrator, reported the amount for Marin was reduced because of a cut in congressional appropriation from $72 million request to $61 million for projects throughout the country. However, United Press International reported from Washington that $72.5 million had been allocated nationwide.

FIRST PHASE

Asst. County Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson said the federal allocation will easily cover the first phase of the project, which includes land acquisition, runway, taxiway and apron construction, and earth fill on an area for future extension.

"We should be able to get started next spring," Knutson said.

As soon as there is written confirmation from FAA, land purchase agreements and closure of the airport lease with Harry O. Tollefson can be executed.

Supervisors have already agreed to pay $17,500 to terminate the lease prior to its 1970 expiration date, $126,955 for 49 acres and easements from the W. Q. Wright family, and $96,020 for 27 acres and easements from the Bodkin estate, all conditioned on approval from FAA.

CREDITS CLAUSEN

Gnoss, who went to Washington to attend a four-day conference of the National Assn. of Air Pollution Control Districts, said Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First District, should be credited for work he had done in informing the FAA of the proposal.

"I did not have to explain any of the plans," Gnoss said. "They were well informed."

There is $272,700 in the county budget for the local share of cost.

Consultants Fees Costing $232,166

By RICHARD LYTTLE

In three years, Marin County has spent or commited $232,166 for studies of various county problems by outside consultants.

The most recent consultant report came to the Marin County Transit District from New York consultants Coverdale and Colpitts with a $60,000 price tag.

That report's recommendations are pretty much the same as those made by Paul Fanning in an earlier $3,265 study for the transit district. In addition, the transit district board, made up of the five county supervisors and two city representatives, paid Arthur C. Jenkins $1,320.55 to do a preliminary survey and help select Coverdale and Colpitts.

Not all the money has come from Marin County taxpayers for these consultant reports. An economic development study by Stanford Research Institute, for instance, was supported with $18,800 in private subscriptions. The county coffers made up the balance of the $25,000 paid.

A sewer disposal study now being prepared by Brown and Caldwell of San Francisco for $73,000 is being supported by $8,000 from sewer districts which may benefit from the findings.

Sometimes the value of the studies has been questioned by supervisors themselves. That was the reason for getting a new transit study.

Officials would be hard-pressed to find value now in the two studies ordered on the courthouse sale problem. Supervisors authorized $5,000 for Stone and Youngberg to do a financial study and $4,600 for Marshall and Stevens to do a market study on the property.

Recommendations on the use of the land, including an underground parking lot and creation of a parking authority by the San Rafael city council, were still being debated when Harry H. Heifetz offered $900,000 for the property.

Supervisors agreed at once to go to bid for sale of the block. Such direct action was not included among the recommendations by consultants.

The toughest decisions usually gather the most reports. The long-debated county airport, for

Ex-Hoover Study Aide Appointed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan today named Gordon Paul Smith, 49, a management consulting firm executive, as his state finance director.

Smith, 49, West Los Angeles, is vice president in charge of the Los Angeles office of Booz Allen and Hamilton, a management consulting firm. He has been with the firm for 16 years.

The firm has done various studies on state government under contract—including a long report on the Department of Fish and Game nearly 10 years ago.

Smith's name had never been mentioned in speculation over possible appointments under the incoming administration for the $30,319-a-year post.

He will replace Hale Champion, a former newsman who has been finance director under Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Smith is a Republican. He took a leave of absence from the consulting firm in 1954 and 1955 to serve as a consultant to the federal Hoover Commission and has been responsible for all his company's work with state government.

Smith, a native of Salem, Mass., is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and received his master's degree in government management from the University of Denver. He did further work in public administration at New York University.

His background includes a period as special assistant to the president of Republic Aviation and three years with the Tax Foundation, a New York-based nonprofit foundation interested in economy and efficiency in government.

Home Building Up In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home building rebounded during November from its lowest level since World War II, the Commerce Department reported today, but still remained well below what the industry considers normal.

The department said new privately owned housing starts jumped 18.9 per cent during November, over the previous month, to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of one million units.

This compared with the revised October rate of 841,000 units, the lowest since World War II.

Although November's level was the lowest since December of 1946 — except for last October —the industry said it was "considerably heartened" by the rise and expressed hope the expected upturn in home building had arrived.

Atom Smasher Site Picked In Illinois

Closing out a competition that had involved dozens of communities across the nation seeking the gigantic enterprise, the Atomic Energy Commission announced the choice.

The 200 - billion - electron-volt proton accelerator is projected as the worlds' most powerful, designed to unravel many of the mysteries of the structure of matter.

Six sites to which the National Academy of Sciences had narrowed the choice have been under study by the commission since last March. One was near Sacramento.

"All six sites would have been suitable locations for this project," AEC Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg said. "Each proposal had many strong points, making the selection of one site an extremely difficult task. However, after weighing all factors the commission unanimously decided that the Weston site, which is near Chicago and also near the Argonne National Laboratory, is the most suitable location for this large project."

Although Congress has authorized and appropriated money for scientific studies of the project, construction has not yet been authorized.

The AEC said it will ask for $10 million in the budget for fiscal 1968, beginning next July 1, for initial design work. Funds for construction will be requested later.

Marin Mother Of 10, Widower To Marry

A 40-year-old divorcee, Mrs. Balaguy will be wed in the living room of her home at 1316 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley, to 54-year-old childless widower, James A. Crosby of 2208 Juniperberry Avenue, Lucas Valley.

Around 100 guests will watch as she makes her entrance on the arm of her son Gary,16, a Terra Linda High School student, who will give his mother in marriage.

"I feel very fortunate," said Mrs. Balaguy, who was divorced from her first husband two years ago. "James is the most considerate, most sincere, most affectionate, most tolerant man I've ever met.

"He's always wanted a family."

The Balaguy children, all wearing special wedding outfits, will line up in the living room for the ceremony. Gary is the oldest, then comes Helene, 14; Dennis, 12; Diane, 11; Karen, 9; Gregory, 8; Yvonne, 5; David, 4; Christopher, 3, and Daniel, 2.

The four oldest have each been allowed to invite a wedding guest. A babysitter has been engaged to watch the three youngest during the champagne reception after the ceremony.

Mrs.. Balaguy, who met her future husband when she worked in a local shop for a brief period, said she is a strict disciplinarian and has encountered no problems in raising ten children alone.

"But I think they need a man's companionship, the security that a man gives to a home.

Doesn't she think a childless man is brave to take on such a large ready-made family?

"Not only brave . . . what can I say? He's wonderful."

And that's what Jim Crosby's friends say.

He's employed in the service department at Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Corte Madera. His first wife died on Oct. 6. "We made a pact that if anything happened to either of us we'd remarry and have a family," said Crosby. "She'd be so pleased."

"I think it's one of the greatest things a man can do. You take a lady that has 10 children, that's pretty tough to get along."

Isn't he worried about taking on 10 children?

"I am a little nervous, but you ought to see those kids. They're all very well trained, and I'm not going to change that. Their mother did a wonderful job."

Caroling Is Canceled As Teachers Object

San Rafael High School's a capella choir was not allowed to sing Christmas carols at the school today because a group of "non-Christian" teachers objected, saying the singing of religious songs in a public school is illegal.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, hastily consulted by school authorities, agreed the carolling might be illegal.

Principal Allan S. Ellsberg said; "A group of teachers who do not believe in the Christian religion approached choir director Byron Jones and said the proposed carolling would not only be offensive to them, but would be illegal."

The choir and chorus, all high school students, had planned to march through the school corridors during the fourth period singing Christmas carols. The program was canceled.

"What's so ridiculous is that a Christmas concert was given in the school gymnasium last Thursday and the program included many carols," said Ellsberg. He did not know if the objecting teachers had been present at that concert.

The concert, incidentally, was tape recorded and will be heard over radio station KKHI at 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

Principal Ellsberg said he did not know which teachers entered the objection.

Jones refused to disclose the names, nor would he say how many. "It would be unethical," he said.

"It's the kids who were disappointed," he added. "The whole thing was their idea."

Instead of serenading their classmates, the 60 members of the choir rode in a bus to the Fifth Avenue Convalescent Hospital in San Rafael, where they sang carols to the patients.

Student Carolers Get Crowd In San Anselmo

Sixth graders of Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo caroled through the Hub City last evening in a street program that brought out throngs of adults and children.

Starting at United Market near the San Anselmo-San Rafael line, they made five stops as they headed west to wind up at the school. At each stop, as the carolers wound up their program with "Jingle Bells," a boy dressed as Santa alighted from a bus and passed out candy to children.

MAIL WENT THROUGH, BUT TRUCKS CRASHED

The overturned van was southbound on Highway 101 at Olive Avenue, Novato, at 4:45 p.m. yesterday when it collided with a mail delivery truck crossing the highway after stopping in the center island. Leroy Sloan Reynolds, 44, of Petaluma, the van driver, was reported in good condition today in Novato General Hospital with head cuts. California Highway Patrol reported the mail truck was driven by Anthony James Garcia of 1 Betty Lane, Novato. Patrolman Paul Robin of Novato police assisted Reynolds before highway patrol arrived. Jackie Wins Round In Book Argument

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy obtained a show cause order in state Supreme Court today as a first step in blocking publication of a book containing her own emotionally colored account of her husband's assassination.

Justice Saul S. Streit signed an order returnable Dec. 27 ordering William Manchester, the Kennedy family's hand-picked historian, publisher Harper and Row, and Cowles Publications to submit briefs as to why a temporary injunction should not be issued barring publication of "Death of a President."

Look magazine, a Cowles publication, plans to begin a four-part serialization of Manchester's book starting Jan. 10 and the first of the series is already being printed. Harper and Row have announced an April publication date for the hard-cover edition.

Attorney Edward Costikyan, former Manhattan Democratic leader, represented Mrs. Kennedy in petitioning for a show cause order. The former First Lady did not ask for a stay, which would have affected publication immediately, nor did Streit grant one.

Mrs. Kennedy based her suit on the contention that Manchester broke a contract—actually a signed memorandum—with her and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy giving them the right of final approval of his manuscript before it was published. She objected to Manchester's extensive use of material of a sensitive, personal nature she gave him in a 10-hour taped interview.

In her own words, she found Manchester's use of the material "in part both tasteless and distorted" and "premature". She particularly objected to having "all the private grief, personal thoughts and painful reactions" of herself and her children "exposed to all the world at this time."

Bennett Cerf, the publisher and television panelist, said yesterday that Mrs. Kennedy is sensitive to a passage describing Lyndon B. Johnson's taking over the presidential plane after Kennedy was shot in Dallas.

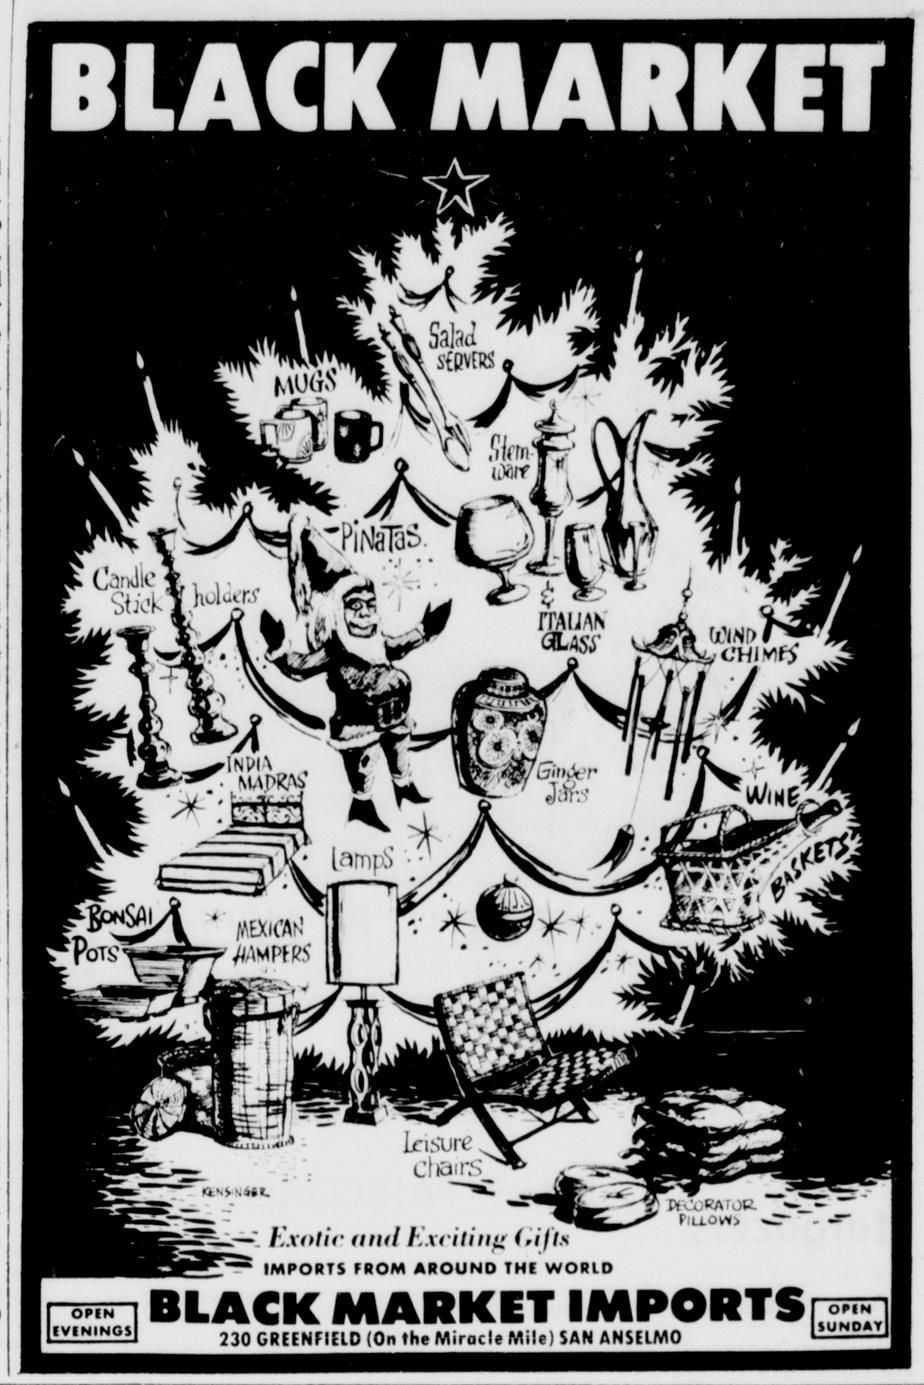
Cerf said the book relates that the presidential jet—Air Force One—and the vice presidential jet were at Love Field in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. The planes were identical—except for "the football," a bag containing information regarding procedures in case of nuclear attack.

The book, according to Cerf, says the Kennedys were "shocked and infuriated" when they returned to Air Force One with Kennedy's coffin and found Johnson occupying the presidential jet.

All-Points Bulletin For Missing Boy

Sausalito police have issued an all-points bulletin for 16-year-old Raymond L. Roy of 12 Josephine Street, Sausalito, who reportedly ran away from home Wednesday night and has not been seen since.

The boy is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 170 pounds, He has brown hair and brown eyes.



Assemblyman's Ex-Wife Denied More Alimony

Visiting Judge Thomas Kongsgaard in Marin Superior Court yesterday denied a request by the ex-wife of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, for more alimony and child support.

Judge Kongsgaard, of Napa Superior Court, ruled, however, that Mrs. Doris L. Bagley is entitled to $616 which Bagley maintained he deducted from his alimony payments because he spent it on the three children, and to $1,000 in attorney's fees.

He also ordered Bagley to increase insurance of Mrs. Bagley's home at 592 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, from $15,000 to $30,000, and ruled she may keep a piano, bedroom set, glassware, and a rocking chair which Bagley contended were his personal property obtained from his mother.

Under terms of their April 8, 1965, divorce agreement, Mrs. Bagley received $125 monthly alimony, plus 30 per cent of any money Bagley earns in excess of $18,000 a year.

Man Treated For Accidental Shot

George Walter Hamm, of Halleck Creek Road, Nicasio, was treated at Marin General Hospital after accidentally shooting himself Wednesday in the left side with his new .32 caliber Beretti pistol, sheriff's deputies said today.

They said Hamm and Randolph LaFranchi, 17, were in the back yard of the LaFranchi Ranch near Nicasio and Hamm was ramming the bullet clip into the gun's handle when the weapon discharged.

Marinwood Asks Lawsuit On Faulty Pool Decking

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night agreed to ask the county counsel's office to file suit against Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa for $1,027 the district has spent repairing the cement deck around the swimming pool.

The deck was completed with too smooth a surface, directors said. A new surface had to be laid on.

District secretary Genevieve Bolding reported the board authorized increase in employee contribution toward life and medical insurance from $7.50 to $8.42 a month, due to change in premium. The district contribution will remain at $25 a month.

Directors authorized 60 per cent pay for gardener David Williams who has used up both vacation time and sick leave and is not expected back o the job until Feb. 1.

Boys Discover Stolen Marker

WATSONVILLE (UPI)— Two teen- age boys walking along Manriesa Beach yesterday stumbled across a placque stolen last Saturday night from near Highway 1.

The placque was dedicated last summer by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who formally opened Highway 1 as the first U.S. scenic highway.

It disappeared from the Bixby Creek area south of Carmel and was missing until James 17, La Selva Beach, and Dennis Hickman, 16, Watsonville, stumbled on it buried in the sand.

They turned it over to police, who reported that it was in damaged condition.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Kayo Hallinan Admitted To Bar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Terrence (Kayo) Hallinan was admitted to the State Bar yesterday when the State Supreme Court overruled a prior refusal of admission by the State Bar's committee of bar examiners.

Hallinan

Hallinan, 29, passed the bar examination in March 1965 but was refused admission because the examiners said his participation in antiwar and civil rights demonstrations showed a lack of respect for law and order.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere. Hallinan is a San Francisco attorney who was the Independent Progressive Party's candidate for President in 1952.

The Supreme Court's 6-1 decision cited that all demonstrations that Hallinan took part in were peaceful and that he explicitly renounced violent civil disobedience.

Justice Marshall F. McComb dissented, saying young Hallinan "acts on the belief that it is right to violate the law to achieve some ends believed by him to be socially and politically desirable."

Oklahoma Arrives

guided missile cruiser Oklahoma City has arrived in San Francisco Bay after 30 months of combat duty in Vietnam waters. The cruiser sailed through the Golden Gate at noon yesterday for a general overhaul and a long-awaited shore leave for her crew.

Trade Accord

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—The Rhodesian government has made a $5.6-million agreement to barter tobacco for French cotton piecegoods, reliable sources reported today. France abstained from the 10-0 U.N. Security Council vote in November 1965 that placed voluntary trade bans on tobacco and other Rhodesian commodities.

Plane Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's acquisition of a new antisubmarine warplane, first authorized three years ago, may be delayed until 1974. This was disclosed yesterday by Pentagon sources who said the Defense Department has ordered the Navy to take a further look at the billion-dollar program.

Longshoremen's Pie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A $13 million longshoreman's wage guarantee fund will be sliced up among 10,400 West Coast longshoremen and ship clerks with each worker getting about $1,200 extra in his Dec. 30 pay check.

No Ruby Hope

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Physicians have advanced no hope for curing Jack Ruby's cancer, said to be past the stage where surgery or radiation treatments could help. They said yesterday the 55-year-old slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald was resting comfortably, reading, and watching television.

Ike Progresses

Actress Divorces

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Movie actress and socialite Dina Merrill has obtained a divorce from Stanley M. Rumbaugh Jr. in Juarez, Mexico, according to reports from court officials in the neighboring city of El Paso.

Plans Travel

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno said today he will go abroad early next year, despite rising criticism against him at home, to attend a meeting of heads of states discussing Vietnam and ways to lessen world tension.

Job Injuries On Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An 8 per cent increase in job injuries has accompanied the sharp rise in employment in California this year, the state director of industrial relations said today.

There were 147,886 job injuries for the first nine months of this year, compared with 136,772 for the same period last year, said Director Ernest B. Webb.

He said there were 543 fatal accidents in the first nine months of 1966 compared to 548 during the same period of 1965.

Disney Eulogies Pour In

"He wasn't a boss to us. He was a friendly man who loved us and we loved him."

Eulogies poured in also from the famous after death came yesterday to the onetime Missouri farm boy whose creative genius delighted a troubled world.

The producer died 10 days after his 65th birthday and five and one-half weeks after a lung operation Nov. 7. An informed source told The Associated Press that the removed portion of the lung was cancerous and that the cancer had spread.

MICKEY MOUSE

In 40 years Disney's enterprises ranged from such screen delights as Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Snow White to the world-famous amusement park, Disneyland — with more projects ever in the works.

Fred MacMurray, star of six Disney films, said, "The joy he brought spanned the barriers of language, customs and nationality."

The empire will keep on growing, said Walt's older brother Roy, president and chairman of the board of Walt Disney Productions.

"Walt Disney's preparation for the future is a solid creative foundation," said Roy. "All the plans for the future that Walt had begun through motion pictures, the expansions of Disneyland, television production and our Florida and Mineral King projects will continue to move ahead."

PRIVATE SERVICES

Besides multimillion-dollar additions to Disneyland, the projects include a $100-million, 27,000-acre Disney World at Orlando, Fla., and a $35-million recreation facility at Mineral King in California's High Sierra.

Funeral services will be private. The family asked that in lieu of flowers contributions be made to the California Institute of the Arts, a college for studies in art and music. It is under construction on the Disney ranch in the San Fernando Valley.

Petty Theft Charge

Belvedere Police Officer William Brust booked Mrs. Christina Rae Black, 22, of 28 Circle Drive, Tiburon, into county jail on a petty theft charge after, he said, he observed her taking two potted plants from outside the Belvedere Safeway Store at 1:59 a.m. today.

DR. CARL COPPOLINO
Still in custody

Coppolino Acquitted In One Trial

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, acquitted of murder but still not free, was to return to his home state of Florida today to face yet another trial for his life.

Wracked with emotion, Coppolino, 34, was whisked from the Monmouth County Courthouse and returned to a jail cell yesterday after a jury found him innocent in the death of retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber.

Almost immediately, police authorities here made arrangements to fly the gaunt, dark-haired anesthesiologist to Sarasota, Fla., where he is expected to go on trial in February on a charge of murdering his first wife, Carmela.

A jury of 10 men and two women deliberated 4 hours and 27 minutes.

As the verdict was announced, Coppolino paled and was quickly given a nitroglycerine capsule which he takes when troubled by a heart condition.

The Coppolinos were married in October 1965, less than six weeks after Carmela Coppolino's sudden death of what was called a heart attack. Florida authorities charge that Coppolino killed her with a dose of anesthesia.

Coppolino was accused of strangling and smothering Farber, a Middletown, N.J., neighbor, with a pillow on July 30, 1963, as the colonel's wife, Marjorie, 52, watched in what she described as a hypnotic trance.

U.S. Owed $40 Billion In War Debts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The World War I debt owed to the United States by 17 nations jumped another $337 million in interest last fiscal year to more than $21 billion.

Only one country — Finland — even made any payments during that time.

Seventeen nations owe the sum almost 50 years after the "war to end all wars."

A new tabulation of World War I debt was prepared by the Treasury Department for the annual report of the secretary early next year. Officials made it available today on request.

It showed the total debt reached $21,028,604,481.26 as of last June 30. Interest accumulating during the fiscal year ending that date was $337,294,964.16.

The rest of the world owes Uncle Sam an additional $19 billion on World War II and post-war debts, not including interest.

If the total of about $40 billion were suddenly paid off, this country could reduce its own national debt from just under $330 billion to about $290 billion.

Three countries have paid off their World War I debts: Cuba, Liberia and Nicaragua. Of the remaining 17 only Finland is current in her payments.

Last fiscal year Finland paid off another $179,000 on outstanding principle and $174,352.50 in interest — a total of $353,252.50.

She still owes $4.9 million.

Payments on World War I debts, except from Finland, stopped after a one year moratorium was declared in 1932. The United States agreed in 1953 that no further payments need be made until final settlement of World War I reparations by Germany, a settlement nowhere in sight at this time with Germany divided.

Great Britain still owes the most on its World War I debt but also has paid more than any other country. Her debt as of June 30 was $9.6 billion. She has repaid about $2 billion on an original loan of $4.8 billion.

Venezuela Continues Sweep Of Castroites

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Deploying troops in the capital and the countryside, the Venezuelan government pressed a sweeping hunt for Castroite terrorists today.

The Defense Ministry said its forces killed Hugo Daniel Castillo, a tough, Havana-trained guerrilla leader known as "Comandante Behuma," 128 miles south of Caracas.

In the capital, army troops holding the campus of the Central University arrested the 15-man University Bureau of the Venezuelan Communist party. They rounded up 850 other suspects, including the party's youth leader Juvencio Pulgar, president of the University Federation of Student Centers.

Cubans Face Sparse Yule Minus Capitalistic St. Nick

Although there is no official position on the issue, Cuba's Communist regime softpedals the religious observance of Christmas.

Santa Claus is classified as a dirty capitalist and his memory is being erased from the minds of those who remember that he used to bring them gifts on Dec. 25.

The emphasis is on yearend fiestas and the Jan. 1 celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's assumption of power.

There will be a few toys, nuts and candy for children and some wine, rum and possibly an extra quota of meat and beans for their parents. But there are indications there will be less than the limited quantities available last year.

Ward Loses Try For New Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Max Ward, convicted of murder in the ambush slaying of Painters Union leader Dow Wilson, has been rejected in his bid for a new trial.

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington yesterday denied a new trial motion filed by Ward's attorney, Melvin Belli, who said prosecution evidence violated recent Supreme Court decisions against testimony by a co-defendant.

Elkington, however, granted Belli's motion that the start of Ward's life prison term be delayed until Jan. 4.

Four million skiers — three times more than 20 years ago — glide down hills and mountains from Maine to Hawaii. The number increases at 20 per cent a year.

Next Year Is On For Stargazers

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 10 times during the next year, the earth will sweep through the space debris orbiting the sun, and the count of shooting stars will climb. Not all the meteor showers will be spectacular, however. They certainly won't match the splendor of the recent Leonids. But for the star watchers, they can be high-point of the year.

The Geminid meteors, visible at the rate of some 43 an hour on the morning of Dec. 13 when they will be at the peak of their six-day display, are one of the year's two most reliable showers.

The Geminids rank with the August Perseids as the best of the regular annual events for amateur meteor observers to count or photograph. This year moonlight will not interfere with the Geminids, as it will in 1967.

Although the 1967 Leonid meteor display in mid-November is not expected to match the brilliant spectacle of the shower seen from the southwest last month, which peaked at 40 per second, it should still be above the average Leonid strength of 18 per hour.

One of the lesser meteor showers, the Ursids, will provide about eight "shooting stars" an hour on the night of Dec. 22-23, but observations will be hampered until two in the morning.

Meteors are visible on any night of the year at the rate of about seven an hour not associated with any recognized shower. At certain times of the year, the earth encounters large numbers of meteors all moving together along the same orbit.

The most important of the 1967 meteor showers, besides those mentioned above, include the Quadrantids on Jan. 3, at a rate of 33 per hour; the Perseids on Aug. 12, at a rate of 43 per hour, and the 1967 Geminids.

Other meteor showers are the Lyrids on April 22, 8 per hour; the Aquarids on May 5 and July 29, 13 per hour; the Orionids on Oct. 21, 18 per hour; the Taurids on Nov. 5 at 8 per hour; and the 1967 Ursids.

Nothing Taken In Post Office Burglary

Point Reyes Station Postmaster George M. Gallagher has reported nothing was taken in a burglary of the post office Tuesday night, according to sheriff's deputies.

The intruders forced a window, attempted to open a floor safe, then broke into three cabinets. It was not known a first if any loot was taken from the cabinets.

Standards Committee Eyes Misconduct

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The newly created and soon-to-expire House Select Committee on Standards and Conduct has been wrestling with crucial problems that bear importantly on its continued existence.

One problem is whether it wants to dig into allegations of congressional misconduct that occurred prior to the committee's formation on October 19.

If past ethical violations by House members or employees are to be examined, how far back should they go? Should there be, in other words, a statute of limitations on ethical conduct?

Also bothering the committee, as it tries to find a compromise between the degree of self-policing the House will tolerate and the minimum power necessary for effectiveness, is whether it should attempt to define "standards of conduct" itself.

The prevailing opinion on the 12-member bipartisan panel, which held its first meeting in late November, was that it should only seek to enforce standards that have been specifically defined by the House.

That, argue those House members who want rigid enforcement, means the committee will limit itself to the precious few taboos that are a part of the House rules, such as a prohibition against a member's taking a "kickback" from an employee or using his franking privilege for personal mail.

It leaves the members free to engage in other questionable activities that have not been specifically prohibited.

"Under that interpretation," commented a committee observer, "the committee could not criticize the conduct of a house member who kept a prostitute on his payroll because that isn't specifically prohibited."

"If the House came out against prostitutes on the payroll," he added, continuing with the hypothetical example, "the committee could investigate any charges brought by another House member."

As currently established, the committee has no investigative powers whatever. It was created by a reluctant House in the waning hours of the 89th Congress, empowered only to conduct a study into the question of House ethics enforcement and to report back to the whole House at the beginning of the next Congress in January. The committee ceases to exist when the 90th Congress convenes.

Organizers of the ethics committee, headed by Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., have used this period between congressional sessions not to study recommendations for changes in existing law, but to lay groundwork for keeping the panel alive permanently.

The committee approved a report to Speaker John W. McCormack that asks for re-establishing the committee next year and giving it the investigative authority it now lacks. In return, the panel promised that any proposed censure of House members would go before the whole House for approval.

Committee members want to get the panel off on footing at least as solid as that of its Senate counterpart—the Senate Committee on Ethics and Conduct—which was established as an outgrowth of the Bobby Baker affair in 1964.

instance, has had three studies in the last three years. One by Leigh Fisher Assn., Inc., cost $3,200. Another by Coppel and Foreaker cost $6,000, and the most recent, by J. G. Percy, cost $834.

News that the federal aviation agency had approved plans and allocation for the county airport was received today.

Data processing, a recent innovation in county government, is now starting to come under the eye of well-paid outside consultants. Supervisors recently ordered a $15,400 study by Information Systems Design, Inc., to figure out the best was to process the schools' payrolls through the computer.

The board of supervisors has also authorized $12,000 for a study of data processing management. The firm has not yet been engaged for this study.

Other complete studies include $1,500 for Mund McLaren Co. to study insurance policies, $4,500 for Stone and Youngberg for advice in selling bonds for the Hall of Justice, $600 for Arthur D. Little on vaocational training.

Another pending study is that ordered from Griffenhagen and Kroeger at $7,500 for review of pay and classification of county clerical employees.

Free Movie Party Slated Tomorrow

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce will host a free movie party, with an appearance by Santa Claus, for children at the Marin Theater in Sausalito at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Tickets have been distributed in the city's schools this week and children will be given tickets at the doors tomorrow as long as space is available, the chamber said.

Postmark Keeps Town Busy Now

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press

The last of the Thanksgiving turkey has hardly been finished when everyone in a very special town in Indiana gets ready for an avalanche of mail.

All the excitement in the ordinarily quiet, one-street town centers at the post office.

That's where mail from all over the United States gets a very sought after postmark: Santa Claus.

At the start of the Yuletide season, the mail traffic really escalates. To the second class post office in this community of 80 population, there arrives several hundred thousand parcels and at least one million other pieces of mail.

All have the same request:

Please remail the packages and letters so they have the Santa Claus, Ind., postmark.

Santa Claus, a branch of Carpenteria, Santa Barbara County, also is popular.

There is a small post office at North Pole and when the Christmas season arrives it handles about 300,000 pieces of mail to be sent to addresses in every state of the union.

Another Christmas season favorite is Noel, in Missouri. The post office says that it remails as many as 50,000 pieces of mail during the days before the holiday arrives.

There are other postmarks having Christmas themes, as the accompanying map indicates.

At least nine cities have taken the name of the birthplace of Jesus — Bethlehem.

Bethany, the ancient Palestinian community where Jesus's disciples witnessed the Ascension, is the name of at least eight communities.

And Bethel, the biblical community where Jacob had his vision, is the name of at least 13 American places.

Connecticut is the only state with all three.

Nazareth, sacred in Christian tradition as the residence of the Holy Family, is the name of at least three communities — one each in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Texas.

There's a Faith in North Carolina and a Hope in New Jersey, but there doesn't seem to be Charity among the postmarks.

Other communities have names suggesting the Christmas atmosphere — from Snow Ball in Arkansas to Evergreen in Alabama to Holly in Colorado.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Check Covenant Restrictions

Sam and his wife bought a hillside lot. Under the deed, they would have to build a house of at least 1,900 square feet and not have more than one floor "above the ground." Besides, a committee had to approve each house plan.

Sam planned a split-level house with several levels to follow the contours of his sloping lot. The committee said no.

Thinking the committee wrong, Sam went ahead anyhow.

The committee sued to stop Sam, but Sam won.

How could that be? The court said that "restrictive provisions in a deed are strictly construed against the person trying to enforce them." In short, where there is doubt about the terms of the covenant, the law favors the owner's fullest use of his property.

The court looked into the purpose of the restrictions. It was to preserve the views of the uphill owners. When the deed said there could be no more than one floor above ground level, it did not say "how high" the "stories" could be. It did not say what was the "ground floor." Besides, the way that Sam was building his house the other owners actually had a better view than if he had one big floor above street level.

When buying any property, the buyer should examine the deed and the zoning laws for restrictions. Some restrictions may end after a time or be binding only for the first buyer. Others may be amended only by majority vote of the other buyers in the tract.

Even with a written restriction on the use of property, a court may refuse to enforce it as "oppressive" or "inequitable," as when the neighborhood has changed or when the complainants have themselves violated the restrictions.

Assume there is a restriction to single family dwellings. But after some years, many owners have converted their homes into flats or multiple units. Apartments are being built nearby. In this case the court may well say that the restriction no longer applies. The character of the surrounding properties has changed.

A warning: Although you may win out in court, it might be better to read the covenant carefully and seek legal advice — before you close the deal.

Rusk Appeals For Viet Aid

PARIS (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has appealed again to the NATO nations for additional aid for South Vietnam, it was disclosed today. A spokesman said several Atlantic Allies asked what aid was needed but did not actually promise any.

A U.S. spokesman said Rusk made the new appeal to the NATO Council of Ministers Thursday. He made the disclosure as the council neared the end of what almost certainly will be its last session in France.

The United States already had won its battle to move the NATO political headquarters to Brussels as soon as a new temporary building can be built there.

Exit From Farms

LINDSAY (UPI) — More than 58,000 California farmers have left the farm in the past 10 years, leaving 86,000 to till the state's soil, according to J. J. Miller of the California Agricultural Producers' Labor Committee.

be the principal installation of a National Accelerator Laboratory planned eventually to employ about 2,000 persons.

Preliminary estimates based on a design by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, put construction costs at $300 million, plus $57 million for research equipment and a bubble chamber.

"Current intentions," the AEC said, "are to proceed at a somewhat reduced scope with potential for expansion at a later date. This approach would significantly reduce the initial cost of the project."

The AEC described the projected 200-BEV machine as "the biggest and most complex instrument ever built for fundamental scientific research, which will lead to a deeper understanding of the basic forces that govern the universe."

The main ring of the accelerator will have a diameter of one mile and completion of construction is planned within eight years.

In all, 45 states — all except Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware, Vermont and New Hampshire — entered the original competition. And even New Hampshire teamed with Maine in a joint proposal for location of the machine in the latter state near the New Hampshire border.

The competition throughout was keen, and Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee and a persistent critic of the selection process, referred to the race as "The 200-BEV Bonanza—the government's biggest free offer to all comers since opening of the Cherokee Strip to the homesteaders in 1893."

The accelerator, besides taking rank as the world's most powerful device in the atom-smasher field, is projected as the most costly scientific installation ever built.

Scientists say it may eventually yield a rich practical payoff in new knowledge — in a range from helping develop new sources of energy to new advances in medicine and even weather control.

Jackie Wins Round In Book Argument

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy obtained a show cause order in state Supreme Court today as a first step in blocking publication of a book containing her own emotionally colored account of her husband's assassination.

Justice Saul S. Streit signed an order returnable Dec. 27 ordering William Manchester, the Kennedy family's handpicked historian, publisher Harper and Row, and Cowles Publications to submit briefs as to why a temporary injunction should not be issued barring publication of "Death of a President."

Look magazine, a Cowles publication, plans to begin a four-part serialization of Manchester's book starting Jan. 10 and the first of the series is already being printed. Harper and Row have announced an April publication date for the hard-cover edition.

Attorney Edward Costikyan, former Manhattan Democratic leader, represented Mrs. Kennedy in petitioning for a show cause order. The former First Lady did not ask for a stay, which would have affected publication immediately, nor did Streit grant one.

Mrs. Kennedy based her suit on the contention that Manchester broke a contract—actually a signed memorandum—with her and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy giving them the right of final approval of his manuscript before it was published. She objected to Manchester's extensive use of material of a sensitive, personal nature she gave him in a 10-hour taped interview.

In her own words, she found Manchester's use of the material "in part both tasteless and distorted" and "premature". She particularly objected to having "all the private grief, personal thoughts and painful reactions" of herself and her children "exposed to all the world at this time."

Bennett Cerf, the publisher and television panelist, said yesterday that Mrs. Kennedy is sensitive to a passage describing Lyndon B. Johnson's taking over the presidential plane after Kennedy was shot in Dallas.

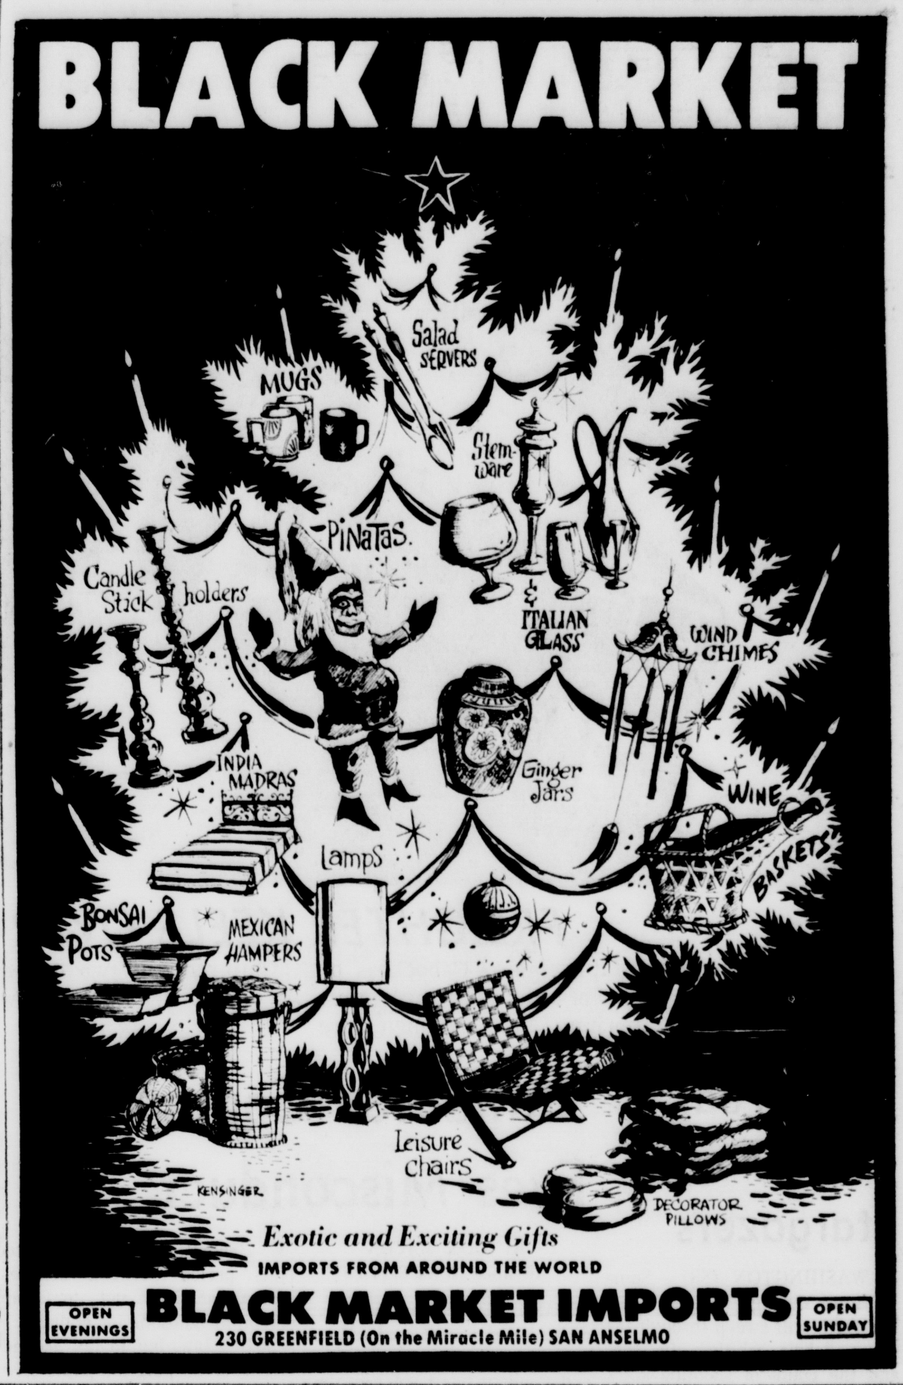
Cerf said the book relates that the presidential jet—Air Force One—and the vice presidential jet were at Love Field in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. The planes were identical—except for "the football," a bag containing information regarding procedures in case of nuclear attack.

The book, according to Cerf, says the Kennedys were "shocked and infuriated" when they returned to Air Force One with Kennedy's coffin and found Johnson occupying the presidential jet.

All-Points Bulletin For Missing Boy

Sausalito police have issued an all-points bulletin for 16-year-old Raymond L. Roy of 12 Josephine Street, Sausalito, who reportedly ran away from home Wednesday night and has not been seen since.

The boy is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 170 pounds, He has brown hair and brown eyes.



Assemblyman's Ex-Wife Denied More Alimony

Visiting Judge Thomas Kongsgaard in Marin Superior Court yesterday denied a request by the ex-wife of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, for more alimony and child support.

Judge Kongsgaard, of Napa Superior Court, ruled, however, that Mrs. Doris L. Bagley is entitled to $616 which Bagley maintained he deducted from his alimony payments because he spent it on the three children, and to $1,000 in attorney's fees.

He also ordered Bagley to increase insurance of Mrs. Bagley's home at 592 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, from $15,000 to $30,000, and ruled she may keep a piano, bedroom set, glassware, and a rocking chair which Bagley contended were his personal property obtained from his mother.

Under terms of their April 8, 1965, divorce agreement, Mrs. Bagley received $125 monthly alimony, plus 30 per cent of any money Bagley earns in excess of $18,000 a year.

Man Treated For Accidental Shot

George Walter Hamm, of Halleck Creek Road, Nicasio, was treated at Marin General Hospital after accidentally shooting himself Wednesday in the left side with his new .32 caliber Beretti pistol, sheriff's deputies said today.

They said Hamm and Randolph LaFranchi, 17, were in the back yard of the LaFranchi Ranch near Nicasio and Hamm was ramming the bullet clip into the gun's handle when the weapon discharged.

Marinwood Asks Lawsuit On Faulty Pool Decking

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night agreed to ask the county counsel's office to file suit against Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa for $1,027 the district has spent repairing the cement deck around the swimming pool.

The deck was completed with too smooth a surface, directors said. A new surface had to be laid on.

District secretary Genevieve Bolding reported the board authorized increase in employee contribution toward life and medical insurance from $7.50 to $8.42 a month, due to change in premium. The district contribution will remain at $25 a month.

Directors authorized 60 per cent pay for gardener David Williams who has used up both vacation time and sick leave and is not expected back o the job until Feb. 1.

Boys Discover Stolen Marker

WATSONVILLE (UPI)— Two teen- age boys walking along Manriesa Beach yesterday stumbled across a placque stolen last Saturday night from near Highway 1.

The placque was dedicated last summer by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who formally opened Highway 1 as the first U.S. scenic highway.

It disappeared from the Bixby Creek area south of Carmel and was missing until James 17, La Selva Beach, and Dennis Hickman, 16, Watsonville, stumbled on it buried in the sand.

They turned it over to police, who reported that it was in damaged condition.

SCHOOLS TACKLE FINANCIAL WOES

San Rafael Citizens Committee Told Two Districts 'In Trouble' For Sites, Cash

San Rafael school districts are financially "in trouble," Acting Supt. William C. Jordan told a newly organized citizens finance advisory committee last night.

John T. Schmitz of 43 Castlewood Drive, brokerage manager of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Francisco, was elected chairman of the 50-member committee.

Jordan cited low reserve funds, the cost of rebuilding schools to meet the state's earthquake-resistant standards, and the need for another junior high school as pressing financial problems.

NO RUBBER STAMP

Jordan distributed a report on the financial situation in San Rafael City Schools. It closed with a suggestion committee consider the "pressing needs" for tax and bond issues in both elementary and high school districts.

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said at the outset the committee wasn't set up "to be a rubber stamp for a bond issue," but to bring its brain power to bear on the problems and make recommendations.

Jordan said another elementary school will be needed in the Peacock Gap area. Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said the San Rafael High School District will need a new high school in the north end of the district in a few years.

The building program calls for construction of a girls' gymnasium and a shop building at Terra Linda High "but we don't have the money for the two projects," Voydat said.

SITES NEEDED

In his statement, Jordan reported that:

"We should now begin to purchase at least five sites for future elementary schools at $150,000 each." The proposed sites would be Coleman, Peacock Gap, MacPhail, China Camp and California Park areas.

Operating and construction costs, particularly salaries, have increased to the point "that we may need to look at other methods of financing all or part of the Terra Linda construction."

The industrial arts complex, the physical education families, music building and art complex at San Rafael High School need to be extensively remodeled or replaced.

Loss of students from the Novato area and loss of the former San Jose Elementary District assessment, along with increases in construction and operation costs "have placed too great a strain on secondary school financing."

The $49,205 reserve in the elementary district budget represents 1.5 per cent of the budget, when it should be 10 per cent. The $69,453 reserve fund in the high school district budget is 1.9 per cent.

MORE STUDENTS

Population figures at Glenwood, Peacock and San Pedro indicated that a junior high school will be needed in that area. Additional facilities are also needed at Davidson Junior High School and Santa Venetia Middle School.

Jordan also told the committee that the elementary district "is stuck with Short School," which does not meet the state's earthquake safety standards. He estimated it would cost $900,000 to replace it: $200,000 for additional land an $700,00 for construction.

After lengthy discussion, the committee voted to split into four sub-committees: operating, plant, curriculum, and unification.

The San Rafael Board of Education charged the committee with studying the financial and educational needs, operation of the district and future requirements, and the finances of unification of Dixie and San Rafael school districts. The committee will hold its next session Jan. 12.

COMMITTEE LIST

Board members Carl J. Brown, Anita S. Strom and I. Kramer attended the start of the committee's organizational meeting, but left after giving the group its charge.

Committee members are: Schmitz, Mrs. Hildegard Abramson, Edwin W. Bode Jr., Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. John Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Alan D. Canfield, John Cascone, Mrs. Myles Chute, John Connell, Mrs. John M. Douglas.

Theodore Fullmer, Mrs. Richard Godwin, Mrs. Albert Goldberg, B. G. Grant, Mrs. Taylor Hutchinson, Mrs. Mack Johnson, Charles Larkin, E. K. Larson, Mrs. David Lewin, John L. Levinsohn, Edward Lewis, Mrs. Troy Lewis.

Robert Mann, Wallace Marshall, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Maxwell, Mrs. F. A. Mehrten, Mrs. Robert Metzger, Douglas McVae, William Morrow, Raymond C. Norris Jr., Wesley Page, Frank Parker, Carl Pharis.

Mrs. Herry Rosso, Mr. and Mrs. Dieter Schugt, Mrs. Edythe Tait, Irwin Taranto, Fred Tegeler, Mrs. Paul Vanden Bos, Edward Wachsman Herbert R. Walton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wasp, Wayne White, W. S. Shelton, Mark Savage, and Mrs. Robert Bolt.

Special television programs in 20 villages in the region of Niamey, the capital of Niger, will teach some 800 children to read and write.

Alibi Notice Filed In Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for an itinerant charged with slaying a church civil rights leader filed a notice today contending he was not in Columbus the day of the killing.

The "notice of alibi" was filed after William R. Minor, 23, pleaded innocent to a murder charge in the Oct. 17 bludgeon slaying of Robert W. Spike, 43.

It contends Minor was in Washington, D.C., the day Spike, a University of Chicago ministry professor, was slain in a guest room at a religious center he had helped dedicated near Ohio State University.

Coroner-Elect Asks County For Addition Of Deputy

Marin Coroner-elect Donovan O. Cooke has proposed increasing the staff of the coroner's office by addition of a deputy coroner when he takes over next month.

Under Coroner Frank J. Keaton, the department has operated with a secretary and an assistant coroner. In a letter to County Administrator Alan Bruce, Dr. Cooke suggested that "the day-to-day function of investigating the calls as they come in can best be done by an assistant and a deputy, alternating days and weekends.

"It will be my duty to be available to them at all times as problems arise and also to supervise functions of the office, direct inquests, and carry out the functions of public administrator and guardian."

Dr. Cooke asked that Bruce consider the request and recommend the additional man to supervisors.

Astronauts have to guard against optical illusions. For instance, a cube becomes diamond-shape against the blackness of space, and a circle seems to take an elliptical form.

More Director Duties Viewed

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District held a long debate last night on added duties and pay for District Mgr. Gregory Hobbs, hired last February at $1,000 a month.

Secretary Helen Foulkes reported that directors want Hobbs to take over plan checking for new subdivisions and supervise construction of sewer installations, a job now done by the district's consulting engineer, J. Warren Nute.

Board member Charles R. Matthews argued that the new duties and a salary boost should not be connected. He moved that Hobbs be given a 5 per cent raise just as other district employees are to receive Jan. 1, but the motion died for a lack of second.

Mrs. Foulkes was asked to check with the State Board of Registration for civil and professional engineers to see if Hobbs, not registered in California, could legally do the checking and inspection work.

In five years, fees charged for such work have totaled $17,000, Mrs. Foulkes reported.

The board adjourned at 11:40 p.m. It will next meet Jan. 5.

Hearing Reset On Toll Phones

Completion of a California Public Utilities Commission hearing on proposals for toll-free telephone service btween Novato and San Rafael, scheduled yesterday and today, has been postponed to Feb. 1.

The postponement was requested by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Western California Telephone Co., who advised the commission they were nearing agreement on a formula for rates and division of revenues of the service.

Next Year Is On For Stargazers

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 10 times during the next year, the earth will sweep through the space debris orbiting the sun, and the count of shooting stars will climb. Not all the meteor showers will be spectacular, however. They certainly won't match the splendor of the recent Leonids. But for the star watchers, they can be high-point of the year.

The Geminid meteors, visible at the rate of some 43 an hour on the morning of Dec. 13 when they will be at the peak of their six-day display, are one of the year's two most reliable showers.

The Geminids rank with the August Perseids as the best of the regular annual events for amateur meteor observers to count or photograph. This year moonlight will not interfere with the Geminids, as it will in 1967.

Although the 1967 Leonid meteor display in mid-November is not expected to match the brilliant spectacle of the shower seen from the southwest last month, which peaked at 40 per second, it should still be above the average Leonid strength of 18 per hour.

One of the lesser meteor showers, the Ursids, will provide about eight "shooting stars" an hour on the night of Dec. 22-23, but observations will be hampered until two in the morning.

Meteors are visible on any night of the year at the rate of about seven an hour not associated with any recognized shower. At certain times of the year, the earth encounters large numbers of meteors all moving together along the same orbit.

The most important of the 1967 meteor showers, besides those mentioned above, include the Quadrantids on Jan. 3, at a rate of 33 per hour; the Perseids on Aug. 12, at a rate of 43 per hour, and the 1967 Geminids.

Other meteor showers are the Lyrids on April 22, 8 per hour; the Aquarids on May 5 and July 29, 13 per hour; the Orionids on Oct. 21, 18 per hour; the Taurids on Nov. 5 at 8 per hour; and the 1967 Ursids.

Nothing Taken In Post Office Burglary

Point Reyes Station Postmaster George M. Gallagher has reported nothing was taken in a burglary of the post office Tuesday night, according to sheriff's deputies.

The intruders forced a window, attempted to open a floor safe, then broke into three cabinets. It was not known a first if any loot was taken from the cabinets.

Standards Committee Eyes Misconduct

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The newly created and soon-to-expire House Select Committee on Standards and Conduct has been wrestling with crucial problems that bear importantly on its continued existence.

One problem is whether it wants to dig into allegations of congressional misconduct that occurred prior to the committee's formation on October 19.

If past ethical violations by House members or employees are to be examined, how far back should they go? Should there be, in other words, a statute of limitations on ethical conduct?

Also bothering the committee, as it tries to find a compromise between the degree of self-policing the House will tolerate and the minimum power necessary for effectiveness, is whether it should attempt to define "standards of conduct" itself.

The prevailing opinion on the 12-member bipartisan panel, which held its first meeting in late November, was that it should only seek to enforce standards that have been specifically defined by the House.

That, argue those House members who want rigid enforcement, means the committee will limit itself to the precious few taboos that are a part of the House rules, such as a prohibition against a member's taking a "kickback" from an employee or using his franking privilege for personal mail.

It leaves the members free to engage in other questionable activities that have not been specifically prohibited.

"Under that interpretation," commented a committee observer, "the committee could not criticize the conduct of a house member who kept a prostitute on his payroll because that isn't specifically prohibited."

"If the House came out against prostitutes on the payroll," he added, continuing with the hypothetical example, "the committee could investigate any charges brought by another House member."

As currently established, the committee has no investigative powers whatever. It was created by a reluctant House in the waning hours of the 89th Congress, empowered only to conduct a study into the question of House ethics enforcement and to report back to the whole House at the beginning of the next Congress in January. The committee ceases to exist when the 90th Congress convenes.

Organizers of the ethics committee, headed by Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., have used this period between congressional sessions not to study recommendations for changes in existing law, but to lay groundwork for keeping the panel alive permanently.

The committee approved a report to Speaker John W. McCormack that asks for re-establishing the committee next year and giving it the investigative authority it now lacks. In return, the panel promised that any proposed censure of House members would go before the whole House for approval.

Committee members want to get the panel off on footing at least as solid as that of its Senate counterpart—the Senate Committee on Ethics and Conduct—which was established as an outgrowth of the Bobby Baker affair in 1964.

instance, has had three studies in the last three years. One by Leigh Fisher Assn., Inc., cost $3,200. Another by Coppel and Foreaker cost $6,000, and the most recent, by J. G. Percy, cost $834.

News that the federal aviation agency had approved plans and allocation for the county airport was received today.

Data processing, a recent innovation in county government, is now starting to come under the eye of well-paid outside consultants. Supervisors recently ordered a $15,400 study by Information Systems Design, Inc., to figure out the best was to process the schools' payrolls through the computer.

The board of supervisors has also authorized $12,000 for a study of data processing management. The firm has not yet been engaged for this study.

Other complete studies include $1,500 for Mund McLaren Co. to study insurance policies, $4,500 for Stone and Youngberg for advice in selling bonds for the Hall of Justice, $600 for Arthur D. Little on vaocational training.

Another pending study is that ordered from Griffenhagen and Kroeger at $7,500 for review of pay and classification of county clerical employees.

Free Movie Party Slated Tomorrow

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce will host a free movie party, with an appearance by Santa Claus, for children at the Marin Theater in Sausalito at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Tickets have been distributed in the city's schools this week and children will be given tickets at the doors tomorrow as long as space is available, the chamber said.

Postmark Keeps Town Busy Now

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press

The last of the Thanksgiving turkey has hardly been finished when everyone in a very special town in Indiana gets ready for an avalanche of mail.

All the excitement in the ordinarily quiet, one-street town centers at the post office.

That's where mail from all over the United States gets a very sought after postmark: Santa Claus.

At the start of the Yuletide season, the mail traffic really escalates. To the second class post office in this community of 80 population, there arrives several hundred thousand parcels and at least one million other pieces of mail.

All have the same request:

Please remail the packages and letters so they have the Santa Claus, Ind., postmark.

Santa Claus, a branch of Carpenteria, Santa Barbara County, also is popular.

There is a small post office at North Pole and when the Christmas season arrives it handles about 300,000 pieces of mail to be sent to addresses in every state of the union.

Another Christmas season favorite is Noel, in Missouri. The post office says that it remails as many as 50,000 pieces of mail during the days before the holiday arrives.

There are other postmarks having Christmas themes, as the accompanying map indicates.

At least nine cities have taken the name of the birthplace of Jesus — Bethlehem.

Bethany, the ancient Palestinian community where Jesus's disciples witnessed the Ascension, is the name of at least eight communities.

And Bethel, the biblical community where Jacob had his vision, is the name of at least 13 American places.

Connecticut is the only state with all three.

Nazareth, sacred in Christian tradition as the residence of the Holy Family, is the name of at least three communities — one each in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Texas.

There's a Faith in North Carolina and a Hope in New Jersey, but there doesn't seem to be Charity among the postmarks.

Other communities have names suggesting the Christmas atmosphere — from Snow Ball in Arkansas to Evergreen in Alabama to Holly in Colorado.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Check Covenant Restrictions

Sam and his wife bought a hillside lot. Under the deed, they would have to build a house of at least 1,900 square feet and not have more than one floor "above the ground." Besides, a committee had to approve each house plan.

Sam planned a split-level house with several levels to follow the contours of his sloping lot. The committee said no.

Thinking the committee wrong, Sam went ahead anyhow.

The committee sued to stop Sam, but Sam won.

How could that be? The court said that "restrictive provisions in a deed are strictly construed against the person trying to enforce them." In short, where there is doubt about the terms of the covenant, the law favors the owner's fullest use of his property.

The court looked into the purpose of the restrictions. It was to preserve the views of the uphill owners. When the deed said there could be no more than one floor above ground level, it did not say "how high" the "stories" could be. It did not say what was the "ground floor." Besides, the way that Sam was building his house the other owners actually had a better view than if he had one big floor above street level.

When buying any property, the buyer should examine the deed and the zoning laws for restrictions. Some restrictions may end after a time or be binding only for the first buyer. Others may be amended only by majority vote of the other buyers in the tract.

Even with a written restriction on the use of property, a court may refuse to enforce it as "oppressive" or "inequitable," as when the neighborhood has changed or when the complainants have themselves violated the restrictions.

Assume there is a restriction to single family dwellings. But after some years, many owners have converted their homes into flats or multiple units. Apartments are being built nearby. In this case the court may well say that the restriction no longer applies. The character of the surrounding properties has changed.

A warning: Although you may win out in court, it might be better to read the covenant carefully and seek legal advice — before you close the deal.

Rusk Appeals For Viet Aid

PARIS (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has appealed again to the NATO nations for additional aid for South Vietnam, it was disclosed today. A spokesman said several Atlantic Allies asked what aid was needed but did not actually promise any.

A U.S. spokesman said Rusk made the new appeal to the NATO Council of Ministers Thursday. He made the disclosure as the council neared the end of what almost certainly will be its last session in France.

The United States already had won its battle to move the NATO political headquarters to Brussels as soon as a new temporary building can be built there.

Exit From Farms

be the principal installation of a National Accelerator Laboratory planned eventually to employ about 2,000 persons.

Preliminary estimates based on a design by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, put construction costs at $300 million, plus $57 million for research equipment and a bubble chamber.

"Current intentions," the AEC said, "are to proceed at a somewhat reduced scope with potential for expansion at a later date. This approach would significantly reduce the initial cost of the project."

The AEC described the projected 200-BEV machine as "the biggest and most complex instrument ever built for fundamental scientific research, which will lead to a deeper understanding of the basic forces that govern the universe."

The main ring of the accelerator will have a diameter of one mile and completion of construction is planned within eight years.

In all, 45 states — all except Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware, Vermont and New Hampshire — entered the original competition. And even New Hampshire teamed with Maine in a joint proposal for location of the machine in the latter state near the New Hampshire border.

The competition throughout was keen, and Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee and a persistent critic of the selection process, referred to the race as "The 200-BEV Bonanza—the government's biggest free offer to all comers since opening of the Cherokee Strip to the homesteaders in 1893."

The accelerator, besides taking rank as the world's most powerful device in the atom-smasher field, is projected as the most costly scientific installation ever built.

Scientists say it may eventually yield a rich practical payoff in new knowledge — in a range from helping develop new sources of energy to new advances in medicine and even weather control.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Sharon A. Quinn Dies At 23

Mrs. Sharon Alison Quinn, 23, of Fairfax, died in the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, Wednesday night after a long illness.

Private family funeral is pending, and the family has requested no flowers. Memorial contributions may be made in her name to the University of California Medical Center Memorial Foundation.

Mrs. Quinn, who lived with her family at 176 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, had been in hospital for three months. Her husband, John Thomas Quinn, is a computer programmer for Pacific Concrete Aggregates in San Francisco.

She is survived by her husband and two children, Johnny and Shannon, of Fairfax; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Benedict of Ross; two brothers, Trevor Benedict of Ross and Donald Benedict of San Diego, and a grandmother, Mrs. B. W. Whitmore of San Francisco.

Next Year Is On For Stargazers

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 10 times during the next year, the earth will sweep through the space debris orbiting the sun, and the count of shooting stars will climb. Not all the meteor showers will be spectacular, however. They certainly won't match the splendor of the recent Leonids. But for the star watchers, they can be high-point of the year.

The Geminid meteors, visible at the rate of some 43 an hour on the morning of Dec. 13 when they will be at the peak of their six-day display, are one of the year's two most reliable showers.

The Geminids rank with the August Perseids as the best of the regular annual events for amateur meteor observers to count or photograph. This year moonlight will not interfere with the Geminids, as it will in 1967.

Although the 1967 Leonid meteor display in mid-November is not expected to match the brilliant spectacle of the shower seen from the southwest last month, which peaked at 40 per second, it should still be above the average Leonid strength of 18 per hour.

One of the lesser meteor showers, the Ursids, will provide about eight "shooting stars" an hour on the night of Dec. 22-23, but observations will be hampered until two in the morning.

Meteors are visible on any night of the year at the rate of about seven an hour not associated with any recognized shower. At certain times of the year, the earth encounters large numbers of meteors all moving together along the same orbit.

The most important of the 1967 meteor showers, besides those mentioned above, include the Quadrantids on Jan. 3, at a rate of 33 per hour; the Perseids on Aug. 12, at a rate of 43 per hour, and the 1967 Geminids.

Other meteor showers are the Lyrids on April 22, 8 per hour; the Aquarids on May 5 and July 29, 13 per hour; the Orionids on Oct. 21, 18 per hour; the Taurids on Nov. 5 at 8 per hour; and the 1967 Ursids.

Standards Committee Eyes Misconduct

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The newly created and soon-to-expire House Select Committee on Standards and Conduct has been wrestling with crucial problems that bear importantly on its continued existence.

One problem is whether it wants to dig into allegations of congressional misconduct that occurred prior to the committee's formation on October 19.

If past ethical violations by House members or employees are to be examined, how far back should they go? Should there be, in other words, a statute of limitations on ethical conduct?

Also bothering the committee, as it tries to find a compromise between the degree of self-policing the House will tolerate and the minimum power necessary for effectiveness, is whether it should attempt to define "standards of conduct" itself.

The prevailing opinion on the 12-member bipartisan panel, which held its first meeting in late November, was that it should only seek to enforce standards that have been specifically defined by the House.

That, argue those House members who want rigid enforcement, means the committee will limit itself to the precious few taboos that are a part of the House rules, such as a prohibition against a member's taking a "kickback" from an employee or using his franking privilege for personal mail.

It leaves the members free to engage in other questionable activities that have not been specifically prohibited.

"Under that interpretation," commented a committee observer, "the committee could not criticize the conduct of a house member who kept a prostitute on his payroll because that isn't specifically prohibited."

"If the House came out against prostitutes on the payroll," he added, continuing with the hypothetical example, "the committee could investigate any charges brought by another House member."

As currently established, the committee has no investigative powers whatever. It was created by a reluctant House in the waning hours of the 89th Congress, empowered only to conduct a study into the question of House ethics enforcement and to report back to the whole House at the beginning of the next Congress in January. The committee ceases to exist when the 90th Congress convenes.

Organizers of the ethics committee, headed by Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., have used this period between congressional sessions not to study recommendations for changes in existing law, but to lay groundwork for keeping the panel alive permanently.

The committee approved a report to Speaker John W. McCormack that asks for re-establishing the committee next year and giving it the investigative authority it now lacks. In return, the panel promised that any proposed censure of House members would go before the whole House for approval.

Committee members want to get the panel off on footing at least as solid as that of its Senate counterpart—the Senate Committee on Ethics and Conduct—which was established as an outgrowth of the Bobby Baker affair in 1964.

San Rafael Citizens Committee Told Two Districts 'In Trouble' For Sites, Cash

San Rafael school districts are financially "in trouble," Acting Supt. William C. Jordan told a newly organized citizens finance advisory committee last night.

John T. Schmitz of 43 Castlewood Drive, brokerage manager of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Francisco, was elected chairman of the 50-member committee.

Jordan cited low reserve funds, the cost of rebuilding schools to meet the state's earthquake-resistant standards, and the need for another junior high school as pressing financial problems.

NO RUBBER STAMP

Jordan distributed a report on the financial situation in San Rafael City Schools. It closed with a suggestion committee consider the "pressing needs" for tax and bond issues in both elementary and high school districts.

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said at the outset the committee wasn't set up "to be a rubber stamp for a bond issue," but to bring its brain power to bear on the problems and make recommendations.

Jordan said another elementary school will be needed in the Peacock Gap area. Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said the San Rafael High School District will need a new high school in the north end of the district in a few years.

The building program calls for construction of a girls' gymnasium and a shop building at Terra Linda High "but we don't have the money for the two projects," Voydat said.

SITES NEEDED

In his statement, Jordan reported that:

"We should now begin to purchase at least five sites for future elementary schools at $150,000 each." The proposed sites would be Coleman, Peacock Gap, MacPhail, China Camp and California Park areas.

Operating and construction costs, particularly salaries, have increased to the point "that we may need to look at other methods of financing all or part of the Terra Linda construction."

The industrial arts complex, the physical education families, music building and art complex at San Rafael High School need to be extensively remodeled or replaced.

Loss of students from the Novato area and loss of the former San Jose Elementary District assessment, along with increases in construction and operation costs "have placed too great a strain on secondary school financing."

The $49,205 reserve in the elementary district budget represents 1.5 per cent of the budget, when it should be 10 per cent. The $69,453 reserve fund in the high school district budget is 1.9 per cent.

MORE STUDENTS

Population figures at Glenwood, Peacock and San Pedro indicated that a junior high school will be needed in that area. Additional facilities are also needed at Davidson Junior High School and Santa Venetia Middle School.

Jordan also told the committee that the elementary district "is stuck with Short School," which does not meet the state's earthquake safety standards. He estimated it would cost $900,000 to replace it: $200,000 for additional land an $700,00 for construction.

After lengthy discussion, the committee voted to split into four sub-committees: operating, plant, curriculum, and unification.

The San Rafael Board of Education charged the committee with studying the financial and educational needs, operation of the district and future requirements, and the finances of unification of Dixie and San Rafael school districts. The committee will hold its next session Jan. 12.

COMMITTEE LIST

Board members Carl J. Brown, Anita S. Strom and I. Kramer attended the start of the committee's organizational meeting, but left after giving the group its charge.

Committee members are: Schmitz, Mrs. Hildegard Abramson, Edwin W. Bode Jr., Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. John Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Alan D. Canfield, John Cascone, Mrs. Myles Chute, John Connell, Mrs. John M. Douglas.

Alibi Notice Filed In Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for an itinerant charged with slaying a church civil rights leader filed a notice today contending he was not in Columbus the day of the killing.

The "notice of alibi" was filed after William R. Minor, 23, pleaded innocent to a murder charge in the Oct. 17 bludgeon slaying of Robert W. Spike, 43.

It contends Minor was in Washington, D.C., the day Spike, a University of Chicago ministry professor, was slain in a guest room at a religious center he had helped dedicated near Ohio State University.

Coroner-Elect Asks County For Addition Of Deputy

Marin Coroner-elect Donovan O. Cooke has proposed increasing the staff of the coroner's office by addition of a deputy coroner when he takes over next month.

Under Coroner Frank J. Keaton, the department has operated with a secretary and an assistant coroner. In a letter to County Administrator Alan Bruce, Dr. Cooke suggested that "the day-to-day function of investigating the calls as they come in can best be done by an assistant and a deputy, alternating days and weekends.

"It will be my duty to be available to them at all times as problems arise and also to supervise functions of the office, direct inquests, and carry out the functions of public administrator and guardian."

Dr. Cooke asked that Bruce consider the request and recommend the additional man to supervisors.

More Director Duties Viewed

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District held a long debate last night on added duties and pay for District Mgr. Gregory Hobbs, hired last February at $1,000 a month.

Secretary Helen Foulkes reported that directors want Hobbs to take over plan checking for new subdivisions and supervise construction of sewer installations, a job now done by the district's consulting engineer, J. Warren Nute.

Board member Charles R. Matthews argued that the new duties and a salary boost should not be connected. He moved that Hobbs be given a 5 per cent raise just as other district employees are to receive Jan. 1, but the motion died for a lack of second.

Mrs. Foulkes was asked to check with the State Board of Registration for civil and professional engineers to see if Hobbs, not registered in California, could legally do the checking and inspection work.

In five years, fees charged for such work have totaled $17,000, Mrs. Foulkes reported.

The board adjourned at 11:40 p.m. It will next meet Jan. 5.

Hearing Reset On Toll Phones

Completion of a California Public Utilities Commission hearing on proposals for toll-free telephone service btween Novato and San Rafael, scheduled yesterday and today, has been postponed to Feb. 1.

The postponement was requested by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Western California Telephone Co., who advised the commission they were nearing agreement on a formula for rates and division of revenues of the service.

Next Year Is On For Stargazers

WASHINGTON (SS) — Some 10 times during the next year, the earth will sweep through the space debris orbiting the sun, and the count of shooting stars will climb. Not all the meteor showers will be spectacular, however. They certainly won't match the splendor of the recent Leonids. But for the star watchers, they can be high-point of the year.

The Geminid meteors, visible at the rate of some 43 an hour on the morning of Dec. 13 when they will be at the peak of their six-day display, are one of the year's two most reliable showers.

The Geminids rank with the August Perseids as the best of the regular annual events for amateur meteor observers to count or photograph. This year moonlight will not interfere with the Geminids, as it will in 1967.

Although the 1967 Leonid meteor display in mid-November is not expected to match the brilliant spectacle of the shower seen from the southwest last month, which peaked at 40 per second, it should still be above the average Leonid strength of 18 per hour.

One of the lesser meteor showers, the Ursids, will provide about eight "shooting stars" an hour on the night of Dec. 22-23, but observations will be hampered until two in the morning.

Meteors are visible on any night of the year at the rate of about seven an hour not associated with any recognized shower. At certain times of the year, the earth encounters large numbers of meteors all moving together along the same orbit.

The most important of the 1967 meteor showers, besides those mentioned above, include the Quadrantids on Jan. 3, at a rate of 33 per hour; the Perseids on Aug. 12, at a rate of 43 per hour, and the 1967 Geminids.

Other meteor showers are the Lyrids on April 22, 8 per hour; the Aquarids on May 5 and July 29, 13 per hour; the Orionids on Oct. 21, 18 per hour; the Taurids on Nov. 5 at 8 per hour; and the 1967 Ursids.

Nothing Taken In Post Office Burglary

Point Reyes Station Postmaster George M. Gallagher has reported nothing was taken in a burglary of the post office Tuesday night, according to sheriff's deputies.

The intruders forced a window, attempted to open a floor safe, then broke into three cabinets. It was not known a first if any loot was taken from the cabinets.

Standards Committee Eyes Misconduct

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The newly created and soon-to-expire House Select Committee on Standards and Conduct has been wrestling with crucial problems that bear importantly on its continued existence.

One problem is whether it wants to dig into allegations of congressional misconduct that occurred prior to the committee's formation on October 19.

If past ethical violations by House members or employees are to be examined, how far back should they go? Should there be, in other words, a statute of limitations on ethical conduct?

Also bothering the committee, as it tries to find a compromise between the degree of self-policing the House will tolerate and the minimum power necessary for effectiveness, is whether it should attempt to define "standards of conduct" itself.

The prevailing opinion on the 12-member bipartisan panel, which held its first meeting in late November, was that it should only seek to enforce standards that have been specifically defined by the House.

That, argue those House members who want rigid enforcement, means the committee will limit itself to the precious few taboos that are a part of the House rules, such as a prohibition against a member's taking a "kickback" from an employee or using his franking privilege for personal mail.

It leaves the members free to engage in other questionable activities that have not been specifically prohibited.

"Under that interpretation," commented a committee observer, "the committee could not criticize the conduct of a house member who kept a prostitute on his payroll because that isn't specifically prohibited."

"If the House came out against prostitutes on the payroll," he added, continuing with the hypothetical example, "the committee could investigate any charges brought by another House member."

As currently established, the committee has no investigative powers whatever. It was created by a reluctant House in the waning hours of the 89th Congress, empowered only to conduct a study into the question of House ethics enforcement and to report back to the whole House at the beginning of the next Congress in January. The committee ceases to exist when the 90th Congress convenes.

Organizers of the ethics committee, headed by Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., have used this period between congressional sessions not to study recommendations for changes in existing law, but to lay groundwork for keeping the panel alive permanently.

The committee approved a report to Speaker John W. McCormack that asks for re-establishing the committee next year and giving it the investigative authority it now lacks. In return, the panel promised that any proposed censure of House members would go before the whole House for approval.

Committee members want to get the panel off on footing at least as solid as that of its Senate counterpart—the Senate Committee on Ethics and Conduct—which was established as an outgrowth of the Bobby Baker affair in 1964.

Tickets have been distributed in the city's schools this week and children will be given tickets at the doors tomorrow as long as space is available, the chamber said.

Postmark Keeps Town Busy Now

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press

The last of the Thanksgiving turkey has hardly been finished when everyone in a very special town in Indiana gets ready for an avalanche of mail.

All the excitement in the ordinarily quiet, one-street town centers at the post office.

That's where mail from all over the United States gets a very sought after postmark: Santa Claus.

At the start of the Yuletide season, the mail traffic really escalates. To the second class post office in this community of 80 population, there arrives several hundred thousand parcels and at least one million other pieces of mail.

All have the same request:

Please remail the packages and letters so they have the Santa Claus, Ind., postmark.

Santa Claus, a branch of Carpenteria, Santa Barbara County, also is popular.

There is a small post office at North Pole and when the Christmas season arrives it handles about 300,000 pieces of mail to be sent to addresses in every state of the union.

Another Christmas season favorite is Noel, in Missouri. The post office says that it remails as many as 50,000 pieces of mail during the days before the holiday arrives.

There are other postmarks having Christmas themes, as the accompanying map indicates.

At least nine cities have taken the name of the birthplace of Jesus — Bethlehem.

Bethany, the ancient Palestinian community where Jesus's disciples witnessed the Ascension, is the name of at least eight communities.

And Bethel, the biblical community where Jacob had his vision, is the name of at least 13 American places.

Connecticut is the only state with all three.

Nazareth, sacred in Christian tradition as the residence of the Holy Family, is the name of at least three communities — one each in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Texas.

There's a Faith in North Carolina and a Hope in New Jersey, but there doesn't seem to be Charity among the postmarks.

Other communities have names suggesting the Christmas atmosphere — from Snow Ball in Arkansas to Evergreen in Alabama to Holly in Colorado.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Check Covenant Restrictions

Sam and his wife bought a hillside lot. Under the deed, they would have to build a house of at least 1,900 square feet and not have more than one floor "above the ground." Besides, a committee had to approve each house plan.

Sam planned a split-level house with several levels to follow the contours of his sloping lot. The committee said no.

Thinking the committee wrong, Sam went ahead anyhow.

The committee sued to stop Sam, but Sam won.

How could that be? The court said that "restrictive provisions in a deed are strictly construed against the person trying to enforce them." In short, where there is doubt about the terms of the covenant, the law favors the owner's fullest use of his property.

The court looked into the purpose of the restrictions. It was to preserve the views of the uphill owners. When the deed said there could be no more than one floor above ground level, it did not say "how high" the "stories" could be. It did not say what was the "ground floor." Besides, the way that Sam was building his house the other owners actually had a better view than if he had one big floor above street level.

When buying any property, the buyer should examine the deed and the zoning laws for restrictions. Some restrictions may end after a time or be binding only for the first buyer. Others may be amended only by majority vote of the other buyers in the tract.

Even with a written restriction on the use of property, a court may refuse to enforce it as "oppressive" or "inequitable," as when the neighborhood has changed or when the complainants have themselves violated the restrictions.

Assume there is a restriction to single family dwellings. But after some years, many owners have converted their homes into flats or multiple units. Apartments are being built nearby. In this case the court may well say that the restriction no longer applies. The character of the surrounding properties has changed.

A warning: Although you may win out in court, it might be better to read the covenant carefully and seek legal advice — before you close the deal.

Rusk Appeals For Viet Aid

PARIS (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has appealed again to the NATO nations for additional aid for South Vietnam, it was disclosed today. A spokesman said several Atlantic Allies asked what aid was needed but did not actually promise any.

A U.S. spokesman said Rusk made the new appeal to the NATO Council of Ministers Thursday. He made the disclosure as the council neared the end of what almost certainly will be its last session in France.

The United States already had won its battle to move the NATO political headquarters to Brussels as soon as a new temporary building can be built there.

Exit From Farms

LINDSAY (UPI) — More than 58,000 California farmers have left the farm in the past 10 years, leaving 86,000 to till the state's soil, according to J. J. Miller of the California Agricultural Producers' Labor Committee.

ATOM

be the principal installation of a National Accelerator Laboratory planned eventually to employ about 2,000 persons.

Preliminary estimates based on a design by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, put construction costs at $300 million, plus $57 million for research equipment and a bubble chamber.

"Current intentions," the AEC said, "are to proceed at a somewhat reduced scope with potential for expansion at a later date. This approach would significantly reduce the initial cost of the project."

The AEC described the projected 200-BEV machine as "the biggest and most complex instrument ever built for fundamental scientific research, which will lead to a deeper understanding of the basic forces that govern the universe."

The main ring of the accelerator will have a diameter of one mile and completion of construction is planned within eight years.

In all, 45 states — all except Alaska, Hawaii, Delaware, Vermont and New Hampshire — entered the original competition. And even New Hampshire teamed with Maine in a joint proposal for location of the machine in the latter state near the New Hampshire border.

The competition throughout was keen, and Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee and a persistent critic of the selection process, referred to the race as "The 200-BEV Bonanza—the government's biggest free offer to all comers since opening of the Cherokee Strip to the homesteaders in 1893."

The accelerator, besides taking rank as the world's most powerful device in the atom-smasher field, is projected as the most costly scientific installation ever built.

Scientists say it may eventually yield a rich practical payoff in new knowledge — in a range from helping develop new sources of energy to new advances in medicine and even weather control.

U.S. Flatly Denies Bombs Hit Hanoi

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — U.S. military headquarters in Saigon denied today that any American bombs fell in the city of Hanoi in the Tuesday-Wednesday raids as charged by the Communists. They said bad weather spared the Hanoi area from new attacks yesterday but 58 missions hit other areas of North Vietnam.

U.S. air, sea and land forces joined today in a series of attacks in the northern provinces of South Vietnam and in the area around Saigon to halt a series of terrorist attacks ordered by North Vietnam to avenge the air raids Hanoi said caused heavy loss of life and property.

A U.S. military spokesman said two rounds from a Vietnamese Army rocket launcher were fired accidentally tonight at the military gate of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airbase, touching off reports of another terrorist revenge raid.

The firing came only a short distance from a snack bar where a Viet Cong bomb last night wounded five persons — one American, one Filipino and three Vietnamese women.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces opened a new push in the Saigon area to weed out terrorists and were rewarded when a Communist-laid Claymore mine exploded prematurely, apparently blowing up the terrorists who had planted it.

In the northern part of South Vietnam the United States struck back with land, sea and air attacks against Viet Cong units staging a series of hit attacks against American and Vietnamese outposts. B-52s inflicted the greatest damage with raids against the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and against Communist units further south.

The heavy guided missile cruiser USS Canberra joined the battle, firing its heavy guns at guerrilla positions along the DMZ coast about eight miles northwest of Dong Ha while U.S. marines launched a series of sweeps to roundup guerrillas in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas.

The U.S. denial that American planes bombed the city of Hanoi was flat and uneuqivocal. A spokesman at Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters said a complete review of all available evidence showed Hanoi was not hit during the Dec. 13-14 raids.

In Washington U.S. officials displayed maps showing the targets were not inside the Hanoi city limits. They said foreign sources in Hanoi believe the damage done there was caused by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft missiles and artillery shells falling within the city.

The denials did not halt Communist charges. Peikng Radio, the Soviet Tass news agency, East Europe Communist news media condemned the United States. Today in Moscow one of the speakers at the Supreme Soviet condemned what he called the "barbaric bombing of Hanoi."

There also was criticism from United Nations Secretary General U Thant and from some of America's Western allies. In London 50 labor members of Parliament sent a telegram to President Johnson protesting the raids.

In Moscow, the North Vietnamese Embassy said today it has issued visas to four American women who want to visit Hanoi to see if U.S. planes are bombing civilian targets.

The four women could not be reached for comment.

They are Grace Newman, sister of Pvt. Dennis Mora of New York City, who was sentenced to three years in prison Sept. 8 for refusing to go South Vietnam; Mrs. Joe Griffith, wife of an instructor at Cornell University; Diane Bevel, whose husband is affiliated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; and Barbara Deming, a member of the editorial board of Liberation magazine.

In Washington, the State Department said the women had not asked permission to travel to North Vietnam as required by department regulations.

Suspended Term In Driving Case

Frank Borges, 52, of Orangevale, Sacramento County, was given a suspended one-year county jail term yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ruled, however, that Borges must serve six months in jail as a condition, and then be on three years probation. Borges was arrested by Novato police on Highway 101 last Sept. 20.

Gordon Elmer Dresser, 41, of 40 Jewell Street, San Rafael, was fined $202 and placed on 18 months probation for drunken driving. San Rafael police arrested him Nov. 11 on Fourth Street.

Carl Lewis Greer, 33, San Jose, was placed on six months probation and fined $250 for the same offense. He was arrested on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol July 10.

LBJ Calls Advisers For Vietnam Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson arranged a high-level conference on the Vietnam war today before flying back to Texas for the Christmas holidays.

Johnson scheduled a dinner meeting on Vietnam with Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. Ambassador to Vietnam, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, and U. N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Young Boston Woman Found Murdered In Apartment

BOSTON (AP) — The nude body of a social worker from Ohio, Miss Elizabeth Orrill, 23, was found today in the Back Bay apartment she shared with another girl. Police said Miss Orrill was beaten to death.

She was slain only a few hours after she and her roommate, Miss Barbara Kish, 22, also of Bedford, Ohio, had spent a gay evening at the Playboy Club in Park Square.

Miss Orrill had come to Boston a month ago. Unable to obtain work as a social worker, she took a job in a Back Bay real estate office. Both girls were graduated from Kent State University in Ohio in 1965.

Miss Kish, a grade school teacher in suburban Reading, told police that she and Miss Orrill separated at the night club and Miss Kish returned home first. The girl said she went upstairs in the four-story brick apartment house to visit a male friend, a Boston University student.

Police said Miss Orrill's boy friend, Douglas Huot, 25, of Brookline, employed by the First National Bank of Boston, told them that after leaving the night club he visited with the girl in her apartment.

The police said Huot told them he left to obtain cigarettes and when he returned a short time later he found the girl's nude body on the floor near the bathroom door. He said he telephoned police immediately.

Burglars Strike Isolated Home

Burglars broke a window of the Creamery Bay home of Ray J. Finegan, 2060 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, making off with an estimated 23 bottles of liquor.

Sheriff's deputies said intruders at the home, located in an siolated area two miles west of Laguna Ranch north of Point Reyes National Seashore, also took a table television set.

Young Girl Hit At Intersection

A five-year-old Novato girl suffered multiple bruises and abrasions on head, body and legs, when she was hit by a car at Trumbull and Vineyard roads, Novato, about 8:30 a.m. today.

Nancy DeFord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeFord of 718 Sun Lane, was thrown several feet by the impact. She was treated at Novato Hospital and held there for observation.

Nancy was waiting for her school bus when she impulsively dashed across Vineyard Avenue in front of a westbound car driven by Mrs. Dinah Lee Ford, 23, of 19 Jade Court, Apt. 1, Novato, according to Novato Patrolman Louis Robinette.

Mrs. Ford was not cited.

SCHOOLS TACKLE FINANCIAL WOES

San Rafael Citizens Committee Told Two Districts 'In Trouble' For Sites, Cash

San Rafael school districts are financially "in trouble," Acting Supt. William C. Jordan told a newly organized citizens finance advisory committee last night.

John T. Schmitz of 43 Castlewood Drive, brokerage manager of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Francisco, was elected chairman of the 50-member committee.

Jordan cited low reserve funds, the cost of rebuilding schools to meet the state's earthquake-resistant standards, and the need for another junior high school as pressing financial problems.

NO RUBBER STAMP

Jordan distributed a report on the financial situation in San Rafael City Schools. It closed with a suggestion committee consider the "pressing needs" for tax and bond issues in both elementary and high school districts.

Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said at the outset the committee wasn't set up "to be a rubber stamp for a bond issue," but to bring its brain power to bear on the problems and make recommendations.

Jordan said another elementary school will be needed in the Peacock Gap area. Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said the San Rafael High School District will need a new high school in the north end of the district in a few years.

The building program calls for construction of a girls' gymnasium and a shop building at Terra Linda High "but we don't have the money for the two projects," Voydat said.

SITES NEEDED

In his statement, Jordan reported that:

"We should now begin to purchase at least five sites for future elementary schools at $150,000 each." The proposed sites would be Coleman, Peacock Gap, MacPhail, China Camp and California Park areas.

Operating and construction costs, particularly salaries, have increased to the point "that we may need to look at other methods of financing all or part of the Terra Linda construction."

The industrial arts complex, the physical education families, music building and art complex at San Rafael High School need to be extensively remodeled or replaced.

Loss of students from the Novato area and loss of the former San Jose Elementary District assessment, along with increases in construction and operation costs "have placed too great a strain on secondary school financing."

The $49,205 reserve in the elementary district budget represents 1.5 per cent of the budget, when it should be 10 per cent. The $69,453 reserve fund in the high school district budget is 1.9 per cent.

MORE STUDENTS

Population figures at Glenwood, Peacock and San Pedro indicated that a junior high school will be needed in that area. Additional facilities are also needed at Davidson Junior High School and Santa Venetia Middle School.

Jordan also told the committee that the elementary district "is stuck with Short School," which does not meet the state's earthquake safety standards. He estimated it would cost $900,000 to replace it: $200,000 for additional land an $700,00 for construction.

After lengthy discussion, the committee voted to split into four sub-committees: operating, plant, curriculum, and unification.

The San Rafael Board of Education charged the committee with studying the financial and educational needs, operation of the district and future requirements, and the finances of unification of Dixie and San Rafael school districts. The committee will hold its next session Jan. 12.

COMMITTEE LIST

Board members Carl J. Brown, Anita S. Strom and I. Kramer attended the start of the committee's organizational meeting, but left after giving the group its charge.

Committee members are: Schmitz, Mrs. Hildegard Abramson, Edwin W. Bode Jr., Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. John Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Alan D. Canfield, John Cascone, Mrs. Myles Chute, John Connell, Mrs. John M. Douglas.

Alibi Notice Filed In Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for an itinerant charged with slaying a church civil rights leader filed a notice today contending he was not in Columbus the day of the killing.

The "notice of alibi" was filed after William R. Minor, 23, pleaded innocent to a murder charge in the Oct. 17 bludgeon slaying of Robert W. Spike, 43.

It contends Minor was in Washington, D.C., the day Spike, a University of Chicago ministry professor, was slain in a guest room at a religious center he had helped dedicated near Ohio State University.

Coroner-Elect Asks County For Addition Of Deputy

Marin Coroner-elect Donovan O. Cooke has proposed increasing the staff of the coroner's office by addition of a deputy coroner when he takes over next month.

Under Coroner Frank J. Keaton, the department has operated with a secretary and an assistant coroner. In a letter to County Administrator Alan Bruce, Dr. Cooke suggested that "the day-to-day function of investigating the calls as they come in can best be done by an assistant and a deputy, alternating days and weekends.

"It will be my duty to be available to them at all times as problems arise and also to supervise functions of the office, direct inquests, and carry out the functions of public administrator and guardian."

Dr. Cooke asked that Bruce consider the request and recommend the additional man to supervisors.

Astronauts have to guard against optical illusions. For instance, a cube becomes diamond-shape against the blackness of space, and a circle seems to take an elliptical form.

More Director Duties Viewed

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District held a long debate last night on added duties and pay for District Mgr. Gregory Hobbs, hired last February at $1,000 a month.

Secretary Helen Foulkes reported that directors want Hobbs to take over plan checking for new subdivisions and supervise construction of sewer installations, a job now done by the district's consulting engineer, J. Warren Nute.

Board member Charles R. Matthews argued that the new duties and a salary boost should not be connected. He moved that Hobbs be given a 5 per cent raise just as other district employees are to receive Jan. 1, but the motion died for a lack of second.

Mrs. Foulkes was asked to check with the State Board of Registration for civil and professional engineers to see if Hobbs, not registered in California, could legally do the checking and inspection work.

In five years, fees charged for such work have totaled $17,000, Mrs. Foulkes reported.

The board adjourned at 11:40 p.m. It will next meet Jan. 5.

Hearing Reset On Toll Phones

Completion of a California Public Utilities Commission hearing on proposals for toll-free telephone service btween Novato and San Rafael, scheduled yesterday and today, has been postponed to Feb. 1.

The postponement was requested by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Western California Telephone Co., who advised the commission they were nearing agreement on a formula for rates and division of revenues of the service.

Bolinas Against Any Lagoon Plan Blocking

The Bolinas Harbor District board, along with its three new directors- elect, last night showed unanimous opposition to any attempt by the county to block development of Bolinas Lagoon.

The board directed a letter be sent to county supervisors stating "any ordinance purporting to zone state tidelands granted to the harbor district is not valid," according to board chairman Gene W. McDaniel.

The board rejected a suggestion by supervisors that it instigate a friendly suit to clarify who has jurisdiction over the lagoon.

"It would be . . . wasting public monies on a legal issue already decided by the courts," McDaniel said in a letter he wrote to supervisors today.

He said the board acted on advice from district counsel Sherrod Davis when informing supervisors that the district has been ruled to have control over the tidelands.

All development around the lagoon has been frozen by a county ordinance passed to allow development of a Bolinas-Stinson Beach Master Plan.

"Neither this nor any ordinance is valid," McDaniel said.

He said there was no discussion during the two and one-half hour meeting on the report submitted by the Marin County planning staff, on alleged earthquake hazards in the lagoon area.

"All this will come out in Phase Two, the study phase, of the Gilroy Plan," he said. The board has authorized Mill Valley architect Norman Gilroy to proceed with that part of his harbor planning.

Tomales Meeting Off; State Report Is Late

A special meeting of the Tomales High School District Board, set for next Tuesday, has been canceled because a State Dept. of Education report to be prepared for the new high school site selection committee will not be ready.

IS IT VISCUM ALBUM?

Mistletoe Kissing Takes A Smacking

BERKELEY (AP) — Ladies! You may have to take back those kisses you got under the mistletoe.

Oh, the kisses were all right. But the mistletoe wasn't valid.

Robert F. Scharpf, a plant pathologist with the U.S. Forest Service, says he has found near Sebastopol the original European kissing mistletoe. It's called viscum album. He says it's found nowhere else in the United States.

"If you're going to kiss under the mistletoe, it's got to be viscum," insists Scharpf.

He says American varieties are false mistletoe.

Dan Rosenburg, of the California Department of Plant Pathology in Sacramento, lists viscum album as a parasite, a plant pest.

He sounds like a scientist. But what he says doesn't smack of romance.

U.S. Flatly Denies Bombs Hit Hanoi

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — U.S. military headquarters in Saigon denied today that any American bombs fell in the city of Hanoi in the Tuesday-Wednesday raids as charged by the Communists. They said bad weather spared the Hanoi area from new attacks yesterday but 58 missions hit other areas of North Vietnam.

U.S. air, sea and land forces joined today in a series of attacks in the northern provinces of South Vietnam and in the area around Saigon to halt a series of terrorist attacks ordered by North Vietnam to avenge the air raids Hanoi said caused heavy loss of life and property.

A U.S. military spokesman said two rounds from a Vietnamese Army rocket launcher were fired accidentally tonight at the military gate of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airbase, touching off reports of another terrorist revenge raid.

The firing came only a short distance from a snack bar where a Viet Cong bomb last night wounded five persons — one American, one Filipino and three Vietnamese women.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces opened a new push in the Saigon area to weed out terrorists and were rewarded when a Communist-laid Claymore mine exploded prematurely, apparently blowing up the terrorists who had planted it.

In the northern part of South Vietnam the United States struck back with land, sea and air attacks against Viet Cong units staging a series of hit attacks against American and Vietnamese outposts. B-52s inflicted the greatest damage with raids against the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and against Communist units further south.

The heavy guided missile cruiser USS Canberra joined the battle, firing its heavy guns at guerrilla positions along the DMZ coast about eight miles northwest of Dong Ha while U.S. marines launched a series of sweeps to roundup guerrillas in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas.

The U.S. denial that American planes bombed the city of Hanoi was flat and uneuqivocal. A spokesman at Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters said a complete review of all available evidence showed Hanoi was not hit during the Dec. 13-14 raids.

In Washington U.S. officials displayed maps showing the targets were not inside the Hanoi city limits. They said foreign sources in Hanoi believe the damage done there was caused by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft missiles and artillery shells falling within the city.

The denials did not halt Communist charges. Peikng Radio, the Soviet Tass news agency, East Europe Communist news media condemned the United States. Today in Moscow one of the speakers at the Supreme Soviet condemned what he called the "barbaric bombing of Hanoi."

There also was criticism from United Nations Secretary General U Thant and from some of America's Western allies. In London 50 labor members of Parliament sent a telegram to President Johnson protesting the raids.

In Moscow, the North Vietnamese Embassy said today it has issued visas to four American women who want to visit Hanoi to see if U.S. planes are bombing civilian targets.

The four women could not be reached for comment.

They are Grace Newman, sister of Pvt. Dennis Mora of New York City, who was sentenced to three years in prison Sept. 8 for refusing to go South Vietnam; Mrs. Joe Griffith, wife of an instructor at Cornell University; Diane Bevel, whose husband is affiliated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; and Barbara Deming, a member of the editorial board of Liberation magazine.

In Washington, the State Department said the women had not asked permission to travel to North Vietnam as required by department regulations.

Suspended Term In Driving Case

Frank Borges, 52, of Orangevale, Sacramento County, was given a suspended one-year county jail term yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ruled, however, that Borges must serve six months in jail as a condition, and then be on three years probation. Borges was arrested by Novato police on Highway 101 last Sept. 20.

Gordon Elmer Dresser, 41, of 40 Jewell Street, San Rafael, was fined $202 and placed on 18 months probation for drunken driving. San Rafael police arrested him Nov. 11 on Fourth Street.

Carl Lewis Greer, 33, San Jose, was placed on six months probation and fined $250 for the same offense. He was arrested on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol July 10.

LBJ Calls Advisers For Vietnam Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson arranged a high-level conference on the Vietnam war today before flying back to Texas for the Christmas holidays.

Johnson scheduled a dinner meeting on Vietnam with Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. Ambassador to Vietnam, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, and U. N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

Young Boston Woman Found Murdered In Apartment

BOSTON (AP) — The nude body of a social worker from Ohio, Miss Elizabeth Orrill, 23, was found today in the Back Bay apartment she shared with another girl. Police said Miss Orrill was beaten to death.

She was slain only a few hours after she and her roommate, Miss Barbara Kish, 22, also of Bedford, Ohio, had spent a gay evening at the Playboy Club in Park Square.

Miss Orrill had come to Boston a month ago. Unable to obtain work as a social worker, she took a job in a Back Bay real estate office. Both girls were graduated from Kent State University in Ohio in 1965.

Miss Kish, a grade school teacher in suburban Reading, told police that she and Miss Orrill separated at the night club and Miss Kish returned home first. The girl said she went upstairs in the four-story brick apartment house to visit a male friend, a Boston University student.

Police said Miss Orrill's boy friend, Douglas Huot, 25, of Brookline, employed by the First National Bank of Boston, told them that after leaving the night club he visited with the girl in her apartment.

The police said Huot told them he left to obtain cigarettes and when he returned a short time later he found the girl's nude body on the floor near the bathroom door. He said he telephoned police immediately.

Burglars Strike Isolated Home

Burglars broke a window of the Creamery Bay home of Ray J. Finegan, 2060 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, making off with an estimated 23 bottles of liquor.

Sheriff's deputies said intruders at the home, located in an siolated area two miles west of Laguna Ranch north of Point Reyes National Seashore, also took a table television set.

Young Girl Hit At Intersection

A five-year-old Novato girl suffered multiple bruises and abrasions on head, body and legs, when she was hit by a car at Trumbull and Vineyard roads, Novato, about 8:30 a.m. today.

Nancy DeFord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeFord of 718 Sun Lane, was thrown several feet by the impact. She was treated at Novato Hospital and held there for observation.

Nancy was waiting for her school bus when she impulsively dashed across Vineyard Avenue in front of a westbound car driven by Mrs. Dinah Lee Ford, 23, of 19 Jade Court, Apt. 1, Novato, according to Novato Patrolman Louis Robinette.

Mrs. Ford was not cited.

Safety Commissioners Change Idea On Terms

Members of the Marin County Safety Commission agreed yesterday to recommend another change in its organization, providing for an employee at-large member for a one-year term.

Last month the commission, in response to a request from the Marin County Employees Assn., approved a proposal that there be employee at-large appointments for three month terms, with the idea that the rank and file employee would get a chance to serve briefly on the commission and see how it operates.

This proposal was opposed vigorously by Frederick Ward, association manager, who said such terms would be too short. The commission yesterday recommended to the board of supervisors the change to a one-year term.

There was considerable discussion how this appointment would be made. The commission agreed eventually that any employee could ask to serve on the commission if he had approval of his department head.

The commission recommended that all back injuries suffered by county employees be followed up through examination by the county medical department. This was after ruling that a back injury suffered by county gardener Joseph Teixeira, 37, in cutting a fallen tree limb was a preventable accident.

Teixeira had suffered previous back injuries while working for the county and had left his earlier job as a gardener for a landscaping firm on doctor's orders.

The commission ruled that Fire Warden Fred P. Martin was not responsible in an accident Oct. 20 when his pickup truck hit the rear of a car in Mill Valley at a stop sign. The right front brake cylinder burst when Martin put on the brakes.

Child Care Laws Sought

RIVERSIDE (AP)—The State Social Welfare Board has called for specific protective laws safeguarding neglected and deprived children.

The board was told yesterday 250,000 children yearly are referred to protective custody, 21,000 to probation officials and 11,000 as wards of courts.

That neglected children be given early attention, in their homes.

That administrative responsibility for protective service be relegated to local agencies, with the state setting standards, providing supervision and supplying supporting funds.

Old 'Boxcar' Planes Back At Hamilton

The first C-119J "Flying Boxcar" returned to active duty is being overhauled in a hangar at Hamilton Air Force Base by crew members of the 4650th Support Squadron at Hamilton.

The plane, recently flown to Hamilton after three years in "moth balls" in Florida, looks like a well-fed bumble bee. The plane has a 30,000-pound payload capacity and has a range in excess of 2,000 miles.

The C-119s will replace the detachment's C-123 Providers, now on their way to Vietnam. Within the next few months, the unit will have nine of these older planes.

Pilot of the flight from Florida was Lt. Col. Robert Wright. He will command the group of pilots who will fly these, the first C-119s on regular Air Force missions since 1960.

The detachment will be responsible for flying aircraft parts to Air Defense Command bases and sites throughout the nation on short notice.

Conference On Survival Opens

A two-day conference on developments posing threats to the survival of mankind and its institutions opened today at the Ralston White Retreat in Mill Valley.

On the agenda of the gathering, sponsored by the Assn. for Human Emergence, Santa Barbara, are discussion of chemical and biological weapons, thought control and electronic eavesdropping, rising population and diminishing resources, nationalism, riots, dehumanization, cybernetics and the changing nature of work.

Dr. Louis Fein of Palo Alto, an authority on computers, delivered the keynote address.

Host to this first Northern California convention of the association is the Liberal Religious Peace Fellowship, an organization of Unitarian-Universalist Church members.

Senators Plan Probe Of Air Age Progress

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The quality of aeronautical research and development in the United States will be examined by the Senate Aeronautical and Space Committee in a series of hearings shortly after Congress re-convenes Jan. 10.

The Senators hope to learn whether current R and D efforts in the field are enough to meet the national need; if policy planning machinery as it now exists is adequate to properly relate the government and private sectors; and what Congress, the executive branch of government and private industry might do to make sure national aeronautical goals are met.

'SHOULD WE CHANGE?'

The relationship between various agencies and industry will also be examined. "In short," a committee staffer put it, "are we doing well enough now, or should we change?"

Historically, it has been the job of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to discover innovations, and bring them to the attention of the Department of Defense and private industry which would develop them.

That program has been changed in the case of the supersonic transport, which will be developed under the aegis of the Federal Aviation Agency. "We're looking beyond the SST," the spokesman said, "trying to find out just what kind of organization would best do the job."

Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.Mex.) points out that the aviation industry contributes heavily to both the gross national product and to the trade balance—with more than $1 billion in favorable trade in 1964. "Hardly any industry is more dependent on a sizable and sustained R and D effort to maintain a competitive edge," he adds.

PROBE'S POLITICS

The committee, when it meets in the last week of January for the hearings, will be basically unchanged from that of last session. Five members were up for re-election; all won. There is a chance, in view of overall Republican gains, that the proportion of Democrats and Republicans in the group may change slightly. If so, the change would affect none of the most important members from either side of the aisle.

About the first week in March, the committee will turn to consideration of the NASA budget.

Fire Station Crash Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jacqueline Cerles, 40, of San Francisco, was killed last night when the car in which she was riding struck a fire station.

Police said a car driven by her husband, Raymond, was struck in an intersection by a panel truck which ran a red light. The Cerles car then skidded into the fire station at Turk and Webster streets.

No damage was reported to the building.

Both Cerles and the other driver, Raymond Bailey, 22, of San Francisco were injured and hospitalized.

Bailey was held under guard, charged with manslaughter, drunk driving, auto theft, running a red light and speeding.

Driver Fined $276, Put On Probation

Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, pastor of the Community Congregational Church in Tiburon, was fined $276 and placed on supervised probation for six months yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Rev. Gaskell, 40, of 170 Rock Hill Road, Tiburon, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Nov. 26 after his car struck a stopped car driven by Robert Lewis Hoots, 38, of 720 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, on Rock Hill Road.

Not Guilty Of Drug Making

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday found Eric Hoberg, 20, innocent of manufacture of a dangerous drug.

He directed Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas and W. O. Weissich, defense attorney, to submit briefs, however, for a decision on whether Hoberg is guilty of a lesser and included offense of possession of dangerous drugs.

Hobert and Harriett Hutman Papio, 30, were accused of making desoxyephedrine at Harris's Arroyo Road home in Lagunitas last May 5. The complaint against her was dismissed after preliminary hearing for insufficient evidence.

Gerritt Van Raam, agent for the State Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement, testified yesterday that he and other officers entered the Hoberg home with a search warrant and recovered chemicals and laboratory apparatus.

A motorized "tip" bed for persons suffering from disorders that leave them incapable of sitting down has been developed and allow them to get to bed without the assistance of another person.

Bolinas Against Any Lagoon Plan Blocking

The Bolinas Harbor District board, along with its three new directors- elect, last night showed unanimous opposition to any attempt by the county to block development of Bolinas Lagoon.

The board directed a letter be sent to county supervisors stating "any ordinance purporting to zone state tidelands granted to the harbor district is not valid," according to board chairman Gene W. McDaniel.

The board rejected a suggestion by supervisors that it instigate a friendly suit to clarify who has jurisdiction over the lagoon.

"It would be . . . wasting public monies on a legal issue already decided by the courts," McDaniel said in a letter he wrote to supervisors today.

He said the board acted on advice from district counsel Sherrod Davis when informing supervisors that the district has been ruled to have control over the tidelands.

All development around the lagoon has been frozen by a county ordinance passed to allow development of a Bolinas-Stinson Beach Master Plan.

"Neither this nor any ordinance is valid," McDaniel said.

He said there was no discussion during the two and one-half hour meeting on the report submitted by the Marin County planning staff, on alleged earthquake hazards in the lagoon area.

"All this will come out in Phase Two, the study phase, of the Gilroy Plan," he said. The board has authorized Mill Valley architect Norman Gilroy to proceed with that part of his harbor planning.

Tomales Meeting Off; State Report Is Late

A special meeting of the Tomales High School District Board, set for next Tuesday, has been canceled because a State Dept. of Education report to be prepared for the new high school site selection committee will not be ready.

IS IT VISCUM ALBUM?

Mistletoe Kissing Takes A Smacking

BERKELEY (AP) — Ladies! You may have to take back those kisses you got under the mistletoe.

Robert F. Scharpf, a plant pathologist with the U.S. Forest Service, says he has found near Sebastopol the original European kissing mistletoe. It's called viscum album. He says it's found nowhere else in the United States.

"If you're going to kiss under the mistletoe, it's got to be viscum," insists Scharpf.

He says American varieties are false mistletoe.

Dan Rosenburg, of the California Department of Plant Pathology in Sacramento, lists viscum album as a parasite, a plant pest.

He sounds like a scientist. But what he says doesn't smack of romance.

Safety Commissioners Change Idea On Terms

Members of the Marin County Safety Commission agreed yesterday to recommend another change in its organization, providing for an employee at-large member for a one-year term.

Last month the commission, in response to a request from the Marin County Employees Assn., approved a proposal that there be employee at-large appointments for three month terms, with the idea that the rank and file employee would get a chance to serve briefly on the commission and see how it operates.

This proposal was opposed vigorously by Frederick Ward, association manager, who said such terms would be too short. The commission yesterday recommended to the board of supervisors the change to a one-year term.

There was considerable discussion how this appointment would be made. The commission agreed eventually that any employee could ask to serve on the commission if he had approval of his department head.

The commission recommended that all back injuries suffered by county employees be followed up through examination by the county medical department. This was after ruling that a back injury suffered by county gardener Joseph Teixeira, 37, in cutting a fallen tree limb was a preventable accident.

Teixeira had suffered previous back injuries while working for the county and had left his earlier job as a gardener for a landscaping firm on doctor's orders.

The commission ruled that Fire Warden Fred P. Martin was not responsible in an accident Oct. 20 when his pickup truck hit the rear of a car in Mill Valley at a stop sign. The right front brake cylinder burst when Martin put on the brakes.

Child Care Laws Sought

RIVERSIDE (AP)—The State Social Welfare Board has called for specific protective laws safeguarding neglected and deprived children.

The board was told yesterday 250,000 children yearly are referred to protective custody, 21,000 to probation officials and 11,000 as wards of courts.

That neglected children be given early attention, in their homes.

That administrative responsibility for protective service be relegated to local agencies, with the state setting standards, providing supervision and supplying supporting funds.

Old 'Boxcar' Planes Back At Hamilton

The first C-119J "Flying Boxcar" returned to active duty is being overhauled in a hangar at Hamilton Air Force Base by crew members of the 4650th Support Squadron at Hamilton.

The plane, recently flown to Hamilton after three years in "moth balls" in Florida, looks like a well-fed bumble bee. The plane has a 30,000-pound payload capacity and has a range in excess of 2,000 miles.

The C-119s will replace the detachment's C-123 Providers, now on their way to Vietnam. Within the next few months, the unit will have nine of these older planes.

Pilot of the flight from Florida was Lt. Col. Robert Wright. He will command the group of pilots who will fly these, the first C-119s on regular Air Force missions since 1960.

The detachment will be responsible for flying aircraft parts to Air Defense Command bases and sites throughout the nation on short notice.

Conference On Survival Opens

A two-day conference on developments posing threats to the survival of mankind and its institutions opened today at the Ralston White Retreat in Mill Valley.

On the agenda of the gathering, sponsored by the Assn. for Human Emergence, Santa Barbara, are discussion of chemical and biological weapons, thought control and electronic eavesdropping, rising population and diminishing resources, nationalism, riots, dehumanization, cybernetics and the changing nature of work.

Dr. Louis Fein of Palo Alto, an authority on computers, delivered the keynote address.

Host to this first Northern California convention of the association is the Liberal Religious Peace Fellowship, an organization of Unitarian-Universalist Church members.

Senators Plan Probe Of Air Age Progress

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The quality of aeronautical research and development in the United States will be examined by the Senate Aeronautical and Space Committee in a series of hearings shortly after Congress re-convenes Jan. 10.

The Senators hope to learn whether current R and D efforts in the field are enough to meet the national need; if policy planning machinery as it now exists is adequate to properly relate the government and private sectors; and what Congress, the executive branch of government and private industry might do to make sure national aeronautical goals are met.

'SHOULD WE CHANGE?'

The relationship between various agencies and industry will also be examined. "In short," a committee staffer put it, "are we doing well enough now, or should we change?"

Historically, it has been the job of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to discover innovations, and bring them to the attention of the Department of Defense and private industry which would develop them.

That program has been changed in the case of the supersonic transport, which will be developed under the aegis of the Federal Aviation Agency. "We're looking beyond the SST," the spokesman said, "trying to find out just what kind of organization would best do the job."

Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.Mex.) points out that the aviation industry contributes heavily to both the gross national product and to the trade balance—with more than $1 billion in favorable trade in 1964. "Hardly any industry is more dependent on a sizable and sustained R and D effort to maintain a competitive edge," he adds.

PROBE'S POLITICS

The committee, when it meets in the last week of January for the hearings, will be basically unchanged from that of last session. Five members were up for re-election; all won. There is a chance, in view of overall Republican gains, that the proportion of Democrats and Republicans in the group may change slightly. If so, the change would affect none of the most important members from either side of the aisle.

About the first week in March, the committee will turn to consideration of the NASA budget.

Fire Station Crash Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jacqueline Cerles, 40, of San Francisco, was killed last night when the car in which she was riding struck a fire station.

Police said a car driven by her husband, Raymond, was struck in an intersection by a panel truck which ran a red light. The Cerles car then skidded into the fire station at Turk and Webster streets.

No damage was reported to the building.

Both Cerles and the other driver, Raymond Bailey, 22, of San Francisco were injured and hospitalized.

Bailey was held under guard, charged with manslaughter, drunk driving, auto theft, running a red light and speeding.

Driver Fined $276, Put On Probation

Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, pastor of the Community Congregational Church in Tiburon, was fined $276 and placed on supervised probation for six months yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Rev. Gaskell, 40, of 170 Rock Hill Road, Tiburon, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Nov. 26 after his car struck a stopped car driven by Robert Lewis Hoots, 38, of 720 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, on Rock Hill Road.

Not Guilty Of Drug Making

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday found Eric Hoberg, 20, innocent of manufacture of a dangerous drug.

He directed Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas and W. O. Weissich, defense attorney, to submit briefs, however, for a decision on whether Hoberg is guilty of a lesser and included offense of possession of dangerous drugs.

Hobert and Harriett Hutman Papio, 30, were accused of making desoxyephedrine at Harris's Arroyo Road home in Lagunitas last May 5. The complaint against her was dismissed after preliminary hearing for insufficient evidence.

Gerritt Van Raam, agent for the State Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement, testified yesterday that he and other officers entered the Hoberg home with a search warrant and recovered chemicals and laboratory apparatus.

A motorized "tip" bed for persons suffering from disorders that leave them incapable of sitting down has been developed and allow them to get to bed without the assistance of another person.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Ready For Audit? Save Your Bills

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C. P. A.

Now is a good time to add up your various deductions for 1966 and see how they will compare with the 1964 average deductions which are the latest figures available.

Wikel

If your deductions exceed these averages, chances are that your return will be selected for audit.

What happens if your actual expenses are greater than these averages? Nothing. Just be sure you can prove every item you put on your tax return, then, if your amounts are greater than these averages and you are audited you will have no problems.

How do you prove each item? these bills were paid, or the receipts if they were paid in cash.

There is no reason to fear an audit. If items are disallowed it is usually because the taxpayer doesn't have a good record, not because they are in excess of average amounts.

This does not mean that you can claim these amounts whether you paid them or not. You can only claim the amount that you actually paid.

These averages are taken from the Internal Revenue Service statistics of income and are the average deductions in these Save your original paid bills, the cancelled checks with which categories for the year 1964. These are the latest figures available. See accompanying table.

Averages Slip A Bit In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed slightly lower in active trading today.

The averages were off a bit most of the session but the range between gainers and losers was narrow.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running a point or so.

Disney spurted 10 points to 79 and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.7 million shares, compared with 7.23 million yesterday.

Prices were moderately lower during the morning but began to firm around midday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running to a point or more.

AT&T was unchanged at 53⅝ on a block of 34,600 shares.

Motors, aircrafts, utilities and nonferrous metals were mostly higher.

Among the aircrafts, Boeing and Douglas gained about a point.

Gains of about a point were posted by Raytheon, MGM, Polaroid and Eastern Air Lines.

Bank Debits Off For Last Month

November bank debits in Marin County last month were down from November of last year, but deposits gained slightly from the 1965 level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has reported unadjusted debits of $155,675,000, compared with $161,986,000 in November of last year. Unadjusted deposits increased to $82,700,000 from $81,131,000 a year ago.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are still not being recorded for 1966, as figures have not been compiled for a long enough period to compensate for seasonal fluctuations.

Shareholders Meeting Slated

NEW YORK — The 1967 annual meeting of shareowners of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. will be held April 19 in San Francisco, Leslie H. Warner, president, has announced.

Major facilities of two G. T. and E. manufacturing subsidiaries are located in the San Francisco Bay Area, and telephone operating subsidiaries of G. T. and E. serve more than 2,000,000 telephones throughout California, including Novato.

"The decision to hold the 1967 annual meeting in San Francisco reflects our policy of holding these meetings in areas where our manufacturing plants and laboratories are located, or in territories served by our telephone operating companies," Warner said. Approximately 60,000 G. T. and E. common shareowners reside in California, with a particularly heavy concentration in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Marinites Selected To Exchange Board

Five Marin County men, associated with the shipping business, have been elected directors of Marine Exchange, Inc., of the San Francisco Bay region.

They are: Christopher Blom of Kentfield, Vincent R. Van Riper of San Anselmo, and Lester H. Clark, Capt. J. W. Dickover and Warren S. Titus, all of San Rafael.

Telephone Dividends Rise; Green Stamps In Spain

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have increased the quarterly dividend on the common stock to 37.5 cents per share, equivalent to an annual rate of $1.50. The quarterly dividend had been 33 and three-quarters cents since last January, when it was raised to that level from 30 cents. The new dividend is payable on Jan. 15. ITT is the world's largest international manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services. Approximately 97,000 investors hold some 21 million shares of its common stock.

PACIFIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., Portland has raised its quarterly dividend payment on common stock from 29 cents to 30 cents per share, effective with the company's dividend payable Jan. 10. Directors have also authorized regular quarterly dividend payments and preferred stock on the same date.

BEMIS CO., INC. has completed acquisition of Hayssen Manufacturing Co., which produces form-fill seal and overwrapping equipment. Hayssen will continue to operate under the same name. The transaction brings to five the number of domestic acquisitions made by Bemis this year. They add approximately 32 million dollars to the packaging firm's annual sales.

SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON CO., distributors of S&H Green Stamps in the United States, has commenced operation in Spain, with the recent acquisition of Unicarca, that country's second largest independent trading stamp firm.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 rose to a new record of $13,175,000, or $3.06 a share. By comparison, earnings for the previous year were 11 million dollars, amounting to $2.56 a share. Contracts entered into for future deliveries of minerals, including coal have more than doubled the company's backlog, now amounting to over one billion dollars. Construction activities recorded the highest earnings of any year in the company's history. Earnings from land development were below the record earnings of 1965.

H. J. HEINZ CO. net earnings for fiscal 1967 are expected to show a modest increase over the $3.29 per common share for 1966, though net profits for the first six months ended Oct. 26 were $1.71 per share, compared with $1.73 for the corresponding period of the previous year. Heinz president R. Burt Gookin said the increase will not equal those of previous years because of cost and price pressures on the food industry.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC. of Palo Alto has completed negotiations for the lease of 275,000 square feet, part of recently deactivated Lincoln Air Park West in Lincoln, Neb. Approximately 25,000 square feet will be occupied commencing next month for the manufacture of electronic equipment. The balance is hangar space, with utilization dependent upon award of contracts the company is seeking. Some personnel from ATI's Palo Alto and Sunnyvale plants will transfer to Lincoln to form the nucleus of the new operation.

KAISER AEROSPACE AND ELECTRONICS CORP. dedicated its new 72,800-square-foot electronic plant in Palo Alto yesterday. The new one-million-dollar facility will manufacture navigational aids for pilots that are used in the Navy. The plant, at 1651 Page Mill Road, replaces one formerly used by Kaiser on San Antonio Road and has three times the floor space. It adjoins the development laboratories of the company.

J. I. CASE CO., Racine, Wis. manufacturer of agricultural and construction tractors and equipment, in which Kern County Land Co. has the controlling interest, has reported a 19 per cent gain in net sales over last year. The new figure of 326.7 million dollars established a new all-time high and produced a net income of 17.3 million dollars for 1966.

Ancient Planes Due At Northgate

Visitors at Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow afternoon will be treated to the rare sight of six to 12 biplanes from the World War I era circling overhead.

The airplanes, operated by members of the Northern California chapter of the Antique Airplane Assn., will be flown from San Jose to the Sonoma Valley Airport near Schellville, arriving there at noon. They will then fly to Northgate, arriving at approximately 1 p.m., and circle over the shopping center for about 20 minutes.

The spectacle is a pre-opening promotion for the motion picture, "The Blue Max," about World War I, which opens at the Northgate Theater on Dec. 23.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Some Advice For Couple Who Are Retired, Elderly

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are retired at age 75 with no dependents. My wife and I have $20,000 in a savings bank and retirement income of $200 per month. Mortgage and upkeep of our house take $150 a month. Food, medicine and doctors require both in poor health. We are both inp oor health. We are withdrawing from our savings in order to live. Should I continue to do so, or can I get enough income from common stocks to meet our needs?" R. H.

A. I am sincerely sorry about your illnesses and the straits to which they have reduced you. There are few good common stocks that yield much above 6 per cent. If you switched $15,000 of savings into these, your annual income would not be increased sufficiently to meet your problem. In your difficult position, I believe I would consult a reputable insurance agent. It might well be that he could set up for you a joint and survivorship annuity for $15,000 of consideration, which would provide you both with safe and sufficient income.

Q. "I am 22 years old and have recently been discharged from the army. My assets consist of $900 U.S. Savings Bonds, series E. Would it be wise to cash these bonds and buy stock? If so, just how do I go about doing this?" M. A.

A. Series E bonds are easy to negotiate. They are redeemable at fixed prices without advance notice, and most banks will take care of the redemption for you, if you request it. However, I strongly advise you to hold your series E bonds. They represent a backlog which every person should have before starting to buy stocks. In addition, I would set up a planned insurance program and build even bigger reserves in E bonds and savings. Only after these steps are taken should stocks — a very fluctuating commodity — be considered.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Ready For Audit? Save Your Bills

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C. P. A.

Now is a good time to add up your various deductions for 1966 and see how they will compare with the 1964 average deductions which are the latest figures available.

Wikel

If your deductions exceed these averages, chances are that your return will be selected for audit.

What happens if your actual expenses are greater than these averages? Nothing. Just be sure you can prove every item you put on your tax return, then, if your amounts are greater than these averages and you are audited you will have no problems.

How do you prove each item? these bills were paid, or the receipts if they were paid in cash.

There is no reason to fear an audit. If items are disallowed it is usually because the taxpayer doesn't have a good record, not because they are in excess of average amounts.

This does not mean that you can claim these amounts whether you paid them or not. You can only claim the amount that you actually paid.

These averages are taken from the Internal Revenue Service statistics of income and are the average deductions in these Save your original paid bills, the cancelled checks with which categories for the year 1964. These are the latest figures available. See accompanying table.

Averages Slip A Bit In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed slightly lower in active trading today.

The averages were off a bit most of the session but the range between gainers and losers was narrow.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running a point or so.

Disney spurted 10 points to 79 and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.7 million shares, compared with 7.23 million yesterday.

Prices were moderately lower during the morning but began to firm around midday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running to a point or more.

AT&T was unchanged at 53⅝ on a block of 34,600 shares.

Motors, aircrafts, utilities and nonferrous metals were mostly higher.

Among the aircrafts, Boeing and Douglas gained about a point.

Gains of about a point were posted by Raytheon, MGM, Polaroid and Eastern Air Lines.

Bank Debits Off For Last Month

November bank debits in Marin County last month were down from November of last year, but deposits gained slightly from the 1965 level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has reported unadjusted debits of $155,675,000, compared with $161,986,000 in November of last year. Unadjusted deposits increased to $82,700,000 from $81,131,000 a year ago.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are still not being recorded for 1966, as figures have not been compiled for a long enough period to compensate for seasonal fluctuations.

Shareholders Meeting Slated

NEW YORK — The 1967 annual meeting of shareowners of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. will be held April 19 in San Francisco, Leslie H. Warner, president, has announced.

Major facilities of two G. T. and E. manufacturing subsidiaries are located in the San Francisco Bay Area, and telephone operating subsidiaries of G. T. and E. serve more than 2,000,000 telephones throughout California, including Novato.

"The decision to hold the 1967 annual meeting in San Francisco reflects our policy of holding these meetings in areas where our manufacturing plants and laboratories are located, or in territories served by our telephone operating companies," Warner said. Approximately 60,000 G. T. and E. common shareowners reside in California, with a particularly heavy concentration in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Marinites Selected To Exchange Board

Five Marin County men, associated with the shipping business, have been elected directors of Marine Exchange, Inc., of the San Francisco Bay region.

They are: Christopher Blom of Kentfield, Vincent R. Van Riper of San Anselmo, and Lester H. Clark, Capt. J. W. Dickover and Warren S. Titus, all of San Rafael.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

Telephone Dividends Rise; Green Stamps In Spain

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have increased the quarterly dividend on the common stock to 37.5 cents per share, equivalent to an annual rate of $1.50. The quarterly dividend had been 33 and three-quarters cents since last January, when it was raised to that level from 30 cents. The new dividend is payable on Jan. 15. ITT is the world's largest international manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services. Approximately 97,000 investors hold some 21 million shares of its common stock.

PACIFIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., Portland has raised its quarterly dividend payment on common stock from 29 cents to 30 cents per share, effective with the company's dividend payable Jan. 10. Directors have also authorized regular quarterly dividend payments and preferred stock on the same date.

BEMIS CO., INC. has completed acquisition of Hayssen Manufacturing Co., which produces form-fill seal and overwrapping equipment. Hayssen will continue to operate under the same name. The transaction brings to five the number of domestic acquisitions made by Bemis this year. They add approximately 32 million dollars to the packaging firm's annual sales.

SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON CO., distributors of S&H Green Stamps in the United States, has commenced operation in Spain, with the recent acquisition of Unicarca, that country's second largest independent trading stamp firm.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 rose to a new record of $13,175,000, or $3.06 a share. By comparison, earnings for the previous year were 11 million dollars, amounting to $2.56 a share. Contracts entered into for future deliveries of minerals, including coal have more than doubled the company's backlog, now amounting to over one billion dollars. Construction activities recorded the highest earnings of any year in the company's history. Earnings from land development were below the record earnings of 1965.

H. J. HEINZ CO. net earnings for fiscal 1967 are expected to show a modest increase over the $3.29 per common share for 1966, though net profits for the first six months ended Oct. 26 were $1.71 per share, compared with $1.73 for the corresponding period of the previous year. Heinz president R. Burt Gookin said the increase will not equal those of previous years because of cost and price pressures on the food industry.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC. of Palo Alto has completed negotiations for the lease of 275,000 square feet, part of recently deactivated Lincoln Air Park West in Lincoln, Neb. Approximately 25,000 square feet will be occupied commencing next month for the manufacture of electronic equipment. The balance is hangar space, with utilization dependent upon award of contracts the company is seeking. Some personnel from ATI's Palo Alto and Sunnyvale plants will transfer to Lincoln to form the nucleus of the new operation.

KAISER AEROSPACE AND ELECTRONICS CORP. dedicated its new 72,800-square-foot electronic plant in Palo Alto yesterday. The new one-million-dollar facility will manufacture navigational aids for pilots that are used in the Navy. The plant, at 1651 Page Mill Road, replaces one formerly used by Kaiser on San Antonio Road and has three times the floor space. It adjoins the development laboratories of the company.

J. I. CASE CO., Racine, Wis. manufacturer of agricultural and construction tractors and equipment, in which Kern County Land Co. has the controlling interest, has reported a 19 per cent gain in net sales over last year. The new figure of 326.7 million dollars established a new all-time high and produced a net income of 17.3 million dollars for 1966.

Ancient Planes Due At Northgate

Visitors at Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow afternoon will be treated to the rare sight of six to 12 biplanes from the World War I era circling overhead.

The airplanes, operated by members of the Northern California chapter of the Antique Airplane Assn., will be flown from San Jose to the Sonoma Valley Airport near Schellville, arriving there at noon. They will then fly to Northgate, arriving at approximately 1 p.m., and circle over the shopping center for about 20 minutes.

The spectacle is a pre-opening promotion for the motion picture, "The Blue Max," about World War I, which opens at the Northgate Theater on Dec. 23.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Ready For Audit? Save Your Bills

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C. P. A.

Now is a good time to add up your various deductions for 1966 and see how they will compare with the 1964 average deductions which are the latest figures available.

Wikel

If your deductions exceed these averages, chances are that your return will be selected for audit.

What happens if your actual expenses are greater than these averages? Nothing. Just be sure you can prove every item you put on your tax return, then, if your amounts are greater than these averages and you are audited you will have no problems.

How do you prove each item? these bills were paid, or the receipts if they were paid in cash.

There is no reason to fear an audit. If items are disallowed it is usually because the taxpayer doesn't have a good record, not because they are in excess of average amounts.

This does not mean that you can claim these amounts whether you paid them or not. You can only claim the amount that you actually paid.

These averages are taken from the Internal Revenue Service statistics of income and are the average deductions in these Save your original paid bills, the cancelled checks with which categories for the year 1964. These are the latest figures available. See accompanying table.

Averages Slip A Bit In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed slightly lower in active trading today.

The averages were off a bit most of the session but the range between gainers and losers was narrow.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running a point or so.

Disney spurted 10 points to 79 and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.7 million shares, compared with 7.23 million yesterday.

Prices were moderately lower during the morning but began to firm around midday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running to a point or more.

AT&T was unchanged at 53⅝ on a block of 34,600 shares.

Motors, aircrafts, utilities and nonferrous metals were mostly higher.

Among the aircrafts, Boeing and Douglas gained about a point.

Gains of about a point were posted by Raytheon, MGM, Polaroid and Eastern Air Lines.

Bank Debits Off For Last Month

November bank debits in Marin County last month were down from November of last year, but deposits gained slightly from the 1965 level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has reported unadjusted debits of $155,675,000, compared with $161,986,000 in November of last year. Unadjusted deposits increased to $82,700,000 from $81,131,000 a year ago.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are still not being recorded for 1966, as figures have not been compiled for a long enough period to compensate for seasonal fluctuations.

Shareholders Meeting Slated

NEW YORK — The 1967 annual meeting of shareowners of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. will be held April 19 in San Francisco, Leslie H. Warner, president, has announced.

Major facilities of two G. T. and E. manufacturing subsidiaries are located in the San Francisco Bay Area, and telephone operating subsidiaries of G. T. and E. serve more than 2,000,000 telephones throughout California, including Novato.

"The decision to hold the 1967 annual meeting in San Francisco reflects our policy of holding these meetings in areas where our manufacturing plants and laboratories are located, or in territories served by our telephone operating companies," Warner said. Approximately 60,000 G. T. and E. common shareowners reside in California, with a particularly heavy concentration in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Marinites Selected To Exchange Board

Five Marin County men, associated with the shipping business, have been elected directors of Marine Exchange, Inc., of the San Francisco Bay region.

They are: Christopher Blom of Kentfield, Vincent R. Van Riper of San Anselmo, and Lester H. Clark, Capt. J. W. Dickover and Warren S. Titus, all of San Rafael.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

Telephone Dividends Rise; Green Stamps In Spain

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have increased the quarterly dividend on the common stock to 37.5 cents per share, equivalent to an annual rate of $1.50. The quarterly dividend had been 33 and three-quarters cents since last January, when it was raised to that level from 30 cents. The new dividend is payable on Jan. 15. ITT is the world's largest international manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services. Approximately 97,000 investors hold some 21 million shares of its common stock.

PACIFIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., Portland has raised its quarterly dividend payment on common stock from 29 cents to 30 cents per share, effective with the company's dividend payable Jan. 10. Directors have also authorized regular quarterly dividend payments and preferred stock on the same date.

BEMIS CO., INC. has completed acquisition of Hayssen Manufacturing Co., which produces form-fill seal and overwrapping equipment. Hayssen will continue to operate under the same name. The transaction brings to five the number of domestic acquisitions made by Bemis this year. They add approximately 32 million dollars to the packaging firm's annual sales.

SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON CO., distributors of S&H Green Stamps in the United States, has commenced operation in Spain, with the recent acquisition of Unicarca, that country's second largest independent trading stamp firm.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 rose to a new record of $13,175,000, or $3.06 a share. By comparison, earnings for the previous year were 11 million dollars, amounting to $2.56 a share. Contracts entered into for future deliveries of minerals, including coal have more than doubled the company's backlog, now amounting to over one billion dollars. Construction activities recorded the highest earnings of any year in the company's history. Earnings from land development were below the record earnings of 1965.

H. J. HEINZ CO. net earnings for fiscal 1967 are expected to show a modest increase over the $3.29 per common share for 1966, though net profits for the first six months ended Oct. 26 were $1.71 per share, compared with $1.73 for the corresponding period of the previous year. Heinz president R. Burt Gookin said the increase will not equal those of previous years because of cost and price pressures on the food industry.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC. of Palo Alto has completed negotiations for the lease of 275,000 square feet, part of recently deactivated Lincoln Air Park West in Lincoln, Neb. Approximately 25,000 square feet will be occupied commencing next month for the manufacture of electronic equipment. The balance is hangar space, with utilization dependent upon award of contracts the company is seeking. Some personnel from ATI's Palo Alto and Sunnyvale plants will transfer to Lincoln to form the nucleus of the new operation.

KAISER AEROSPACE AND ELECTRONICS CORP. dedicated its new 72,800-square-foot electronic plant in Palo Alto yesterday. The new one-million-dollar facility will manufacture navigational aids for pilots that are used in the Navy. The plant, at 1651 Page Mill Road, replaces one formerly used by Kaiser on San Antonio Road and has three times the floor space. It adjoins the development laboratories of the company.

J. I. CASE CO., Racine, Wis. manufacturer of agricultural and construction tractors and equipment, in which Kern County Land Co. has the controlling interest, has reported a 19 per cent gain in net sales over last year. The new figure of 326.7 million dollars established a new all-time high and produced a net income of 17.3 million dollars for 1966.

Ancient Planes Due At Northgate

Visitors at Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow afternoon will be treated to the rare sight of six to 12 biplanes from the World War I era circling overhead.

The airplanes, operated by members of the Northern California chapter of the Antique Airplane Assn., will be flown from San Jose to the Sonoma Valley Airport near Schellville, arriving there at noon. They will then fly to Northgate, arriving at approximately 1 p.m., and circle over the shopping center for about 20 minutes.

The spectacle is a pre-opening promotion for the motion picture, "The Blue Max," about World War I, which opens at the Northgate Theater on Dec. 23.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Ready For Audit? Save Your Bills

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C. P. A.

Now is a good time to add up your various deductions for 1966 and see how they will compare with the 1964 average deductions which are the latest figures available.

Wikel

If your deductions exceed these averages, chances are that your return will be selected for audit.

What happens if your actual expenses are greater than these averages? Nothing. Just be sure you can prove every item you put on your tax return, then, if your amounts are greater than these averages and you are audited you will have no problems.

How do you prove each item? these bills were paid, or the receipts if they were paid in cash.

There is no reason to fear an audit. If items are disallowed it is usually because the taxpayer doesn't have a good record, not because they are in excess of average amounts.

This does not mean that you can claim these amounts whether you paid them or not. You can only claim the amount that you actually paid.

These averages are taken from the Internal Revenue Service statistics of income and are the average deductions in these Save your original paid bills, the cancelled checks with which categories for the year 1964. These are the latest figures available. See accompanying table.

Averages Slip A Bit In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed slightly lower in active trading today.

The averages were off a bit most of the session but the range between gainers and losers was narrow.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running a point or so.

Disney spurted 10 points to 79 and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.7 million shares, compared with 7.23 million yesterday.

Prices were moderately lower during the morning but began to firm around midday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few running to a point or more.

AT&T was unchanged at 53⅝ on a block of 34,600 shares.

Motors, aircrafts, utilities and nonferrous metals were mostly higher.

Among the aircrafts, Boeing and Douglas gained about a point.

Gains of about a point were posted by Raytheon, MGM, Polaroid and Eastern Air Lines.

Bank Debits Off For Last Month

November bank debits in Marin County last month were down from November of last year, but deposits gained slightly from the 1965 level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has reported unadjusted debits of $155,675,000, compared with $161,986,000 in November of last year. Unadjusted deposits increased to $82,700,000 from $81,131,000 a year ago.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are still not being recorded for 1966, as figures have not been compiled for a long enough period to compensate for seasonal fluctuations.

Shareholders Meeting Slated

NEW YORK — The 1967 annual meeting of shareowners of General Telephone and Electronics Corp. will be held April 19 in San Francisco, Leslie H. Warner, president, has announced.

Major facilities of two G. T. and E. manufacturing subsidiaries are located in the San Francisco Bay Area, and telephone operating subsidiaries of G. T. and E. serve more than 2,000,000 telephones throughout California, including Novato.

"The decision to hold the 1967 annual meeting in San Francisco reflects our policy of holding these meetings in areas where our manufacturing plants and laboratories are located, or in territories served by our telephone operating companies," Warner said. Approximately 60,000 G. T. and E. common shareowners reside in California, with a particularly heavy concentration in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Marinites Selected To Exchange Board

Five Marin County men, associated with the shipping business, have been elected directors of Marine Exchange, Inc., of the San Francisco Bay region.

They are: Christopher Blom of Kentfield, Vincent R. Van Riper of San Anselmo, and Lester H. Clark, Capt. J. W. Dickover and Warren S. Titus, all of San Rafael.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

Telephone Dividends Rise; Green Stamps In Spain

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have increased the quarterly dividend on the common stock to 37.5 cents per share, equivalent to an annual rate of $1.50. The quarterly dividend had been 33 and three-quarters cents since last January, when it was raised to that level from 30 cents. The new dividend is payable on Jan. 15. ITT is the world's largest international manufacturer and supplier of electronic and telecommunications equipment and services. Approximately 97,000 investors hold some 21 million shares of its common stock.

PACIFIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., Portland has raised its quarterly dividend payment on common stock from 29 cents to 30 cents per share, effective with the company's dividend payable Jan. 10. Directors have also authorized regular quarterly dividend payments and preferred stock on the same date.

BEMIS CO., INC. has completed acquisition of Hayssen Manufacturing Co., which produces form-fill seal and overwrapping equipment. Hayssen will continue to operate under the same name. The transaction brings to five the number of domestic acquisitions made by Bemis this year. They add approximately 32 million dollars to the packaging firm's annual sales.

SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON CO., distributors of S&H Green Stamps in the United States, has commenced operation in Spain, with the recent acquisition of Unicarca, that country's second largest independent trading stamp firm.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 rose to a new record of $13,175,000, or $3.06 a share. By comparison, earnings for the previous year were 11 million dollars, amounting to $2.56 a share. Contracts entered into for future deliveries of minerals, including coal have more than doubled the company's backlog, now amounting to over one billion dollars. Construction activities recorded the highest earnings of any year in the company's history. Earnings from land development were below the record earnings of 1965.

H. J. HEINZ CO. net earnings for fiscal 1967 are expected to show a modest increase over the $3.29 per common share for 1966, though net profits for the first six months ended Oct. 26 were $1.71 per share, compared with $1.73 for the corresponding period of the previous year. Heinz president R. Burt Gookin said the increase will not equal those of previous years because of cost and price pressures on the food industry.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC. of Palo Alto has completed negotiations for the lease of 275,000 square feet, part of recently deactivated Lincoln Air Park West in Lincoln, Neb. Approximately 25,000 square feet will be occupied commencing next month for the manufacture of electronic equipment. The balance is hangar space, with utilization dependent upon award of contracts the company is seeking. Some personnel from ATI's Palo Alto and Sunnyvale plants will transfer to Lincoln to form the nucleus of the new operation.

KAISER AEROSPACE AND ELECTRONICS CORP. dedicated its new 72,800-square-foot electronic plant in Palo Alto yesterday. The new one-million-dollar facility will manufacture navigational aids for pilots that are used in the Navy. The plant, at 1651 Page Mill Road, replaces one formerly used by Kaiser on San Antonio Road and has three times the floor space. It adjoins the development laboratories of the company.

J. I. CASE CO., Racine, Wis. manufacturer of agricultural and construction tractors and equipment, in which Kern County Land Co. has the controlling interest, has reported a 19 per cent gain in net sales over last year. The new figure of 326.7 million dollars established a new all-time high and produced a net income of 17.3 million dollars for 1966.

Ancient Planes Due At Northgate

Visitors at Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow afternoon will be treated to the rare sight of six to 12 biplanes from the World War I era circling overhead.

The airplanes, operated by members of the Northern California chapter of the Antique Airplane Assn., will be flown from San Jose to the Sonoma Valley Airport near Schellville, arriving there at noon. They will then fly to Northgate, arriving at approximately 1 p.m., and circle over the shopping center for about 20 minutes.

The spectacle is a pre-opening promotion for the motion picture, "The Blue Max," about World War I, which opens at the Northgate Theater on Dec. 23.

Some Advice For Couple Who Are Retired, Elderly

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are retired at age 75 with no dependents. My wife and I have $20,000 in a savings bank and retirement income of $200 per month. Mortgage and upkeep of our house take $150 a month. Food, medicine and doctors require both in poor health. We are both inp oor health. We are withdrawing from our savings in order to live. Should I continue to do so, or can I get enough income from common stocks to meet our needs?"

R. H.

A. I am sincerely sorry about your illnesses and the straits to which they have reduced you. There are few good common stocks that yield much above 6 per cent. If you switched $15,000 of savings into these, your annual income would not be increased sufficiently to meet your problem. In your difficult position, I believe I would consult a reputable insurance agent. It might well be that he could set up for you a joint and survivorship annuity for $15,000 of consideration, which would provide you both with safe and sufficient income.

Q. "I am 22 years old and have recently been discharged from the army. My assets consist of $900 U.S. Savings Bonds, series E. Would it be wise to cash these bonds and buy stock? If so, just how do I go about doing this?" M. A.

A. Series E bonds are easy to negotiate. They are redeemable at fixed prices without advance notice, and most banks will take care of the redemption for you, if you request it. However, I strongly advise you to hold your series E bonds. They represent a backlog which every person should have before starting to buy stocks. In addition, I would set up a planned insurance program and build even bigger reserves in E bonds and savings. Only after these steps are taken should stocks — a very fluctuating commodity — be considered.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Bells Has What It Takes; London Arms Extending Menu

There's a healthy chance for success at the new Two Bells restaurant at 1 Vivian Way, San Rafael.

Open only about a month, it has several factors in its favor—all pointing toward what the average Marin diner likes when he spend an evening out:

The place itself. Nicely redecorated. Large and attractive cocktail lounge—with the same huge fish tank behind the bar that was there when it was Di Pietro's. But Toni Bell tells me that many of the occupants are new.

This area is screened off from the dance floor, where Bob Olney's group plays for dancing Friday and Saturday nights. And from the adjoining dining section. Comfortable tables. Gleaming napery.

Excellent food, and priced right. Dinners start at $2.75 and work their way up in reasonable stages to $5.50 for the New York steak, filet Mignon or the royal cut of prime rib. Ronnie Bell officiates at the prime rib cart—when he isn't talking to the many friends who seem to have followed his wagon to this latest venture.

Big, handsome Gus Persson is the man behind the kitchen doors. Tell anyone this who knows Gus and he'll admit right off that it's a good food recommendation. I never realized his classical attractions until the other night when he changed from working attire and sat a spell with us at the table. My wife thought he was a visiting dignitary. It's too bad that a chef's outfit does nothing for a man's appearance other than signal his vocation.

A good staff. Everyone seemed to be on his or her toes, including Toni Bell, who as hostess is all over the place. And Freddie Casavecchia who handled our table—and I'm not saying that just because he used to be a newspaperman.

The Bells are talking about a "package" arrangement for New Year's Eve—probably for about 50 couples. So make your reservations early. Bob Olney's Orchestra will play that night, too.

LONDON ARMS at 81 Red Hill Avenue, on the San Anselmo side of the Miracle Mile, will start serving lunches Monday. Hours will be from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Ted Wood will feature what he calls a "Ploughman's Lunch"—and being English, that's the way he spells it. Soup, cold meat, French Bread, cheese, pickled onion and potato salad—for 95 cents. Also there for the ordering are fish and chips (cod, haddock or sole), scallops, beef pies and whatever else may come to his mind for both his eat-in and take-out business.

He's talking about going into English delicacies to greater length — English cheeses, the pickled onions, pickled walnuts and so on. And just to make sure there's room for everyone he's going to extend the counter on the fish and chips side to give additional seating.

WHEN LIN FA GARDENS has an anniversary celebration. I'll say this for Ethel Barrie — she puts on a good one. There's music and entertainment all over the place.

There were organists to spare. Had either Jim Murray or Bill McCoy come down with arthritis, a substitute could have been found in one measure. Same with the Hawaiian dancers. If any of the performers had broken a leg, talent could have been called off the floor. Fact is, at one point some of it was.

That was a week ago last night. Too bad you didn't go—or did you? If not, make a mental note of it for next year. That's giving you plenty of notice.

On second thought, maybe you shouldn't wait so long. Try any night. The hula dancers won't be there, but Jim Murray will. And the food's good.

ONDINE plans to close on Dec. 24, reopen again for New Year's Eve (regular menu at dinner), close again on Sunday, Jan. 1 and reopen the night of Jan. 2. This is about the way it happens each year.

THAT WAS THE WRONG DATE we had for Santa Claus at Sabella's last Friday. He wasn't there on Monday — but he will be next Monday, the 19th.

I understand most of the space is sold out for the two dining periods for the youngsters — maybe all of it by this time. But you might try.

THIS PLACES Santa in two spots at once—which might be very confusing to some small fry. Let's see how you explain this away:

He'll be at Franchini's Chateau on Sunday from 2 p.m. and on Monday through Saturday (19th through the 24th) every night from 6 p.m. Candy canes for all the kids. Dinner reservations suggested.

It's been so long since my son was at that age I've forgotten what the correct answer is for multiple Santa Clauses appearing.

The Franchinis have given out these plans for New Year's Eve: Regular dinner menu and no change in prices. Noisemakers and favors. As the evening progresses, some of the tables can be pushed back to allow space for dancing to the jukebox.

OCCIDENTAL in Sonoma County is a popular place for many Marin diners who like a weekend jaunt mixed in with their calories. Make a note that the dining room at Negri's, burned out a while back, has been rebuilt and will have its grand reopening tomorrow night.

STARTING MONDAY, the Trident in Sausalito will close for two weeks during the Christmas and New Year's Eve holiday period. Open again Tuesday, Jan. 3, when the Bola Sete Trio will be featured into February.

COLUMBIA RECORDING rock group called "The Sparrow" (there are five of them) will open Friday night, along with the Freudian Slips, an all-girl combo (four of these) at the Ark in Sausalito. They will be programmed thereafter for Wednesdays through Sundays.

I must admit I'm not up on the fine points of "funk rock" but both of these groups have been well publicized nationally.

On the Ark's 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. show Friday and Saturday nights, both the Sparrow and the Sons of Champlin are featured.

The Ark is open daily from 4 p.m. There is food service and new manager is Nash Navarro, formerly with the Gay Nineties. Open New Year's Eve with a champagne dinner and dancing. Make reservations.

AT L'EUROPE RESTAURANT, 2214 Fourth Street, Miracle Mile Leo Cantayre and Frits Verburg can't get over how popular the steak and lobster combination has become.

So they've put it on the menu.

MUSIC FOR DANCING — Bob Olney's Orchestra is the featured attraction Friday and Saturday nights at Two Bells—though appearances next week will be on Thursday and Friday nights. Olney is the flutist; Jerry Hahn is the guitarist; Bill Barnes plays bass and Ken Williams is the drummer in this ensemble.

Rec Service Area Report Is Received

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn., which met Wednesday instead of last night, heard a preliminary report by Lawrence Husband creation of a county service areea for recreation.

No action was taken on the report pending further study of the matter by Husband, Mrs. Elmer Weden and Mrs. James Denebeim. Mrs. Robert Schneider, association recording secretary, said the matter is of great interest to the association.

Church Leader Backs Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. military effort in Vietnam, sharply criticized by some American clergymen, has received an unqualified endorsement from the leader of one of the n ation's four major faith groups.

Archbishop Iakovos, Greek Orthodox Primate, returned from a four-week visit to Asia convinced that "our intervention in Vietnam has a strong moral justification.

"In my opinion, the United States is the only major power which still upholds and believes in the moral obligations which emanated from the International Agreements on Vietnam reached in Geneva in 1954," said the Orthodox Primate.

"This is a civil war fought between communism and democracy. That is the real issue of the fighting in Vietnam."

First Family's Yule Cards Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Like millions of other Americans, President and Mrs. Johnson are mailing their Christmas cards this weekend. The only difference is that you can frame theirs.

The official 1966 White House card is a 13 by 17 1-2-inch print of a water color of a winter evening scene at the north portico of the executive mansion. In the foreground is a tall American elm, planted by Woodrow Wilson in 1913, and symbolizing "peace and serenity."

The greeting on the print reads: "Our warmest best wishes for a joyous holiday season and a bright and peaceful New Year." It is signed Lyndon B. Johnson and Lady Bird Johnson Christmas, 1966.

Constitution Sacred Item, Says Rafferty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Superintendant of Public Instruction Max Rafferty believes the U.S. Constitution should be revered like a mother and defended against "crank" interpreters who stretch separation of church and state provisions.

Dr. Raffety, speaking before the San Francisco Barristers' Club on the 175th anniversary of ratification of the Bill of Rights, compared the Constitution to "our own mothers, whom we should revere" and espite antipatriotic "cranks, howlers, and loose nuts with whom this state is infested."

He warned against interpretations which ultimately might "outlaw Christmas carols from the classroom...sung alike by Christians and non-Christians."

He said that forbidding pupils from doing something so worthy as praising a nonsectarian God "for a daily cup of milk" was "not an interpretation of the Constitution but rather a threat to it."

Rafferty referred indirectly to a remark made recently by Board of Education President Thomas W. Braden that the superintendent was more interested in "enhancing himself" than in education.

He said Braden's attack on him was "merely the last far-off quacking of an extremely lame duck." Braden is not expected to be reappointed by the Reagan administration.

Expanded Lot Sizes Studied

The San Anselmo Planning Commission will consider amending the city zoning ordinance to increase the minimum lot size at its meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

The minimum lot size is now 5,000 square feet for an interior lot and 6,000 square feet for a corner lot. City engineer Charles R. Leitzell has proposed that the commission consider establishing larger minimums in some parts of the city.

The commission will also consider the application of Martha Bruckner for a three three-lot subdivision on Camino De Herrera, and application by Perrone Hardware for a permit for outdoor merchandise display in the Red Hill Shopping Center.

School's Personnel Party Set Tonight

Mill Valley School District classified personnel will hold their annual crab feed and holiday gathering today at 7 p.m. at Muir Woods Improvement Club.

New officers for 1967 are Roy Knechtle, president; Manuel Silva, vice president; Marion Scotto, treasurer, and Patsy White, secretary.

Museum Curtails Holiday Hours

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum will be closed Dec. 24 and 31.

Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. the museum will show a special film, "The Horse With the Flying Tail."

The museum will return to its regular schedule Jan. 1 and will resume its Saturday film shows on Jan. 7.

Exploding Jet Misses Houses

LOS ALAMITOS, Calif. (AP) — One woman summed up the feeling of the residents who saw a Navy attack jet explode in front of their houses, leaving a trail of wreckage but not one injury:

"It was providence."

In heavy fog yesterday, just after beginning a routine instrument training flight from the Naval air station here, the single-seat A-4B Skyhawk clipped a row of trees, then plunged into the quiet neighborhood. Investigators are still seeking why.

"I lost control," said the pilot, Marine Reserve Capt. J.H. Moffett, 31, an airline pilot from Newhall, who had never been in serious trouble in six and one-half years of flying. "I had no choice but to get out."

He did — 75 feet above the ground — and parachuted to earth uninjured.

VISITS FRANCHINI'S CHATEAU

This seasonal visitor will appear at the popular Highway 101 and Lucas Valley Road restaurant during the coming week, starting Sunday. Franchini's is supplying its own deer for the occasion.

Deputies Call Off Search For Missing Otto Meyer

Hope of finding Otto H. Meyer, former chief building inspector of Marin County, alive in the Santa Cruz Mountains dimmed today as search of the rugged Boulder Creek area terrain was called off.

Santa Cruz Undersheriff Paul Tara said it was "possible, but not probable" that Meyer was alive.

Meyer, last seen Nov. 18, when he left the Santa Clara Public Works Department on vacation, was reported missing Nov. 28 by his son, Colton W. Meyer of El Sobrante. Meyer's car was found Wednesday on a seldom used mountain road.

Tara said further search may be undertaken Monday if "nothing develops over the weekend." He pointed out that pigeon season opens tomorrow and that "that area is quite heavily hunted." He said there was a good possibility a hunter might come across Meyer's body.

Tara said Meyer's son described his father as in good health and spirits and without financial problems.

It was also known, Tara said, that Meyer was in the habit of taking long hikes on the spur of the moment. "He would just suddenly cut across country," the undersheriff said.

He had apparently taken no camping equipment with him, Tara said.

Sen. Byrd's Estate Set At $2 Million

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
A holiday tradition in Marin County are the Marin Civic Ballet presentations of 'The Nutcracker." Playing a prominent part in the preparations for the 1966 performances next week at Dominican College is Grace Doty, assistant director and herself a prima ballerina. Tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine contains some interesting opinions from Miss Doty on the state of the dance in this country and this region.
Marin artists have provided the subject matter for some of the most interesting and meaningful of the feature stories in the I-J's weekend supplement. Tomorrow the magazine spotlights one of the most individualistic and most dedicated of the county's many painters. She is Gwen Stone, a woman with some unusual thoughts of the role of art. She shares them with you in tomorrow's issue of the Marin Magazine.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Bells Has What It Takes; London Arms Extending Menu

Open only about a month, it has several factors in its favor—all pointing toward what the average Marin diner likes when he spend an evening out:

The place itself. Nicely redecorated. Large and attractive cocktail lounge—with the same huge fish tank behind the bar that was there when it was Di Pietro's. But Toni Bell tells me that many of the occupants are new.

This area is screened off from the dance floor, where Bob Olney's group plays for dancing Friday and Saturday nights. And from the adjoining dining section. Comfortable tables. Gleaming napery.

Excellent food, and priced right. Dinners start at $2.75 and work their way up in reasonable stages to $5.50 for the New York steak, filet Mignon or the royal cut of prime rib. Ronnie Bell officiates at the prime rib cart—when he isn't talking to the many friends who seem to have followed his wagon to this latest venture.

Big, handsome Gus Persson is the man behind the kitchen doors. Tell anyone this who knows Gus and he'll admit right off that it's a good food recommendation. I never realized his classical attractions until the other night when he changed from working attire and sat a spell with us at the table. My wife thought he was a visiting dignitary. It's too bad that a chef's outfit does nothing for a man's appearance other than signal his vocation.

A good staff. Everyone seemed to be on his or her toes, including Toni Bell, who as hostess is all over the place. And Freddie Casavecchia who handled our table—and I'm not saying that just because he used to be a newspaperman.

The Bells are talking about a "package" arrangement for New Year's Eve—probably for about 50 couples. So make your reservations early. Bob Olney's Orchestra will play that night, too.

LONDON ARMS at 81 Red Hill Avenue, on the San Anselmo side of the Miracle Mile, will start serving lunches Monday. Hours will be from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Ted Wood will feature what he calls a "Ploughman's Lunch"—and being English, that's the way he spells it. Soup, cold meat, French Bread, cheese, pickled onion and potato salad—for 95 cents. Also there for the ordering are fish and chips (cod, haddock or sole), scallops, beef pies and whatever else may come to his mind for both his eat-in and take-out business.

He's talking about going into English delicacies to greater length — English cheeses, the pickled onions, pickled walnuts and so on. And just to make sure there's room for everyone he's going to extend the counter on the fish and chips side to give additional seating.

WHEN LIN FA GARDENS has an anniversary celebration, I'll say this for Ethel Barrie — she puts on a good one. There's music and entertainment all over the place.

There were organists to spare. Had either Jim Murray or Bill McCoy come down with arthritis, a substitute could have been found in one measure. Same with the Hawaiian dancers. If any of the performers had broken a leg, talent could have been called off the floor. Fact is, at one point some of it was.

That was a week ago last night. Too bad you didn't go—or did you? If not, make a mental note of it for next year. That's giving you plenty of notice.

On second thought, maybe you shouldn't wait so long. Try any night. The hula dancers won't be there, but Jim Murray will. And the food's good.

ONDINE plans to close on Dec. 24, reopen again for New Year's Eve (regular menu at dinner), close again on Sunday, Jan. 1 and reopen the night of Jan. 2. This is about the way it happens each year.

THAT WAS THE WRONG DATE we had for Santa Claus at Sabella's last Friday. He wasn't there on Monday — but he will be next Monday, the 19th.

I understand most of the space is sold out for the two dining periods for the youngsters — maybe all of it by this time. But you might try.

THIS PLACES Santa in two spots at once—which might be very confusing to some small fry. Let's see how you explain this away:

He'll be at Franchini's Chateau on Sunday from 2 p.m. and on Monday through Saturday (19th through the 24th) every night from 6 p.m. Candy canes for all the kids. Dinner reservations suggested.

It's been so long since my son was at that age I've forgotten what the correct answer is for multiple Santa Clauses appearing.

The Franchinis have given out these plans for New Year's Eve: Regular dinner menu and no change in prices. Noisemakers and favors. As the evening progresses, some of the tables can be pushed back to allow space for dancing to the jukebox.

OCCIDENTAL in Sonoma County is a popular place for many Marin diners who like a weekend jaunt mixed in with their calories. Make a note that the dining room at Negri's, burned out a while back, has been rebuilt and will have its grand reopening tomorrow night.

STARTING MONDAY, the Trident in Sausalito will close for two weeks during the Christmas and New Year's Eve holiday period. Open again Tuesday, Jan. 3, when the Bola Sete Trio will be featured into February.

COLUMBIA RECORDING rock group called "The Sparrow" (there are five of them) will open Friday night, along with the Freudian Slips, an all-girl combo (four of these) at the Ark in Sausalito. They will be programmed thereafter for Wednesdays through Sundays.

I must admit I'm not up on the fine points of "funk rock" but both of these groups have been well publicized nationally.

On the Ark's 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. show Friday and Saturday nights, both the Sparrow and the Sons of Champlin are featured.

The Ark is open daily from 4 p.m. There is food service and new manager is Nash Navarro, formerly with the Gay Nineties. Open New Year's Eve with a champagne dinner and dancing. Make reservations.

AT L'EUROPE RESTAURANT, 2214 Fourth Street, Miracle Mile Leo Cantayre and Frits Verburg can't get over how popular the steak and lobster combination has become.

So they've put it on the menu. And try their chestnut parfait for dessert. That's good, too.

Church Leader Backs Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. military effort in Vietnam, sharply criticized by some American clergymen, has received an unqualified endorsement from the leader of one of the n ation's four major faith groups.

Archbishop Iakovos, Greek Orthodox Primate, returned from a four-week visit to Asia convinced that "our intervention in Vietnam has a strong moral justification.

"In my opinion, the United States is the only major power which still upholds and believes in the moral obligations which emanated from the International Agreements on Vietnam reached in Geneva in 1954," said the Orthodox Primate.

First Family's Yule Cards Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Like millions of other Americans, President and Mrs. Johnson are mailing their Christmas cards this weekend. The only difference is that you can frame theirs.

The official 1966 White House card is a 13 by 17 1-2-inch print of a water color of a winter evening scene at the north portico of the executive mansion. In the foreground is a tall American elm, planted by Woodrow Wilson in 1913, and symbolizing "peace and serenity."

The greeting on the print reads: "Our warmest best wishes for a joyous holiday season and a bright and peaceful New Year." It is signed Lyndon B. Johnson and Lady Bird Johnson Christmas, 1966.

Rec Service Area Report Is Received

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn., which met Wednesday instead of last night, heard a preliminary report by Lawrence Husband creation of a county service areea for recreation.

No action was taken on the report pending further study of the matter by Husband, Mrs. Elmer Weden and Mrs. James Denebeim. Mrs. Robert Schneider, association recording secretary, said the matter is of great interest to the association.

CUB SCOUTS SPREAD SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Cub Scouts of San Rafael's Pack 55, sponsored by the San Pedro School Parent-Teacher Assn., decided to spread the spirit of Christmas by collecting foodstuffs for families in need. They found a Santa Claus helper to distribute the food yesterday in the person of Norman Gray, who operates Gray's Taxi in Marin City. Turning the contributions over to Gray are (from left) Fred Robbins, Vincent Bergeron, Bill Gannon, David Robbins, Grant Godall, and Paul Spangberg.

LBJ's Great Society Push Draws Criticism

Democratic state executives agreed at a caucus last night that a surge against Johnson's "Great Society" produced Republican victories at the polls last month. They said Johnson is pushing the program too fast, despite the financial drain of the Vietnam war.

Govs. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Otto Kerner of Illinois added their voices at separate news conferences to the chorus of Democratic dissent rising at the National Governors Conference meeting here.

Kerner said the Republican comeback apparently constituted an antiadministration vote.

Kerner said Johnson has been so "fantastically successful" in getting his program through Congress that "people fear his success."

The Illinois governor said he does not know whether Johnson could carry his state now. But he said he is confident the President will run again in 1968, carry Illinois and win the election.

Hearnes said Johnson will have to re-evaluate the political situation or face the prospect of being dumped from the 1968 ticket.

Wallace, who is threatening to run as a third party candidate for the presidency, said he thinks dissatisfaction with "big government" brought Republican victories in last month's balloting.

Cashmere Coat Stolen

Peter S. Sabin of Palo Alto told San Rafael police yesterday that someone stole his wife's $330 cashmere coat and replaced it with a cheaper coat while they were dining Dec. 3 at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, 507 Francisco Boulevard.

Architect Fees Will Be Sought

Tamalpais Fire Protection District board last night agreed to apply for federal funds to pay fees of architect Joseph Allen for planning a new main fire station at the site of the present station.

Board chairman Carl H. Modell said the district has outgrown its present station, built when it had a strictly volunteer department. Federal money will pay part of the fees for the architect, he said.

The board also instructed Modell to begin negotiating with Marin Municipal Water District to see if it will share costs of replacing water mains in the district, estimated at $300,000.

$1,500 In Damage To New Apartments

Rock-throwing vandals caused an estimated $1,500 damage by breaking windows of a new apartment project in the 100 block of Marinwood Drive, Marinwood, sheriff's officers reported today.

E. F. Smith of Hoytt Enterprises, 181 Marinwood Drive, said damage to the firm's property included shattering specially cut oval windows and the printing of initials on walls with white paint.

A collection of 15 volumes of Sierra Club wilderness photographs was presented last night to the Mill Valley Public Library by the Mill Valley unit of the Marin Conservation League.

Included in the gift were other books on regional studies and wilderness conferences, among them a compilation of the Sierra Club's annuals from 1893 to 1956.

College President Applications Viewed

The Marin Junior College district board, in a four-hour closed meeting last night at the county schools office, reviewed applications of seven candidates for the position of College of Marin president.

The board will interview up to nine candidates at later closed meetings, but the dates have not yet been set. A decision on the position is not expected before March.

Policeman's Shooting Held In Line Of Duty

A Marin County coroner's jury Wednesday night ruled that Sheriff's Deputy Ronald C. Spurrell shot and killed a young San Francisco policeman Dec. 6 in the line of duty.

Verdict of the 14-member panel was returned after two and one-half hours of testimony by 12 witnesses. It stated that the victim, Lloyd H. Henderson, 31, was killed at his Bel Marin Keys home by "gunshot wounds fired by Deputy Sheriff Ronald Spurrell in line of official duty by justifiable means."

Henderson, father of three boys and twice decorated for heroism, was slain by a short-range blast from Deputy Spurrell's shotgun after Henderson fired a shot at other officers and was aiming to shoot again. Spurrell and two other deputies, Anthony J. Russo and Raymond H. Tschirgi, had arrived at the home, 209 Montego Key, to check a report of a family disturbance.

Testifying at the inquest, called by Coroner Frank J. Keaton, were Mrs. Henderson; the three deputies, Sheriff's Sgt. Edward McKamey; two neighbors, Beatrice Joan Bugles of 213 Montego Keys, and Carol Wynn Majors of 220 Montego Key; Mark Douglas Eccher, 13, stepson of the victim; Novato Police Officer Paul P. Robin; Marjorie Harriman, a telephone operator called by Mrs. Henderson during the earlier disturbance, and Ernest E. Howren, San Francisco police officer who visited with the Hendersons prior to the shooting.

Driver Reports He Was Robbed, Beaten

Sheriff's deputies today were investigating a report by Richard A. James, 43, of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City, that he was beaten and robbed by two hitchhikers he encountered on Bolinas Road near the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

He said he halted his car to give them a ride, but they struck him and took his wallet containing $20 cash and identification papers. Officers said James, not seriously injured, also had run his car into a ditch.

Head Hurt In Fall

Henry G. Douglas, 62, who fell on steps at his home at 121 Cazneau Street, Sausalito, yesterday, was treated for a bruised head at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco.

Constitution Sacred Item, Says Rafferty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Superintendant of Public Instruction Max Rafferty believes the U.S. Constitution should be revered like a mother and defended against "crank" interpreters who stretch separation of church and state provisions.

Dr. Raffety, speaking before the San Francisco Barristers' Club on the 175th anniversary of ratification of the Bill of Rights, compared the Constitution to "our own mothers, whom we should revere" and espite antipatriotic "cranks, howlers, and loose nuts with whom this state is infested."

He warned against interpretations which ultimately might "outlaw Christmas carols from the classroom...sung alike by Christians and non-Christians."

He said that forbidding pupils from doing something so worthy as praising a nonsectarian God "for a daily cup of milk" was "not an interpretation of the Constitution but rather a threat to it."

Rafferty referred indirectly to a remark made recently by Board of Education President Thomas W. Braden that the superintendent was more interested in "enhancing himself" than in education.

He said Braden's attack on him was "merely the last far-off quacking of an extremely lame duck." Braden is not expected to be reappointed by the Reagan administration.

Expanded Lot Sizes Studied

The San Anselmo Planning Commission will consider amending the city zoning ordinance to increase the minimum lot size at its meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

The minimum lot size is now 5,000 square feet for an interior lot and 6,000 square feet for a corner lot. City engineer Charles R. Leitzell has proposed that the commission consider establishing larger minimums in some parts of the city.

The commission will also consider the application of Martha Bruckner for a three three-lot subdivision on Camino De Herrera, and application by Perrone Hardware for a permit for outdoor merchandise display in the Red Hill Shopping Center.

Midyett's Son Joins Police In Belvedere

Duffy Midyett, 31, son of District Attorney's Investigator Don trict Attorney's Investigator Donald A. Midyett, today joined the Belvedere police force.

The junior Midyett has just moved to Marin County after working for the Washoe County sheriff's office in Reno. On the Belvedere force, he replaces Patrolman E. Richard Fontaine, whose resignation was effective today.

Exploding Jet Misses Houses

LOS ALAMITOS, Calif. (AP) — One woman summed up the feeling of the residents who saw a Navy attack jet explode in front of their houses, leaving a trail of wreckage but not one injury:

"It was providence."

In heavy fog yesterday, just after beginning a routine instrument training flight from the Naval air station here, the single-seat A-4B Skyhawk clipped a row of trees, then plunged into the quiet neighborhood. Investigators are still seeking why.

"I lost control," said the pilot, Marine Reserve Capt. J.H. Moffett, 31, an airline pilot from Newhall, who had never been in serious trouble in six and one-half years of flying. "I had no choice but to get out."

He did — 75 feet above the ground — and parachuted to earth uninjured.

The museum will return to its regular schedule Jan. 1 and will resume its Saturday film shows on Jan. 7.

Deputies Call Off Search For Missing Otto Meyer

Hope of finding Otto H. Meyer, former chief building inspector of Marin County, alive in the Santa Cruz Mountains dimmed today as search of the rugged Boulder Creek area terrain was called off.

Santa Cruz Undersheriff Paul Tara said it was "possible, but not probable" that Meyer was alive.

Meyer, last seen Nov. 18, when he left the Santa Clara Public Works Department on vacation, was reported missing Nov. 28 by his son, Colton W. Meyer of El Sobrante. Meyer's car was found Wednesday on a seldom used mountain road.

Tara said further search may be undertaken Monday if "nothing develops over the weekend." He pointed out that pigeon season opens tomorrow and that "that area is quite heavily hunted." He said there was a good possibility a hunter might come across Meyer's body.

Tara said Meyer's son described his father as in good health and spirits and without financial problems.

It was also known, Tara said, that Meyer was in the habit of taking long hikes on the spur of the moment. "He would just suddenly cut across country," the undersheriff said.

He had apparently taken no camping equipment with him, Tara said.

Sen. Byrd's Estate Set At $2 Million

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
A holiday tradition in Marin County are the Marin Civic Ballet presentations of "The Nutcracker." Playing a prominent part in the preparations for the 1966 performances next week at Dominican College is Grace Doty, assistant director and herself a prima ballerina. Tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine contains some interesting opinions from Miss Doty on the state of the dance in this country and this region.
Marin artists have provided the subject matter for some of the most interesting and meaningful of the feature stories in the I-J's weekend supplement. Tomorrow the magazine spotlights one of the most individualistic and most dedicated of the county's many painters. She is Gwen Stone, a woman with some unusual thoughts of the role of art. She shares them with you in tomorrow's issue of the Marin Magazine.

CUB SCOUTS SPREAD SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Cub Scouts of San Rafael's Pack 55, sponsored by the San Pedro School Parent-Teacher Assn., decided to spread the spirit of Christmas by collecting foodstuffs for families in need. They found a Santa Claus helper to distribute the food yesterday in the person of Norman Gray, who operates Gray's Taxi in Marin City. Turning the contributions over to Gray are (from left) Fred Robbins, Vincent Bergeron, Bill Gannon, David Robbins, Grant Godall, and Paul Spangberg.

LBJ's Great Society Push Draws Criticism

Democratic state executives agreed at a caucus last night that a surge against Johnson's "Great Society" produced Republican victories at the polls last month. They said Johnson is pushing the program too fast, despite the financial drain of the Vietnam war.

Govs. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Otto Kerner of Illinois added their voices at separate news conferences to the chorus of Democratic dissent rising at the National Governors Conference meeting here.

Kerner said the Republican comeback apparently constituted an antiadministration vote.

Kerner said Johnson has been so "fantastically successful" in getting his program through Congress that "people fear his success."

The Illinois governor said he does not know whether Johnson could carry his state now. But he said he is confident the President will run again in 1968, carry Illinois and win the election.

Hearnes said Johnson will have to re-evaluate the political situation or face the prospect of being dumped from the 1968 ticket.

Wallace, who is threatening to run as a third party candidate for the presidency, said he thinks dissatisfaction with "big government" brought Republican victories in last month's balloting.

Cashmere Coat Stolen

Peter S. Sabin of Palo Alto told San Rafael police yesterday that someone stole his wife's $330 cashmere coat and replaced it with a cheaper coat while they were dining Dec. 3 at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, 507 Francisco Boulevard.

Architect Fees Will Be Sought

Tamalpais Fire Protection District board last night agreed to apply for federal funds to pay fees of architect Joseph Allen for planning a new main fire station at the site of the present station.

Board chairman Carl H. Modell said the district has outgrown its present station, built when it had a strictly volunteer department. Federal money will pay part of the fees for the architect, he said.

The board also instructed Modell to begin negotiating with Marin Municipal Water District to see if it will share costs of replacing water mains in the district, estimated at $300,000.

$1,500 In Damage To New Apartments

Rock-throwing vandals caused an estimated $1,500 damage by breaking windows of a new apartment project in the 100 block of Marinwood Drive, Marinwood, sheriff's officers reported today.

E. F. Smith of Hoytt Enterprises, 181 Marinwood Drive, said damage to the firm's property included shattering specially cut oval windows and the printing of initials on walls with white paint.

A collection of 15 volumes of Sierra Club wilderness photographs was presented last night to the Mill Valley Public Library by the Mill Valley unit of the Marin Conservation League.

Included in the gift were other books on regional studies and wilderness conferences, among them a compilation of the Sierra Club's annuals from 1893 to 1956.

College President Applications Viewed

The Marin Junior College district board, in a four-hour closed meeting last night at the county schools office, reviewed applications of seven candidates for the position of College of Marin president.

The board will interview up to nine candidates at later closed meetings, but the dates have not yet been set. A decision on the position is not expected before March.

Policeman's Shooting Held In Line Of Duty

A Marin County coroner's jury Wednesday night ruled that Sheriff's Deputy Ronald C. Spurrell shot and killed a young San Francisco policeman Dec. 6 in the line of duty.

Verdict of the 14-member panel was returned after two and one-half hours of testimony by 12 witnesses. It stated that the victim, Lloyd H. Henderson, 31, was killed at his Bel Marin Keys home by "gunshot wounds fired by Deputy Sheriff Ronald Spurrell in line of official duty by justifiable means."

Henderson, father of three boys and twice decorated for heroism, was slain by a short-range blast from Deputy Spurrell's shotgun after Henderson fired a shot at other officers and was aiming to shoot again. Spurrell and two other deputies, Anthony J. Russo and Raymond H. Tschirgi, had arrived at the home, 209 Montego Key, to check a report of a family disturbance.

Testifying at the inquest, called by Coroner Frank J. Keaton, were Mrs. Henderson; the three deputies, Sheriff's Sgt. Edward McKamey; two neighbors, Beatrice Joan Bugles of 213 Montego Keys, and Carol Wynn Majors of 220 Montego Key; Mark Douglas Eccher, 13, stepson of the victim; Novato Police Officer Paul P. Robin; Marjorie Harriman, a telephone operator called by Mrs. Henderson during the earlier disturbance, and Ernest E. Howren, San Francisco police officer who visited with the Hendersons prior to the shooting.

Driver Reports He Was Robbed, Beaten

Sheriff's deputies today were investigating a report by Richard A. James, 43, of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City, that he was beaten and robbed by two hitchhikers he encountered on Bolinas Road near the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

He said he halted his car to give them a ride, but they struck him and took his wallet containing $20 cash and identification papers. Officers said James, not seriously injured, also had run his car into a ditch.

Head Hurt In Fall

WEEKEND BUYS

Butter, Poultry Prices Turn Downward

WASHINGTON (UP) The beef roundup indicates a good variety of roasts and steaks. Pork shoppers can find buys in bacon, porkchops, ham, sausage, and spareribs. Leg of lamb appears in some areas as a weekend buy.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkey continue as the mainstays for the budget-minded shopper. Vegetables in good supply are cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, green peppers and potatoes.

Fruits available in ample quantities are apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pears and tangerines.

Butter and poultry prices trended downward in California markets the past week, but are generally unchanged in the Northwest.

Beef and pork prices, on the other hand, are slightly higher in most West Coast markets.

San Francisco shoppers may note a 1 to 2 cent decline on large and medium size eggs, while a slight advance is probable in the Seattle area.

Fresh pork loins advanced from 1 to 5 cents in various markets along the coast and hams may be 2 to 4 cents higher in California.

Choice steer beef hindquarters, ribs, and loins also advanced from 1 to 2 cents in California markets and calf, veal and lamb prices are slightly higher in the northwest.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply in west coast produce markets include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pears, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Western states' fish report for weekend shopping: Canned salmon, sole fillets, ocean perch fillets, true cod and ling cod fillets, and crab and crabmeat.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CLUB

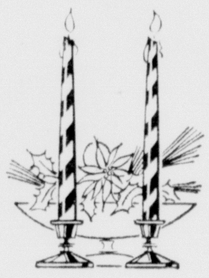
THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Dinner For Honorary Ball Sponsors

By MOLLY MARIN

Preceding the fifth annual Marin Debutante Ball Tuesday evening at Peacock Gap Country Club honorary sponsors of the ball will be honored by the Harrison Leppos at a reception and buffet dinner to be held at 7:15 p.m. at their home in Mill Valley. Mrs. Leppo is president of the Marin Charitable Foundation, sponsors of the ball.



MANY MARINITES are receiving Christmas greetings from the Harold Schuttes who are living in Malaga, Spain. Justina and Harold, who formerly lived in Ross, have made their home in Spain for more than a year.

THE ROBERT L. Schultzes of Mill Valley will be hosts at a dinner party Sunday evening honoring the 80th birthday of Mrs. Schultz's mother, Mrs. Walfred Knutson of Patterson. Some 40 close friends and relatives have been invited. Present will be the Schultz's only son Kenneth and his wife Mary Lou, who are coming from Gainesville, Fla., where Kenneth is working on his doctorate at the University of Florida. They will divide their time between Mill Valley and Los Altos Hills, the home of Mary Lou's parents.

PLANNING A Christmas dinner party for their traveling friends are the Mel Riccardis of Greenbrae. The occasion will also serve as a welcome home for the Mel Aratas who are returning from a tour of the Orient. Also returning for the holiday party are Capt. and Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goodwin.

THEIR ANNUAL black-tie Christmas dinner has been scheduled for Dec. 21 by Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon at their home in Rolling Hills, Tiburon. Guests include the Rev. and Mrs. Llewellyn A. White; Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Kretchmer, Richard Bates, Dickerson McAfee, Willard Pittmann, Kirk Bassett and Edwin G. Weed.

FIFTEEN FAMILY members will share the gala Yule dinner party to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Kapler in their Bel-Marin Keys home which will climax the Christmas week visit of their daughter and her husband, Hugh Chase, and their two-year old son, Darrick, from Los Angeles. Other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Louis Outlaw and their four children. Mrs. Kapler and Mrs. Outlaw are sisters. Also guests will be the parents of their son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chase, of San Francisco. Highlights of the festive season will be sharing Santa's arrival by water as he distributes token gifts to the residents.

MR. AND MRS. H. J. Aubuchon, who have lived in Mill Valley since 1912, will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary quietly Tuesday evening by having dinner at a restaurant in the area. Their children are Mrs. Helen Gehb and Jules William Aubuchon of Novato, Mrs. Stewart Shriver of Fairfax and Mrs. Chester Long of San Anselmo. They have 9 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY celebrants Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Rickey of San Anselmo, will be honored with a celebration on Dec. 21 at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hamilton in San Rafael. The family dinner will include another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Alumbaugh of San Rafael, a son, Lt. Col. Stanton M. Rickey, and his family of Washington, D.C., eight grandchildren and one greatgrandchild. The Rickeys have been members of the San Rafael Yacht Club for fourteen years during which time Mr. Rickey has been Port Captain.

MRS. JOHN Finn III had a dinner party Tuesday night at her home in Mill Valley for 21 members of the advisory committee of the group home for girls of the Marin Foundation of Friends of Arequipa. She has been chairman of the committee three years and will continue next year. Next Wednesday the Finns' home will be the scene of another dinner party for housemothers and girls at the group home.

THE LARRY BRINKS of Mill Valley and their sons Barry, Jan and Kevin will leave Sunday to spend Christmas in Hawaii. They will have a friend's house and car while they are on Kauai enjoying the swimming and surfing at which the boys are experts. Friends will stay in the Brinks home while they are gone.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Corte Madera.

Wedding forms must be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding takes place. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

Engagement forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be obtained in the I-J office after publication.

PARTY TIME FOR AUXILIARY

Branch Plans Holiday Party For Children

The party, given for the children confined to the hospital for part of the holidays, will feature a group of girls from Sir Francis Drake High School who will sing Christmas carols and entertain the children. The carolers are Lee Thompson, Dana Kealey, Debbie Failkowski, Judy Gurall, Carolyn Mollica, Ruth Bellefelle, Patty Hyde and Linda Young. Chairmen for the party, Mesdames David Dawson and Frederick Allen Jr., are also planning games and refreshments for the day.

The Christmas tree in Pediatrics has been decorated by Mesdames James MacGuire, Robert Holst, Joseph Stone, George Shelby and David Dawson. The children who will actually be confined to the hospital over Christmas will receive stockings which will be filled with goodies and were made by Mesdames John Caple and Terry McIntyre. The windows in Pediatrics have been painted using a "Peanuts" comic strip theme. Mesdames Thomas Zink, James Finn, Thomas McNally and Terry McIntyre assisted Mr. Edward Tagemann Jr. in the artwork.

Beginning with this holiday season the Jack and Jill Branch of Marin General Hospital will coordinate all the holidays for Pediatrics.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'I'm Overweight, Divorced, With Two Girls–And Wife-Hunting!'

DEAR HELEN:

My wife and I divorced two years ago so she could marry another man. I fought an expensive legal battle and finally got full custody of our two girls, ages 11 and 13.

Now I'm finding it difficult to make a living and keep the children with me. I tried having my mother live with us and it didn't work—I am a rather difficult person to live with and here's the reason why: Each year I figure up how much it will take to live, then work like the devil, 18 or 20 hours a day, until I make that amount. Then I take it easy the rest of the year. Sometimes I only have to work four or five months out of 12.

But I am now up to my ears in debt and will have to work longer. I can't leave two young girls alone like that. I won't return them to their mother. I've had no luck in finding a housekeeper. I'm too overweight (and too busy) to find a wife easily. Besides, what woman would want to take over and love two spoiled but very nice children and a man who is not easy to live with?

If you can solve my problem, Helen, my hat's off to you.—JIM.

DEAR JIM:

You can solve your own problem, Jim, if you'll taper off to a normal working day, five days a week, 50 weeks a year. Then you'll have time for your children and for a real go at wife-hunting.

What woman could want an overweight "difficult" man with two half-grown children? I'd say about 500 gals would jump at the chance to "mother" all three of you into a fine, close-knit family. Perhaps one is waiting at your office. Why don't you slow down and start looking?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

These telephone surveys about new products on the market! Today I spent a total of 40 minutes answering questions by telephone interviewers who wanted to know all about why I liked Brand X, Y, Z, and Q that big, well-known companies had just launched—everything from soup to instant pie. Each questioner took about 10 minutes of my time.

Now this is an open letter to companies that expect you to be polite and cooperate with their "customer surveys:" Be polite in return and send us a free package of your product! Otherwise we may just hang up next time.—MIFFED

DEAR MIFFED:

Second the motion! ! !

Many companies do offer free samples to cooperative telephone interviewees. All should! A housewife's time is valuable too.—H

DEAR HELEN:

I've just returned from visiting a good friend in another state. Her 18-year-old son is a talented artist. He specializes in painting girls. They all looked vaguely familiar, so I asked who he used for a model. My friend told me he looks in a mirror, and then it hit me: all those girls had his face, feminized.

He seems like a perfectly normal fellow, but isn't there something a little odd about this? His mother says he is just saving the price of a model, which is a good thing because such women are too worldly for him. Should I tell her a "worldly woman" might do him a lot of good?—MRS. R. Y.

DEAR MRS. Y.

She'd never believe you. Whether he's odd or mod, this boy is not your problem, and if you'd keep his mother's friendship—keep it that way.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About these paddling husbands. Here is what I witnessed nearly 50 years ago. For years my neighbor's wife received frequent spankings and sometimes they turned into beatings. Finally her instinct for self-preservation asserted itself. With a heavy cast-iron skillet, she hit him on the head. Though partially dazed, her husband retaliated by giving her a black eye. But that was the last blackened eye the wife received! She knocked him cold with the second blow of the skillet. A healthier atmosphere prevailed in that house thereafter!—JKL

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Addess Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Marin Women

Peter Karl Stehlik Weds In San Francisco Church

Marliese Anna Ernst and Peter Karl Stehlik of Novato were united in marriage at St. Boniface Catholic Church in San Francisco on Dec. 5. The Rev. Emmanual Muessiggang officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Marliese, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Ernst of Weitenung, Baden, Germany, wore a white floor length gown of satin and lace. Her only attendant was Mrs. Bernhard Steger of Greenbrae.

Peter, the son of Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. Eugene L. Meade of Novato chose as his best man, Bernhard Steger of Greenbrae.

The bride and bridegroom attended schools in Germany. Peter is a chef at West End Villa in San Rafael and the couple will reside in Novato.

Marin Civic Ballet Plans A Party In Nevada City

Members of the Marin Civic Ballet are planning a party and buffet in historic Nevada City following the performance of the "Nutcracker" in Grass Valley.

The National Hotel in Nevada City has turned over its rooms for the members and their guests this weekend.

Reservations have been made by Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Widlund, Richard Parks, Ralph White, Max Thelen Jr., Mrs. Caesar Taverna and her daughter, Mrs. Diane Gizzi, Mrs. Byron Jones and Mrs. John Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Bartholomew, Greg Norgaard, George Caruso and Lila King, Mrs. Walter Gee.

Raymond Dance School To Give Variety Show

Students of the Raymond School of Dance in Novato will be presented in a Christmas variety show at Hamilton Air Force Base theatre 2 at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Excerpts from the nutcracker, modern ballet, acrobatic, tap and character dances will be presented.

Children performing will be Mary Kate Miller, Debbie and Lisa Miltenberger, Sara Alberts, Heather Kerr, Kristin Evens, Sheri and Wendy Suneson, Deidre Healey, Beth Hammond, Noreen Conklin, Kelly Ground, Mary Lipinski, Stacey and Joli Malagamba, Beth Wright;

Also Kathy and Patricia Gomez, Susan Waring, Ginger Seymour, Jane Johnson, Karen Spagnolia, Christa and Carla Fredrick, Jan and Loren Alberts, Pat and Carol McColpin, Linda and Carol Matera, Barbara, Patti and Lorie Philibosian, Bonnie Swan, Gaard and Kristin Wallis and Vicky Craig.

Handicapped Child Party Is Tomorrow

Invitations have been sent to 134 handicapped youngsters in Marin County to attend a special Christmas party sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, Inc. The event, headed by Jack Murphy, special events chairman, will be held at the Marinwood Community Center from 1 to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. William Gordon, acting chairman of the newly formed Womens' Auxiliary of United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, with the Auxiliary have planned a special program for the children. It will include a pageant presented by the recreation program for retarded children group; one of the youngsters, Jamie Girarghi, will play songs on her auto harp and there will be a special singing and acts put on by the group. Santa Claus will present all the children with candy.

Christmas In Marin Dance Tomorrow

The Christmas in Marin dinner dance is on the calendar for tomorrow at the Peacock Gap Country Club. Two hundred and thirty will attend the traditional subscription party.

Sponsors are Dr. and Mrs. Walter Coulson, and Messrs. and Mesdames Harvey N. Black Jr., Thomas W. Dorst, Kirk W. Frederick, Thomas Kearney, John H. Robinson and Henry E. Sanderson.

Alan Christiansen Will Claim Bride

The engagement of Cynthia L. McNulty and Alan Dale Christiansen has been announced at the home of the future bridegroom's aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glodnis in San Anselmo.

Cynthia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McNulty of Novato, is the sister of Bill McNulty, also of Novato.

She was graduated from Novato High School and is employed with the Village Fair in Sausalito.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Hamman of Novato. He is the brother of Doris Christiansen and Mark Hamman of Novato and Jacki Casellini of Redwood City. He was graduated from Novato High School and is employed with the Mayfair Market in Novato.

WEEKEND BUYS

Butter, Poultry Prices Turn Downward

WASHINGTON (UP) The beef roundup indicates a good variety of roasts and steaks. Pork shoppers can find buys in bacon, porkchops, ham, sausage, and spareribs. Leg of lamb appears in some areas as a weekend buy.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkey continue as the mainstays for the budget-minded shopper. Vegetables in good supply are cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, green peppers and potatoes.

Fruits available in ample quantities are apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pears and tangerines.

Butter and poultry prices trended downward in California markets the past week, but are generally unchanged in the Northwest.

Beef and pork prices, on the other hand, are slightly higher in most West Coast markets.

San Francisco shoppers may note a 1 to 2 cent decline on large and medium size eggs, while a slight advance is probable in the Seattle area.

Fresh pork loins advanced from 1 to 5 cents in various markets along the coast and hams may be 2 to 4 cents higher in California.

Choice steer beef hindquarters, ribs, and loins also advanced from 1 to 2 cents in California markets and calf, veal and lamb prices are slightly higher in the northwest.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply in west coast produce markets include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pears, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions and potatoes.

Western states' fish report for weekend shopping: Canned salmon, sole fillets, ocean perch fillets, true cod and ling cod fillets, and crab and crabmeat.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CLUB

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

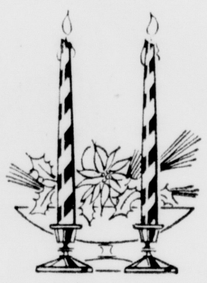
Dinner For Honorary Ball Sponsors

By MOLLY MARIN

Preceding the fifth annual Marin Debutante Ball Tuesday evening at Peacock Gap Country Club honorary sponsors of the ball will be honored by the Harrison Leppos at a reception and buffet dinner to be held at 7:15 p.m. at their home in Mill Valley. Mrs. Leppo is president of the Marin Charitable Foundation, sponsors of the ball.

MANY MARINITES are receiving Christmas greetings from the Harold Schuttes who are living in Malaga, Spain. Justina and Harold, who formerly lived in Ross, have made their home in Spain for more than a year.

THE ROBERT L. Schultzes of Mill Valley will be hosts at a dinner party Sunday evening honoring the 80th birthday of Mrs. Schultz's mother, Mrs. Walfred Knutson of Patterson. Some 40 close friends and relatives have been invited. Present will be the Schultz's only son Kenneth and his wife Mary Lou, who are coming from Gainesville, Fla., where Kenneth is working on his doctorate at the University of Florida. They will divide their time between Mill Valley and Los Altos Hills, the home of Mary Lou's parents.



PLANNING A Christmas dinner party for their traveling friends are the Mel Riccardis of Greenbrae. The occasion will also serve as a welcome home for the Mel Aratas who are returning from a tour of the Orient. Also returning for the holiday party are Capt. and Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goodwin.

THEIR ANNUAL black-tie Christmas dinner has been scheduled for Dec. 21 by Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon at their home in Rolling Hills, Tiburon. Guests include the Rev. and Mrs. Llewellyn A. White; Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence Kretchmer, Richard Bates, Dickerson McAfee, Willard Pittmann, Kirk Bassett and Edwin G. Weed.

FIFTEEN FAMILY members will share the gala Yule dinner party to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Kapler in their Bel-Marin Keys home which will climax the Christmas week visit of their daughter and her husband, Hugh Chase, and their two-year old son, Darrick, from Los Angeles. Other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Louis Outlaw and their four children. Mrs. Kapler and Mrs. Outlaw are sisters. Also guests will be the parents of their son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chase, of San Francisco. Highlights of the festive season will be sharing Santa's arrival by water as he distributes token gifts to the residents.

MR. AND MRS. H. J. Aubuchon, who have lived in Mill Valley since 1912, will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary quietly Tuesday evening by having dinner at a restaurant in the area. Their children are Mrs. Helen Gehb and Jules William Aubuchon of Novato, Mrs. Stewart Shriver of Fairfax and Mrs. Chester Long of San Anselmo. They have 9 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY celebrants Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Rickey of San Anselmo, will be honored with a celebration on Dec. 21 at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hamilton in San Rafael. The family dinner will include another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Alumbaugh of San Rafael, a son, Lt. Col. Stanton M. Rickey, and his family of Washington, D.C., eight grandchildren and one greatgrandchild. The Rickeys have been members of the San Rafael Yacht Club for fourteen years during which time Mr. Rickey has been Port Captain.

MRS. JOHN Finn III had a dinner party Tuesday night at her home in Mill Valley for 21 members of the advisory committee of the group home for girls of the Marin Foundation of Friends of Arequipa. She has been chairman of the committee three years and will continue next year. Next Wednesday the Finns' home will be the scene of another dinner party for housemothers and girls at the group home.

THE LARRY BRINKS of Mill Valley and their sons Barry, Jan and Kevin will leave Sunday to spend Christmas in Hawaii. They will have a friend's house and car while they are on Kauai enjoying the swimming and surfing at which the boys are experts. Friends will stay in the Brinks home while they are gone.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Corte Madera.

Wedding forms must be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding takes place. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

Engagement forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be obtained in the I-J office after publication.

PARTY TIME FOR AUXILIARY

Branch Plans Holiday Party For Children

The party, given for the children confined to the hospital for part of the holidays, will feature a group of girls from Sir Francis Drake High School who will sing Christmas carols and entertain the children. The carolers are Lee Thompson, Dana Kealey, Debbie Failkowski, Judy Gurall, Carolyn Mollica, Ruth Bellefelle, Patty Hyde and Linda Young. Chairmen for the party, Mesdames David Dawson and Frederick Allen Jr., are also planning games and refreshments for the day.

The Christmas tree in Pediatrics has been decorated by Mesdames James MacGuire, Robert Holst, Joseph Stone, George Shelby and David Dawson. The children who will actually be confined to the hospital over Christmas will receive stockings which will be filled with goodies and were made by Mesdames John Caple and Terry McIntyre. The windows in Pediatrics have been painted using a "Peanuts" comic strip theme. Mesdames Thomas Zink, James Finn, Thomas McNally and Terry McIntyre assisted Mr. Edward Tagemann Jr. in the artwork.

Beginning with this holiday season the Jack and Jill Branch of Marin General Hospital will coordinate all the holidays for Pediatrics.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS
Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.
Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.
The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.
"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

'I'm Overweight, Divorced, With Two Girls–And Wife-Hunting!'

DEAR HELEN:

My wife and I divorced two years ago so she could marry another man. I fought an expensive legal battle and finally got full custody of our two girls, ages 11 and 13.

Now I'm finding it difficult to make a living and keep the children with me. I tried having my mother live with us and it didn't work—I am a rather difficult person to live with and here's the reason why: Each year I figure up how much it will take to live, then work like the devil, 18 or 20 hours a day, until I make that amount. Then I take it easy the rest of the year. Sometimes I only have to work four or five months out of 12.

But I am now up to my ears in debt and will have to work longer. I can't leave two young girls alone like that. I won't return them to their mother. I've had no luck in finding a housekeeper. I'm too overweight (and too busy) to find a wife easily. Besides, what woman would want to take over and love two spoiled but very nice children and a man who is not easy to live with?

If you can solve my problem, Helen, my hat's off to you.—JIM.

DEAR JIM:

You can solve your own problem, Jim, if you'll taper off to a normal working day, five days a week, 50 weeks a year. Then you'll have time for your children and for a real go at wife-hunting.

What woman could want an overweight "difficult" man with two half-grown children? I'd say about 500 gals would jump at the chance to "mother" all three of you into a fine, close-knit family. Perhaps one is waiting at your office. Why don't you slow down and start looking?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

These telephone surveys about new products on the market! Today I spent a total of 40 minutes answering questions by telephone interviewers who wanted to know all about why I liked Brand X, Y, Z, and Q that big, well-known companies had just launched—everything from soup to instant pie. Each questioner took about 10 minutes of my time.

Now this is an open letter to companies that expect you to be polite and cooperate with their "customer surveys:" Be polite in return and send us a free package of your product! Otherwise we may just hang up next time.—MIFFED

DEAR MIFFED:

Second the motion! ! !

Many companies do offer free samples to cooperative telephone interviewees. All should! A housewife's time is valuable too.—H

DEAR HELEN:

I've just returned from visiting a good friend in another state. Her 18-year-old son is a talented artist. He specializes in painting girls. They all looked vaguely familiar, so I asked who he used for a model. My friend told me he looks in a mirror, and then it hit me: all those girls had his face, feminized.

He seems like a perfectly normal fellow, but isn't there something a little odd about this? His mother says he is just saving the price of a model, which is a good thing because such women are too worldly for him. Should I tell her a "worldly woman" might do him a lot of good?—MRS. R. Y.

DEAR MRS. Y.

She'd never believe you. Whether he's odd or mod, this boy is not your problem, and if you'd keep his mother's friendship—keep it that way.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About these paddling husbands. Here is what I witnessed nearly 50 years ago. For years my neighbor's wife received frequent spankings and sometimes they turned into beatings. Finally her instinct for self-preservation asserted itself. With a heavy cast-iron skillet, she hit him on the head. Though partially dazed, her husband retaliated by giving her a black eye. But that was the last blackened eye the wife received! She knocked him cold with the second blow of the skillet. A healthier atmosphere prevailed in that house thereafter!—JKL

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Addess Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

WIC Pilgrimage To Hospital Set

Members of the Marin County Chapter of Women in Construction will make their pilgrimage to Rafael Convalescent Hospital in Santa Venetia on Tuesday.

Each patient will be presented a Christmas stocking filled with home baked cakes and cookies and small gift items. The club will also donate books and magazines to the hospital library.

Two-Faced Fabric

The American Wool Council sees America's pace-setting designers rushing for two-faced fabrics for spring. What else is ahead: patterns and stripes made in newer and multi-combinations and tones. The patterns are ropy, nuby and grainy. Stripes are puffy and eye-catching.

Rainbow Initiation

San Rafael Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow For Girls, will hold its initiation at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael.

Rainbow degrees will be conferred on Sandy Miller, Susan McCulley, Sandra Marshall and Marsha Wegner.

THE FAR OUT LOOK IN TODAY'S MODERN ART

Kenneth Dierick, a bachelor ceramist from El Cerrito, is shown in his hillside studio with a turned, oversized head that will be exhibited in February at College of the Holy Names. Dierick, who displays an elfinlike quality in much of his work, took first place in the Assn. of San Francisco Potters showing, currently at San Francisco's de Young Museum, with his wall plaque, "The Inseparables," at right and five other pieces. Before going into ceramics, he obtained his master's degree in painting and sculpture.

Contests Shaping Up For School Positions

Some persons, apparently, are in a hurry to get into the fight for seats due to become vacant on school boards in Marin County next April.

Although there are 25 days to go before nomination papers can be filed, at least five persons have already made inquiries at the office of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

"It is the first time there have been inquiries this early," said Hollis. "Usually the first come in at the middle of January.

"The coming elections look as if they will be pretty tough ones."

Jan. 9 is opening day for filing nomination papers for the April 18 elections. Potential candidates or incumbents have until March 3 to file their papers. Petitions of candidacy can be taken out at any time, however.

The terms of four members of the Marin County Board of Education expire in 1967.

They are Mrs. Edith Kanoff, representing Novato area; Mrs. Adele J. Alpers representing San Rafael and Dixie districts; James A. Carroll of Reed, Larkspur, Kentfield and Ross district, and Lee C. Richardson Jr., representing Bolinas, Stinson Beach, Point Reyes and West Marin districts.

District trustees whose terms expire at the same time are:

Bolinas — Arthur Carpenter and John Collingwood.

Fairfax — Harland B. Hennessy and Mrs. Fay Jensen.

Kentfield — Lawrence Goldberg and Kenneth Treganowen.

Laguna — Agnes Terribilini.

Lagunitas —William McBride and Leslie S. Stone.

Larkspur — Curtis P. Kamai and Mrs. Cornelia Perrone.

Lincoln — Joseph Corda.

Mill Valley — M. James Norton Jr. and Joseph E. Bodovitz.

Nicasio — Wilfred La Franchi.

Point Reyes — James Spaletta.

Reed — David D. Ring and Marilyn Steinau.

Ross — A. Crawford Greene J. R. and L. G. MacLise.

San Anselmo — Mrs. Cornelia B. Busse and Dr. Elmer A. Weden.

Sausalito — Martha Freebairn-Smith and Harold L. Sleight.

Union—Arnold Antognini.

Attendant Reports Beating

A part-time service station attendant told San Rafael police that he was badly beaten with a three-foot wooden club last night by the husband of an Oakland woman he had dated.

Lawrence D. Nelson of 54 Oakdale Road, San Rafael, said Ronald Koutz of Oakland clubbed him on the head and legs at the station where Nelson is employed at 1515 First Street.

Nelson was treated at Marin General Hospital for two deep wounds in the scalp and leg bruises, then released.

Nelson said Koutz encountered him in the lubrication room of the station about 7:15 p.m., said, "Go out with my wife, will you?" then began swinging the club. Nelson said he managed to get up and run, but Koutz chased him across the street and threw the club at him.

Nelson admitted dating Koutz' wife, Marsha, who he met while working at a San Francisco bank.

Missing Girl Found In Area

A 15-year-old San Anselmo girl, missing from home since Nov. 16, was found in a Larkspur apartment yesterday at 10 a.m. by Larkspur and San Anselmo police.

Sharlene Anne Osborne, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Osborne of 8 Sunny Drive, San Anselmo, was placed in Juvenile Hall.

Candy Shoplifting

Two 8-year-old San Rafael boys were reprimanded by police and released to their parents yesterday after they admitted shoplifting candy from the United Market at 515 Third Street, and the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday.

Marin Chamber Ensemble Sets Concert Sunday

The Marin Chamber Ensemble under direction of Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, will present its final free concert of the fall season at 4 p.m. Sunday at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Featured will be Pachelbel's "Magnificat" for double chorus, orchestra and organ.

Also on the program will be Handel's Concerto for organ and orchestra and "See the Conquering Hero Comes" for chorus, organ and orchestra; Bach's Sonatino for flute and orchestra and the chorale "Wachet Auf" with organ, choir and brass; Sinfonie for Strings and Continuo by Tartino; Trio for Oboe, Bassoon and Flute by Telemann; motet for the Christmas season "O Magnum Mysterium" by Vittoria; duet from the "Gloria" (Laudamus Te) by Vivaldi, and suite from the Royal Brass Music of King James I.

Unification Report Given At Larkspur

The Larkspur School District Board last night heard a report on the status of school unification in Marin County, presently at an impasse in the Tomales and Tamalpais High School districts.

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization said a unification election is possible in 1967, and must be held before June 30, 1968.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen told the board that 98 per cent of all district parents took part in parent-teacher conferences held in the last two weeks.

The board received the commendations of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission on the district's litter control program. District students are encouraged to keep their schools clean, and have been writing essays on litter control.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Peggy Lurie, second grade teacher at Neil Cummins School, and hired Mrs. Mary Chan to replace her, effective Jan. 1.

Trustee Curtis P. Kamai was absent.

Treated For Scrapes

Charles Hinkle, 22, of 2130 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was treated for scrapes on his face at Marin General Hospital today after he fell unconscious at a service station at 619 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, police reported.

'Battle Of The Bulge' Returns For Showing At 101 Drive-In

By LES DARD

101 DRIVE-IN

In case you missed it the first time around, World War II is back again — this trip running under the title of "The Battle of the Bulge." The cast includes Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw, Robert Ryan, Dana Andrews, George Montgomery, Ty Hardin, Charles Bronson, Telly Savalas and James MacArthur.

The film is told from both Allied and Nazi viewpoints, and attempts to show the Americans nearly throwing away their long months of victory by overconfidence and sloppy administration. The Nazis on the other hand are depicted as tidy, efficient and powerful in their last-ditch determination and strength.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Fantastic Voyage" features Stephen Boyd and Raquel Welch.

By 1995 a process has been devised to shrink people and objects to microscopic size. But the one man who knows how to control the process has sustained a brain injury, operable only from inside the skull.

Five medical and technical experts, along with a nuclear submarine, are reduced to germ size and injected into the unconscious scientist's bloodstream.

There's the threat of a saboteur within the group, and all sorts of unforeseen dangers.

NOVATO THEATER

Moving to Novato is the third filming of the famed "Beau Geste" desert adventure tale. This time Telly Savalas, Guy Stockwell and Doug McClure star.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

The story starts as the British pull out in 1947, leaving the Israelis nearly defenseless against the Arabs. Kirk Douglas portrays Col. Mickey Marcus, an American who wound up in charge of most of the defense operations.

Co-featured is Cornel Wilde's "Naked Prey," a tale of a naked and weaponless white man running and fighting for survival in the jungle while pursued by natives.

MOTOR MOVIES

RAFAEL THEATER

The gyrating English rock-and-roll group "Freddy and the Dreamers" star in a brand new color presentation for the frug-set: "Disk-O-Tek Holiday."

Plenty of lively lolligagging and lots of bright music.

Folksingers Due

Purple Onion folksingers, "The Other Three," will sing at the Village Fair in Sausalito Wednesday at 1 p.m. to conclude a week-long Christmas Festival.

Barbara June Castro Becomes Bride At St. Raphael's Rite

St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael was the setting on Dec. 3 for the wedding of Barbara June Castro and Jesse R. Wiles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Castro of San Rafael.

For her wedding the bride wore a sheath gown of English lace accented with seed pearls.

Preceding the bride to the altar, in gowns of peacock blue chiffon over taffeta, were Mrs. Jack Strickland of Hamilton Air Force Base as matron of honor and bridesmaids, Vickie Rodemacher, Sandee Bruce, Laurie Waltz, Judy Rossi, Sally Earwood and Rosanne Pontasuglio.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Non Commissioned Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed with McGraw-Hill Book Co. Mrs. Frances Moreno of San Francisco and Mrs. Bart Moreno of San Mateo are her grandmothers.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wyland of Auburn, Wash., was graduated from Auburn High School and is serving with the U.S. Air Force. He is the brother of Judy, Joe, Jeannine, Jerry, Jackie, Robert and Myrna Wyland of Auburn.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel, the couple will reside in Hawaii.

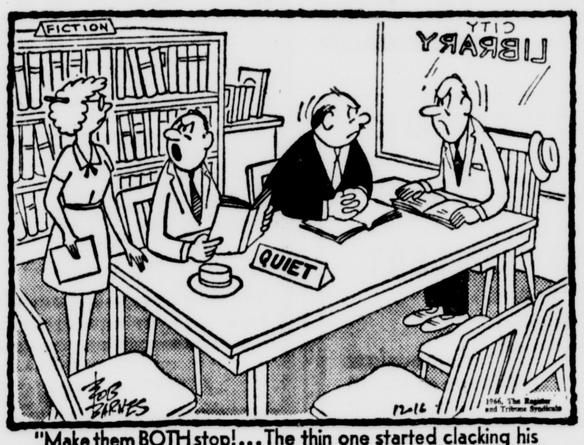
Sausalito Club To Give Christmas Play On Sunday

Members of the Sausalito Woman's Club will present its Christmas play, "Greater Than Gold" at Christ Episcopal Church, at Campbell Hall, Sausalito on Sunday at 5 p.m.

The cast includes Natalie Solberg as Simon, the innkeeper; Tula Baker as Miriam, the wife; Kathy Henderson as Abigail, their daughter; Norma Christian as Eleazar, Simon's father; Lulu Mote as Ezra, a servant; Marie Burnett as Isaac, a traveler. Three shepherds are Leona Hansen, Agnes Shapiro and Louise Gunn. Joseph is played by Kay Ksanda, and Mary, mother of Jesus, by Inez Brock.

Refreshments will be served by St. Brigil's Guild of Christ Church.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes



"Make them BOTH stop!... The thin one started clacking his false teeth and when he wouldn't quit the chubby one started cracking his knuckles!"

Sylvan Circle Sale Tomorrow

The Sylvan Circle of Druids 115 of Novato will have a bake sale tomorrow in conjunction with the Novato Garden Club Christmas decorations show and greens sale to be held from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at the Nave Shopping Center in Novato.

Proceeds from the bake sale will help provide a college scholarship, sponsored by the grand circle, for a boy and a girl in Marin County.

In Monday's Independent-Journal it was reported that the Novato Garden Club show would be held at Novato Shopping Center rather than the Nave Shopping Center.

Pairs And Spares Christmas Party

The Pairs and Spares of St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church will hold its Christmas party at 7 p.m., tomorrow at John Collins Hall in Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Secrist and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Killian will be hosts for the evening which will include a potluck dinner with a program including carol singing.

Yacht Club Sets Installation And Dinner Tomorrow

The Sausalito Yacht Club will hold its annual dinner dance and installation of officers at the clubhouse tomorrow. Festivities will start at 7 p.m. with cocktails.

A gourmet dinner will be served by the clubs' chef, and music will be provided by an orchestra. Reservations chairman is Carl Lischeske of Mill Valley.

Officers to be installed are Carl Lischeske, commodore; William Gillespie, vice commodore; Phil Gregory, secretary; John Sanford, treasurer; Neil Munro, rear commodore; and Alan Laidlaw, Sidney Messer, Harold Rogers and Robert Creighton, directors.

Auxiliary, Post Will Give Party

The auxiliary to Muir Woods Post 6741, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the post will give a Christmas party for members' children Sunday at 3 p.m. at Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley.

There will be a Santa Claus, Christmas tree, refreshments and gifts.

Chairman Mrs. Samuel De Pillo will be assisted by Mesdames Wendell Reichmuth, Tal Childers and new president, Mrs. Kella Lester.

The auxiliary will have its own Christmas party on Dec. 20 at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley. Following a 6:30 p.m. dinner at Gregory's restaurant in Corte Madera and brief business meeting.

Stump Jumpers Plan Christmas Dance

The Stump Jumpers Square Dance Club will sponsor a special Christmas dance at 8:30 p.m., tomorrow at Novato High School gymnasium. Ralph Silvius will be the caller and hosts for the dance, co-sponsored by the Novato Recreation Dept., are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Urner assisted by Messrs. and Mesdames Dennis Dutra, Doug Larsen and Dave Thomas.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS
Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.
Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.
The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.
"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Limited Regional Government Plan Support Apparent

ABAG Expected To Ask Hearings Before Legislature Committees

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

BERKELEY—A proposal that the State Assembly be asked to make the Assn. of Bay Area Governments a limited regional government appeared headed for passage at the association's general assembly meeting here today.

No vote had been taken by noon on the proposal, presented by the association's goals committee, but backers seemed to outnumber opponents.

Members apparently not opposed to the concept of regional home rule, were divided on some of the aspects as they spent the morning session discussing the suggested amendments to the proposal.

The executive committee, meeting last night, suggested the State Legislature be asked to start intensive hearings before the appropriate committees before taking any final action.

WHICH FIRST?

In the meantime, the committee suggested in its recommendation that the general assembly continue debating the plan to hammer out specifics.

As the meeting opened today, members were hung up on the question of what should come first: a vote on the executive committee's proposal or amendments by the goals and organization committee.

Mayor Wallace J. S. Johnson of Berkeley questioned the legality of the assembly voting on the resolution at all. He believes the purpose of today's meeting was to discuss only the amendments and not to take a vote.

Councilman Francis P. Pacelli of Daly City said he believed no one was opposed to the concept of home rule, but he thought some of the aspects would need to be considered further before they were voted on.

By vote of 58 to 15, the membership agreed to discuss the amendments before coming to the vital question.

The meeting opened with a telephone address by Assemblyman John Knox of the 11th District, who was attending another meeting in San Diego.

'IMPORTANT DAY'

He called it "the most important day in the history of ABAG." He said the goals committee had reached the final form at the proposal but had not gone into specifics. All the general assembly was being asked to do was vote on the concept of home rule.

"You must take a position today and must publicly state your position," he said.

If the Bay Area is to remain "a beautiful place," a future government of the area must have clear-cut leadership, said Knox, and he looked for that leadership to ABAG.

He suggested that the State Legislature be asked to start public hearings immediately to stimulate widespread discussion and debate of the issues.

URGES ACTION

He urged that what he called "the simple resolution" be endorsed and the State Legislature be informed of ABAG's wishes that it maintain the leadership in the new agency.

ABAG vice president Robert G. Miller, vice mayor of San Jose, spoke of the criticism he has heard of the regional government proposal. Some have said it would lead to some sort of metro-government. He said that many aspects of the proposal still remained to be ironed out and discussed at length.

"This plan is built on the rock of local government. If we do not accept it today we shall find the eventual resurgence of a local government built on sand," he said.

Going through the amendments put before them, delegates approved the majority, including a recommendation by the goals committee that the general assembly of the new agency establish the salaries of officers, members of the executive committee, and members of official advisory commissions.

SUIT PROPOSED

A delegate from Santa Rosa proposed that as soon as the new agency is formed, it institute a law suit to test the constitutionality of its method of selecting city representatives to the executive committee. Councilman Michael Wornum of Mill Valley believed, however, that it would prejudice the proposal at this stage. He said there would be ample time later to discuss representation.

The goal of Miller's group is to have the legislature act on an ABAG-developed plan rather than a regional government system sponsored by Sen. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco.

A group of San Mateo County cities urged delaying Assembly approval until the plan can be studied further by the 91 member city governments and nine county governments.

Transferring Of Students Is Discussed

Ways of encouraging more students in the lower grades of Mill Valley Schools to transfer to the Sausalito School District on an exshange basis were discussed by the Mill Valley School District Inter-District committee last night, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell.

He said no decision was made, other than the committee will meet with the district's human relations consultants late in January to discuss the matter.

There are only about a dozen lower grade students from the district now in Sausalito schools, McConnell said.

Money Bag Taken From Nave Lanes

Theft of a money bag containing $150 in bills and coins from Nave Lanes, 5800 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, was reported by sheriff's officers today.

Tiburon Rail, Ferry Slip Can Be Dropped

The Interstate Commerce Commission has granted Northwestern Pacific Railroad permission to abandon the portion of its main line between Meadowsweet and the Tiburon ferry slip, provided service is restored through the Puerto Suello tunnel.

It grants permission also for Northwestern Pacific to abandon ferry service btween Tiburon and San Francisco, and for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad to abandon ferry service between Tiburon and Richmond.

The decision thus provides for conversion of the NWP's line to terminate at Sausalito. The Meadowsweet - Sausalito route was formerly a branch line, with the main line running from Tiburon through San Rafael. There has been no service on the southern end of the main line since the Puerto Suello tunnel collapsed in July, 1961, however.

The tunnel is now being restored by Morrison-Knudsen Co. under contract with NWP. The railroad this week asked the California Public Utilities Commission for an extension to next July to complete the reopening, because of unexpected difficulties in the excavation.

The ICC ruling give both NWP and Santa Fe one year in which to complete abandonment of their Tiburon links. Both are required to give at least 10 days' notice to public and commission before stopping service.

NWP and its parent company, Southern Pacific Co., are also required to maintain and keep open routes via Schellville and all junctions with the Santa Fe other than at Tiburon.

The railroad filed the petition to abandon the Tiburon line, with provisio for reopening the Puerto Suello tunnel last March 7 after the ICC had turned down previous applications to abandon San Rafael and Sausalito service. No objection was filed.

Toy Delivery Stolen

A carton of newly delivered toys, worth $300, was stolen yesterday afternoon from the rear of the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, store owner Walter Zurcher told police.

County Aides, Developers Swap Ideas

County workers and developers spent more than two hours in a give-and-take session at the Civic Center yesterday, seeking to resolve complaints made several weeks ago by civil engineer Arthur J. Lang.

Lang charged lack of cooperation between county departments responsible for checking building and subdivision plans. He came armed with a long list of suggestions for improved service, including request for "courtesy at staff level, expediting of information and clear decisions."

One suggestion, avoiding "blackmail tactics," was stricken from his list by others representing developers. Melvin Rupp, manager of Marin Property Owners Assn., said the word "blackmail" should not be used.

Twelve county workers, representing sanitation, public works and planning departments, and seven representatives of developers participated in the meeting.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker told developers there are too many unprofessional submissions by applicants who are supposed to be professionals.

William Desmond, director of sanitation, said applicants often fail to do enough background work. "Then we get blamed," Desmond said.

The group agreed to meet again Jan. 18. Meanwhile the public works department will prepare a report on the Sonoma County plan check practice, in which a committee of department representatives meets with the developer.

Glen Parks Wins Speech Contest

Second place went to freshman Bob Borello of Olema, and third to Jim Furlong, a junior from Bodega Bay.

Parks will enter the sectional contest of the Future Farmers of America in Santa Rosa on Jan. 24.

Judges for last night's event were Richard T. Straw, Marin County agricultural commissioner; James Kovalik, Tomales High School English teacher, and Steven Olson, Santa Rosa High School agriculture teacher.

$15,000 FIRE IN SAUSALITO HOME

Paint-Removal Torch May Have Been Cause; Passerby Alerts Crew, House Occupant

A $15,000 fire, possibly connected with using a blow torch to remove paint from a wooden house, burned through Peter Walker's home at 301 Fourth Street, Sausalito, yesterday.

Philip Sprang of San Francisco, hired by Walker to paint his house, was using a blowtorch to remove old paint from the exterior of the wall where the fire broke out, according to Capt. Ralph K. Pederson of the Sausalito Fire Department.

Sprang and his small crew of painters were intently burning off paint when John Rocha of the Sausalito public works department drove by just after 2 p.m. and saw smoke billowing from the roof.

Walker was teaching in San Francisco. His mother, Jeannie Walker, about 60, was sitting in the dining room inside, sipping her tea, Pederson said.

"She told us she heard a crackling noise, but thought it was the men scraping the wall outside," he said.

When Rocha shouted that the house was on fire, Sprang ran onto the front porch and broke a window to alert Mrs. Walker.

When 16 firemen in two trucks arrived, smoke was billowing out of the roof of the three-story house in several places.

The fire was contained within the walls and attic, Pederson said.

All firemen suffered from smoke inhalation, he said, but none required medical attention. Each time a fireman broke through the roof with his axe, a dense rush of smoke would force him back, Pederson related.

The fire was controlled within 10 minutes and completely out after about two and one half hours, Pederson said. Asst. Chief Frank Christ, who led the crew of firemen, estimated damage at $15,000.

Cause of the fire has not been definitely determined, Pederson said.

THERE GOES THE JOB — Two members of a painting crew hired by Peter Walker to paint his home at 301 Fourth Street, Sausalito, watched yesterday as fire burned through walls and attic of the house. Firemen said workmen had used a blow torch to remove old paint, but it was not certain whether that started the blaze. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Patrol Probing Auto's Burning

Sheriff's officers today said California Highway Patrol is conducting the investigation of the mysterious burning of a car in unincorporated Mill Valley on Wednesday night.

The patrol earlier had said it would turn the case over to the sheriff's office for investigation of possible arson. The vehicle was found "burning fiercely" on Erica Road. No driver or passenger was found.

A book bearing the name Jess B. Bollinger, U.S.S. Navasota, with a San Francisco Fleet post office number, was found on the ground near the auto.

Burglar Gets Loot While Family Sleeps

A burglar passed within three feet of a sleeping San Rafael couple and walked off with a television and a radio, worth $240, from a bedroom dresser Wednesday night, the couple told police yesterday.

Joseph M. Berry of 14 Sentinel Court said the burglar entered through an unlocked side door between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 1 a.m. Thursday. The thief also stole $50 from his wife's purse in the kitchen, Berry said.

THE FAR OUT LOOK IN TODAY'S MODERN ART

Kenneth Dierick, a bachelor ceramist from El Cerrito, is shown in his hillside studio with a turned, oversized head that will be exhibited in February at College of the Holy Names. Dierick, who displays an elfinlike quality in much of his work, took first place in the Assn. of San Francisco Potters showing, currently at San Francisco's de Young Museum, with his wall plaque, "The Inseparables," at right and five other pieces. Before going into ceramics, he obtained his master's degree in painting and sculpture.

Contests Shaping Up For School Positions

Some persons, apparently, are in a hurry to get into the fight for seats due to become vacant on school boards in Marin County next April.

Although there are 25 days to go before nomination papers can be filed, at least five persons have already made inquiries at the office of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

"It is the first time there have been inquiries this early," said Hollis. "Usually the first come in at the middle of January.

"The coming elections look as if they will be pretty tough ones."

Jan. 9 is opening day for filing nomination papers for the April 18 elections. Potential candidates or incumbents have until March 3 to file their papers. Petitions of candidacy can be taken out at any time, however.

The terms of four members of the Marin County Board of Education expire in 1967.

They are Mrs. Edith Kanoff, representing Novato area; Mrs. Adele J. Alpers representing San Rafael and Dixie districts; James A. Carroll of Reed, Larkspur, Kentfield and Ross district, and Lee C. Richardson Jr., representing Bolinas, Stinson Beach, Point Reyes and West Marin districts.

District trustees whose terms expire at the same time are:

Bolinas — Arthur Carpenter and John Collingwood.

Fairfax — Harland B. Hennessy and Mrs. Fay Jensen.

Kentfield — Lawrence Goldberg and Kenneth Treganowen.

Laguna — Agnes Terribilini.

Lagunitas —William McBride and Leslie S. Stone.

Larkspur — Curtis P. Kamai and Mrs. Cornelia Perrone.

Lincoln — Joseph Corda.

Mill Valley — M. James Norton Jr. and Joseph E. Bodovitz.

Nicasio — Wilfred La Franchi.

Point Reyes — James Spaletta.

Reed — David D. Ring and Marilyn Steinau.

Ross — A. Crawford Greene J. R. and L. G. MacLise.

Sausalito — Martha Freebairn-Smith and Harold L. Sleight.

Union—Arnold Antognini.

Attendant Reports Beating

A part-time service station attendant told San Rafael police that he was badly beaten with a three-foot wooden club last night by the husband of an Oakland woman he had dated.

Lawrence D. Nelson of 54 Oakdale Road, San Rafael, said Ronald Koutz of Oakland clubbed him on the head and legs at the station where Nelson is employed at 1515 First Street.

Nelson was treated at Marin General Hospital for two deep wounds in the scalp and leg bruises, then released.

Nelson said Koutz encountered him in the lubrication room of the station about 7:15 p.m., said, "Go out with my wife, will you?" then began swinging the club. Nelson said he managed to get up and run, but Koutz chased him across the street and threw the club at him.

Nelson admitted dating Koutz' wife, Marsha, who he met while working at a San Francisco bank.

Missing Girl Found In Area

A 15-year-old San Anselmo girl, missing from home since Nov. 16, was found in a Larkspur apartment yesterday at 10 a.m. by Larkspur and San Anselmo police.

Sharlene Anne Osborne, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Osborne of 8 Sunny Drive, San Anselmo, was placed in Juvenile Hall.

Candy Shoplifting

Two 8-year-old San Rafael boys were reprimanded by police and released to their parents yesterday after they admitted shoplifting candy from the United Market at 515 Third Street, and the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, San Rafael, yesterday.

Marin Chamber Ensemble Sets Concert Sunday

The Marin Chamber Ensemble under direction of Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, will present its final free concert of the fall season at 4 p.m. Sunday at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Featured will be Pachelbel's "Magnificat" for double chorus, orchestra and organ.

Also on the program will be Handel's Concerto for organ and orchestra and "See the Conquering Hero Comes" for chorus, organ and orchestra; Bach's Sonatino for flute and orchestra and the chorale "Wachet Auf" with organ, choir and brass; Sinfonie for Strings and Continuo by Tartino; Trio for Oboe, Bassoon and Flute by Telemann; motet for the Christmas season "O Magnum Mysterium" by Vittoria; duet from the "Gloria" (Laudamus Te) by Vivaldi, and suite from the Royal Brass Music of King James I.

Unification Report Given At Larkspur

The Larkspur School District Board last night heard a report on the status of school unification in Marin County, presently at an impasse in the Tomales and Tamalpais High School districts.

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization said a unification election is possible in 1967, and must be held before June 30, 1968.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen told the board that 98 per cent of all district parents took part in parent-teacher conferences held in the last two weeks.

The board received the commendations of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission on the district's litter control program. District students are encouraged to keep their schools clean, and have been writing essays on litter control.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Peggy Lurie, second grade teacher at Neil Cummins School, and hired Mrs. Mary Chan to replace her, effective Jan. 1.

Trustee Curtis P. Kamai was absent.

Treated For Scrapes

Charles Hinkle, 22, of 2130 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, was treated for scrapes on his face at Marin General Hospital today after he fell unconscious at a service station at 619 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, police reported.

'Battle Of The Bulge' Returns For Showing At 101 Drive-In

By LES DARD

101 DRIVE-IN

In case you missed it the first time around, World War II is back again — this trip running under the title of "The Battle of the Bulge." The cast includes Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw, Robert Ryan, Dana Andrews, George Montgomery, Ty Hardin, Charles Bronson, Telly Savalas and James MacArthur.

The film is told from both Allied and Nazi viewpoints, and attempts to show the Americans nearly throwing away their long months of victory by overconfidence and sloppy administration. The Nazis on the other hand are depicted as tidy, efficient and powerful in their last-ditch determination and strength.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Fantastic Voyage" features Stephen Boyd and Raquel Welch.

By 1995 a process has been devised to shrink people and objects to microscopic size. But the one man who knows how to control the process has sustained a brain injury, operable only from inside the skull.

Five medical and technical experts, along with a nuclear submarine, are reduced to germ size and injected into the unconscious scientist's bloodstream.

There's the threat of a saboteur within the group, and all sorts of unforeseen dangers.

NOVATO THEATER

Moving to Novato is the third filming of the famed "Beau Geste" desert adventure tale. This time Telly Savalas, Guy Stockwell and Doug McClure star.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

The story starts as the British pull out in 1947, leaving the Israelis nearly defenseless against the Arabs. Kirk Douglas portrays Col. Mickey Marcus, an American who wound up in charge of most of the defense operations.

Co-featured is Cornel Wilde's "Naked Prey," a tale of a naked and weaponless white man running and fighting for survival in the jungle while pursued by natives.

MOTOR MOVIES

RAFAEL THEATER

Plenty of lively lolligagging and lots of bright music.

Folksingers Due

Purple Onion folksingers, "The Other Three," will sing at the Village Fair in Sausalito Wednesday at 1 p.m. to conclude a week-long Christmas Festival.

A. Crawford Greene Sr. Was Giant Among Men

The wisdom of the elders is no longer looked to for guidance in our society today as it was throughout much of human history in times past.

Perhaps it is because things change so fast that too many of our elders end up living in the past. Their wisdom is not applicable to contemporary problems because they have not kept up with the times.

A. Crawford Greene Sr., who died in his sleep Tuesday night at his home in Ross, was an exception to all this.

His wisdom was looked to for guidance by many of us.

He was an elder; he was 81.

But the wisdom of his advice was not sought because he was an elder. His advice was sought because he was youthful as well as wise in his outlook and in his thoughts on contemporary problems.

In a sense, Crawford Greene was especially blessed among men because he never really grew old in mind or spirit. He lived 81 active, vigorous years.

Although relatively small in physical stature, he was a giant among men.

He was forceful. Hs manner was such that when he asked someone to do something, the person asked just couldn't say no.

The late William Kent Jr. was among Crawford Greene's old friends who reminisced at the Greenes' 50th wedding anniversary several years ago. Bill Kent spoke for nearly everyone present when he chided Crawford Greene about his imposing manner — when it came to recruiting volunteer workers for whatever cause Greene undertook to support.

Bill Kent poked a bit of fun at Crawford Greene's imposing ways but he did it in the manner only the greatest of true humorists can do. He did it with utmost respect and in a highly complimentary fashion.

Were Kent's exact words recorded, there could not be a finer eulogy for Crawford Greene today. His surviving friends will testify that it was a pleasure and a privilege to be imposed upon by Crawford Greene; to be asked to assist in one of the many constructive efforts he supported.

It is not enough to say he was devoted to his family. Rather, in the interests of accuracy, it should be said that observing his devotion to his family was an inspiration. He was proud of each of his five children, their respective spouses, his multitude of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

His pride in each and his love for each was obviously mutual. Their love and respect for father and grandfather Crawford Greene shone brightly.

Sociologically, he could best be described as an enlightened professional capitalist.

Those who study the meaning of words may find an underlying contradiction in the words professional and capitalist.

An apostle of the capitalistic system, which he probably would call the American system of free enterprise, he was not interested primarily in self-gain. His concern was for the elevation — economically, politically and spiritually—of ALL the people.

Theoretically, he retired from the practice of law some years ago. But he still went to his office frequently. He still made frequent business trips to the East Coast and he maintained a lively interest in a wide range of public affairs. It was not a mild, superficial interest; it was a profound interest.

His interest led him to great concerns, concerns about the future of our country and about the plight of the minority races and the poverty-ridden.

He fervently believed—and said so often—that we must look to youth for future solutions to these problems and we must provide the best in education to prepare our youth to deal with these problems.

This concept seemed to be his final statement.

To know him was a privilege. To have him live among us here in Marin was a privilege. To have him serve us —and serve us all he did, directly and indirectly in a thousand ways—was a privilege.

To repeat, he was a giant among men.

We are not likely to have another of his stature among us in our lifetime.

Bar Noise Problem Stories Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Miss Marsh's article of Dec. 1 entitled, San Anselmo Councilmen Find It Difficult To Stand By Decisions" omits facts considered by the council in the matter of the abatement of the Cordone and Gilroy buildings and the noise in MacArthur's Bar. Because your paper is the greatest source of information to the community, you will surely wish to correct any false impression created by incomplete reporting.

Perhaps only one councilman ever considered the destruction of the buildings as a panacea. But destruction as an alternative to an extension of time, might have raised interesting questions in court. The city might have been asked to pay for its caprice.

Miss Marsh incorrectly stated that Cordone "started fixing his building" the day after the council's decision to abate. Unknown to council, he had done remedial work (foundation, etc.) prior to the hearing and the city's engineering staff assured council that there was substantial compliance with its order by the next meeting.

Mr. Gilroy had been ordered to prevent his deserted building from being a hazard to children. Boarding up doors and windows was considered an adequate remedy.

MacArthur's case presented the need for a balance between the community's right to quiet and of a business-zoned property to a legitimate operation. MacArthur made two efforts at sound proofing. The second effort, which Miss Marsh ignores, came after the council's abatement order. It seemed fair to council to listen once more to his band to see if he had met objections. All who heard it the second time felt it was quieter. Indeed, several of MacArthur's critics assured council that their objection to the band were satisfied.

Contrary to Miss Marsh's suggestion, councilmen had gone out at night to listen to the noise on many occasions during all of the controversy, not merely four meetings after it began.

Reader Disgusted By U.C. Students

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have the feeling that your editorial cartoon (Paul Miller of Dec. 6, 1966, captioned, "This is the mecca of free speech—If you tell 'em what they want to hear.") has missed its mark. Maybe I don't have the intellect to understand it because I went to S.F. State. Just what is he trying to tell us? That the students at U.C. have been cowed? That U.C. students have been forced to wear muzzles placed there by the "establishment administration?" Or could it be that he is showing us that it is evil for the U.S. Navy to have equal time with Karl Marx and Mao? The whole U.C. scene leaves me cold.

I'm afraid I can't get too worked up over the plight of the poor non-tuition paying student and his barren and overstructured environment. I am old fashioned enough (or unfashionable, as some would call it) to feel that students are in school to learn, not create bedlam at the drop of an enlistment form. (What will they do when the cloistered life ends and they must join the rat race like the rest of us?)

So the Navy had a day at the university. So what? I'd rather see a good recruiter earning his salary than see students wandering around like sheep in the rain in support of a group of non-students who have no business hanging around the campus. Complaints? Wait until you get out with the rest of us and have to earn a buck. Then you can complain and I'll listen.

It took me seven years to get through college (no, I wasn't that stupid, night school takes longer) and it gives me an upset stomach when I see such fortunate people as the U.C. students wasting their time listening to the drivel passed out by Mario Savio and his misguided, non-student friends. As I see it, the U.C. student is afflicted with that national "I've-been - wronged, let's - protest - and - change - the - order - overnight" syndrome. Well, I'm sick of the whole affair.

It's time that our "intellectual elite" stopped being Mickey Mouse and did something to correct the ills that they are always pointing out. Join the Peace Corps, the Red Cross, the Seven Steps Foundation, the Lions Club, the Boy Scouts, or any damn thing they please (save the Pro Labor Movement, Komsomol, or Communist Party) that will give some service to their fellow Americans. Maybe this will take their minds off their "monumental" problems. We non-intellectual masses could sure use their help.

Abortion Controversy Branded Confusing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

People get upset over Miss Maginnis. What I don't understand is, all this many men and women in this world with unwanted children. Many don't have proper care, not enough to eat, get beaten half or completely to death, because their parents don't want them and they are a burden to them. People look the other way when it happens.

How about the children, they did not ask to be in this world. Lucky children . . . get raised in a decent home, with proper care and lots of love.

Right now a man is on death row in San Quentin for the murder of his common law wife's child, was it the child's fault to be born? Or how about all these young women who take their own life, over raising an unwanted baby or just not plain able to do so. This is really a confusing situation.

Will Powell Case Be Treated Strictly On Its Own Merits?

WASHINGTON—Let's put it bluntly: Does the House of Representatives have the guts to treat Adam Clayton Powell as a congressman and not as a Negro congressman

Voters from every part of the country are showing that they want to know whether the House has the courage to deal with the Powell issue strictly on its merits, ignoring his attempts to use a racial shield.

Whenever Powell has been in trouble in the past—in trouble with courts over slander and contempt, with the Internal Revenue Service over income tax returns, and with his colleagues over using committee travel funds and misusing committee powers—he has always protested that he was being victimized by racism.

WHENEVER HIS actions have brought criticism, his defense has been that his critics "were motivated by race prejudice because I am a Negro."

You may be sure Powell will not be treated unfairly by his peers in Congress because he is a Negro.

The question which worries most voters and on which many have doubts is whether his peers in Congress will fear to deal fairly with Powell because he is a Negro, whether they will feel that because he is a Negro they dare not risk dealing with him the same as they would anybody else.

WHAT HAS happened is that two liberal, strongly pro-civil rights Democrats, Representatives Lionel Van Deerlin of California and Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, are proposing a motion to come before the House requiring Mr. Powell "to stand aside and not take his seat while a committee appointed by Congress examines his wrongs and excesses."

The basis for this course rests primarily on the fact that Representative Powell has been sentenced in New York to a total of one year and 60 days in jail on convictions involving both civil and criminal contempt of court and that he is subject to arrest there. These convictions stem from a legal award of $164,000 assessed against Powell when a jury found him guilty of slander.

There are other factors which contribute to Powell's difficulties. The House Subcommittee on Administration, headed by Rep. Wayne Hayes, D., of Ohio, is investigating Powell's use of House Labor Committee travel funds.

Hayes points out that the Labor and Education Committee, of which Powell is chairman, has spent more for travel in the U. S. than any other committee and that in less than two years 65 trips to Miami and San Juan were charged by Powell and his staff to "official travel."

And during the six years Powell has been chairman, full-time employees on the committee staff have risen from 18 to 78 with top salaries mounting from $8,000 to $25,000.

CELLER'S POSITION is that a congressman who is violating the laws ought not to be in a position to make the laws.

Van Deerlin's contention is that "a man who would be barred from serving his country in uniform because of unlawful acts should not be allowed a voice in policies which affect the lives of men who do serve."

Van Deerlin says that the best way for Representative Powell to demonstrate whether he is or is not violating the law is for him to go to New York and find out what happens. He suggests that, if Mr. Powell can go openly to New York state and not be arrested, he will not press his motion.

Congress ought to have the courage to act on the Powell matter strictly on its merits. The House should establish the facts to its full satisfatcion. Powell is not going to be victimized because he is a Negro and he should not be shielded because he is a Negro.

LBJ Plans June Visit To Canada

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will visit "Expo '67," Montreal's world's fair. After learning that President De Gaulle plans to attend, the White House decided the U. S. should be represented by the highest level. When the suggestion was made that Vice President Humphrey make the trip, the President personally sent word to Secretary Rusk that he would do it.

De Gaulle and Johnson won't meet there, however. De Gaulle is due in Montreal in July; the President will go in June.

THE PRESIDENT is trying to arbitrate a dispute between Defense Secretary McNamara and John McCloy, who represents the U. S. in negotiations with our European allies on the number of troops that should be kept there. McNamara has suggested a reduction, McCloy strongly opposes this.

Members of the White House staff handling communications have been sternly enjoined to eliminate flippancies in their language. In the course of transmitting messages relating to the President, they have been referring to him as "the Great Cowboy" and "the Big Man." This is severely frowned on. They can refer to the President as "the Boss," but nothing more colloquial.

TO CERTAIN important visitors to the President's ranch, he has dropped hints that the next appointee to the Cabinet will be a prominent Republican. Beyond that, there has been no clue as to whom the President has in mind or for what position.

A shortage has developed in military truck tires. The Senate Small Business Committee has learned that Defense Department orders for tires now exceed the production rate. That hasn't happened since the early days of the Korean war.

A shortage in jet fighters is forcing a three-month delay in providing Jordan with late-model aircraft.

Air losses in Vietnam are at a higher rate than production. Total aircraft lost as of Dec. 5 were 571 planes and 231 helicopters.

IN JUSTICE Department files and in the published proceedings of various Senate and House committees going back many years is a mass of conclusive evidence confirming that:

The FBI has never used electronic eavesdropping devices of any kind for any purpose without the specific approval of the attorney general in writing. Other attorneys general have testified to that.

Full reports of the results of such operations always are made to the attorney general. Kennedy received them, as did his predecessors and successor. There is abundant documentary proof of this.

WITH KENNEDY maneuvering to make himself the national leader of militant liberals, it would be very embarrassing for him to be revealed as having played a key role in wiretapping and "bugging." But dodge and duck as he may, the proof is undeniable.

Among other facts, Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall publicly admitted that to the Supreme Court.

President Johnson will definitely seek a tax increase next year. That decision has been made—despite statements to the contrary. Still to be determined is the timing of the tax boost proposal, the amount and duration of the levy.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Democrats Turn To Writing To Fill Out The Lean Years

By WAT TAKESHITA

THE STATE CONSUMER Counsel's office, headed by Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley, appears to be doomed.

Sources close to Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan report that in private talks, Reagan has indicated he will abolish the office when he takes over next year.

DEMOCRATS WILL be facing some lean years for the next four or eight years. To bide their time, some of them are turning to book writing to keep their talents sharpened.

Thomas Skornia of Ross, former head of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, is reported working on a book, politically oriented. It may turn out to be a political novel.

Fred Ullner of Santa Venetia, former Reagan backer who came out for Governor Brown and against capital punishment, is compiling material for a book entitled: "Ronald Reagan for Governor?"

Ullner plans to delve into Reagan's campaign strategy, his financial backers and close associates.

And Elizabeth Gatov of Kent Woodlands, former treasurer of the United States, has long been reported working on a volume on local elections.

TOM STORER, mentioned as a possible candidate for judgeship, did not seek the post at all. In fact, he wrote a letter to the governor urging the appointment of another attorney.

HINDSIGHT SHOWS that State Controller Alan Cranston was more astute than the campaign strategists who mapped Governor Brown's third-term effort.

Before the June primaries, while George Christopher and Reagan were thrashing away at each other in the bid for the GOP nomination, Cranston came to Marin for a Democratic campaign dinner.

In private conversations at that time, Cranston said he thought the Democrats were making a mistake, overestimating Christopher and underestimating Reagan. He sensed that Reagan would be tougher to beat.

As it turned out, the Democrats would probably have done better with the milk issue as ammunition than the extremism and inexperience issues they had to toss at Reagan. But that's hindsight.

Limited Regional Government Plan Support Apparent

ABAG Expected To Ask Hearings Before Legislature Committees

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

BERKELEY—A proposal that the State Assembly be asked to make the Assn. of Bay Area Governments a limited regional government appeared headed for passage at the association's general assembly meeting here today.

No vote had been taken by noon on the proposal, presented by the association's goals committee, but backers seemed to outnumber opponents.

Members apparently not opposed to the concept of regional home rule, were divided on some of the aspects as they spent the morning session discussing the suggested amendments to the proposal.

The executive committee, meeting last night, suggested the State Legislature be asked to start intensive hearings before the appropriate committees before taking any final action.

WHICH FIRST?

In the meantime, the committee suggested in its recommendation that the general assembly continue debating the plan to hammer out specifics.

As the meeting opened today, members were hung up on the question of what should come first: a vote on the executive committee's proposal or amendments by the goals and organization committee.

Mayor Wallace J. S. Johnson of Berkeley questioned the legality of the assembly voting on the resolution at all. He believes the purpose of today's meeting was to discuss only the amendments and not to take a vote.

Councilman Francis P. Pacelli of Daly City said he believed no one was opposed to the concept of home rule, but he thought some of the aspects would need to be considered further before they were voted on.

By vote of 58 to 15, the membership agreed to discuss the amendments before coming to the vital question.

The meeting opened with a telephone address by Assemblyman John Knox of the 11th District, who was attending another meeting in San Diego.

'IMPORTANT DAY'

He called it "the most important day in the history of ABAG." He said the goals committee had reached the final form at the proposal but had not gone into specifics. All the general assembly was being asked to do was vote on the concept of home rule.

"You must take a position today and must publicly state your position," he said.

If the Bay Area is to remain "a beautiful place," a future government of the area must have clear-cut leadership, said Knox, and he looked for that leadership to ABAG.

He suggested that the State Legislature be asked to start public hearings immediately to stimulate widespread discussion and debate of the issues.

URGES ACTION

He urged that what he called "the simple resolution" be endorsed and the State Legislature be informed of ABAG's wishes that it maintain the leadership in the new agency.

ABAG vice president Robert G. Miller, vice mayor of San Jose, spoke of the criticism he has heard of the regional government proposal. Some have said it would lead to some sort of metro-government. He said that many aspects of the proposal still remained to be ironed out and discussed at length.

"This plan is built on the rock of local government. If we do not accept it today we shall find the eventual resurgence of a local government built on sand," he said.

Going through the amendments put before them, delegates approved the majority, including a recommendation by the goals committee that the general assembly of the new agency establish the salaries of officers, members of the executive committee, and members of official advisory commissions.

SUIT PROPOSED

A delegate from Santa Rosa proposed that as soon as the new agency is formed, it institute a law suit to test the constitutionality of its method of selecting city representatives to the executive committee. Councilman Michael Wornum of Mill Valley believed, however, that it would prejudice the proposal at this stage. He said there would be ample time later to discuss representation.

The goal of Miller's group is to have the legislature act on an ABAG-developed plan rather than a regional government system sponsored by Sen. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco.

A group of San Mateo County cities urged delaying Assembly approval until the plan can be studied further by the 91 member city governments and nine county governments.

Transferring Of Students Is Discussed

Ways of encouraging more students in the lower grades of Mill Valley Schools to transfer to the Sausalito School District on an exshange basis were discussed by the Mill Valley School District Inter-District committee last night, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell.

He said no decision was made, other than the committee will meet with the district's human relations consultants late in January to discuss the matter.

There are only about a dozen lower grade students from the district now in Sausalito schools, McConnell said.

Tiburon Rail, Ferry Slip Can Be Dropped

The Interstate Commerce Commission has granted Northwestern Pacific Railroad permission to abandon the portion of its main line between Meadowsweet and the Tiburon ferry slip, provided service is restored through the Puerto Suello tunnel.

It grants permission also for Northwestern Pacific to abandon ferry service btween Tiburon and San Francisco, and for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad to abandon ferry service between Tiburon and Richmond.

The decision thus provides for conversion of the NWP's line to terminate at Sausalito. The Meadowsweet - Sausalito route was formerly a branch line, with the main line running from Tiburon through San Rafael. There has been no service on the southern end of the main line since the Puerto Suello tunnel collapsed in July, 1961, however.

The tunnel is now being restored by Morrison-Knudsen Co. under contract with NWP. The railroad this week asked the California Public Utilities Commission for an extension to next July to complete the reopening, because of unexpected difficulties in the excavation.

The ICC ruling give both NWP and Santa Fe one year in which to complete abandonment of their Tiburon links. Both are required to give at least 10 days' notice to public and commission before stopping service.

NWP and its parent company, Southern Pacific Co., are also required to maintain and keep open routes via Schellville and all junctions with the Santa Fe other than at Tiburon.

The railroad filed the petition to abandon the Tiburon line, with provisio for reopening the Puerto Suello tunnel last March 7 after the ICC had turned down previous applications to abandon San Rafael and Sausalito service. No objection was filed.

Toy Delivery Stolen

A carton of newly delivered toys, worth $300, was stolen yesterday afternoon from the rear of the San Rafael Toy Shop, 933 Fourth Street, store owner Walter Zurcher told police.

County Aides, Developers Swap Ideas

County workers and developers spent more than two hours in a give-and-take session at the Civic Center yesterday, seeking to resolve complaints made several weeks ago by civil engineer Arthur J. Lang.

Lang charged lack of cooperation between county departments responsible for checking building and subdivision plans. He came armed with a long list of suggestions for improved service, including request for "courtesy at staff level, expediting of information and clear decisions."

One suggestion, avoiding "blackmail tactics," was stricken from his list by others representing developers. Melvin Rupp, manager of Marin Property Owners Assn., said the word "blackmail" should not be used.

Twelve county workers, representing sanitation, public works and planning departments, and seven representatives of developers participated in the meeting.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker told developers there are too many unprofessional submissions by applicants who are supposed to be professionals.

William Desmond, director of sanitation, said applicants often fail to do enough background work. "Then we get blamed," Desmond said.

The group agreed to meet again Jan. 18. Meanwhile the public works department will prepare a report on the Sonoma County plan check practice, in which a committee of department representatives meets with the developer.

Glen Parks Wins Speech Contest

Second place went to freshman Bob Borello of Olema, and third to Jim Furlong, a junior from Bodega Bay.

Parks will enter the sectional contest of the Future Farmers of America in Santa Rosa on Jan. 24.

Judges for last night's event were Richard T. Straw, Marin County agricultural commissioner; James Kovalik, Tomales High School English teacher, and Steven Olson, Santa Rosa High School agriculture teacher.

$15,000 FIRE IN SAUSALITO HOME

Paint-Removal Torch May Have Been Cause; Passerby Alerts Crew, House Occupant

A $15,000 fire, possibly connected with using a blow torch to remove paint from a wooden house, burned through Peter Walker's home at 301 Fourth Street, Sausalito, yesterday.

Philip Sprang of San Francisco, hired by Walker to paint his house, was using a blowtorch to remove old paint from the exterior of the wall where the fire broke out, according to Capt. Ralph K. Pederson of the Sausalito Fire Department.

Sprang and his small crew of painters were intently burning off paint when John Rocha of the Sausalito public works department drove by just after 2 p.m. and saw smoke billowing from the roof.

Walker was teaching in San Francisco. His mother, Jeannie Walker, about 60, was sitting in the dining room inside, sipping her tea, Pederson said.

"She told us she heard a crackling noise, but thought it was the men scraping the wall outside," he said.

When Rocha shouted that the house was on fire, Sprang ran onto the front porch and broke a window to alert Mrs. Walker.

When 16 firemen in two trucks arrived, smoke was billowing out of the roof of the three-story house in several places.

The fire was contained within the walls and attic, Pederson said.

All firemen suffered from smoke inhalation, he said, but none required medical attention. Each time a fireman broke through the roof with his axe, a dense rush of smoke would force him back, Pederson related.

The fire was controlled within 10 minutes and completely out after about two and one half hours, Pederson said. Asst. Chief Frank Christ, who led the crew of firemen, estimated damage at $15,000.

Cause of the fire has not been definitely determined, Pederson said.

THERE GOES THE JOB — Two members of a painting crew hired by Peter Walker to paint his home at 301 Fourth Street, Sausalito, watched yesterday as fire burned through walls and attic of the house. Firemen said workmen had used a blow torch to remove old paint, but it was not certain whether that started the blaze. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Patrol Probing Auto's Burning

Sheriff's officers today said California Highway Patrol is conducting the investigation of the mysterious burning of a car in unincorporated Mill Valley on Wednesday night.

The patrol earlier had said it would turn the case over to the sheriff's office for investigation of possible arson. The vehicle was found "burning fiercely" on Erica Road. No driver or passenger was found.

A book bearing the name Jess B. Bollinger, U.S.S. Navasota, with a San Francisco Fleet post office number, was found on the ground near the auto.

Burglar Gets Loot While Family Sleeps

A burglar passed within three feet of a sleeping San Rafael couple and walked off with a television and a radio, worth $240, from a bedroom dresser Wednesday night, the couple told police yesterday.

Joseph M. Berry of 14 Sentinel Court said the burglar entered through an unlocked side door between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 1 a.m. Thursday. The thief also stole $50 from his wife's purse in the kitchen, Berry said.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By PAUL PETERZELL

Next Week, Garbage Complaints Will Have To Go To Richmond

Most Southern Marin residents will be in for a surprise next week if they try to call their garbage company — it won't be there anymore.

Their garbage still will be picked up by Mill Valley Refuse Service, but the company will move tomorrow from Mill Valley to Richmond—and after today will not have a Marin County telephone number.

Customers in Corte Madera, Alto, Mill Valley, Strawberry, Tiburon and Belvedere will have to pay 15 cents to call the company in Richmond. That's for three minutes, but if you really have a beef, or want to talk longer about the price of eggs, it will cost you five cents for each additional two minutes. Garbage bills, of course, will not be reduced to reflect this extra cost to customers.

AND THE company does not plan to accept collect calls.

A spokesman for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. reports that the garbage company inquired about the cost of getting a Marin County phone number at their Richmond office, but because such service never before has been requested, the State Public Utilities Commission has never set a rate for such service. In response to the garbage company's query, however, Pacific Telephone last month asked the commission to set a rate—which takes about three months to do. Thus, for at least two months, customers of the garbage company will have to pay toll charges to call the company.

To top it off, the company may not install a local telephone number even after the commission sets a rate. Lewis Figone, a partner in the garbage company, said: "We will wait and see what the reaction of the customers is before we decide whether to put in a local phone number."

Remember, you read it here first. I predict there will be a reaction.

CECELIA, a camel at Fleishacker Zoo, has been asked by Rev. James E. Symons, pastor of Saint Andrews Presbyterian Church in Marin City, to join the outdoor creche at the church Saturday afternoon. A brief Christmas service will be held there at about 3 p.m. following a procession through the community, and Rev. Symons thought Cecelia would add a touch of authenticity to the nativity scene, which would be a hair more authentic than what happened last year.

Another camel at the zoo was to have come over the Golden Gate for the affair, but despite the efforts of six men, it refused to get into the truck for the ride. "It was like a wild west scene," Rev. Symons said. So they ended up with a gentle llama.

A wise man on a llama.

Noted for her gentle disposition, Cecelia is expected to live up to the Christmas spirit and to make the scene. She would have been substituted last year for her irascible partner, but already was on loan to another creche.

Rev. Symons has invited children throughout the county to dress as shepherds and to join the procession when it starts at 2 p.m. at the Community Center. With some caution, he also suggested children bring donkeys, goats and sheep if they have them, "but no dogs, please!"

CHRISTMAS TREES are public fire enemy No. 1, warns Henry Pierroz, Mill Valley fire department captain and president of the fire prevention section of Marin County Fire Chief's Assn.

Pick a fresh tree, he cautions, leave it in water and don't put it where it may block escape in case of fire. He also recommends spraying trees with a chemical to retard fire. And don't put electric lights on a metal tree—it may become charged. And always unplug lights before retiring or leaving the house.

Hiring Of County Economic Director–A Puzzling Story

Fusselman

A REPORT ADDRESSED to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by John M. Douglas, director of "Department of Economic Development" (impressive) with the heading, "Re: Comparative Study of California Counties' Promotional and Development Budgets," was issued Dec. 1.

I propose to peer through the silken veils of rhetoric to see just what the gentleman, together with the staff created for him by the administrator and with a budget of $24,632, has actually accomplished in a year. They tell me he is a pelasant chap who speaks with great confidence. We have no dispute with that description.

When I finished reading again the report of the last Grand Jury's investigation of his employment, it seemed a shame that such a nice pleasant person would lend himself to the more than questionable practices involved, and be the recipient of the benefits from the violation of responsibility indulged in by the administrator and some members of the board of supervisors.

"An able and qualified Oral Interview Board, appointed by the county administrator with approval of the board of supervisors, spent a day interviewing 13 applicants, submitting three names. Later, at the request of Administrator Alan Bruce, this list was expanded to five names by some members of the oral review board, but the name of Douglas was not included in this augmented list.

Subsequently there were four names submitted by Bruce to the board of supervisors for its final choice. On this final list, the name of Douglas was included along with the top three chosen by the oral board, without the knowledge or approval of the members of the oral board, which had rated him sixth among 10 names certified, on a certificate of eligibles forwarded Nov. 22, 1965, on Marin County Personnel Commission Form to Alan. The original certifications of eligibles verified by the oral board was not submitted to the board of supervisors, for comparison of rankings . . . none of the top five names certified by the Oral Board was ever interviewed by the Board of Supervisors individually or collectively.

"The Grand Jury found disagreement among members of the board of supervisors on the necessity for creation of this job at this time, but each of them agreed that the manner in which Marin County had gone about hiring the New Economic Development director was irregular . . . The record shows that only one applicant was interviewed, at all, by any member of the board of supervisors. Supervisor Kettenhofen had talked briefly with Douglas after receiving the list of four recommended candidates from the administrator . . .

"The position was originally advertised as 'Assistant County Administrator for Business Development'. However after candidates were interviewed on this basis, the title was changed to reflect Department Head status. The salary of the original position was advertised at $13,200, yet John M. Douglas was hired at a salary of $15,600."

Next week there will be more of the Grand Jury report and an evaluation of the past year.

Girls Are Better Students Than Boys, Survey Reveals

By PETER A. JANSSEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Girls tend to get better grades in school because they're "more responsive and imaginative," while boys are "guarded and evasive" and get into three times as much trouble.

These are some conclusions of a study of how sex differences affect learning, published by the National Education Assn.

The study warns that most schools now place boys at a "grave disadvantage" by grouping classes on the basis of chronological age instead of maturity and by promoting a conformity of behavior.

The basic problem, the study adds, is that schools fail to recognize distinctions between the sexes.

Frances Bentzen, an education researcher in the Interior Department, says in the study that boys are placed at an inherent disadvantage because "the male infant is biologically more vulnerable to the impact of stress" than the female.

This stress eventually means that three boys stutter for every girl that does, boys stutter more severely than girls, and boys take longer to overcome the affliction.

Further, two out of three children held back a grade in elementary schools are boys, a fact, says Miss Bentzen, which has "for some reason or another been attributed to nothing other than that boys are expected to have more problems than girls."

She estimates that learning and behavior disorders are three to 10 times more frequent among boys than girls of the same age.

The rate of maturity compounds the problem. At the chronological age of six, when most youngsters start school, girls are about 12 months more mature than boys; at nine years, girls are 18 months aread, and the gap doesn't narrow until most youngsters start high school.

Miss Bentzen concludes that boy's won't achieve equal educational opportunity until classes are grouped on the basis of maturity rather than chronology.

Under the present system, however, boys get worse treatment.

After visiting sixth-grade classrooms, Pauline Sears, professor of education at Stanford University, reported that teachers were almost twice as likely to disapprove of boys' behavior as girls. Even the method of disapproval varied.

"Teachers criticizing a boy were more likely to use a harsh or angry tone," she said. "Criticism of girls was more likely to be conveyed in a normal voice . . .

"Quite possibly the harsh tones, intended to cause boys to conform, actually foster a defiant, independent attitude which reinforces the very behavior the teacher wished to subdue."

Boys also fared worse on report cards, were Miss Sears says "there seems to be a trend toward differences in grading and evaluation in favor of girls."

Boys, she adds, view the classroom as a feminine institution, even associating common objects as a blackboard, school desk or page of arithmetic with femininity rather than masculinity.

The male alienation is such that even first grade boys learn to read faster under programmed instruction, relying heavily on self-testing, while girls learn faster by dealing directly with the teacher.

One Virginia school has come up with its own solution to the sex difference problem.

Wakefield Forest Elementary School in Fairfax County has held separate classes for boys and girls in some grades since 1960.

There is evidence of more cooperation within an all-boy or all-girl class," says Thomas Lyles, the principal. "A tremendous esprit de corps develops within the classes."

He says that both boys and girls participate in class activities with greater enthusiasm under the separate system, particularly when they are required to perform before the entire class.

"There have been cases of striking improvement in this area," Lyles says.

But it's not as much fun.

Ousted Auditor Pleads Guilty To Grand Theft

OAKLAND (AP) — Earle Parrish, 68, the suspended Alameda County auditor and appraiser, has pleaded guilty to two counts of grand theft by falsifying personal property tax assessments of former clients of tax consultant James C. Tooke.

Superior Court Judge Redmond C. Staats dismissed two counts of accepting bribes yesterday and set Jan. 6 for sentencing on the grand theft counts.

Deputy Auditor and Appraiser Michael J. McLaughlin, County Assessor Don Feragen and Parrish were charged with accepting bribes and grand theft after the files of Tooke, a Castro Valley tax consultant, were turned over to the California attorney general.

McLaughlin pleaded guilty to the grand theft charges after the bribery counts were dismissed and will be sentenced Jan. 13. Feragen was convicted of accepting bribes and sentenced to prison.

College Budget Hike Is Urged

SAN JOSE (AP) — John G. Sperling, president of the college council of the California Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, says 12,000 young Californians may be denied admission to state colleges if the system's budget is not increased.

Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan has announced plans to keep the state college budget at the existing level. It was $176 million for the current fiscal year.

Sperling, a San Jose State College professor, said yesterday it would be impossible to hire additional faculty to handle next year's predicted increase of 12,615 fulltime students in the state college system without an increase in the system's budget.

Can't Cover The War? Then Try U.C. Campus At Berkeley

BERKELEY — If a reporter can't cover the war in Vietnam he can do the next best thing and cover the war here on the campus of the University of California.

As my helicopter circled the scarred Zone D area where a major battle had taken place last week between the bearded insurgent guerrilla forces of Mario Savio and the university special forces of Chancellor Roger Heyns, I knew I had two questions I wanted answered. One was "Should the United States pull out of Berkeley?" and two was "Should the Americans be there in the first place?"

UNTIL YOU'VE been here it's hard to understand the enormous problems that we are confronted with out here. Although the administration still holds on to some of the major buildings, the sidewalks, the union and most of the steps are controlled by the students, and non-student infiltration is becoming so serious that some authorities are talking about planting mines in the parking lot adjacent to the school.

If you talk to the university people stationed in Sproul Hall you get the impression that the administration is winning the war.

"It's true," a spokesman said, "that our pacification program is not working as well as we would hope it to, and many of the students and instructors in the outlying colleges are afraid to go out at night. But we have more students in classes now than we did in 1964 and the insurgents know they can't drive us out."

BUT IT IS only when you go out into the field that you get a true picture of what is going on in Berkeley. I spoke to a grizzled veteran of the first free speech movement brigade who was dug in behind a park bench on the outer skirts of the campus.

He said, "You ask why are we fighting? We are fighting for freedom for students everywhere. We are fighting for our mothers and fathers and the girl next door so they can use four-letter words and smoke pot and take trips with LSD and have meaningful love experiences without fear and retribution. On these points there is no room for negotiation. The administration has to get out and leave the Cal students to run their own affairs."

"Does that mean the professors, too?"

"IT MEANS EVERY foreign element. They have been bombing us with tests and strafing us with lectures and threatening us with expulsion. But for every atrocity they commit we have burned down a draft card and will continue to do so until our cause is won."

He gave me a safe conduct pass to visit the 3rd Psychedelic Division which was holed up in an apartment right off the campus. The commander offered me a cube of sugar and apologized because he didn't have any tea to go with it.

"What do you miss most out here?" I asked him.

"The Los Angeles Dodgers, Debbie Reynolds and mom's apple pie. But somebody's got to fight the fuzz and I would rather it be me than my kid brother."

I TOURED THE northern part of the campus where I found elements of the 65th Sexual Freedom Battalion sacked out next to their Hondas. A weary 19-year-old kid said, "There will never be peace at Berkeley until they permit our coeds to wear topless cheerleader uniforms at the football stadium."

I finally found an atheist in a foxhole — six to be exact. One of them said, "If there was a God he'd be on our side."

As to whether the United States should be in Berkeley or not, I came away with the impression it was a mistake for us to be involved there in the first place, but now that we're committed we might as well stay, at least until midterm exams.

A. Crawford Greene Sr. Was Giant Among Men

The wisdom of the elders is no longer looked to for guidance in our society today as it was throughout much of human history in times past.

Perhaps it is because things change so fast that too many of our elders end up living in the past. Their wisdom is not applicable to contemporary problems because they have not kept up with the times.

A. Crawford Greene Sr., who died in his sleep Tuesday night at his home in Ross, was an exception to all this.

His wisdom was looked to for guidance by many of us.

He was an elder; he was 81.

But the wisdom of his advice was not sought because he was an elder. His advice was sought because he was youthful as well as wise in his outlook and in his thoughts on contemporary problems.

In a sense, Crawford Greene was especially blessed among men because he never really grew old in mind or spirit. He lived 81 active, vigorous years.

Although relatively small in physical stature, he was a giant among men.

He was forceful. Hs manner was such that when he asked someone to do something, the person asked just couldn't say no.

The late William Kent Jr. was among Crawford Greene's old friends who reminisced at the Greenes' 50th wedding anniversary several years ago. Bill Kent spoke for nearly everyone present when he chided Crawford Greene about his imposing manner — when it came to recruiting volunteer workers for whatever cause Greene undertook to support.

Bill Kent poked a bit of fun at Crawford Greene's imposing ways but he did it in the manner only the greatest of true humorists can do. He did it with utmost respect and in a highly complimentary fashion.

Were Kent's exact words recorded, there could not be a finer eulogy for Crawford Greene today. His surviving friends will testify that it was a pleasure and a privilege to be imposed upon by Crawford Greene; to be asked to assist in one of the many constructive efforts he supported.

It is not enough to say he was devoted to his family. Rather, in the interests of accuracy, it should be said that observing his devotion to his family was an inspiration. He was proud of each of his five children, their respective spouses, his multitude of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

His pride in each and his love for each was obviously mutual. Their love and respect for father and grandfather Crawford Greene shone brightly.

Sociologically, he could best be described as an enlightened professional capitalist.

Those who study the meaning of words may find an underlying contradiction in the words professional and capitalist.

An apostle of the capitalistic system, which he probably would call the American system of free enterprise, he was not interested primarily in self-gain. His concern was for the elevation — economically, politically and spiritually—of ALL the people.

Theoretically, he retired from the practice of law some years ago. But he still went to his office frequently. He still made frequent business trips to the East Coast and he maintained a lively interest in a wide range of public affairs. It was not a mild, superficial interest; it was a profound interest.

His interest led him to great concerns, concerns about the future of our country and about the plight of the minority races and the poverty-ridden.

He fervently believed—and said so often—that we must look to youth for future solutions to these problems and we must provide the best in education to prepare our youth to deal with these problems.

This concept seemed to be his final statement.

To know him was a privilege. To have him live among us here in Marin was a privilege. To have him serve us —and serve us all he did, directly and indirectly in a thousand ways—was a privilege.

To repeat, he was a giant among men.

We are not likely to have another of his stature among us in our lifetime.

Bar Noise Problem Stories Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Miss Marsh's article of Dec. 1 entitled, San Anselmo Councilmen Find It Difficult To Stand By Decisions" omits facts considered by the council in the matter of the abatement of the Cordone and Gilroy buildings and the noise in MacArthur's Bar. Because your paper is the greatest source of information to the community, you will surely wish to correct any false impression created by incomplete reporting.

Perhaps only one councilman ever considered the destruction of the buildings as a panacea. But destruction as an alternative to an extension of time, might have raised interesting questions in court. The city might have been asked to pay for its caprice.

Miss Marsh incorrectly stated that Cordone "started fixing his building" the day after the council's decision to abate. Unknown to council, he had done remedial work (foundation, etc.) prior to the hearing and the city's engineering staff assured council that there was substantial compliance with its order by the next meeting.

Mr. Gilroy had been ordered to prevent his deserted building from being a hazard to children. Boarding up doors and windows was considered an adequate remedy.

MacArthur's case presented the need for a balance between the community's right to quiet and of a business-zoned property to a legitimate operation. MacArthur made two efforts at sound proofing. The second effort, which Miss Marsh ignores, came after the council's abatement order. It seemed fair to council to listen once more to his band to see if he had met objections. All who heard it the second time felt it was quieter. Indeed, several of MacArthur's critics assured council that their objection to the band were satisfied.

Contrary to Miss Marsh's suggestion, councilmen had gone out at night to listen to the noise on many occasions during all of the controversy, not merely four meetings after it began.

Reader Disgusted By U.C. Students

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have the feeling that your editorial cartoon (Paul Miller of Dec. 6, 1966, captioned, "This is the mecca of free speech—If you tell 'em what they want to hear.") has missed its mark. Maybe I don't have the intellect to understand it because I went to S.F. State. Just what is he trying to tell us? That the students at U.C. have been cowed? That U.C. students have been forced to wear muzzles placed there by the "establishment administration?" Or could it be that he is showing us that it is evil for the U.S. Navy to have equal time with Karl Marx and Mao? The whole U.C. scene leaves me cold.

I'm afraid I can't get too worked up over the plight of the poor non-tuition paying student and his barren and overstructured environment. I am old fashioned enough (or unfashionable, as some would call it) to feel that students are in school to learn, not create bedlam at the drop of an enlistment form. (What will they do when the cloistered life ends and they must join the rat race like the rest of us?)

So the Navy had a day at the university. So what? I'd rather see a good recruiter earning his salary than see students wandering around like sheep in the rain in support of a group of non-students who have no business hanging around the campus. Complaints? Wait until you get out with the rest of us and have to earn a buck. Then you can complain and I'll listen.

It took me seven years to get through college (no, I wasn't that stupid, night school takes longer) and it gives me an upset stomach when I see such fortunate people as the U.C. students wasting their time listening to the drivel passed out by Mario Savio and his misguided, non-student friends. As I see it, the U.C. student is afflicted with that national "I've-been - wronged, let's - protest - and - change - the - order - overnight" syndrome. Well, I'm sick of the whole affair.

It's time that our "intellectual elite" stopped being Mickey Mouse and did something to correct the ills that they are always pointing out. Join the Peace Corps, the Red Cross, the Seven Steps Foundation, the Lions Club, the Boy Scouts, or any damn thing they please (save the Pro Labor Movement, Komsomol, or Communist Party) that will give some service to their fellow Americans. Maybe this will take their minds off their "monumental" problems. We non-intellectual masses could sure use their help.

Abortion Controversy Branded Confusing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

People get upset over Miss Maginnis. What I don't understand is, all this many men and women in this world with unwanted children. Many don't have proper care, not enough to eat, get beaten half or completely to death, because their parents don't want them and they are a burden to them. People look the other way when it happens.

How about the children, they did not ask to be in this world. Lucky children . . . get raised in a decent home, with proper care and lots of love.

Right now a man is on death row in San Quentin for the murder of his common law wife's child, was it the child's fault to be born? Or how about all these young women who take their own life, over raising an unwanted baby or just not plain able to do so. This is really a confusing situation.

Will Powell Case Be Treated Strictly On Its Own Merits?

WASHINGTON—Let's put it bluntly: Does the House of Representatives have the guts to treat Adam Clayton Powell as a congressman and not as a Negro congressman

Voters from every part of the country are showing that they want to know whether the House has the courage to deal with the Powell issue strictly on its merits, ignoring his attempts to use a racial shield.

Whenever Powell has been in trouble in the past—in trouble with courts over slander and contempt, with the Internal Revenue Service over income tax returns, and with his colleagues over using committee travel funds and misusing committee powers—he has always protested that he was being victimized by racism.

WHENEVER HIS actions have brought criticism, his defense has been that his critics "were motivated by race prejudice because I am a Negro."

You may be sure Powell will not be treated unfairly by his peers in Congress because he is a Negro.

The question which worries most voters and on which many have doubts is whether his peers in Congress will fear to deal fairly with Powell because he is a Negro, whether they will feel that because he is a Negro they dare not risk dealing with him the same as they would anybody else.

WHAT HAS happened is that two liberal, strongly pro-civil rights Democrats, Representatives Lionel Van Deerlin of California and Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, are proposing a motion to come before the House requiring Mr. Powell "to stand aside and not take his seat while a committee appointed by Congress examines his wrongs and excesses."

The basis for this course rests primarily on the fact that Representative Powell has been sentenced in New York to a total of one year and 60 days in jail on convictions involving both civil and criminal contempt of court and that he is subject to arrest there. These convictions stem from a legal award of $164,000 assessed against Powell when a jury found him guilty of slander.

There are other factors which contribute to Powell's difficulties. The House Subcommittee on Administration, headed by Rep. Wayne Hayes, D., of Ohio, is investigating Powell's use of House Labor Committee travel funds.

Hayes points out that the Labor and Education Committee, of which Powell is chairman, has spent more for travel in the U. S. than any other committee and that in less than two years 65 trips to Miami and San Juan were charged by Powell and his staff to "official travel."

And during the six years Powell has been chairman, full-time employees on the committee staff have risen from 18 to 78 with top salaries mounting from $8,000 to $25,000.

CELLER'S POSITION is that a congressman who is violating the laws ought not to be in a position to make the laws.

Van Deerlin's contention is that "a man who would be barred from serving his country in uniform because of unlawful acts should not be allowed a voice in policies which affect the lives of men who do serve."

Van Deerlin says that the best way for Representative Powell to demonstrate whether he is or is not violating the law is for him to go to New York and find out what happens. He suggests that, if Mr. Powell can go openly to New York state and not be arrested, he will not press his motion.

Congress ought to have the courage to act on the Powell matter strictly on its merits. The House should establish the facts to its full satisfatcion. Powell is not going to be victimized because he is a Negro and he should not be shielded because he is a Negro.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

LBJ Plans June Visit To Canada

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson will visit "Expo '67," Montreal's world's fair. After learning that President De Gaulle plans to attend, the White House decided the U. S. should be represented by the highest level. When the suggestion was made that Vice President Humphrey make the trip, the President personally sent word to Secretary Rusk that he would do it.

De Gaulle and Johnson won't meet there, however. De Gaulle is due in Montreal in July; the President will go in June.

THE PRESIDENT is trying to arbitrate a dispute between Defense Secretary McNamara and John McCloy, who represents the U. S. in negotiations with our European allies on the number of troops that should be kept there. McNamara has suggested a reduction, McCloy strongly opposes this.

Members of the White House staff handling communications have been sternly enjoined to eliminate flippancies in their language. In the course of transmitting messages relating to the President, they have been referring to him as "the Great Cowboy" and "the Big Man." This is severely frowned on. They can refer to the President as "the Boss," but nothing more colloquial.

TO CERTAIN important visitors to the President's ranch, he has dropped hints that the next appointee to the Cabinet will be a prominent Republican. Beyond that, there has been no clue as to whom the President has in mind or for what position.

A shortage has developed in military truck tires. The Senate Small Business Committee has learned that Defense Department orders for tires now exceed the production rate. That hasn't happened since the early days of the Korean war.

A shortage in jet fighters is forcing a three-month delay in providing Jordan with late-model aircraft.

Air losses in Vietnam are at a higher rate than production. Total aircraft lost as of Dec. 5 were 571 planes and 231 helicopters.

IN JUSTICE Department files and in the published proceedings of various Senate and House committees going back many years is a mass of conclusive evidence confirming that:

The FBI has never used electronic eavesdropping devices of any kind for any purpose without the specific approval of the attorney general in writing. Other attorneys general have testified to that.

Full reports of the results of such operations always are made to the attorney general. Kennedy received them, as did his predecessors and successor. There is abundant documentary proof of this.

WITH KENNEDY maneuvering to make himself the national leader of militant liberals, it would be very embarrassing for him to be revealed as having played a key role in wiretapping and "bugging." But dodge and duck as he may, the proof is undeniable.

Among other facts, Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall publicly admitted that to the Supreme Court.

President Johnson will definitely seek a tax increase next year. That decision has been made—despite statements to the contrary. Still to be determined is the timing of the tax boost proposal, the amount and duration of the levy.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Democrats Turn To Writing To Fill Out The Lean Years

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE STATE CONSUMER Counsel's office, headed by Helen Ewing Nelson of Mill Valley, appears to be doomed.

Sources close to Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan report that in private talks, Reagan has indicated he will abolish the office when he takes over next year.

DEMOCRATS WILL be facing some lean years for the next four or eight years. To bide their time, some of them are turning to book writing to keep their talents sharpened.

Thomas Skornia of Ross, former head of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, is reported working on a book, politically oriented. It may turn out to be a political novel.

Fred Ullner of Santa Venetia, former Reagan backer who came out for Governor Brown and against capital punishment, is compiling material for a book entitled: "Ronald Reagan for Governor?"

Ullner plans to delve into Reagan's campaign strategy, his financial backers and close associates.

And Elizabeth Gatov of Kent Woodlands, former treasurer of the United States, has long been reported working on a volume on local elections.

TOM STORER, mentioned as a possible candidate for judgeship, did not seek the post at all. In fact, he wrote a letter to the governor urging the appointment of another attorney.

HINDSIGHT SHOWS that State Controller Alan Cranston was more astute than the campaign strategists who mapped Governor Brown's third-term effort.

Before the June primaries, while George Christopher and Reagan were thrashing away at each other in the bid for the GOP nomination, Cranston came to Marin for a Democratic campaign dinner.

In private conversations at that time, Cranston said he thought the Democrats were making a mistake, overestimating Christopher and underestimating Reagan. He sensed that Reagan would be tougher to beat.

As it turned out, the Democrats would probably have done better with the milk issue as ammunition than the extremism and inexperience issues they had to toss at Reagan. But that's hindsight.

BILL VEECK, one of the smartest baseball executives in the history of the game, admits, "There are a hundred fans in any grandstand capable of making the same moves on the field during any one game as the most astute manager. Strategy is, after all, less than 25 per cent of a ball game. All a manager is, really, is a personnel director. Take a top guy from industry who hasn't seen a game in ten years and if he uses the true percentage of strategy, he'll probably do as well or better than the average big league manager."

A FAMOUS singer, now retired was the proud possessor of a powerful bass voice. One night, he reported, he had a gratifying dream: "I was in a great heavenly choir: A thousand sopranos, a thousand tenors, a thousand altos — and me the only bass. Suddenly the conductor stopped the singing short, turned to me, and said — quite respectfully, and a bit awed, in fact—'Not quite so loud in the bass, my boy!' "

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

German composer Ludwig von Beethoven was born on this day in 1770.

On this day in history:

In 1773, the Boston tea party was held by American colonists to protest the British tax on tea.

In 1835, fire broke out in New York City, sweeping whole city blocks and causing more than $20 million damage.

In 1965, 15,000 persons were feared dead in a devastating cyclone that hit Pakistan.

A thought for the day—English literary critic John Collins said: "Truth is always the object of philosophy, but not always the object of philosophers."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

See If You Can Pass This Key Defensive Play Test

Today's hand, supplied by Los Angeles expert Edwin Kantar, tests your ability to defend.

Put yourself in the West seat on opening lead against four hearts. By the way, try not to peek at the South and East hands.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to show a major suit of four or more cards if he can. If he does, you will raise to three of his suit. If he bids two diamonds (showing no major suit) you will bid two notrump.

DUMMY APPEARS

You lead the king of diamonds, and the dummy appears.

Dummy and declarer play low diamonds, and your partner drops the jack.

What now? Make a plan for the defense before you read on.

Give yourself a bad mark if you lead your other diamond at once. You will get only one trump trick, and South will make his contract.

BEST DEFENSE

If partner leads a third diamond, the best defense, South ruffs with a small trump. And if you over-ruff with the nine, dummy will win with the ten of trumps. If you discard, South will manage to get the trumps out, giving you only the ace.

CORRECT PLAY

The correct play, Kantar points out, is to lead the ace of trumps at the second trick.

This takes the ten of trumps out of the dummy. Now lead low diamond to partner's ace.

When partner then leads a third diamond, south cannot shut out the nine of hearts.

If South ruffs low, you will over-ruff; and if South ruffs with an honor, your nine will eventually become good.

You cannot defeat the contract by leading a low trump at the second trick because that would give South time to get rid of a diamond on one of dummy's clubs. Only the ace of trumps will stop South cold.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By PAUL PETERZELL

Next Week, Garbage Complaints Will Have To Go To Richmond

Most Southern Marin residents will be in for a surprise next week if they try to call their garbage company — it won't be there anymore.

Their garbage still will be picked up by Mill Valley Refuse Service, but the company will move tomorrow from Mill Valley to Richmond—and after today will not have a Marin County telephone number.

Customers in Corte Madera, Alto, Mill Valley, Strawberry, Tiburon and Belvedere will have to pay 15 cents to call the company in Richmond. That's for three minutes, but if you really have a beef, or want to talk longer about the price of eggs, it will cost you five cents for each additional two minutes. Garbage bills, of course, will not be reduced to reflect this extra cost to customers.

AND THE company does not plan to accept collect calls.

A spokesman for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. reports that the garbage company inquired about the cost of getting a Marin County phone number at their Richmond office, but because such service never before has been requested, the State Public Utilities Commission has never set a rate for such service. In response to the garbage company's query, however, Pacific Telephone last month asked the commission to set a rate—which takes about three months to do. Thus, for at least two months, customers of the garbage company will have to pay toll charges to call the company.

To top it off, the company may not install a local telephone number even after the commission sets a rate. Lewis Figone, a partner in the garbage company, said: "We will wait and see what the reaction of the customers is before we decide whether to put in a local phone number."

Remember, you read it here first. I predict there will be a reaction.

CECELIA, a camel at Fleishacker Zoo, has been asked by Rev. James E. Symons, pastor of Saint Andrews Presbyterian Church in Marin City, to join the outdoor creche at the church Saturday afternoon. A brief Christmas service will be held there at about 3 p.m. following a procession through the community, and Rev. Symons thought Cecelia would add a touch of authenticity to the nativity scene, which would be a hair more authentic than what happened last year.

Another camel at the zoo was to have come over the Golden Gate for the affair, but despite the efforts of six men, it refused to get into the truck for the ride. "It was like a wild west scene," Rev. Symons said. So they ended up with a gentle llama.

A wise man on a llama.

Noted for her gentle disposition, Cecelia is expected to live up to the Christmas spirit and to make the scene. She would have been substituted last year for her irascible partner, but already was on loan to another creche.

Rev. Symons has invited children throughout the county to dress as shepherds and to join the procession when it starts at 2 p.m. at the Community Center. With some caution, he also suggested children bring donkeys, goats and sheep if they have them, "but no dogs, please!"

CHRISTMAS TREES are public fire enemy No. 1, warns Henry Pierroz, Mill Valley fire department captain and president of the fire prevention section of Marin County Fire Chief's Assn.

Pick a fresh tree, he cautions, leave it in water and don't put it where it may block escape in case of fire. He also recommends spraying trees with a chemical to retard fire. And don't put electric lights on a metal tree—it may become charged. And always unplug lights before retiring or leaving the house.

COUNTY COMMENT

Hiring Of County Economic Director–A Puzzling Story

Fusselman

A REPORT ADDRESSED to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by John M. Douglas, director of "Department of Economic Development" (impressive) with the heading, "Re: Comparative Study of California Counties' Promotional and Development Budgets," was issued Dec. 1.

I propose to peer through the silken veils of rhetoric to see just what the gentleman, together with the staff created for him by the administrator and with a budget of $24,632, has actually accomplished in a year. They tell me he is a pelasant chap who speaks with great confidence. We have no dispute with that description.

When I finished reading again the report of the last Grand Jury's investigation of his employment, it seemed a shame that such a nice pleasant person would lend himself to the more than questionable practices involved, and be the recipient of the benefits from the violation of responsibility indulged in by the administrator and some members of the board of supervisors.

"An able and qualified Oral Interview Board, appointed by the county administrator with approval of the board of supervisors, spent a day interviewing 13 applicants, submitting three names. Later, at the request of Administrator Alan Bruce, this list was expanded to five names by some members of the oral review board, but the name of Douglas was not included in this augmented list.

Subsequently there were four names submitted by Bruce to the board of supervisors for its final choice. On this final list, the name of Douglas was included along with the top three chosen by the oral board, without the knowledge or approval of the members of the oral board, which had rated him sixth among 10 names certified, on a certificate of eligibles forwarded Nov. 22, 1965, on Marin County Personnel Commission Form to Alan. The original certifications of eligibles verified by the oral board was not submitted to the board of supervisors, for comparison of rankings . . . none of the top five names certified by the Oral Board was ever interviewed by the Board of Supervisors individually or collectively.

"The Grand Jury found disagreement among members of the board of supervisors on the necessity for creation of this job at this time, but each of them agreed that the manner in which Marin County had gone about hiring the New Economic Development director was irregular . . . The record shows that only one applicant was interviewed, at all, by any member of the board of supervisors. Supervisor Kettenhofen had talked briefly with Douglas after receiving the list of four recommended candidates from the administrator . . .

"The position was originally advertised as 'Assistant County Administrator for Business Development'. However after candidates were interviewed on this basis, the title was changed to reflect Department Head status. The salary of the original position was advertised at $13,200, yet John M. Douglas was hired at a salary of $15,600."

Next week there will be more of the Grand Jury report and an evaluation of the past year.

Ousted Auditor Pleads Guilty To Grand Theft

OAKLAND (AP) — Earle Parrish, 68, the suspended Alameda County auditor and appraiser, has pleaded guilty to two counts of grand theft by falsifying personal property tax assessments of former clients of tax consultant James C. Tooke.

Superior Court Judge Redmond C. Staats dismissed two counts of accepting bribes yesterday and set Jan. 6 for sentencing on the grand theft counts.

Deputy Auditor and Appraiser Michael J. McLaughlin, County Assessor Don Feragen and Parrish were charged with accepting bribes and grand theft after the files of Tooke, a Castro Valley tax consultant, were turned over to the California attorney general.

McLaughlin pleaded guilty to the grand theft charges after the bribery counts were dismissed and will be sentenced Jan. 13. Feragen was convicted of accepting bribes and sentenced to prison.

College Budget Hike Is Urged

SAN JOSE (AP) — John G. Sperling, president of the college council of the California Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, says 12,000 young Californians may be denied admission to state colleges if the system's budget is not increased.

Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan has announced plans to keep the state college budget at the existing level. It was $176 million for the current fiscal year.

Sperling, a San Jose State College professor, said yesterday it would be impossible to hire additional faculty to handle next year's predicted increase of 12,615 fulltime students in the state college system without an increase in the system's budget.

Girls Are Better Students Than Boys, Survey Reveals

By PETER A. JANSSEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Girls tend to get better grades in school because they're "more responsive and imaginative," while boys are "guarded and evasive" and get into three times as much trouble.

These are some conclusions of a study of how sex differences affect learning, published by the National Education Assn.

The study warns that most schools now place boys at a "grave disadvantage" by grouping classes on the basis of chronological age instead of maturity and by promoting a conformity of behavior.

The basic problem, the study adds, is that schools fail to recognize distinctions between the sexes.

Frances Bentzen, an education researcher in the Interior Department, says in the study that boys are placed at an inherent disadvantage because "the male infant is biologically more vulnerable to the impact of stress" than the female.

This stress eventually means that three boys stutter for every girl that does, boys stutter more severely than girls, and boys take longer to overcome the affliction.

Further, two out of three children held back a grade in elementary schools are boys, a fact, says Miss Bentzen, which has "for some reason or another been attributed to nothing other than that boys are expected to have more problems than girls."

She estimates that learning and behavior disorders are three to 10 times more frequent among boys than girls of the same age.

The rate of maturity compounds the problem. At the chronological age of six, when most youngsters start school, girls are about 12 months more mature than boys; at nine years, girls are 18 months aread, and the gap doesn't narrow until most youngsters start high school.

Miss Bentzen concludes that boy's won't achieve equal educational opportunity until classes are grouped on the basis of maturity rather than chronology.

Under the present system, however, boys get worse treatment.

After visiting sixth-grade classrooms, Pauline Sears, professor of education at Stanford University, reported that teachers were almost twice as likely to disapprove of boys' behavior as girls. Even the method of disapproval varied.

"Teachers criticizing a boy were more likely to use a harsh or angry tone," she said. "Criticism of girls was more likely to be conveyed in a normal voice . . .

"Quite possibly the harsh tones, intended to cause boys to conform, actually foster a defiant, independent attitude which reinforces the very behavior the teacher wished to subdue."

Boys also fared worse on report cards, were Miss Sears says "there seems to be a trend toward differences in grading and evaluation in favor of girls."

Boys, she adds, view the classroom as a feminine institution, even associating common objects as a blackboard, school desk or page of arithmetic with femininity rather than masculinity.

The male alienation is such that even first grade boys learn to read faster under programmed instruction, relying heavily on self-testing, while girls learn faster by dealing directly with the teacher.

One Virginia school has come up with its own solution to the sex difference problem.

Wakefield Forest Elementary School in Fairfax County has held separate classes for boys and girls in some grades since 1960.

There is evidence of more cooperation within an all-boy or all-girl class," says Thomas Lyles, the principal. "A tremendous esprit de corps develops within the classes."

He says that both boys and girls participate in class activities with greater enthusiasm under the separate system, particularly when they are required to perform before the entire class.

"There have been cases of striking improvement in this area," Lyles says.

But it's not as much fun.

Can't Cover The War? Then Try U.C. Campus At Berkeley

BERKELEY — If a reporter can't cover the war in Vietnam he can do the next best thing and cover the war here on the campus of the University of California.

As my helicopter circled the scarred Zone D area where a major battle had taken place last week between the bearded insurgent guerrilla forces of Mario Savio and the university special forces of Chancellor Roger Heyns, I knew I had two questions I wanted answered. One was "Should the United States pull out of Berkeley?" and two was "Should the Americans be there in the first place?"

UNTIL YOU'VE been here it's hard to understand the enormous problems that we are confronted with out here. Although the administration still holds on to some of the major buildings, the sidewalks, the union and most of the steps are controlled by the students, and non-student infiltration is becoming so serious that some authorities are talking about planting mines in the parking lot adjacent to the school.

If you talk to the university people stationed in Sproul Hall you get the impression that the administration is winning the war.

"It's true," a spokesman said, "that our pacification program is not working as well as we would hope it to, and many of the students and instructors in the outlying colleges are afraid to go out at night. But we have more students in classes now than we did in 1964 and the insurgents know they can't drive us out."

BUT IT IS only when you go out into the field that you get a true picture of what is going on in Berkeley. I spoke to a grizzled veteran of the first free speech movement brigade who was dug in behind a park bench on the outer skirts of the campus.

He said, "You ask why are we fighting? We are fighting for freedom for students everywhere. We are fighting for our mothers and fathers and the girl next door so they can use four-letter words and smoke pot and take trips with LSD and have meaningful love experiences without fear and retribution. On these points there is no room for negotiation. The administration has to get out and leave the Cal students to run their own affairs."

"Does that mean the professors, too?"

"IT MEANS EVERY foreign element. They have been bombing us with tests and strafing us with lectures and threatening us with expulsion. But for every atrocity they commit we have burned down a draft card and will continue to do so until our cause is won."

He gave me a safe conduct pass to visit the 3rd Psychedelic Division which was holed up in an apartment right off the campus. The commander offered me a cube of sugar and apologized because he didn't have any tea to go with it.

"What do you miss most out here?" I asked him.

"The Los Angeles Dodgers, Debbie Reynolds and mom's apple pie. But somebody's got to fight the fuzz and I would rather it be me than my kid brother."

I TOURED THE northern part of the campus where I found elements of the 65th Sexual Freedom Battalion sacked out next to their Hondas. A weary 19-year-old kid said, "There will never be peace at Berkeley until they permit our coeds to wear topless cheerleader uniforms at the football stadium."

I finally found an atheist in a foxhole — six to be exact. One of them said, "If there was a God he'd be on our side."

As to whether the United States should be in Berkeley or not, I came away with the impression it was a mistake for us to be involved there in the first place, but now that we're committed we might as well stay, at least until midterm exams.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

German composer Ludwig von Beethoven was born on this day in 1770.

On this day in history:

In 1773, the Boston tea party was held by American colonists to protest the British tax on tea.

In 1835, fire broke out in New York City, sweeping whole city blocks and causing more than $20 million damage.

In 1965, 15,000 persons were feared dead in a devastating cyclone that hit Pakistan.

A thought for the day—English literary critic John Collins said: "Truth is always the object of philosophy, but not always the object of philosophers."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

See If You Can Pass This Key Defensive Play Test

Today's hand, supplied by Los Angeles expert Edwin Kantar, tests your ability to defend.

Put yourself in the West seat on opening lead against four hearts. By the way, try not to peek at the South and East hands.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to show a major suit of four or more cards if he can. If he does, you will raise to three of his suit. If he bids two diamonds (showing no major suit) you will bid two notrump.

DUMMY APPEARS

You lead the king of diamonds, and the dummy appears.

Dummy and declarer play low diamonds, and your partner drops the jack.

What now? Make a plan for the defense before you read on.

Give yourself a bad mark if you lead your other diamond at once. You will get only one trump trick, and South will make his contract.

BEST DEFENSE

If partner leads a third diamond, the best defense, South ruffs with a small trump. And if you over-ruff with the nine, dummy will win with the ten of trumps. If you discard, South will manage to get the trumps out, giving you only the ace.

CORRECT PLAY

The correct play, Kantar points out, is to lead the ace of trumps at the second trick.

This takes the ten of trumps out of the dummy. Now lead low diamond to partner's ace.

When partner then leads a third diamond, south cannot shut out the nine of hearts.

If South ruffs low, you will over-ruff; and if South ruffs with an honor, your nine will eventually become good.

You cannot defeat the contract by leading a low trump at the second trick because that would give South time to get rid of a diamond on one of dummy's clubs. Only the ace of trumps will stop South cold.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

Sign Does Attract

SAXILBY, England (UPI) — A sign erected by the Ministry of Transport outside this village brings visitors but no particular joy to Saxilby. Three feet high and with luminous letters it says, "Toilets."

We've Got Growing Pains

Perhaps you've noticed how fast new SAFEWAY STORES are going up in this area. Well, this growth is no accident. We credit it to the high quality of people we employ. The phrase "Good people are hard to find" may be true, but we are continually challenging it. Now, because of our continuing growth, we're looking again for food clerks. So, fellows, if you have a high school diploma, take training well (we do our own), enjoy public contact work, like the feeling of progressing, and are in good health, we can use your talents. We're still growing — care to join us?

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
No. 3326

On Tuesday, January 10, 1967, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m., in the lobby inside the Lincoln Avenue entrance to the Title Insurance and Trust Company, being the building located at the northeast corner of Lincoln Avenue and Mission Street, in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated partly in the City of Corte Madera and all in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to wit:

PARCEL ONE:

Commencing at the most Northerly corner of the parcel conveyed by Josephine E. McDonough to William N. Beatty Jr., et ux, by deed recorded September 10, 1954 in Liber 887 of Official Records at page 261, Marin County Records, said point being the angle point of common to the courses of North 87° 32' East 317.35 feet and South 26° 04' 50" East 152.12 feet as set forth in said Deed and running thence along the Northerly, Westerly and Southerly line of said parcel South 87° 32' West 317.35 feet, South 11° 45' West 84.84 feet and South 70° 45' East 270.38 feet to an angle point on said Southerly line, said point being the most Northerly corner of the parcel conveyed by James C. Wilson et ux, to Thomas Edward Holstein et ux by deed recorded March 5, 1942 in Liber 426 of Official Records at page 55, Marin County Records; thence leaving said South line North 17° 53' 30" East 94.0 feet, North 86° 08' 14" East 50.0 feet and South 77° 39' 10" East 50.0 feet to a point on the Westerly line of the parcel conveyed by James C. Wilson et ux to Charlotte May Conow by deed recorded July 17, 1941 in Liber 414 of Official Records at page 400 Marin County Records; thence Northerly along said Westerly line 115 feet more or less to the point of commencement.

PARCEL TWO:

Beginning at the Northwesterly corner of the parcel conveyed in the Deed executed by Josephine E. McDonough to William N. Beatty, Jr., et ux dated September 8, 1954 and recorded September 10, 1954 in Liber 887 of Official Records, at page 261 Marin County Records; running thence North 87° 32' East 317.35 feet; thence North 5° 40' East 191.09 feet to a point in the center line of a 60 foot public road; thence along said road line, North 69° 36' West 41.36 feet; thence leaving said line, South 5° 40' West 166.92 feet; thence South 87° 32' West 274.54 feet to a point which bears North 11° 45' East from the point of beginning; thence South 11° 45' West 40 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by ROBERT W. POLLOCK and SANDRA LYNNE POLLOCK, his wife, as Trustors, to TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of NORTHWESTERN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, dated June 30, 1965 and recorded July 6, 1965 in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Volume 1957 of Official Records at page 564.

Dated: December 7, 1966.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New English Hyprotensive Drug Proves To Be Worthy

Since many good products are available in the treatment of hypertension, a newcomer must offer definite advantages to make a dent in the market. The latest, debrisoquine (Declinax), has been tried in England but is not available in this country. It is a potent antihypertensive and comparable to guanethidine and methyldopa.

VAN DELLEN

Declinax lowers blood pressure but, like existing remedies reduces the tension to such an extent that the user becomes dizzy on standing. On the other hand, it has none of the other unpleasant side effects of glanethidine and methyldopa. It acts rapidly in lowering the blood pressure when speed is essential. The full effect of the drug lasts from 8 to 12 hours after oral administration. Time will tell whether these advantages hold up and debrisoquine should be added to our growing list.

A PERSON with mild to moderate hypertension usually improves after taking an oral diuretic alone or in combination with a sedative such as reserpine or phenobarbital. The salt intake also is restricted because the sodium in salt tends to raise the pressure in these people.

The weight also deserves some attention because reducing lowers the blood pressure reading. Emotions enter the picture among those who are tense and anxious. These individuals do best when relaxed, rested, and upder little strain.

THESE FACTORS are mentioned because high blood pressure is not a simple condition. There are many causes varying from excitement to kidney disease. The abnormality has a variable effect upon different people; it attacks some early in life, whereas others are not bothered uptil they have lived beyond the normal life expectancy. Some need medicines, others do not, and so far as medication goes, there is no single remedy that lowers the level in all hypertensives.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.

SEDATIVES OR PSYCHIATRIST?

E. S. writes: If you had a choice of taking four sedatives a day or going to a psychiatrist to curb anxiety, which would you choose?

REPLY

Take sedatives if you know why the anxiety exists. There are many causes at home and at work that may be responsible. If they are known, try to compensate for them, or avoid them. Tranquilizers should be used only as a temporary crutch. See the psychiatrist if there is no improvement in three weeks.

THYROID GROWTH

P. C. writes: Would a basal metabolic test show if there is a growth in the thyroid?

REPLY

No. This procedure tests the activity of the gland rather than its size and shape and whether or not there is a tumor. Growths are detected by feeling the thyroid, via X-ray, or scanning with isotopes.

TB SYMPTOMS

D. J. writes: What are the symptoms of tuberculosis?

REPLY

Early symptoms may be vague. Later the victim develops cough, fever, weakness, lack of appetite, chest pain, blood-tinged sputum, and weight loss.

RHEUMATICS NEED REST

O. G. writes: Do people with rheumatism need more rest than others?

REPLY

Yes. Persons with the rheumatis state, who suffer periodically from bouts of rheumatism or arthritis, need extra rest.

SCOTOMA

C. R. writes: For several years I have been seeing gold chains or saw-toothed arcs before my eyes. Can you adivse?

REPLY

Your imagination is more vivid than that of people who see specks, strings, blood corpuscles, floating bodies, rainbows, flying saucers, or pink elephants. There is no need to worry so long as vision is not affected and the distortions do not precede headache or muscular weakness. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for leaflet on spots before the eyes.

SCRATCHING

T. O. writes: Does scratching correct itching or is it just a diverting sensation?

Today's Health Hint—

Check skiing equipment before use.

Judge Favors Blue Chip's Sale Intact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal judge proposes that the Blue Chip Stamp Co. continue in operation but be sold intact instead of being broken up as the Justice Department had asked.

District Judge Warren Ferguson terminated three days of hearings yesterday with his proposal, now subject to acceptance or rejection by the defendants. If it is rejected, the Justice Department will bring the case to trial, an attorney said.

The hearing had been on an Oct. 28 proposal by the government for a consent agreement under which Blue Chip would be dissolved, a new company with a different name be formed and reduce its percentage of the market by 1970.

Blue Chip approved this proposal and so did six of its eight owner - merchandising firms. They are Alexander's Markets, Ralph's Grocery Co., Thrifty Drug Co. All of Los Angeles; Lucky Stores, Inc., San Leandro; Purity Stores Inc., Burlingame, and Safeway Stores, Oakland.

Two other owner firms, Thriftimart Inc., and Market Basket, both Los Angeles, and the California attorney general's office had opposed the agreement. Thriftimart and Market Basket contended the proposed rollback from 75 to 80 per cent of the market to 35 to 30 per cent in three years was much too severe.

Judge Ferguson agreed and proposed that the name Blue Chip Stamp be retained when the company is sold to some interested party. Next the buyer after two or three years would, in turn, have to sell one-third of its business to a party approved by the Justice Department.

Commuters Warned Of Drowsy Dangers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A driver can be affected by carbon monoxide from the exhaust of the car ahead of him if he follows too closely in heavy traffic, the National Automobile Club warns.

The club says enough carbon monoxide can be absorbed to cause drowsiness.

Germans Read A Lot

BONN (UPI)—The number of West Germans who regularly read at least one daily newspaper increased from 72 per cent of the population in 1961 to 79.8 per cent in 1966, according to the Federal Assn. of Newspaper Proprieters.

Maze Of Lawsuits Over Bank Demise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complex of pending litigation continues to hold up the payment of any liquidation dividend to the creditors of the defunct San Francisco National Bank.

The bank was closed Jan. 22, 1965 by the comptroller of the currency, who then appointed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. as receiver.

FDIC officials reported today that $9,538,732 has been paid to date to 11,636 depositors on deposit insurance limited by law to $10,000 for each depositor. Of the 11,636 depositors, 11,364 were paid in full, and most of them within 10 days after the bank closed.

When the receiver took over on Jan. 23, 1965, the bank's books showed about $54 million in assets, consisting primarily of loans totaling about $38 million in book value. The FDIC has reported that many of the loans have been found to be uncollectible or only partially collectible.

The book value of deposits on the date of closing totaled $40,175,911 in 12,493 accounts. FDIC officials said the 754 accounts on which no deposit insurance was paid include disputed claims and accounts of depositors who owed the bank more than their balance on deposit.

FDIC reported that liquidation of the assets of the bank for the benefit of tte depositors and other creditors is proceeding as rapidly as possible in the face of a maze of litigation. The receiver is involved in 107 court proceedings against the bank's debtors for collection of loans. Many depositors have instituted court actions seeking to establish priority claims over other general creditors.

FDIC itself is the largest creditor because of its deposit insurance payments.

As of May 31, 1966, about $22.6 million of the bank's assets had been liquidated, leaving assets with a book value of $31,882,000 still to be liquidated. FDIC officials said there are substantial losses indicated in the final liquidation of the remaining assets.

Should all creditors be willing to accept a pro-rata distribution, FDIC estimated that the receiver—with the settlement of relevant litigation — would be in a position to pay a first dividend of about 20 per cent out of cash.

But the receiver still owes the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco more than $1 million, exclusive of interest, on borrowing indebtedness which totaled $9,260,000 on the date the San Francisco National Bank was closed.

FDIC officials said it is not possible to predict at this time when the first dividend payment can be made to the bank's creditors, or the percentage of his claim which each general creditor will finally recover.

They expressed the opinion, that creditors will not make a full recovery on their claims, and that no funds will be available for distribution to stockholders.

Motorcyclist Hurt, In Larkspur Spill

A Mill Valley youth was injured when his motorcycle overturned at the intersection of Magnolia Avenue and Bon Air Road in Larkspur at 4:45 p.m. yesterday, according to Larkspur police.

Peter Fu, 16, of 1611 Azalea Drive, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and scrapes on both legs. His passenger, Daniel G. Maguire, 15, of 330 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, was not injured.

Plan Continues On Fire Station

The Marin County Planning Commission approved a use permit and variances for the station Monday, and floor plans from architect Gilbert Murphy are expected next week. Construction is expected to start in July or August.

The commission called for bids on about 1,000 feet of three-inch fire hose, and approved purchase of a slide projector for training films for $85. Department firemen are now making trail training slides under direction of Capt. Robert Mariani.

The commission learned that 60 Christmas lights, worth $16, were stolen from the department's outdoor Christmas tree last week.

Britons Love Suds

LONDON (UPI) — Britsons drank an average of half an imperial pint (10 ounces) of beer daily per person in 1966, according to the Brewers Society. Per capita consumption was 20 imperial gallons (25 American gallons) per person during the year.

Cyclist Bruised

Francis Roger Cambria, 20, of 1052 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, was cut and bruised when he was thrown from his motorcycle as it ran off a curve on the old Redwood Highway in Alto at 9:15 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Traffic Too Much

PARIS (UPI)—Paris traffic recently defeated even Canada's Dairy Queen, Gaylene Miller. She arrived here bent on riding a horse into town from the airport. French officials persuaded her she might never make it, so she accepted auto transport.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
No. 3326

On Tuesday, January 10, 1967, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m., in the lobby inside the Lincoln Avenue entrance to the Title Insurance and Trust Company, being the building located at the northeast corner of Lincoln Avenue and Mission Street, in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated partly in the City of Corte Madera and all in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to wit:

PARCEL ONE:

Commencing at the most Northerly corner of the parcel conveyed by Josephine E. McDonough to William N. Beatty Jr., et ux, by deed recorded September 10, 1954 in Liber 887 of Official Records at page 261, Marin County Records, said point being the angle point of common to the courses of North 87° 32' East 317.35 feet and South 26° 04' 50" East 152.12 feet as set forth in said Deed and running thence along the Northerly, Westerly and Southerly line of said parcel South 87° 32' West 317.35 feet, South 11° 45' West 84.84 feet and South 70° 45' East 270.38 feet to an angle point on said Southerly line, said point being the most Northerly corner of the parcel conveyed by James C. Wilson et ux, to Thomas Edward Holstein et ux by deed recorded March 5, 1942 in Liber 426 of Official Records at page 55, Marin County Records; thence leaving said South line North 17° 53' 30" East 94.0 feet, North 86° 08' 14" East 50.0 feet and South 77° 39' 10" East 50.0 feet to a point on the Westerly line of the parcel conveyed by James C. Wilson et ux to Charlotte May Conow by deed recorded July 17, 1941 in Liber 414 of Official Records at page 400 Marin County Records; thence Northerly along said Westerly line 115 feet more or less to the point of commencement.

PARCEL TWO:

Beginning at the Northwesterly corner of the parcel conveyed in the Deed executed by Josephine E. McDonough to William N. Beatty, Jr., et ux dated September 8, 1954 and recorded September 10, 1954 in Liber 887 of Official Records, at page 261 Marin County Records; running thence North 87° 32' East 317.35 feet; thence North 5° 40' East 191.09 feet to a point in the center line of a 60 foot public road; thence along said road line, North 69° 36' West 41.36 feet; thence leaving said line, South 5° 40' West 166.92 feet; thence South 87° 32' West 274.54 feet to a point which bears North 11° 45' East from the point of beginning; thence South 11° 45' West 40 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by ROBERT W. POLLOCK and SANDRA LYNNE POLLOCK, his wife, as Trustors, to TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of NORTHWESTERN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, dated June 30, 1965 and recorded July 6, 1965 in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Volume 1957 of Official Records at page 564.

Dated: December 7, 1966.

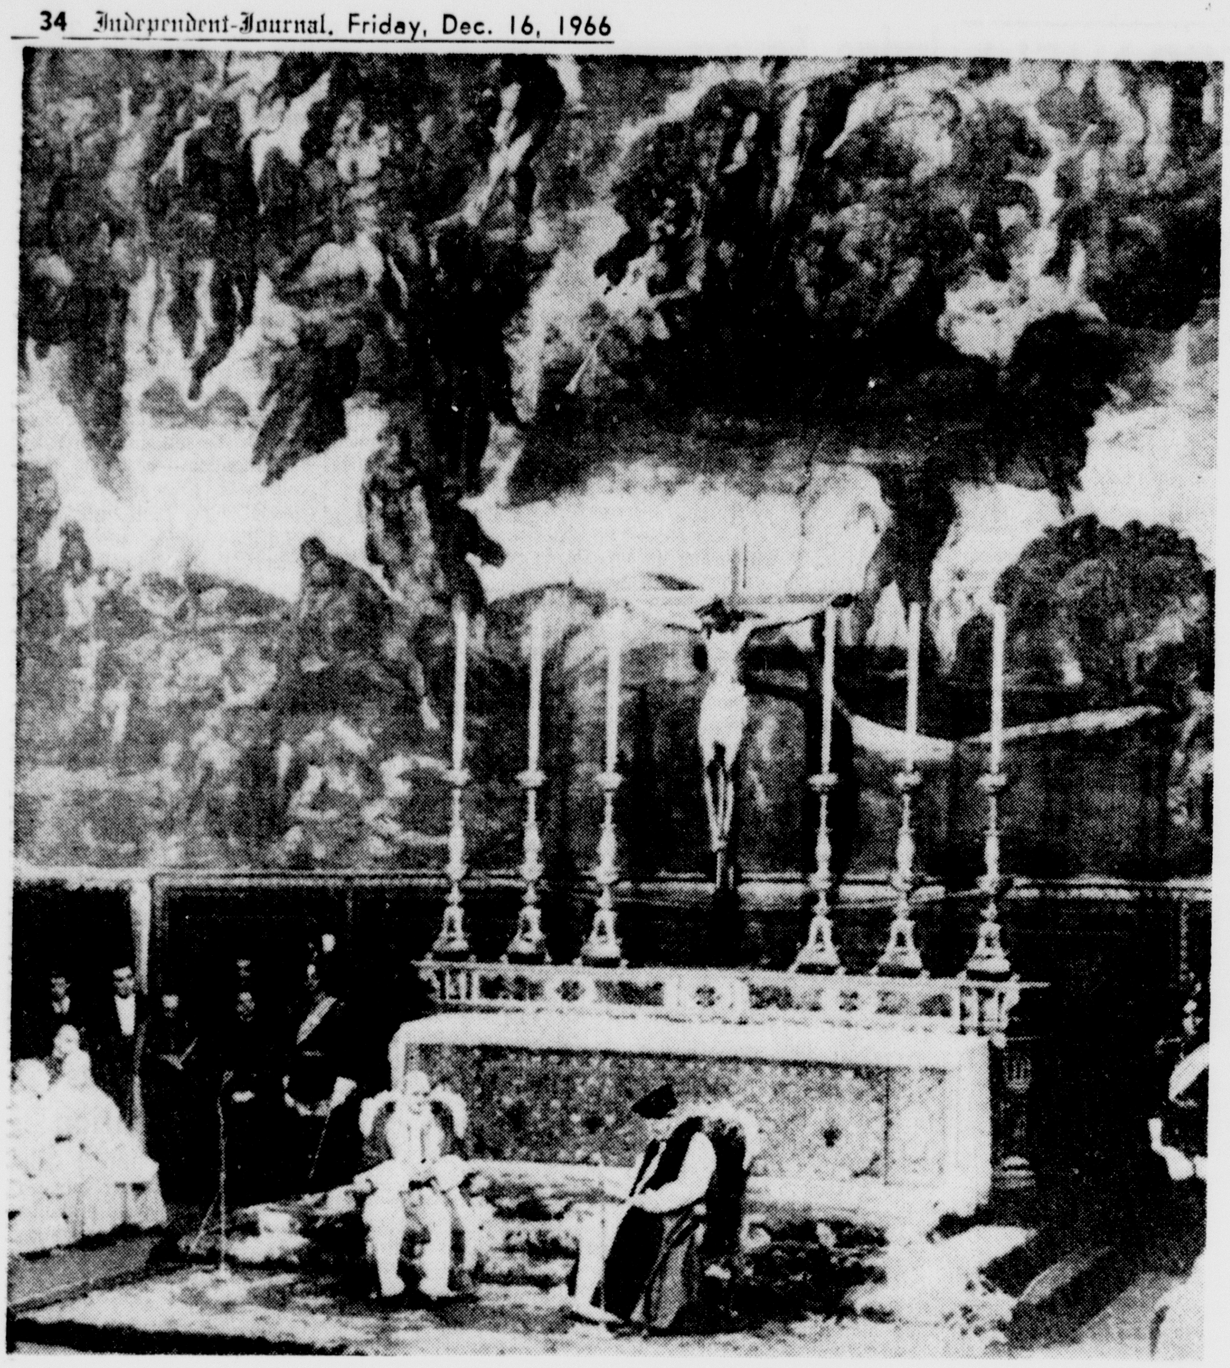
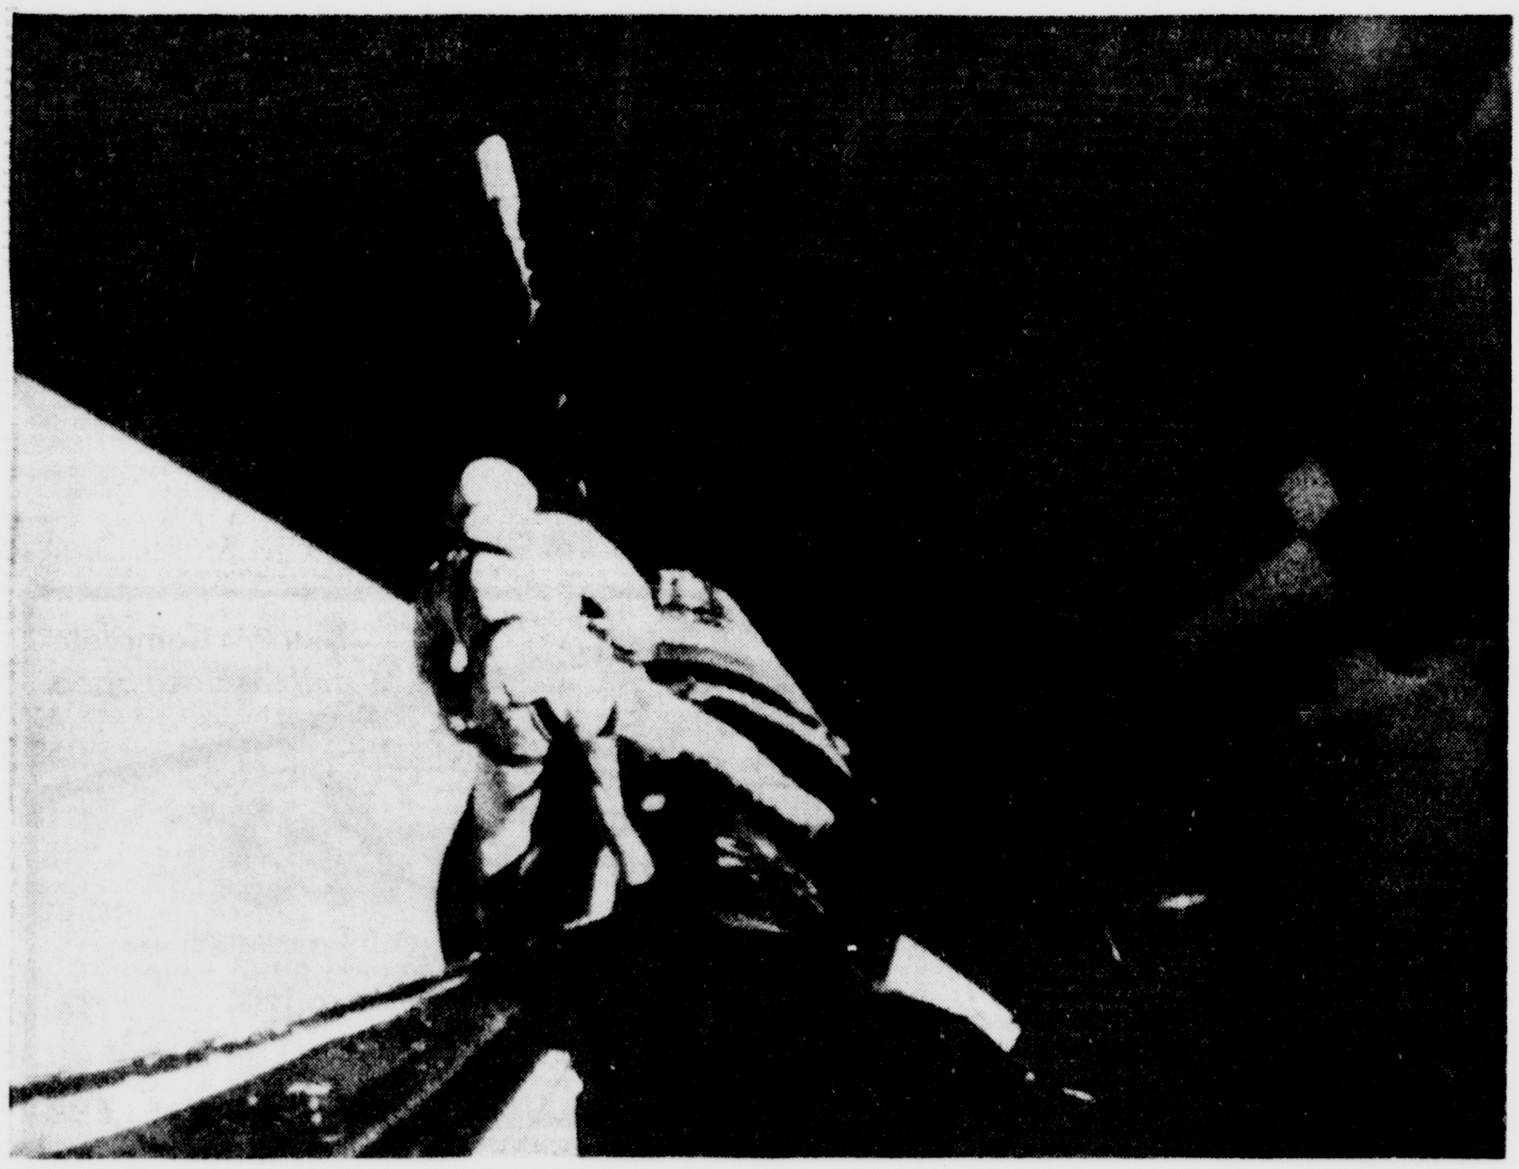
Remember, In 1966?

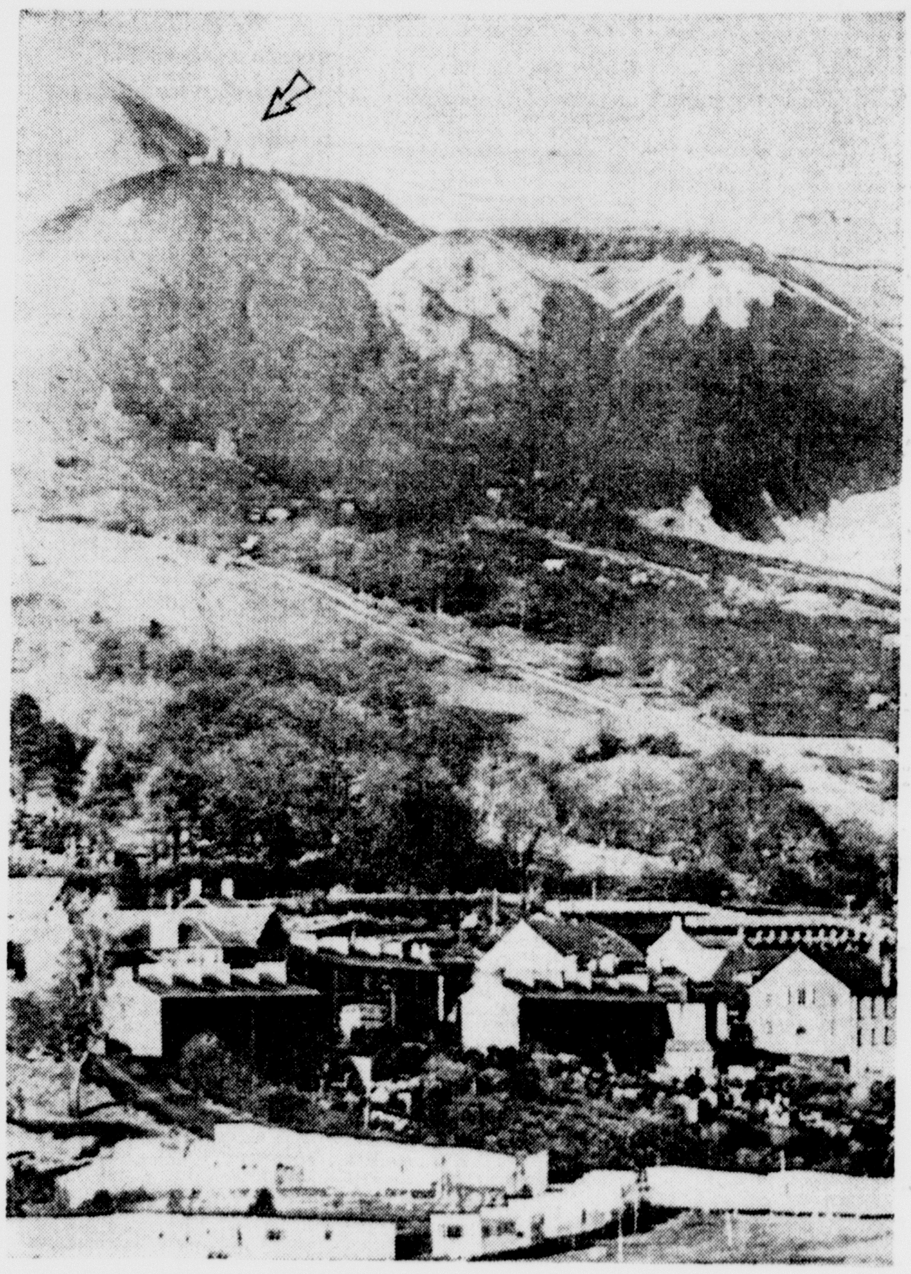


MARCH 23—Religious history was made beneath Michelangelo's fresco of "The Last Judgment" as Pope Paul VI, head of the Roman Catholic church and Dr. Michael Ramsay, Archbishop of Canterbury and head of the Anglican church, met. It was the first such meeting between heads of the two churches ever held.

AUGUST 9—A Turkish girl wails amid the rubble of what had been her home in Varto, Turkey. She survived an earthquake that killed more than 3,000 persons in her community.



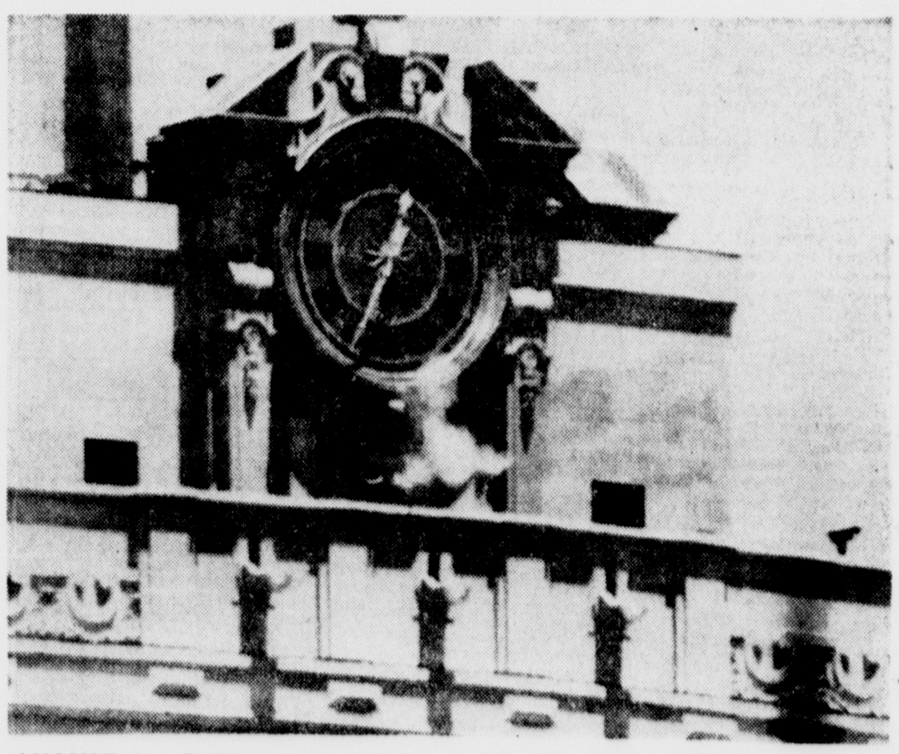
SEPTEMBER 13—Astronaut Dick Gordon makes like a bronc rider in space, as he hooks a tether between the Agena target satellite he straddles and the Gemini 11 capsule. The two hurtling objects performed some of the most spectacular space feats yet.



DECEMBER 5—Cranes, bulldozers and trucks toil to take the top off a coal slag heap hundreds of feet high, near Aberfan, Wales. The man-made mountain slipped slightly Dec. 1, threatening a repeat of the disastrous avalanche six weeks earlier that killed 114 villagers, mostly school children. In foreground are temporary homes for Welsh miners whose homes were buried earlier.

APRIL 21—Dr. Michael De Bakey prepares a plastic heart for his first try at artificial heart implantation at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex. Before the year's end, on the third try, the heart team could report the device successfully allowed a patient's weary heart to heal itself by taking over much of the pumping work for a time.

SEPTEMBER 22—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem Democrat, looks pained as he stands before a House microphone and hears his own House Education and Labor Committee trim his powers as chairman. It was not Powell's only troubles for the year. A long-pending libel judgment caught up with him, and he finally agreed to pay $60 a week for more than 40 years to satisfy it and keep from being jailed for contempt of court.



AUGUST 1—Bullet from a police rifle makes a dust cloud high on the tower of the University of Texas administration building. Holed up inside was sniper Charles Joseph Whitman, 24, a university student who killed 16 and wounded 30 persons in a wild noon-hour shooting spree. He was shot down by police who rushed his position on the tower's observation deck.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New English Hyprotensive Drug Proves To Be Worthy

Since many good products are available in the treatment of hypertension, a newcomer must offer definite advantages to make a dent in the market. The latest, debrisoquine (Declinax), has been tried in England but is not available in this country. It is a potent antihypertensive and comparable to guanethidine and methyldopa.

VAN DELLEN

Declinax lowers blood pressure but, like existing remedies reduces the tension to such an extent that the user becomes dizzy on standing. On the other hand, it has none of the other unpleasant side effects of glanethidine and methyldopa. It acts rapidly in lowering the blood pressure when speed is essential. The full effect of the drug lasts from 8 to 12 hours after oral administration. Time will tell whether these advantages hold up and debrisoquine should be added to our growing list.

A PERSON with mild to moderate hypertension usually improves after taking an oral diuretic alone or in combination with a sedative such as reserpine or phenobarbital. The salt intake also is restricted because the sodium in salt tends to raise the pressure in these people.

The weight also deserves some attention because reducing lowers the blood pressure reading. Emotions enter the picture among those who are tense and anxious. These individuals do best when relaxed, rested, and upder little strain.

THESE FACTORS are mentioned because high blood pressure is not a simple condition. There are many causes varying from excitement to kidney disease. The abnormality has a variable effect upon different people; it attacks some early in life, whereas others are not bothered uptil they have lived beyond the normal life expectancy. Some need medicines, others do not, and so far as medication goes, there is no single remedy that lowers the level in all hypertensives.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.

SEDATIVES OR PSYCHIATRIST?

E. S. writes: If you had a choice of taking four sedatives a day or going to a psychiatrist to curb anxiety, which would you choose?

REPLY

Take sedatives if you know why the anxiety exists. There are many causes at home and at work that may be responsible. If they are known, try to compensate for them, or avoid them. Tranquilizers should be used only as a temporary crutch. See the psychiatrist if there is no improvement in three weeks.

THYROID GROWTH

P. C. writes: Would a basal metabolic test show if there is a growth in the thyroid?

REPLY

No. This procedure tests the activity of the gland rather than its size and shape and whether or not there is a tumor. Growths are detected by feeling the thyroid, via X-ray, or scanning with isotopes.

TB SYMPTOMS

D. J. writes: What are the symptoms of tuberculosis?

REPLY

Early symptoms may be vague. Later the victim develops cough, fever, weakness, lack of appetite, chest pain, blood-tinged sputum, and weight loss.

RHEUMATICS NEED REST

O. G. writes: Do people with rheumatism need more rest than others?

REPLY

Yes. Persons with the rheumatis state, who suffer periodically from bouts of rheumatism or arthritis, need extra rest.

SCOTOMA

C. R. writes: For several years I have been seeing gold chains or saw-toothed arcs before my eyes. Can you adivse?

REPLY

Your imagination is more vivid than that of people who see specks, strings, blood corpuscles, floating bodies, rainbows, flying saucers, or pink elephants. There is no need to worry so long as vision is not affected and the distortions do not precede headache or muscular weakness. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for leaflet on spots before the eyes.

SCRATCHING

T. O. writes: Does scratching correct itching or is it just a diverting sensation?

Judge Favors Blue Chip's Sale Intact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal judge proposes that the Blue Chip Stamp Co. continue in operation but be sold intact instead of being broken up as the Justice Department had asked.

District Judge Warren Ferguson terminated three days of hearings yesterday with his proposal, now subject to acceptance or rejection by the defendants. If it is rejected, the Justice Department will bring the case to trial, an attorney said.

The hearing had been on an Oct. 28 proposal by the government for a consent agreement under which Blue Chip would be dissolved, a new company with a different name be formed and reduce its percentage of the market by 1970.

Blue Chip approved this proposal and so did six of its eight owner - merchandising firms. They are Alexander's Markets, Ralph's Grocery Co., Thrifty Drug Co. All of Los Angeles; Lucky Stores, Inc., San Leandro; Purity Stores Inc., Burlingame, and Safeway Stores, Oakland.

Two other owner firms, Thriftimart Inc., and Market Basket, both Los Angeles, and the California attorney general's office had opposed the agreement. Thriftimart and Market Basket contended the proposed rollback from 75 to 80 per cent of the market to 35 to 30 per cent in three years was much too severe.

Judge Ferguson agreed and proposed that the name Blue Chip Stamp be retained when the company is sold to some interested party. Next the buyer after two or three years would, in turn, have to sell one-third of its business to a party approved by the Justice Department.

Commuters Warned Of Drowsy Dangers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A driver can be affected by carbon monoxide from the exhaust of the car ahead of him if he follows too closely in heavy traffic, the National Automobile Club warns.

The club says enough carbon monoxide can be absorbed to cause drowsiness.

Germans Read A Lot

BONN (UPI)—The number of West Germans who regularly read at least one daily newspaper increased from 72 per cent of the population in 1961 to 79.8 per cent in 1966, according to the Federal Assn. of Newspaper Proprieters.

Maze Of Lawsuits Over Bank Demise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A complex of pending litigation continues to hold up the payment of any liquidation dividend to the creditors of the defunct San Francisco National Bank.

The bank was closed Jan. 22, 1965 by the comptroller of the currency, who then appointed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. as receiver.

FDIC officials reported today that $9,538,732 has been paid to date to 11,636 depositors on deposit insurance limited by law to $10,000 for each depositor. Of the 11,636 depositors, 11,364 were paid in full, and most of them within 10 days after the bank closed.

When the receiver took over on Jan. 23, 1965, the bank's books showed about $54 million in assets, consisting primarily of loans totaling about $38 million in book value. The FDIC has reported that many of the loans have been found to be uncollectible or only partially collectible.

The book value of deposits on the date of closing totaled $40,175,911 in 12,493 accounts. FDIC officials said the 754 accounts on which no deposit insurance was paid include disputed claims and accounts of depositors who owed the bank more than their balance on deposit.

FDIC reported that liquidation of the assets of the bank for the benefit of tte depositors and other creditors is proceeding as rapidly as possible in the face of a maze of litigation. The receiver is involved in 107 court proceedings against the bank's debtors for collection of loans. Many depositors have instituted court actions seeking to establish priority claims over other general creditors.

FDIC itself is the largest creditor because of its deposit insurance payments.

As of May 31, 1966, about $22.6 million of the bank's assets had been liquidated, leaving assets with a book value of $31,882,000 still to be liquidated. FDIC officials said there are substantial losses indicated in the final liquidation of the remaining assets.

Should all creditors be willing to accept a pro-rata distribution, FDIC estimated that the receiver—with the settlement of relevant litigation — would be in a position to pay a first dividend of about 20 per cent out of cash.

But the receiver still owes the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco more than $1 million, exclusive of interest, on borrowing indebtedness which totaled $9,260,000 on the date the San Francisco National Bank was closed.

FDIC officials said it is not possible to predict at this time when the first dividend payment can be made to the bank's creditors, or the percentage of his claim which each general creditor will finally recover.

They expressed the opinion, that creditors will not make a full recovery on their claims, and that no funds will be available for distribution to stockholders.

Motorcyclist Hurt, In Larkspur Spill

A Mill Valley youth was injured when his motorcycle overturned at the intersection of Magnolia Avenue and Bon Air Road in Larkspur at 4:45 p.m. yesterday, according to Larkspur police.

Peter Fu, 16, of 1611 Azalea Drive, Mill Valley, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and scrapes on both legs. His passenger, Daniel G. Maguire, 15, of 330 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, was not injured.

Plan Continues On Fire Station

The Marin County Planning Commission approved a use permit and variances for the station Monday, and floor plans from architect Gilbert Murphy are expected next week. Construction is expected to start in July or August.

The commission called for bids on about 1,000 feet of three-inch fire hose, and approved purchase of a slide projector for training films for $85. Department firemen are now making trail training slides under direction of Capt. Robert Mariani.

The commission learned that 60 Christmas lights, worth $16, were stolen from the department's outdoor Christmas tree last week.

Britons Love Suds

LONDON (UPI) — Britsons drank an average of half an imperial pint (10 ounces) of beer daily per person in 1966, according to the Brewers Society. Per capita consumption was 20 imperial gallons (25 American gallons) per person during the year.

Cyclist Bruised

Francis Roger Cambria, 20, of 1052 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, was cut and bruised when he was thrown from his motorcycle as it ran off a curve on the old Redwood Highway in Alto at 9:15 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Traffic Too Much

PARIS (UPI)—Paris traffic recently defeated even Canada's Dairy Queen, Gaylene Miller. She arrived here bent on riding a horse into town from the airport. French officials persuaded her she might never make it, so she accepted auto transport.

Sanitation Board Views School Fees

San Rafael Sanitation District directors agreed yesterday to explore the possibility of charging fees to school districts.

Director Fred Jensen noted that the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District levies charges to schools on the basis of average daily attendance. In the San Rafael Sanitation District, school "are taking a free ride," Jensen said.

Directors also:

1. Awarded Continental Chemical Corp. of Sacramento, lowest of four bidders, a contract to provide liquid chlorine during 1967 at a cost not to exceed $8,919.

2. Rejected three claims for damage allegedly resulting from the Bret Harte sewer system project, filed by Harry C. and Ruth Rogers, 184 Bret Harte Road, for $5,000; Paris and Marilyn Royo, 96 Bret Harte Road, $25,000, and G. C. Kott, $65,000.

3. Received a report that the proposed Peacock Beach Unit I subdivision along San Pablo is in the district, but no sanitary services are available to the area.

4. Adjourned until 5 p.m. Jan. 5 when it is scheduled to discuss progress toward expansion of the Peacock Gap sewage treatment plant.

Union Members Obeying Hoffa

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters began returning to work today after a 24-hour walkout protesting a U.S. Supreme Court decision upholding the 1964 jury tampering conviction of their union's international president, James R. Hoffa. Hoffa had urged his men to go back to work.

A sampling of Detroit firms showed that 75 to 100 per cent of over-the-road, long-distance drivers had reported to work beginning with the midnight shift.

Hoffa flew into Detroit yesterday and ordered the Teamsters back to work. However, the 24-hour strike had been called at midnight Wednesday and was well under way.

Fairmont Owner Expands Domain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Financier Benjamin Swig announced yesterday that he had purchased the building occupied by the White House department store until two years ago.

No price was announced for the purchase of the building at Post street and Grant avenue.

Swig, owner of the Fairmont Hotel, said, "I am looking for a single tenant for that fine location, one who would occupy the entire building."

Condors found in the Andes had wing spreads of 9 to 12 feet.

TV REVIEW

Disney Stood For Family In Industry

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOO D(UPI) — Walt Disney, the movie and television showman who died yesterday, rode to fame with a mouse named Mickey and never forgot that, despite his unquestionable genius. Whatever other ventures his organization undertook, the name Walt Disney stood above all for acceptable family entertainment.

To viewers of his longtime Sunday night NBC-TV series, this fact is certainly obvious. For not too many years ago, when Hollywood was joining the worldwide new freedom for raciness in movies, there was great interest in the film business as to how such a Disney standard would hold up—or be affected—in these franker times.

The response on his part was beautiful to behold. That is to say, he didn't really respond at all. Unlike amateurs who lack confidence in their know-how, he simply continued to go his own way. He made his own kind of pictures, kept his studio humming while others collapsed trying to latch on to gimmicks and fads, and not only rode out the storm but made more money than ever and proved there was still a place for the films he made.

True, he was a showman, while most of the men who run the other studios today are not and have no individual stamp on their product the way a Disney, a Warner, a Goldwyn did. Whatever the reason, many parents were grateful to Disney during this recent Hollywood absorption with a panting, juvenile approach to earthiness, because for a while it seemed as though a Disney film was one of the few entertainments a mother or father could take a chid to without risking embarrassment.

Baez Says GIs Visiting Center

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez says her year-old Institute for the Study of Non-violence in Carmel is attracting the neighbors—namely, GIs from Ft. Ord.

"They come to find out how they can get out of the Army," said the dark-haired pacifist, here for an appearance at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium in a fund-raising benefit for Delano farm workers.

Miss Baez, a regular holdout in the income tax department because of her objections to the war in Vietnam, says she plans to escalate her tax fithholdings.

In past years she was refused to pay 60 per cent of her taxes—the percentage she says goes toward national defense. This time it will be 75 per cent, she said.

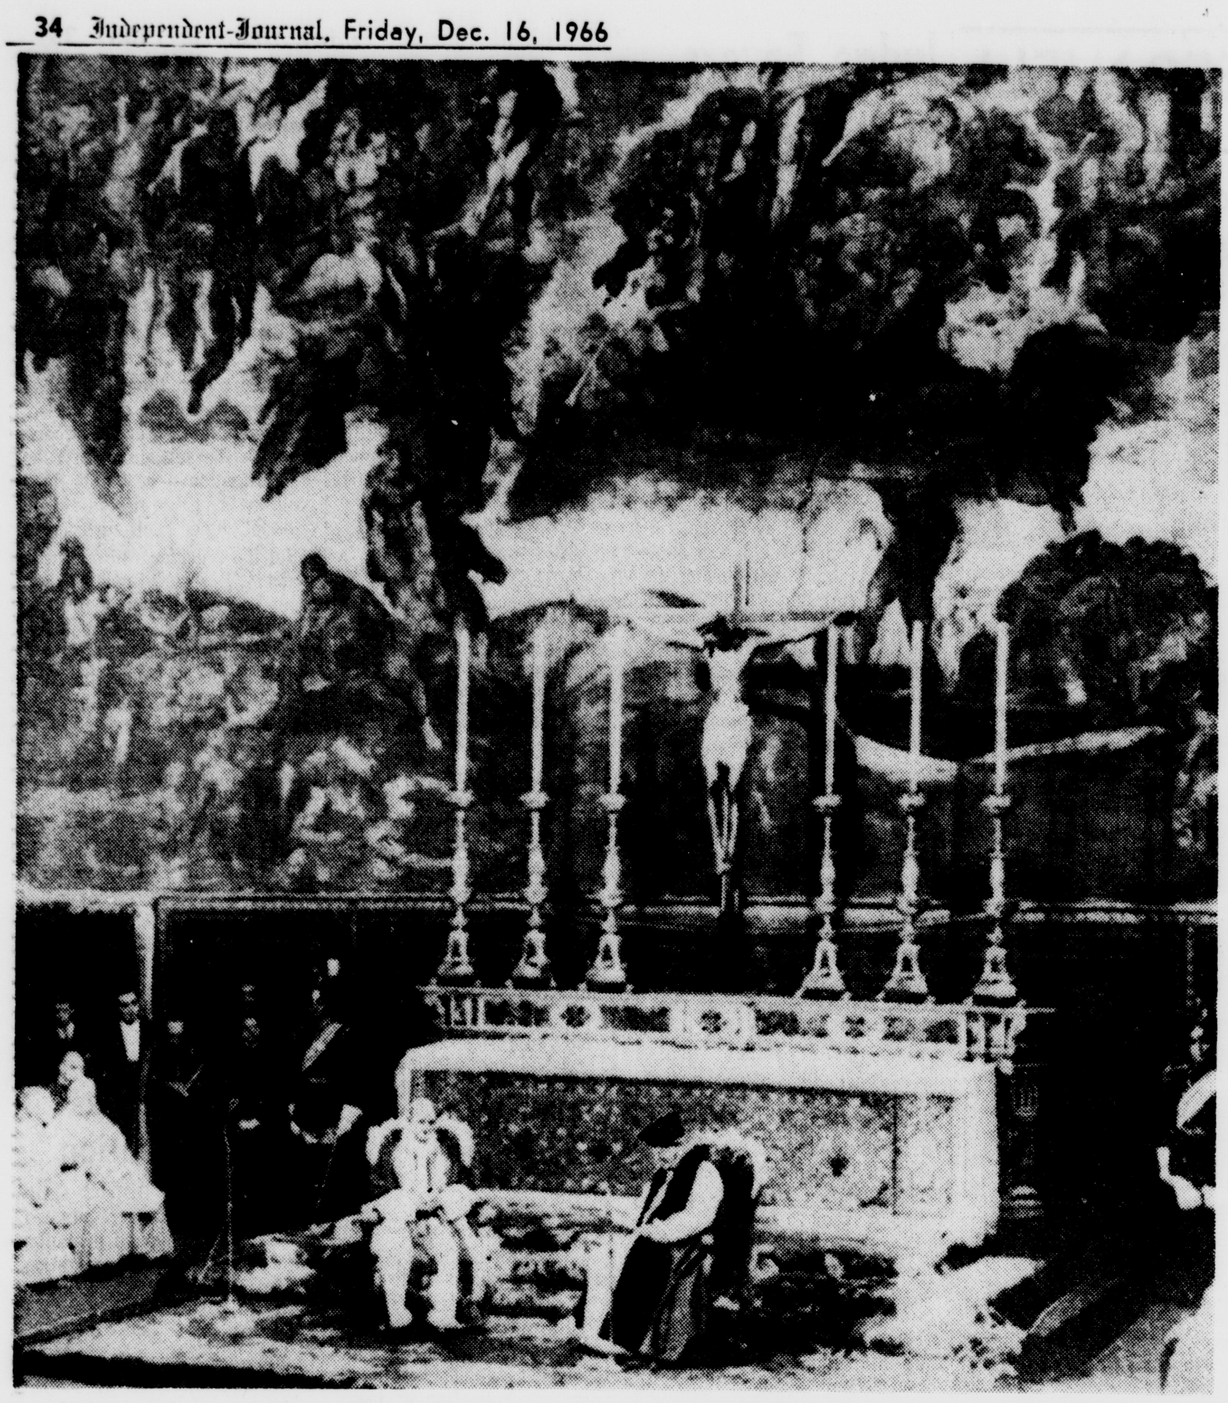
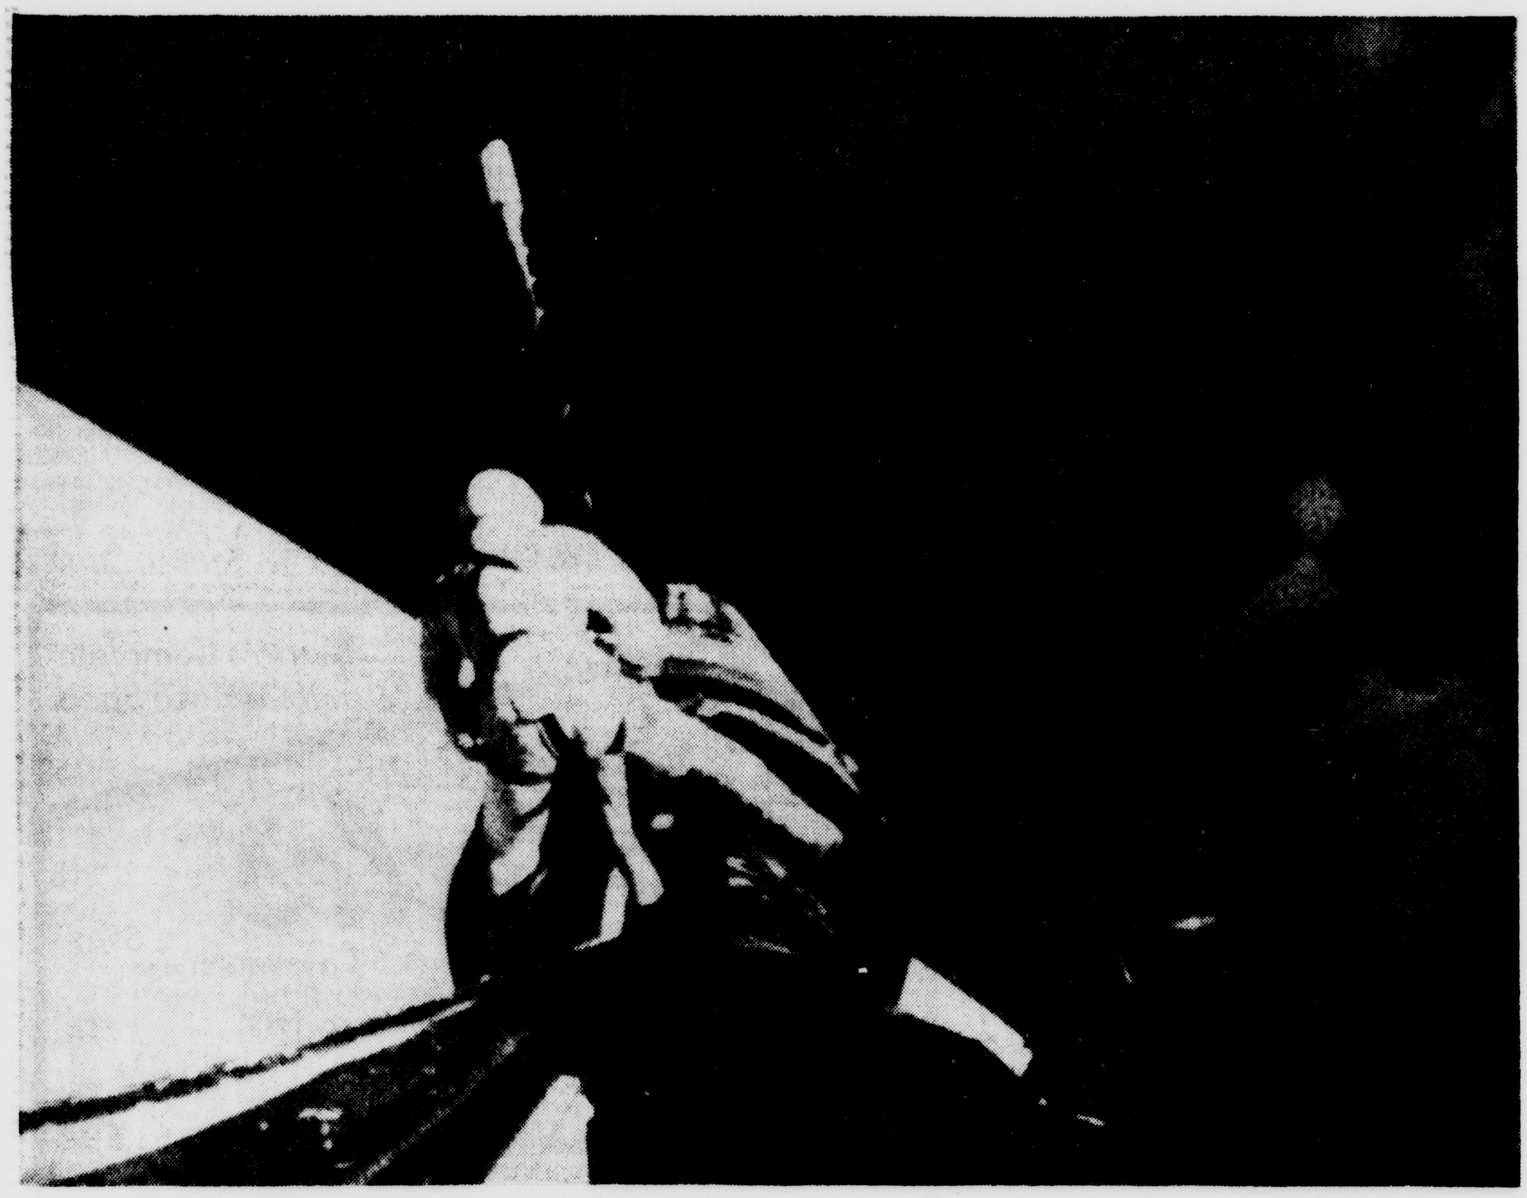
Remember, In 1966?

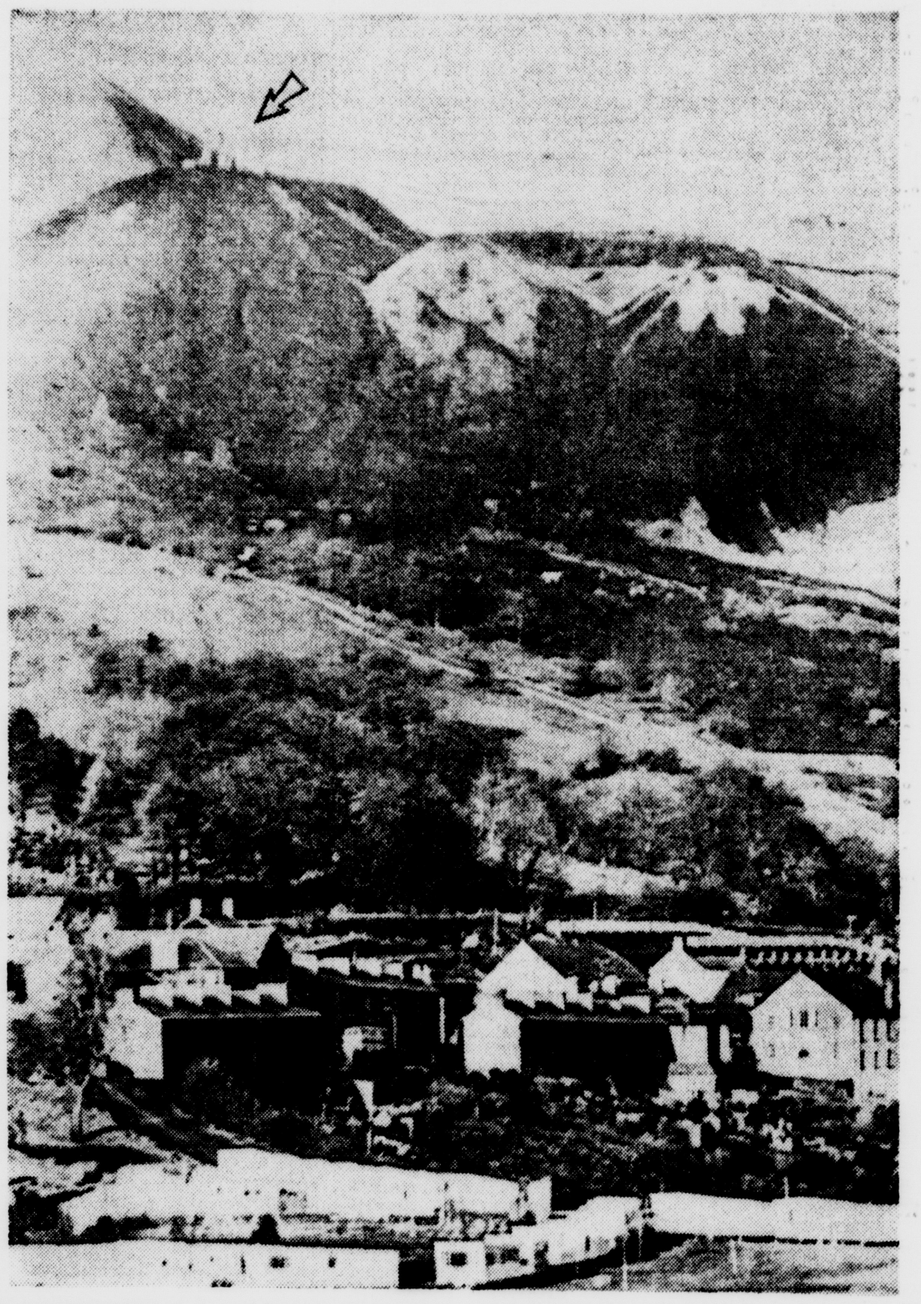


MARCH 23—Religious history was made beneath Michelangelo's fresco of "The Last Judgment" as Pope Paul VI, head of the Roman Catholic church and Dr. Michael Ramsay, Archbishop of Canterbury and head of the Anglican church, met. It was the first such meeting between heads of the two churches ever held.

AUGUST 9—A Turkish girl wails amid the rubble of what had been her home in Varto, Turkey. She survived an earthquake that killed more than 3,000 persons in her community.



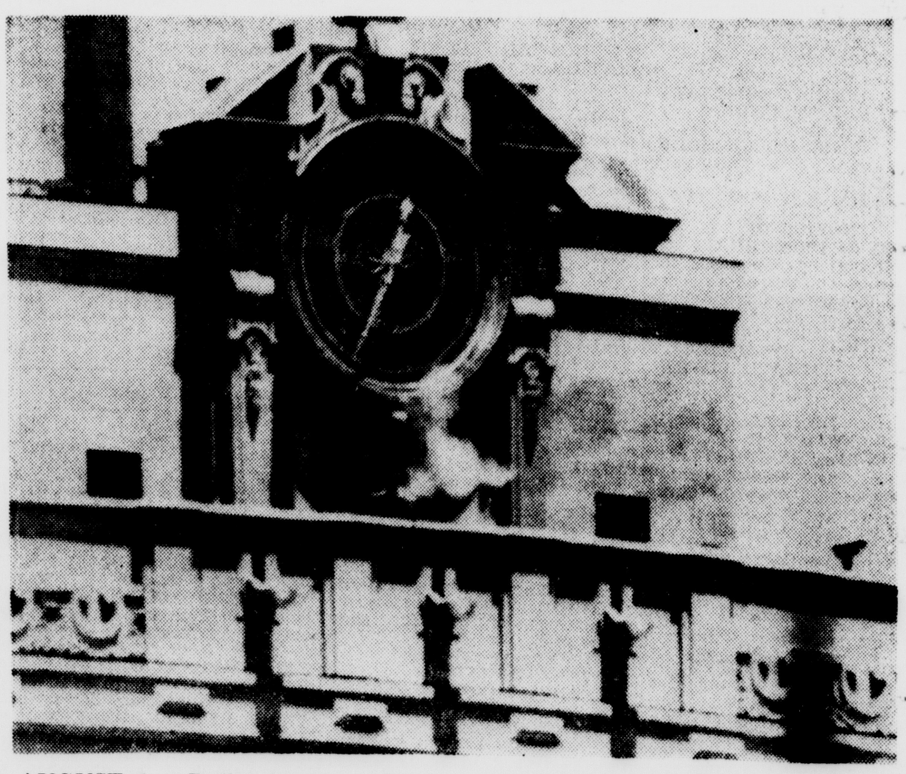
SEPTEMBER 13—Astronaut Dick Gordon makes like a bronc rider in space, as he hooks a tether between the Agena target satellite he straddles and the Gemini 11 capsule. The two hurtling objects performed some of the most spectacular space feats yet.



DECEMBER 5—Cranes, bulldozers and trucks toil to take the top off a coal slag heap hundreds of feet high, near Aberfan, Wales. The man-made mountain slipped slightly Dec. 1, threatening a repeat of the disastrous avalanche six weeks earlier that killed 114 villagers, mostly school children. In foreground are temporary homes for Welsh miners whose homes were buried earlier.

APRIL 21—Dr. Michael De Bakey prepares a plastic heart for his first try at artificial heart implantation at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex. Before the year's end, on the third try, the heart team could report the device successfully allowed a patient's weary heart to heal itself by taking over much of the pumping work for a time.

SEPTEMBER 22—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem Democrat, looks pained as he stands before a House microphone and hears his own House Education and Labor Committee trim his powers as chairman. It was not Powell's only troubles for the year. A long-pending libel judgment caught up with him, and he finally agreed to pay $60 a week for more than 40 years to satisfy it and keep from being jailed for contempt of court.



AUGUST 1 — Bullet from a police rifle makes a dust cloud high on the tower of the University of Texas administration building. Holed up inside was sniper Charles Joseph Whitman, 24, a university student who killed 16 and wounded 30 persons in a wild noon-hour shooting spree. He was shot down by police who rushed his position on the tower's observation deck.

Doctors Think Milk Helps Avert Tipsiness

By Science Service

LONDON—If you expect to be doing any heavy drinking during the holidays—or any other time—try drinking one or two glasses of milk before leaving home. Research now proves that it helps to prevent intoxication.

Some people use olive oil to coat their stomachs but many do not like the viscid substance. Because milk is easily available and most people can take it readily in large quantities, three nutrition researchers at Queen Elizabeth College, London, made a test that proved the liquid reduces the effects of alcohol in the blood.

They gave five men and five women between the ages of 20 and 40 the equivalent of a double whiskey on an empty stomach before breakfast. Then they gave both milk and water. Better results were obtained when the milk was given before the alcohol, however. Without milk, all the females and three of the males showed signs of intoxication ranging from slight dizziness or sleepiness to uncontrolable giggling or laughter and inability to focus.

The results, estimated by tests through urine measurement 90 minutes after the alcohol dose and at 30-minute intervals thereafter, showed that drinking milk reduced the average maximal concentration of alcohol in the blood by nearly 50 per cent.

Drs. D. S. Miller, J. L. Stirling and John Yudkin reported the study in the British scientific journal Nature.

Sniper Slays Passing Driver

INGLEWOOD (AP)—A sniper wearing a Nazi arm band fatally wounded a motorist, hit two other passing cars and then killed himself with his own rifle, police say.

Police surrounded the gunman's house trailer near the Hollywood Park race track and poured in tear gas and gunfire before rushing in. They found Donald L. Harkin, 42-year - old unemployed aircraft worker, dead.

Seven empty shells were found near the body on the floor, police said, in the late Thursday afternoon incident.

The motorist victim, Vernon Travis, 57, Inglewood, managed to drive his car into a nearby service station and report the sniper to an attendant before collapsing with a mortal wound.

Two motorists said their cars were hit also but they escaped harm.

Australians Find Record Meteorite

SYDNEY, Australia (SS)—The biggest meteorite yet found in Australia, and the eleventh largest found in the world, has been discovered by accident near Forrest, about 1,000 miles east of Perth, Western Australia.

Its two sections, weighing about 6 and 12 tons, are about 200 yards apart. They fell on hard limestone and left no craters.

Two geologists stumbled on the meteorite, known as an octahedrite, while carrying out a survey. Using small trees on the Nullabor Plain as bearings, they unsuspectingly chose the meteorite, which appeared as a black object on the horizon, as a marker.

On closer inspection they realized it was a meteorite. The existence of the meteorite had been known for about three years and it had been sought in vain during the past two.

The meteorite is of nickel-iron alloy and contains about 12 per cent nickel. Its age is estimated at "probably thousands of years and possibly hundreds of thousands of years."

The largest meteorite previously found in Australia was the Cranbourne Stone, found in Victoria in 1854. Its five main fragments weighed more than six tons. The largest single mass of any meteorite still available for scientific examination is the 100-ton Hoba Stone in Southwest Africa.

A group of housewives in Huntington, N. Y., is raising funds to build a "contemplation tower" for the sole purpose of giving people an isolated place for thinking; there would be no phones, radio, television or other connection with the outside world.

Trustees Will Hear About Bus Accident

Fairfax School District, meeting at 9 p.m. Tuesday, will hear a report from Patchett's Transportation on the collision of one of the school buses it operates with a car at Manor Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Nov. 23. There were no injuries in the accident, according to Sept. H. Reginald Hammond.

The meeting at the district office will be an hour later than usual because of a community musical program in Fairfax that night.

Sanitation Board Views School Fees

San Rafael Sanitation District directors agreed yesterday to explore the possibility of charging fees to school districts.

Director Fred Jensen noted that the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District levies charges to schools on the basis of average daily attendance. In the San Rafael Sanitation District, school "are taking a free ride," Jensen said.

Directors also:

1. Awarded Continental Chemical Corp. of Sacramento, lowest of four bidders, a contract to provide liquid chlorine during 1967 at a cost not to exceed $8,919.

2. Rejected three claims for damage allegedly resulting from the Bret Harte sewer system project, filed by Harry C. and Ruth Rogers, 184 Bret Harte Road, for $5,000; Paris and Marilyn Royo, 96 Bret Harte Road, $25,000, and G. C. Kott, $65,000.

3. Received a report that the proposed Peacock Beach Unit I subdivision along San Pablo is in the district, but no sanitary services are available to the area.

4. Adjourned until 5 p.m. Jan. 5 when it is scheduled to discuss progress toward expansion of the Peacock Gap sewage treatment plant.

Union Members Obeying Hoffa

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters began returning to work today after a 24-hour walkout protesting a U.S. Supreme Court decision upholding the 1964 jury tampering conviction of their union's international president, James R. Hoffa. Hoffa had urged his men to go back to work.

A sampling of Detroit firms showed that 75 to 100 per cent of over-the-road, long-distance drivers had reported to work beginning with the midnight shift.

Hoffa flew into Detroit yesterday and ordered the Teamsters back to work. However, the 24-hour strike had been called at midnight Wednesday and was well under way.

Fairmont Owner Expands Domain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Financier Benjamin Swig announced yesterday that he had purchased the building occupied by the White House department store until two years ago.

No price was announced for the purchase of the building at Post street and Grant avenue.

Swig, owner of the Fairmont Hotel, said, "I am looking for a single tenant for that fine location, one who would occupy the entire building."

Condors found in the Andes had wing spreads of 9 to 12 feet.

Disney Stood For Family In Industry

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOO D(UPI) — Walt Disney, the movie and television showman who died yesterday, rode to fame with a mouse named Mickey and never forgot that, despite his unquestionable genius. Whatever other ventures his organization undertook, the name Walt Disney stood above all for acceptable family entertainment.

To viewers of his longtime Sunday night NBC-TV series, this fact is certainly obvious. For not too many years ago, when Hollywood was joining the worldwide new freedom for raciness in movies, there was great interest in the film business as to how such a Disney standard would hold up—or be affected—in these franker times.

The response on his part was beautiful to behold. That is to say, he didn't really respond at all. Unlike amateurs who lack confidence in their know-how, he simply continued to go his own way. He made his own kind of pictures, kept his studio humming while others collapsed trying to latch on to gimmicks and fads, and not only rode out the storm but made more money than ever and proved there was still a place for the films he made.

True, he was a showman, while most of the men who run the other studios today are not and have no individual stamp on their product the way a Disney, a Warner, a Goldwyn did. Whatever the reason, many parents were grateful to Disney during this recent Hollywood absorption with a panting, juvenile approach to earthiness, because for a while it seemed as though a Disney film was one of the few entertainments a mother or father could take a chid to without risking embarrassment.

Baez Says GIs Visiting Center

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez says her year-old Institute for the Study of Non-violence in Carmel is attracting the neighbors—namely, GIs from Ft. Ord.

"They come to find out how they can get out of the Army," said the dark-haired pacifist, here for an appearance at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium in a fund-raising benefit for Delano farm workers.

Miss Baez, a regular holdout in the income tax department because of her objections to the war in Vietnam, says she plans to escalate her tax fithholdings.

In past years she was refused to pay 60 per cent of her taxes—the percentage she says goes toward national defense. This time it will be 75 per cent, she said.

Baseball Second Guessers Are At It Now

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's 1966 inter-league trading period is over and already the second guesser's are at it:

—Will Roger Maris be next year's Frank Robinson?

—Are the Dodgers going to try and stand pat with their pitching staff and not replace Sandy Koufax?

—Can the Yankees trade their way back into contention?

—Did the Pittsburgh Pirates deal reserves for a pennant?

Those were some of the questions being batted around in the baseball world after the inter-league trading deadline ended for another year at 3 a.m. EST time today.

THREE LATE TRADES

Three trades were made on the final day and two of them were just hours before the deadline. In the major last minute deal, the Cincinnati Reds gained a Robinson instead of giving one up this time when they acquired Floyd Robinson from the Chicago White Sox for pitcher Jim O'Toole.

The Philadelphia Phillies picked up reliever Dick Hall from the world champion Baltimore Orioles for either cash or a player to be named by next May 15.

Ironically, Cincinnati and Baltimore, the two clubs who pulled off last year's most sensational deal when Frank Robinson was shipped from the Reds to the Orioles and went on to win the MVP, waited until the last day to make any moves.

OTHER LATE MOVE

In the other deal Thursday, Los Angeles sent Nick Wilhite to California for Bob Lee.

The deal for Maris, in which the Yanks acquired third baseman Charley Smith from St. Louis, stands out as the biggest single move of the 25-day period. However, other major transactions included a four-player swap between the Dodgers and Mets in which Tommy Davis and Ron Hunt were exchanged, California sending Dean Chance to Minnesota for three players and Maury Wills going to Pittsburgh from LA for Bob Bailey and Gene Michael.

A total of 17 deals were consummated, involving 43 players. Of the 17, eleven were inter-league and six intra-league. Five teams decided not to chance it. In the NL, only houston stayed out of the action and Boston, Detroit, Cleveland and Kansas City were the AL'ers who wanted more time to think things over.

McFARLAND, HINDMAN TO START FOR 49ERS

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Kay McFarland will start for ailing flanker Bernie Casey Sunday when San Francisco hosts Baltimore in the regular season NFL finale.

Casey, who sprained an ankle last week against Chicago, watched yesterday's workout in street clothes. He might be ready for limited action but McFarland will start.

How The John Brodie Fan Club Really Started: Plenty Of Boos

HERO WORSHIP—Me? I like Francis Albert Sinatra and Arnold Palmer and Willie Howard Mays Jr. With the same fervor that my six-year-old adores Batman, that George Hamilton digs the Audubon Society, that Dean Martin savors John Daniels, that Walter Mails idolizes Walter Mails.

We all have our heroes. And now, if you'll cross your heart and hope to die not to laugh, I'll tell you about James Stanley Todt. Really now, he is dingbat for the quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers.

OH, SO you don't believe that a grown man (42ish) can idolize John Riley Brodie?

Well, would you believe No. 12 sewn on Jimmy's jammies?

Or "JST+JRB" carved on the family tree?

Heavens, Todt concludes his evening prayers with ". . . and, please, no interceptions Sunday." He is the only person I know who calls audibles on his knees at bedtime and who genuflects before entering his row at Kezar each Sunday.

AS PRESIDENT, treasurer, sergeant-at-arms, altar custodian and 33⅓ per cent of the membership of the John Brodie Fan Club of Northern California, Jim Todt has been abused almost as much as his erratic idol.

But as Brodie has had as many good days as bad, Todt refers to himself as only a half-harrassed president.

EARLY TRAINING in the theater has groomed Todt for his presidency. I mean he manages to smile through thick and thin. A former star quarterback, class leader and honor student (summer come loud) at San Rafael High, James S. spent his early manhood as a would-be tragedian in the flicks, when they really flicked. I think his career totalled one line, "At your service, madame," in an old Yvonne DeCarlo epic. Exit Butler Todt. Forever.

I paid $1.10 loges for THAT!

HE HAS been, he chuckles, "between engagements" ever since. But Hollywood's loss has been the liquor industry's gain because Todt has starred behind the planks of some of the fanciest elixir emporiums during the past decade, entertaining his half-swacked and captive audiences with impressions of every Hollywood celeb from Jack Benny to Charles Laughton to Donald Duck, by quacky.

HOW DID this Brodie Club start, you ask? I must confess I am partially responsible. You see, James S. and I were wending our way home from the Jan. 1, 1957 East-West Game in which Brodie was named most valuable player. Singing the Stanford Fight Song at the top of our lungs we hit every parallel bar north of the 37th parallel, and finally settled down to some serious drinking in a Sausalito joint called "Herb's."

To which I responded, "I hereby proclaim Jamesh Esh Todt preshident of the Brawn Jodie Can Flub of North-hic Cal-hic-fornia."

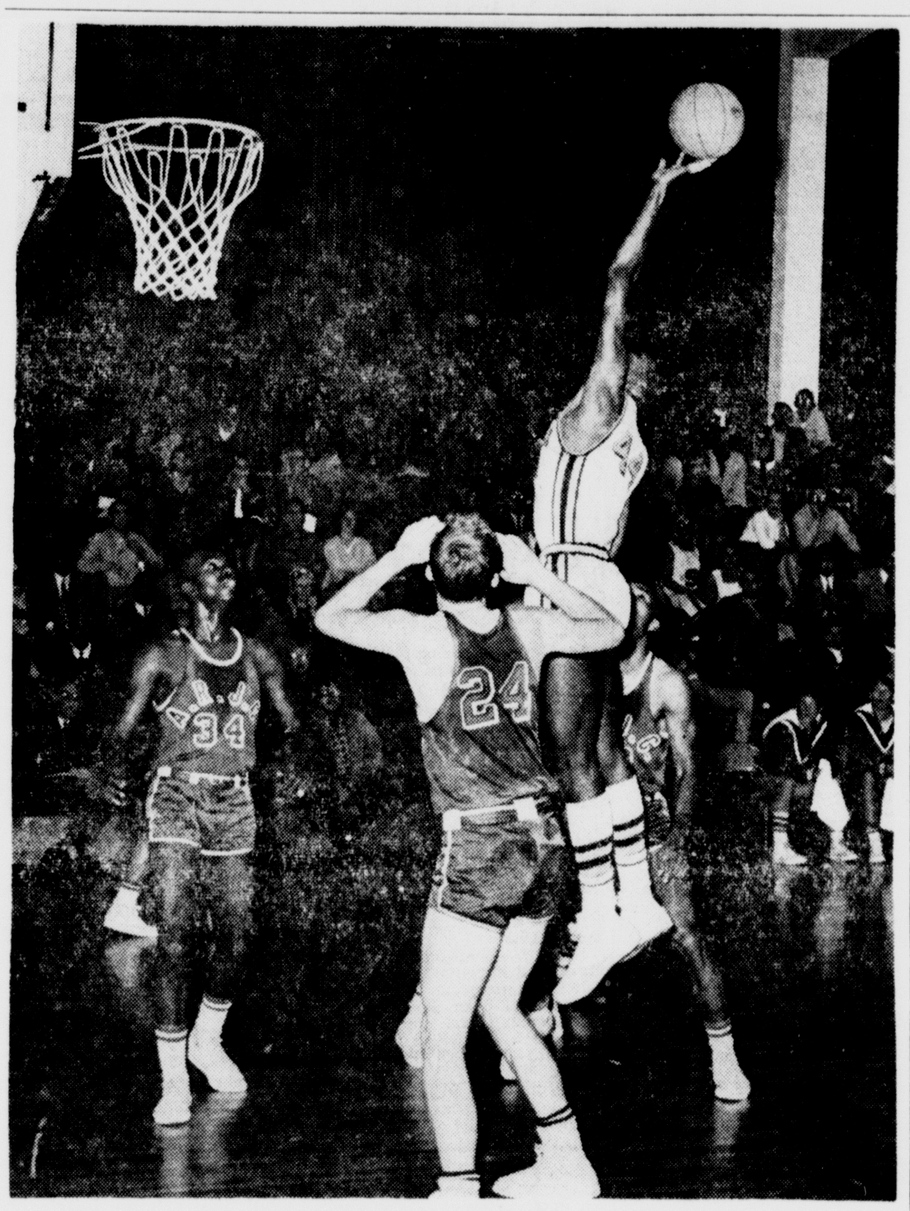
EVERYBODY IN the joint cheered, lifted Todt to their shoulders and paraded him around the shuffleboard.

Well, word leaked out and Todt was stuck with the title. Columnists have given him considerable ink and disc jockeys have heralded his lonely crusade for the much-maligned 49er quarterback. He has become a celebrity in his own right.

BUT, THE club's membership has remained stagnant through all these years. Todt, now a San Franciscan so he can be close to you-know-who, dropped me a line the other day, bemoaning the lack of Marin County support for his club. "In fact," he wrote. "I have found a more Anti-Brodie populace in your region than any of the surrounding counties. It would be interesting to learn the number of spirits dispensaries in Marin as compared to the rest of Northern California. We know there are over 46 oases in San Rafael alone. Not that immediate availability to large portions of firewater would have the slightest bearing upon the amount of hostility thrust upon the millionaire (Brodie) . . . it was only a thought, kid!"

I think Todt is trying to tell us that you can join hic club, but no boos allowed.

Come join the bland . . .



FAR AND IN BETWEEN

This tip-in by College of Marin's Kraig Kilby was one of the rare moments that the Tars got a rebound and a basket against American River College in the finals of the College of Marin cage tournament last week. The points and rebounds were far and in between as the Tars lost, 52-89. Flat-footed for once are American River players Isaac Fontaine (34) and Greg Norris (24). Jose Torres Defends Title Against Dick Tiger Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) Dick Tiger, who showed signs of old age in his last fight eight months ago against a welterweight, moves into more dangerous territory tonight when he takes on Jose Torres in a light heavyweight title fight.

The 30-year-old Torres, making a record-setting fourth defense of his 175-pound crown this year, is a 12-5 favorite over the 37-year-old, former two time middleweight champion from Nigeria, in the 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The bout will be telecast nationally by Madison Square Garden - RKO General Sports Presentations but New York will be blacked out of the televcast. Starting time is 7 p.m., PST.

Torres' predictions of a knockout victory over a steel-chinned foe who never has been stopped has spurred an interest in the match.

It may draw a crowd of 15,000 and a gate of $125,000. Torres has been guaranteed $75,000 against 40 per cent of all receipts. Tiger will collecet 20 per cent of all receipts.

In his last fight on April 25, the 160-pound Nigerian was floored for the first time in his 14-year pro career and lost the decision and middleweight title to the 150½-pound Emile Griffith, then the welterweight champion.

Tonight he will be conceding weight, height, reach and age to the bodybombing New Yorker.

Torres figures to outweigh him from seven to 11 pounds, 174 or 175 to 164 to 168.

Torres has predicted ever since the match was made that he will knock out Tiger.

"I may get him in the first round, the fifth or the 15th, but I'll get him," he said. "I want to be the first to knock out Tiger so I can win the Fighter of the Year Trophy.

Torres has said he intends to bang away at the veteran's body. The chances are, however, that he won't meet Tiger head-on but will move from side to side.

"You can't stand still and slug it out with Tiger," said Johnny Manzanet, Torres' trainer. "He can chop you up like a meat grinder."

Griffith, Joey Giardello and Archer, the last three victors over Tiger, beat him by moving around him.

Tiger has a 53-15-3 record, including 25 knockouts. Torres' record is 39-1-1 including 27 knockouts. His only defeat was a fifth round kayo by hard-hitting Florentino Fernandez in San Juan, P.R., May 26, 1963.

A year before, the wide hooking Fernandez met Tiger head-on and was chopped up in six rounds.

If Tiger upsets Torres, he'll become the second middleweight champion to also capture the light heavyweight crown. Bob Fitzsimmons completed that feat 63 years ago. Torres' four light heavy defenses in a year equals the record set by Maxie Rosenbloom in 1933.

Yuba City '5' Dumps Redwood In Tourney

I-J Special Report

YUBA CITY — A 6-6 center named Marc Benson, two cold quarters, a cold night from the field and not enough rebounds chopped down Redwood's basketball team in the first round of the Yuba City Tournament here, as the Giants lost to the host Yuba City High School Honkers, 66-81.

The Honkers came through loud and clear, as they outshot the Giants, 45 per cent to 31 per cent, outrebounded them, 51-40 and let the 6-6 Benson run wild.

Benson hit on 12 of 21 field goal attempts and added five of eight free throws while hauling down 19 rebounds and finishing with 29 points.

The Giants' one-two punch of Andre Horn and Jack Fitzhenry came through again but not often enough. Fitzhenry hit on only four of 22 field goal attempts but cashed in on 14 of 17 free throws for 22 points while Horn hit on 8 of 25 from the field and added four free throws for 20 points.

The Giants dropped behind, 8-12 in the first period, got hot in a wild second period and trailed 35-42 at the half. But they chilled again in the third period and trailed 45-60 before rising for a 21-point final period effort.

The loss was Redwood's fourth against four losses, and its third straight.

Redwood	8	27	10	21—66
Yuba City	12	30	18	21—81

Redwood Scoring—Jack Fitzhenry, 4-14-22; Andre Horn, 8-4-20; Barry Stockwell, 4-0-8; Jim Peters, 1-0-2; Tom Seidenberg, 4-0-8; Alan Fritz, 3-0-6. Totals: 24-18-66.

Yuba City Scoring — Benson, 12-5-29; Atkinson, 5-5-15; Wheeler, 3-1-7; Carter, 0-2-2; Ortiz, 7-3-17; Smith, 1-1-3; Dedman, 3-1-7; White, 0-1-1. Totals: 31-19-81.

Key Tilt On Tap Tomorrow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The staunch defensive unit that has carried St. Louis' flickering title hopes on its broad shoulders for six weeks in the National Football League will be battling for a half a loaf tomorrow.

Not only must the Cardinal defenders handle Cleveland in their survival test, but the New ork Giants' defense —mast maligned in NFL history —must turn back Dallas' potent attack Sunday if St. Louis is to sidestep elimination in the Eastern Conference stretch race.

The Cowboys, leading the East by a full game going into the final weekend of the season, can lock up their first division championship if second-place St. Louis doesn't get past the Browns. Even if the Cards win their game, Dallas will need only a tie at New York to finish on top.

TWIN THREATS

Stacked against the St. Louis defense, which has kept the Cards alive since quarterback Charley Johnson's knee caved in at New York on Nov. 6, will be Cleveland's twin touchdown threats, quarterback Frank Ryan and hard-running Leroy Kelly.

Ryan has passed for 25 touchdowns and Kelly has run for 15, both tops in the league. Kelly also leads the NFL in rushing yardage.

The Browns, ousted from the Eastern race by Philadelphia last Sunday, have nothing to lose. A victory over St. Louis, however, would shoot them into the NFL Runner-up Bowl as well as eliminating the Cardinals.

Regardless of the outcome at St. Louis tomorrow, the Cowboys figure to score often enough at New York to earn the host spot in the NFL title game against Green Bay's Western Conference kings Jan. 1. The Giants, whose 1-11-1 record is their worst ever, have yielded a record 484 points, including 55 to Dallas in their earlier meeting.

The Washington Redskins, who stalled Dallas 34-31 last week, entertain Philadelphia in their season finale Sunday while Minnesota visits Chicago, Green Bay is at Los Angeles, Baltimore at San Francisco and Pittsburgh at Atlanta.

Boston is at New York tomorrow in a key American Football League game. Sunday, the AFL winds up its regular schedule with Denver at Buffalo, Kansas City at San Diego and Houston at Miami.

OFFENSIVE GUNS

Terry Nofsinger, who has been filling in for Johnson at quarterback, and Rookie of the Year Johnny Roland are St. Louis' offensive guns. Nofsinger, unable to click in his first three starts, connected on 17 of 35 passes last week but lost to rookie QB Randy Johnson and the Atlanta Falcons 16-10.

Roland has run for 665 yards, completed five of seven option passes for 130, caught 20 passes for 203 and returned punts and kickoffs for an additional 424.

Safetyman Larry Wilson, who tops the NFL with nine interceptions, keys the St. Louis defense. Cleveland's Ross Fichtner and Mike Howell, with eight pass thefts apiece, could make trouble for Nofsinger.

Rich, Young Texan Gets New Orleans NFL Franchise

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John W. Mecom Jr. and his associates will cough up $8.5 million for 42 players that 14 National Football League teams don't want, plus more money for salaries, but they stand to gross as much as $3.5 million the first season as owners of the league's New Orleans team.

It took the league 45 days to make up its mind about an owner after awarding the franchise to New Orleans. In the next 45 days Mecom — finally the unanimous choice — must have an organization ready to draft colin New Orleans — nowhere else — and got it after many anxious moments," Mecom said yesterday following the announcement of his selection. "We must get busy."

Mecom is 27, blue-eyed, dark-haired and ruggedly handsome. He played college football and has so much money that neither he, nor his children's children's children would ever have to lift a finger.

Mecom lives in Houston, Tex. and will continue to do so. But some 90 per cent of his family's extensive oil holdings are in Louisiana and Mecom says he spends "65 to 90 per cent" of his time in Louisiana.

"John Mecom Jr.'s interest in sports and his great oil holdings will be a tremendous asset to the NFL," Rozelle said.

In picking Mecom, the NFL bypassed four New Orleans millionaires — plus another Texan — who had also applied for the franchise.

Among them: Jack Sanders, once a player for the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers and later a college coach who then became a wealthy businessman.

Rozelle said Mecom had asked 19 Louisiana residents to become minority stockholders and Mecom said he may add a few more.

They include jazz trumpeter Al Hirt; Dave Dixon, who started the campaign six years ago to snare a pro team for the city; and C. J. Dejoie, a publisher, and Norman Francis, an educator, both Negroes.

Rozelle confirmed the purchase price as $8.5 million. That will be distributed among all NFL members except Atlanta for the 42 players the New Orleans team will pick in the veteran draft.

New Orleans will be allowed three from each team, which can freeze 29 before the first choice is made.

Mecom doesn't have to pay the $8.5 million in one lump sum. It can be made in installments over a five year period.

Doctors Think Milk Helps Avert Tipsiness

By Science Service

LONDON—If you expect to be doing any heavy drinking during the holidays—or any other time—try drinking one or two glasses of milk before leaving home. Research now proves that it helps to prevent intoxication.

Some people use olive oil to coat their stomachs but many do not like the viscid substance. Because milk is easily available and most people can take it readily in large quantities, three nutrition researchers at Queen Elizabeth College, London, made a test that proved the liquid reduces the effects of alcohol in the blood.

They gave five men and five women between the ages of 20 and 40 the equivalent of a double whiskey on an empty stomach before breakfast. Then they gave both milk and water. Better results were obtained when the milk was given before the alcohol, however. Without milk, all the females and three of the males showed signs of intoxication ranging from slight dizziness or sleepiness to uncontrolable giggling or laughter and inability to focus.

The results, estimated by tests through urine measurement 90 minutes after the alcohol dose and at 30-minute intervals thereafter, showed that drinking milk reduced the average maximal concentration of alcohol in the blood by nearly 50 per cent.

Drs. D. S. Miller, J. L. Stirling and John Yudkin reported the study in the British scientific journal Nature.

Sniper Slays Passing Driver

INGLEWOOD (AP)—A sniper wearing a Nazi arm band fatally wounded a motorist, hit two other passing cars and then killed himself with his own rifle, police say.

Police surrounded the gunman's house trailer near the Hollywood Park race track and poured in tear gas and gunfire before rushing in. They found Donald L. Harkin, 42-year - old unemployed aircraft worker, dead.

Seven empty shells were found near the body on the floor, police said, in the late Thursday afternoon incident.

The motorist victim, Vernon Travis, 57, Inglewood, managed to drive his car into a nearby service station and report the sniper to an attendant before collapsing with a mortal wound.

Two motorists said their cars were hit also but they escaped harm.

Australians Find Record Meteorite

SYDNEY, Australia (SS)—The biggest meteorite yet found in Australia, and the eleventh largest found in the world, has been discovered by accident near Forrest, about 1,000 miles east of Perth, Western Australia.

Its two sections, weighing about 6 and 12 tons, are about 200 yards apart. They fell on hard limestone and left no craters.

Two geologists stumbled on the meteorite, known as an octahedrite, while carrying out a survey. Using small trees on the Nullabor Plain as bearings, they unsuspectingly chose the meteorite, which appeared as a black object on the horizon, as a marker.

On closer inspection they realized it was a meteorite. The existence of the meteorite had been known for about three years and it had been sought in vain during the past two.

The meteorite is of nickel-iron alloy and contains about 12 per cent nickel. Its age is estimated at "probably thousands of years and possibly hundreds of thousands of years."

The largest meteorite previously found in Australia was the Cranbourne Stone, found in Victoria in 1854. Its five main fragments weighed more than six tons. The largest single mass of any meteorite still available for scientific examination is the 100-ton Hoba Stone in Southwest Africa.

Trustees Will Hear About Bus Accident

Fairfax School District, meeting at 9 p.m. Tuesday, will hear a report from Patchett's Transportation on the collision of one of the school buses it operates with a car at Manor Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Nov. 23. There were no injuries in the accident, according to Sept. H. Reginald Hammond.

The meeting at the district office will be an hour later than usual because of a community musical program in Fairfax that night.

A group of housewives in Huntington, N. Y., is raising funds to build a "contemplation tower" for the sole purpose of giving people an isolated place for thinking; there would be no phones, radio, television or other connection with the outside world.

Lots Of Talk, Little Action On The City's Sports Facilities

HANLEY

San Francisco sports facilities are "deficient." So said a Chamber of Commerce report that was made early this year after a 12 months study of Kezar Stadium, Candlestick Park, Civic Auditorium and the Cow Palace.

"Each site is deficient in varying degrees in customer satisfaction," was the delicately phrased conclusion of the report which, like a number of other reports made on the situation, now is collecting dust in City Hall archives.

"Unless San Francisco is willing to take some action we are going to say goodbye to some other sports," warned the C of C after San Francisco's ice hockey team changed its name to California Seals and moved to Oakland's new multi-million dollar sports complex.

JUST WHAT other sports the C of C had in mind is not clear. The Giants, 49ers and Warriors, while uphappy about a number of inconveniences, aren't going to take a hike.

The Giants can't move from Candlestick Park without breaching a 35-year baseball lease but they would like to see their landlord clean up the place.

THE 49ERS would like to move from Kezar to Candlestick provided Candlestick changes are made. Preliminary plans for an extension of Candlestick's second deck from left to right field in a sweeping circle were discussed some months ago at a dinner meeting to which Mayor Jack Shelley invited Lou Spadia of the 49ers and Chub Feeney of the Giants.

ARCHITECT JOHN BOLLES, whose original design of Candlestick envisioned its ultimate completion into an all-purpose stadium, also attended the meeting. So did representatives of San Francisco's Park-Recreation Commission.

Following the meeting Bolles put the plans on paper, Spadia toured Candlestick a couple of times with Feeney, and there were hints from all interested parties that the 49ers would be in Candlestick by 1967, surely 1968.

THEN EVERYBODY seemingly forgot the whole thing. As yet, not one new nail has been driven or one new bucket of concrete poured at Candlestick. Perhaps everyone is wondering how to present the plan of financing, an estimated $7 million for completion of Candlestick's upper deck.

So another year has come and almost gone with lots of talk about the "deficiency" of San Francisco sports facilities but little action.

Lou Saban Is New Boss Of Broncos

DENVER (AP) — Gerald H. Phipps, owner of the Denver Broncos, said today that Lou Saban has agreed to terms of a 10-year contract offered to him to become coach and general manager of the American Football League team.

Saban's resignation as University of Maryland football coach was announced by the school earlier today.

"This clears the way for him to come to Denver," Phipps said.

He added that Saban will be in Denver Monday to sign the contract.

Kansas State Names New Grid Coach

His four-year appointment was announced by President James A. McCain. No salary was announced.

He succeeds Doug Weaver, who resigned in November after seven unsuccessful years.

Novato Wrestlers Beat Berkeley In Dual Meet

In a big collision of Bay Area wrestling powers, Novato knocked off potent Berkeley, 28-24, in a dual meet at Novato Wednesday.

The big win was Novato's sixth straight dual meet victory without a loss.

Bruce Lamb and John Stewart set the pace with pin victories while Ken and Kirt Donaldsen, Steve Collins, Ron Sparkling and Bob McCown grabbed verdicts by decisions.

The Tamalpais Indians were not as fortunate as they lost to Vallejo in a dual meet, 24-31.

THE TOP COMEBACK

Los Angeles Ram fullback Dick Bass, who missed much of last year's season with injuries, gets ready for a practice session in a happy mood after learning he was named NFL's comeback player of the year by Associated Press. The former Vallejo High School star is the league's second best rushed with 1,041 yards. (AP Wirephoto)

HAFB To Host Cage Tourney

Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders, with an 11-1 won-lost record to their credit to date, will host the third annual Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament Dec. 19-21.

Seven college freshman teams will be guests of the holiday games: San Francisco State, Fresno State, Sacramento State, Chico State, Humboldt State, University of California at Davis and University of Nevada.

Hamilton has won the past two tourneys, which featured all-military teams, and is favored to win again this year against the college frosh teams.

At least four games will be played each day of the double elimination, admission-free tournament, the starting times of which are: 1:30, 3, 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Texas, Mississippi Meet In Bluebonnet Bowl Tomorrow

HOUSTON (AP) — Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi says his Rebels will have to find a way to stop Texas, racehorse tailback Chris Gilbert if they hope to beat the Longhorns in tomorrow's eighth Bluebonnet Bowl.

"I saw Texas' last five games on film and no team has a better tailback than Gilbert," Vaught said. "We're going to have to do something, but I don't know what. I imagine we will have to keep changing our defense out there Saturday."

Gilbert, a sophomore from Houston, rushed for 1,080 yards this season in leading Texas to a 6-4 record and a Bluebonnet Bowl date with the Rebels.

However, the 175-pounder is expected to get his biggest test against a defense-minded Mississippi team that allowed only 74.1 yards rushing per game in compiling an 8-2 record. The Rebels shut out five of their 10 opponents.

Mississippi worked out yesterday at Rice University Stadium, site of the game. Coach Darrell Royal and his Longhorns arrive today. Royal said the entire squad of 70 players would make the trip.

The weatherman has indicated fair and cool weather for the contest and Bluebonnet Bowl officials hope this will result in the first full house for the Houston Classic, which began in 1959.

The stadium's seating capacity is 70,000, but bleacher stands could seat another 2,000 if necessary. The Bluebonnet record is the 68,000 which saw Texas and Alabama battle to a 3-3 tie in 1960.

Vaught said this year's Texas team reminded him of the one which defeated his Rebels, 12-7, in the 1962 Cotton Bowl.

"At this point I believe Texas is the best team in the Southwest Conference, with their injured players back and the experience they have gained with their sophomores," he said. "Texas compares with any team in the United States at this point."

But the veteran Mississippi coach, who has won six Southeastern Conference championships, was quick to praise his own club.

"This is a good football team," he said. "We haven't been satisfied with our offense, let me say that, but we've improved every week."

He said he liked to think the Southeastern Conference plays

Independent-Journal Sports

the best football in the nation.

"Year-in and year-out, we have some fine football teams," he said. "Five of our teams are going to bowls — six if you count Georgia Tech, which is no longer in the conference."

Both Texas and Mississippi will be appearing in their 15th post season contest and it is the 10th straight for the Rebels.

Mississippi won its last six games this year after back to back losses to nationally ranked Alabama and Georgia. Texas won four of its last five games.

The game will be nationally televised (ABC) with the Houston area blacked out.

Aussie Net Duo Wins Over American Gals

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — The top-seeded Australian pair of Lesley Turner and Judy Tegart proved too strong a combination today for Americans Nancy Richey of Dallas and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco in the women's doubles finals of the South Australian Tennis Championships. The Australians won 7-5, 6-4.

The first set saw the Americans challenge every point. The games went with service to 5-5, when the Australians held their own, and they broke the Americans to make them one set up.

It was another tough struggle in the second set, with neither pair gaining a real advantage until after the ninth game. Leading 5-4, the Australians broke Miss Richey's service to win the set and the match.

Australia's Davis Cup doubles hopefuls John Newcombe and Tony Roche did little to enhance their prospects by going down in four sets in the mens doubles finals. Another Australian pair, Owen Davidson and Bill Bowrey, defeated Newcombe and Roche 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7.

After what looked like a runaway win for Roche and Newcombe with their 6-3 victory in the first set, the slump set in and they lacked teamwork, muffing easy shots. The other pair, scenting victory, tightened their game and won the next three sets in a row.

In the mixed doubles semifinals, Claude de Gronkel, of Sweden and Francoise Durr of France defeated Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Miss Richey 6-2, 6-4 and Roche and Miss Tegart defeated Ray Ruffels and Jan O'Neill of Australia 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

Ron And Don Stroke 71s

Ron Cerrudo and Don Hawken, of San Rafael, two of the top amateur golfers in the Bay Area, both fired 71s in the Northern California Open at Danville yesterday to trail the leaders by four strokes.

Trailing by one were Scotty McBeath, Jim Wiechers and Bob Moore at 68 while Dave Cogdell had a 35-34-69 and pro George Archer, who has collected $60,000 on the tour this year had a 70, along with Guy Bill and Bill Isbel.

Cerrudo had a 35-36 and Hawken a 33-38.

Baseball Second Guessers Are At It Now

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's 1966 inter-league trading period is over and already the second guesser's are at it:

—Will Roger Maris be next year's Frank Robinson?

—Can the Yankees trade their way back into contention?

—Did the Pittsburgh Pirates deal reserves for a pennant?

Those were some of the questions being batted around in the baseball world after the inter-league trading deadline ended for another year at 3 a.m. EST time today.

THREE LATE TRADES

Three trades were made on the final day and two of them were just hours before the deadline. In the major last minute deal, the Cincinnati Reds gained a Robinson instead of giving one up this time when they acquired Floyd Robinson from the Chicago White Sox for pitcher Jim O'Toole.

The Philadelphia Phillies picked up reliever Dick Hall from the world champion Baltimore Orioles for either cash or a player to be named by next May 15.

Ironically, Cincinnati and Baltimore, the two clubs who pulled off last year's most sensational deal when Frank Robinson was shipped from the Reds to the Orioles and went on to win the MVP, waited until the last day to make any moves.

OTHER LATE MOVE

In the other deal Thursday, Los Angeles sent Nick Wilhite to California for Bob Lee.

The deal for Maris, in which the Yanks acquired third baseman Charley Smith from St. Louis, stands out as the biggest single move of the 25-day period. However, other major transactions included a four-player swap between the Dodgers and Mets in which Tommy Davis and Ron Hunt were exchanged, California sending Dean Chance to Minnesota for three players and Maury Wills going to Pittsburgh from LA for Bob Bailey and Gene Michael.

A total of 17 deals were consummated, involving 43 players. Of the 17, eleven were inter-league and six intra-league. Five teams decided not to chance it. In the NL, only houston stayed out of the action and Boston, Detroit, Cleveland and Kansas City were the AL'ers who wanted more time to think things over.

McFARLAND, HINDMAN TO START FOR 49ERS

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Kay McFarland will start for ailing flanker Bernie Casey Sunday when San Francisco hosts Baltimore in the regular season NFL finale.

Casey, who sprained an ankle last week against Chicago, watched yesterday's workout in street clothes. He might be ready for limited action but McFarland will start.

How The John Brodie Fan Club Really Started: Plenty Of Boos

HERO WORSHIP—Me? I like Francis Albert Sinatra and Arnold Palmer and Willie Howard Mays Jr. With the same fervor that my six-year-old adores Batman, that George Hamilton digs the Audubon Society, that Dean Martin savors John Daniels, that Walter Mails idolizes Walter Mails.

We all have our heroes. And now, if you'll cross your heart and hope to die not to laugh, I'll tell you about James Stanley Todt. Really now, he is dingbat for the quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers.

OH, SO you don't believe that a grown man (42ish) can idolize John Riley Brodie?

Well, would you believe No. 12 sewn on Jimmy's jammies?

Or "JST+JRB" carved on the family tree?

Heavens, Todt concludes his evening prayers with ". . . and, please, no interceptions Sunday." He is the only person I know who calls audibles on his knees at bedtime and who genuflects before entering his row at Kezar each Sunday.

AS PRESIDENT, treasurer, sergeant-at-arms, altar custodian and 33⅓ per cent of the membership of the John Brodie Fan Club of Northern California, Jim Todt has been abused almost as much as his erratic idol.

But as Brodie has had as many good days as bad, Todt refers to himself as only a half-harrassed president.

EARLY TRAINING in the theater has groomed Todt for his presidency. I mean he manages to smile through thick and thin. A former star quarterback, class leader and honor student (summer come loud) at San Rafael High, James S. spent his early manhood as a would-be tragedian in the flicks, when they really flicked. I think his career totalled one line, "At your service, madame," in an old Yvonne DeCarlo epic. Exit Butler Todt. Forever.

I paid $1.10 loges for THAT!

HE HAS been, he chuckles, "between engagements" ever since. But Hollywood's loss has been the liquor industry's gain because Todt has starred behind the planks of some of the fanciest elixir emporiums during the past decade, entertaining his half-swacked and captive audiences with impressions of every Hollywood celeb from Jack Benny to Charles Laughton to Donald Duck, by quacky.

HOW DID this Brodie Club start, you ask? I must confess I am partially responsible. You see, James S. and I were wending our way home from the Jan. 1, 1957 East-West Game in which Brodie was named most valuable player. Singing the Stanford Fight Song at the top of our lungs we hit every parallel bar north of the 37th parallel, and finally settled down to some serious drinking in a Sausalito joint called "Herb's."

To which I responded, "I hereby proclaim Jamesh Esh Todt preshident of the Brawn Jodie Can Flub of North-hic Cal-hic-fornia."

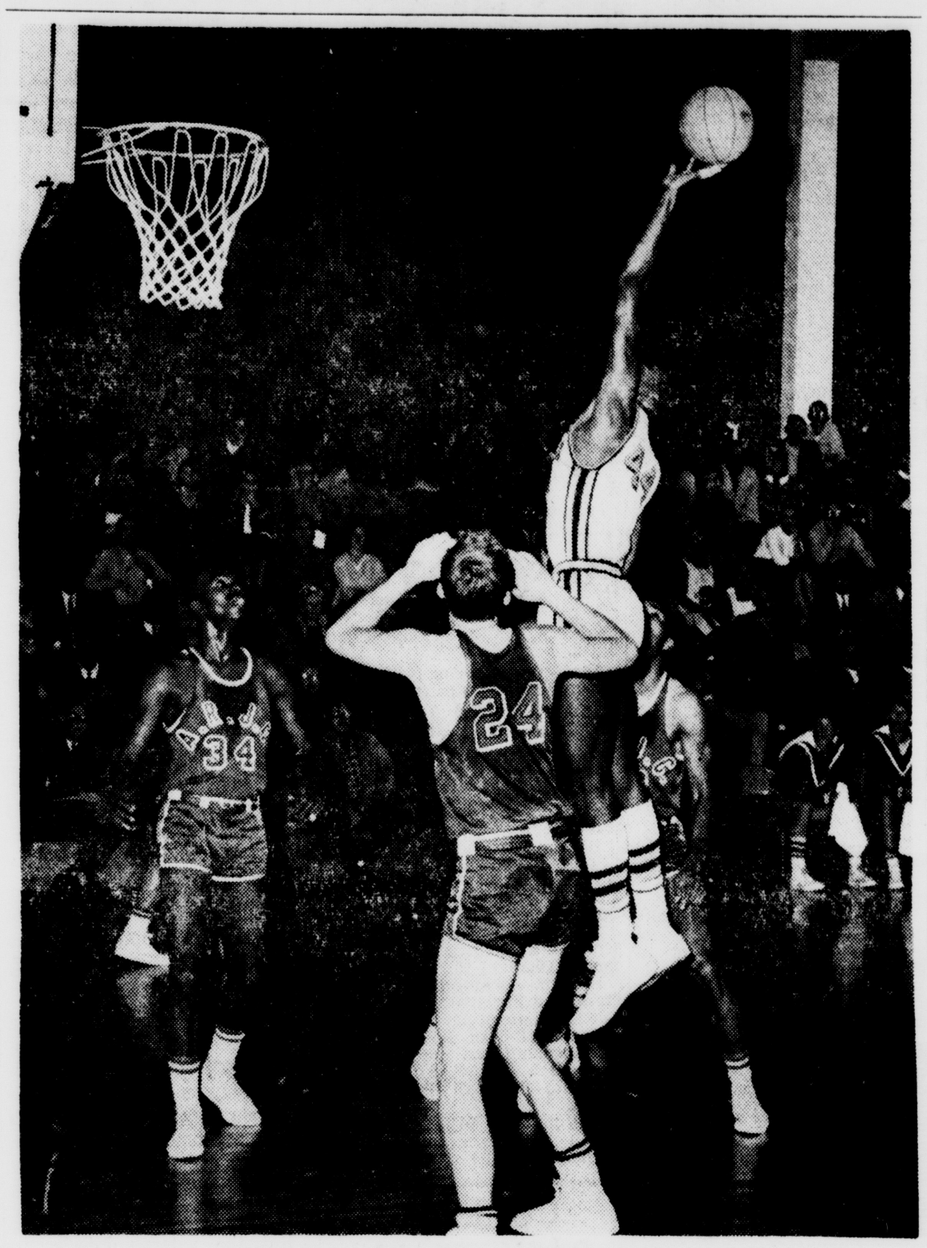
Well, word leaked out and Todt was stuck with the title. Columnists have given him considerable ink and disc jockeys have heralded his lonely crusade for the much-maligned 49er quarterback. He has become a celebrity in his own right.

BUT, THE club's membership has remained stagnant through all these years. Todt, now a San Franciscan so he can be close to you-know-who, dropped me a line the other day, bemoaning the lack of Marin County support for his club. "In fact," he wrote. "I have found a more Anti-Brodie populace in your region than any of the surrounding counties. It would be interesting to learn the number of spirits dispensaries in Marin as compared to the rest of Northern California. We know there are over 46 oases in San Rafael alone. Not that immediate availability to large portions of firewater would have the slightest bearing upon the amount of hostility thrust upon the millionaire (Brodie) . . . it was only a thought, kid!"

I think Todt is trying to tell us that you can join hic club, but no boos allowed.

Come join the bland . . .



FAR AND IN BETWEEN

This tip-in by College of Marin's Kraig Kilby was one of the rare moments that the Tars got a rebound and a basket against American River College in the finals of the College of Marin cage tournament last week. The points and rebounds were far and in between as the Tars lost, 52-89. Flat-footed for once are American River players Isaac Fontaine (34) and Greg Norris (24). Marin plays Cabrillo at Santa Cruz tonight and Contra Costa at Kentfield tomorrow night. (Independent-Journal photo by Dave Mayhew)

Jose Torres Defends Title Against Dick Tiger Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) Dick Tiger, who showed signs of old age in his last fight eight months ago against a welterweight, moves into more dangerous territory tonight when he takes on Jose Torres in a light heavyweight title fight.

The 30-year-old Torres, making a record-setting fourth defense of his 175-pound crown this year, is a 12-5 favorite over the 37-year-old, former two time middleweight champion from Nigeria, in the 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The bout will be telecast nationally by Madison Square Garden - RKO General Sports Presentations but New York will be blacked out of the televcast. Starting time is 7 p.m., PST.

Torres' predictions of a knockout victory over a steel-chinned foe who never has been stopped has spurred an interest in the match.

It may draw a crowd of 15,000 and a gate of $125,000. Torres has been guaranteed $75,000 against 40 per cent of all receipts. Tiger will collecet 20 per cent of all receipts.

In his last fight on April 25, the 160-pound Nigerian was floored for the first time in his 14-year pro career and lost the decision and middleweight title to the 150½-pound Emile Griffith, then the welterweight champion.

Tonight he will be conceding weight, height, reach and age to the bodybombing New Yorker.

Torres figures to outweigh him from seven to 11 pounds, 174 or 175 to 164 to 168.

Torres has predicted ever since the match was made that he will knock out Tiger.

"I may get him in the first round, the fifth or the 15th, but I'll get him," he said. "I want to be the first to knock out Tiger so I can win the Fighter of the Year Trophy.

Torres has said he intends to bang away at the veteran's body. The chances are, however, that he won't meet Tiger head-on but will move from side to side.

"You can't stand still and slug it out with Tiger," said Johnny Manzanet, Torres' trainer. "He can chop you up like a meat grinder."

Griffith, Joey Giardello and Archer, the last three victors over Tiger, beat him by moving around him.

Tiger has a 53-15-3 record, including 25 knockouts. Torres' record is 39-1-1 including 27 knockouts. His only defeat was a fifth round kayo by hard-hitting Florentino Fernandez in San Juan, P.R., May 26, 1963.

A year before, the wide hooking Fernandez met Tiger head-on and was chopped up in six rounds.

If Tiger upsets Torres, he'll become the second middleweight champion to also capture the light heavyweight crown. Bob Fitzsimmons completed that feat 63 years ago. Torres' four light heavy defenses in a year equals the record set by Maxie Rosenbloom in 1933.

Yuba City '5' Dumps Redwood In Tourney

I-J Special Report

YUBA CITY — A 6-6 center named Marc Benson, two cold quarters, a cold night from the field and not enough rebounds chopped down Redwood's basketball team in the first round of the Yuba City Tournament here, as the Giants lost to the host Yuba City High School Honkers, 66-81.

The Honkers came through loud and clear, as they outshot the Giants, 45 per cent to 31 per cent, outrebounded them, 51-40 and let the 6-6 Benson run wild.

Benson hit on 12 of 21 field goal attempts and added five of eight free throws while hauling down 19 rebounds and finishing with 29 points.

The Giants' one-two punch of Andre Horn and Jack Fitzhenry came through again but not often enough. Fitzhenry hit on only four of 22 field goal attempts but cashed in on 14 of 17 free throws for 22 points while Horn hit on 8 of 25 from the field and added four free throws for 20 points.

The Giants dropped behind, 8-12 in the first period, got hot in a wild second period and trailed 35-42 at the half. But they chilled again in the third period and trailed 45-60 before rising for a 21-point final period effort.

The loss was Redwood's fourth against four losses, and its third straight.

Redwood	8	27	10	21	—66
Yuba City	12	30	18	21	—81

Redwood Scoring—Jack Fitzhenry, 4-14-22; Andre Horn, 8-4-20; Barry Stockwell, 4-0-8; Jim Peters, 1-0-2; Tom Seidenberg, 4-0-8; Alan Fritz, 3-0-6. Totals: 24-18-66.

Yuba City Scoring — Benson, 12-5-29; Atkinson, 5-5-15; Wheeler, 3-1-7; Carter, 0-2-2; Ortiz, 7-3-17; Smith, 1-1-3; Dedman, 3-1-7; White, 0-1-1. Totals: 31-19-81.

Key Tilt On Tap Tomorrow

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The staunch defensive unit that has carried St. Louis' flickering title hopes on its broad shoulders for six weeks in the National Football League will be battling for a half a loaf tomorrow.

Not only must the Cardinal defenders handle Cleveland in their survival test, but the New ork Giants' defense —mast maligned in NFL history —must turn back Dallas' potent attack Sunday if St. Louis is to sidestep elimination in the Eastern Conference stretch race.

The Cowboys, leading the East by a full game going into the final weekend of the season, can lock up their first division championship if second-place St. Louis doesn't get past the Browns. Even if the Cards win their game, Dallas will need only a tie at New York to finish on top.

TWIN THREATS

Stacked against the St. Louis defense, which has kept the Cards alive since quarterback Charley Johnson's knee caved in at New York on Nov. 6, will be Cleveland's twin touchdown threats, quarterback Frank Ryan and hard-running Leroy Kelly.

Ryan has passed for 25 touchdowns and Kelly has run for 15, both tops in the league. Kelly also leads the NFL in rushing yardage.

The Browns, ousted from the Eastern race by Philadelphia last Sunday, have nothing to lose. A victory over St. Louis, however, would shoot them into the NFL Runner-up Bowl as well as eliminating the Cardinals.

Regardless of the outcome at St. Louis tomorrow, the Cowboys figure to score often enough at New York to earn the host spot in the NFL title game against Green Bay's Western Conference kings Jan. 1. The Giants, whose 1-11-1 record is their worst ever, have yielded a record 484 points, including 55 to Dallas in their earlier meeting.

The Washington Redskins, who stalled Dallas 34-31 last week, entertain Philadelphia in their season finale Sunday while Minnesota visits Chicago, Green Bay is at Los Angeles, Baltimore at San Francisco and Pittsburgh at Atlanta.

Boston is at New York tomorrow in a key American Football League game. Sunday, the AFL winds up its regular schedule with Denver at Buffalo, Kansas City at San Diego and Houston at Miami.

OFFENSIVE GUNS

Terry Nofsinger, who has been filling in for Johnson at quarterback, and Rookie of the Year Johnny Roland are St. Louis' offensive guns. Nofsinger, unable to click in his first three starts, connected on 17 of 35 passes last week but lost to rookie QB Randy Johnson and the Atlanta Falcons 16-10.

Roland has run for 665 yards, completed five of seven option passes for 130, caught 20 passes for 203 and returned punts and kickoffs for an additional 424.

Safetyman Larry Wilson, who tops the NFL with nine interceptions, keys the St. Louis defense. Cleveland's Ross Fichtner and Mike Howell, with eight pass thefts apiece, could make trouble for Nofsinger.

Rich, Young Texan Gets New Orleans NFL Franchise

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John W. Mecom Jr. and his associates will cough up $8.5 million for 42 players that 14 National Football League teams don't want, plus more money for salaries, but they stand to gross as much as $3.5 million the first season as owners of the league's New Orleans team.

It took the league 45 days to make up its mind about an owner after awarding the franchise to New Orleans. In the next 45 days Mecom — finally the unanimous choice — must have an organization ready to draft colin New Orleans — nowhere else — and got it after many anxious moments," Mecom said yesterday following the announcement of his selection. "We must get busy."

Mecom is 27, blue-eyed, dark-haired and ruggedly handsome. He played college football and has so much money that neither he, nor his children's children's children would ever have to lift a finger.

Mecom lives in Houston, Tex. and will continue to do so. But some 90 per cent of his family's extensive oil holdings are in Louisiana and Mecom says he spends "65 to 90 per cent" of his time in Louisiana.

"John Mecom Jr.'s interest in sports and his great oil holdings will be a tremendous asset to the NFL," Rozelle said.

In picking Mecom, the NFL bypassed four New Orleans millionaires — plus another Texan — who had also applied for the franchise.

Among them: Jack Sanders, once a player for the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers and later a college coach who then became a wealthy businessman.

Rozelle said Mecom had asked 19 Louisiana residents to become minority stockholders and Mecom said he may add a few more.

They include jazz trumpeter Al Hirt; Dave Dixon, who started the campaign six years ago to snare a pro team for the city; and C. J. Dejoie, a publisher, and Norman Francis, an educator, both Negroes.

Rozelle confirmed the purchase price as $8.5 million. That will be distributed among all NFL members except Atlanta for the 42 players the New Orleans team will pick in the veteran draft.

New Orleans will be allowed three from each team, which can freeze 29 before the first choice is made.

Mecom doesn't have to pay the $8.5 million in one lump sum. It can be made in installments over a five year period.

San Rafael Freshmen Cagers Defeat Drake

The San Rafael High School freshman team beat Drake Wednesday night at San Rafael, 47-23. San Rafael now has a 4-1 record.

Leading San Rafael was James Wade with 16, and Al Kovleff had nine for Drake.

Marin A.C. To Compete In Marathon

Runners from the Marin Athletic Club, fresh from a third place finish in the Western Hemisphere Marathon, will be trying for top honors Sunday in the Northern California Marathon Championships at Point Reyes.

Marin A.C. tied for third with Santa Monica Athletic Assn. last Sunday in the Western Hemisphere event at Culver City. The two teams had 35 points. The 14-team competition was won by Culver City A.C., with 18 points in the inverted scoring system.

Carl Jensen of Novato was top Marin A.C. performer in the Culver City event, covering the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 42 minutes and 30 seconds, good for 13th place.

Results of the other Marin A.C. entrants:

Ray Menzie of Mill Valley, 21st, 2:50:38; Darron Walton of Novato, 25th, 2:53:21; John Noonan of Novato, 28th, 2:56:12; Mark Reese of Sacramento, 43rd, 3:02:00.

A total of 234 runners competed in the event, sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union. Between 50 and 60 runners are expected to compete Sunday in the Point Reyes race, scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

St. Vincent's Wins

The St. Vincent's Eagles topped the Novato frosh, 31-18 for its second basketball win of the season against two losses. Ron Meyers showed the way on offense with 15 points, while Ed Breeze, Leroy Leonardt and Steve Black starred on defense.

Jack Martin Spills The Pins For 256-636 At Greenrbae

Martin, a milk truck driver, rolled a 636 series and a big game of 256 in the 865 Scratch League to snare high honors for the past week's league bowling at Greenbrae Lanes.

Martin, a 186 average bowler, also had games of 212 and 168. Steve Anderson was also among the leaders with an 814 four-game series topped by a 225 game in the 525 Masters Trio.

For the women, Lil Scotto rolled a 205-568 series of three in the Tavernettes League, Marilyn Epidendio had a 201-737 four-game set in the 525 Masters, and Jean Snyder rolled a 220 line in the Gutter Belles.

Lots Of Talk, Little Action On The City's Sports Facilities

HANLEY

San Francisco sports facilities are "deficient." So said a Chamber of Commerce report that was made early this year after a 12 months study of Kezar Stadium, Candlestick Park, Civic Auditorium and the Cow Palace.

"Each site is deficient in varying degrees in customer satisfaction," was the delicately phrased conclusion of the report which, like a number of other reports made on the situation, now is collecting dust in City Hall archives.

"Unless San Francisco is willing to take some action we are going to say goodbye to some other sports," warned the C of C after San Francisco's ice hockey team changed its name to California Seals and moved to Oakland's new multi-million dollar sports complex.

JUST WHAT other sports the C of C had in mind is not clear. The Giants, 49ers and Warriors, while uphappy about a number of inconveniences, aren't going to take a hike.

The Giants can't move from Candlestick Park without breaching a 35-year baseball lease but they would like to see their landlord clean up the place.

THE 49ERS would like to move from Kezar to Candlestick provided Candlestick changes are made. Preliminary plans for an extension of Candlestick's second deck from left to right field in a sweeping circle were discussed some months ago at a dinner meeting to which Mayor Jack Shelley invited Lou Spadia of the 49ers and Chub Feeney of the Giants.

ARCHITECT JOHN BOLLES, whose original design of Candlestick envisioned its ultimate completion into an all-purpose stadium, also attended the meeting. So did representatives of San Francisco's Park-Recreation Commission.

Following the meeting Bolles put the plans on paper, Spadia toured Candlestick a couple of times with Feeney, and there were hints from all interested parties that the 49ers would be in Candlestick by 1967, surely 1968.

THEN EVERYBODY seemingly forgot the whole thing. As yet, not one new nail has been driven or one new bucket of concrete poured at Candlestick. Perhaps everyone is wondering how to present the plan of financing, an estimated $7 million for completion of Candlestick's upper deck.

So another year has come and almost gone with lots of talk about the "deficiency" of San Francisco sports facilities but little action.

Lou Saban Is New Boss Of Broncos

DENVER (AP) — Gerald H. Phipps, owner of the Denver Broncos, said today that Lou Saban has agreed to terms of a 10-year contract offered to him to become coach and general manager of the American Football League team.

Saban's resignation as University of Maryland football coach was announced by the school earlier today.

"This clears the way for him to come to Denver," Phipps said.

He added that Saban will be in Denver Monday to sign the contract.

Kansas State Names New Grid Coach

His four-year appointment was announced by President James A. McCain. No salary was announced.

He succeeds Doug Weaver, who resigned in November after seven unsuccessful years.

Novato Wrestlers Beat Berkeley In Dual Meet

In a big collision of Bay Area wrestling powers, Novato knocked off potent Berkeley, 28-24, in a dual meet at Novato Wednesday.

The big win was Novato's sixth straight dual meet victory without a loss.

Bruce Lamb and John Stewart set the pace with pin victories while Ken and Kirt Donaldsen, Steve Collins, Ron Sparkling and Bob McCown grabbed verdicts by decisions.

The Novato jayvees racked the Berkeley junior varsity, 38-7.

The Tamalpais Indians were not as fortunate as they lost to Vallejo in a dual meet, 24-31.

THE TOP COMEBACK

Los Angeles Ram fullback Dick Bass, who missed much of last year's season with injuries, gets ready for a practice session in a happy mood after learning he was named NFL's comeback player of the year by Associated Press. The former Vallejo High School star is the league's second best rushed with 1,041 yards. (AP Wirephoto)

Texas, Mississippi Meet In Bluebonnet Bowl Tomorrow

HOUSTON (AP) — Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi says his Rebels will have to find a way to stop Texas, racehorse tailback Chris Gilbert if they hope to beat the Longhorns in tomorrow's eighth Bluebonnet Bowl.

"I saw Texas' last five games on film and no team has a better tailback than Gilbert," Vaught said. "We're going to have to do something, but I don't know what. I imagine we will have to keep changing our defense out there Saturday."

Gilbert, a sophomore from Houston, rushed for 1,080 yards this season in leading Texas to a 6-4 record and a Bluebonnet Bowl date with the Rebels.

However, the 175-pounder is expected to get his biggest test against a defense-minded Mississippi team that allowed only 74.1 yards rushing per game in compiling an 8-2 record. The Rebels shut out five of their 10 opponents.

Mississippi worked out yesterday at Rice University Stadium, site of the game. Coach Darrell Royal and his Longhorns arrive today. Royal said the entire squad of 70 players would make the trip.

The weatherman has indicated fair and cool weather for the contest and Bluebonnet Bowl officials hope this will result in the first full house for the Houston Classic, which began in 1959.

The stadium's seating capacity is 70,000, but bleacher stands could seat another 2,000 if necessary. The Bluebonnet record is the 68,000 which saw Texas and Alabama battle to a 3-3 tie in 1960.

Vaught said this year's Texas team reminded him of the one which defeated his Rebels, 12-7, in the 1962 Cotton Bowl.

"At this point I believe Texas is the best team in the Southwest Conference, with their injured players back and the experience they have gained with their sophomores," he said. "Texas compares with any team in the United States at this point."

But the veteran Mississippi coach, who has won six Southeastern Conference championships, was quick to praise his own club.

"This is a good football team," he said. "We haven't been satisfied with our offense, let me say that, but we've improved every week."

He said he liked to think the Southeastern Conference plays the best football in the nation.

"Year-in and year-out, we have some fine football teams," he said. "Five of our teams are going to bowls — six if you count Georgia Tech, which is no longer in the conference."

Both Texas and Mississippi will be appearing in their 15th post season contest and it is the 10th straight for the Rebels.

Mississippi won its last six games this year after back to back losses to nationally ranked Alabama and Georgia. Texas won four of its last five games.

The game will be nationally televised (ABC) with the Houston area blacked out.

HAFB To Host Cage Tourney

Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders, with an 11-1 won-lost record to their credit to date, will host the third annual Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament Dec. 19-21.

Seven college freshman teams will be guests of the holiday games: San Francisco State, Fresno State, Sacramento State, Chico State, Humboldt State, University of California at Davis and University of Nevada.

Hamilton has won the past two tourneys, which featured all-military teams, and is favored to win again this year against the college frosh teams.

At least four games will be played each day of the double elimination, admission-free tournament, the starting times of which are: 1:30, 3, 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Aussie Net Duo Wins Over American Gals

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — The top-seeded Australian pair of Lesley Turner and Judy Tegart proved too strong a combination today for Americans Nancy Richey of Dallas and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco in the women's doubles finals of the South Australian Tennis Championships. The Australians won 7-5, 6-4.

The first set saw the Americans challenge every point. The games went with service to 5-5, when the Australians held their own, and they broke the Americans to make them one set up.

It was another tough struggle in the second set, with neither pair gaining a real advantage until after the ninth game. Leading 5-4, the Australians broke Miss Richey's service to win the set and the match.

Australia's Davis Cup doubles hopefuls John Newcombe and Tony Roche did little to enhance their prospects by going down in four sets in the mens doubles finals. Another Australian pair, Owen Davidson and Bill Bowrey, defeated Newcombe and Roche 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7.

After what looked like a runaway win for Roche and Newcombe with their 6-3 victory in the first set, the slump set in and they lacked teamwork, muffing easy shots. The other pair, scenting victory, tightened their game and won the next three sets in a row.

In the mixed doubles semifinals, Claude de Gronkel, of Sweden and Francoise Durr of France defeated Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Miss Richey 6-2, 6-4 and Roche and Miss Tegart defeated Ray Ruffels and Jan O'Neill of Australia 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

Ron And Don Stroke 71s

Ron Cerrudo and Don Hawken, of San Rafael, two of the top amateur golfers in the Bay Area, both fired 71s in the Northern California Open at Danville yesterday to trail the leaders by four strokes.

Trailing by one were Scotty McBeath, Jim Wiechers and Bob Moore at 68 while Dave Cogdell had a 35-34-69 and pro George Archer, who has collected $60,000 on the tour this year had a 70, along with Guy Bill and Bill Isbel.

Cerrudo had a 35-36 and Hawken a 33-38.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS — Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. McKinnon of Forest Knolls looked at a wedding photograph of themselves as they prepared to celebrate the 50th anniversary of that wedding.
(Independent-Journal photo)

MARIN WEATHER BETTER

Golden Wedding Pair Recalls Dakota Cold

If anyone in Marin appreciates the salubrious climate, it's Jay A. McKinnon of Forest Knolls.

"I used to keep the bus in the heated garage all night, then start in up and keep that old engine running for 18 hours all day. Never let it stop till it was back in the garage," said McKinnon, now happily retired in Forest Knolls.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon will celebrate their Golden Wedding next Wednesday, and a special party is set for Sunday when their two sons and their wives will visit, Gaylord from Colorado Springs, Colo., and Harvey from Portland, Ore.

The McKinnons were married Dec. 21, 1916, in Reynolds, N.D. Jay was a farmer; his future wife taught a one-room school in Cooperstown.

Mrs. McKinnon looks back on her six years as a school teacher with pleasure.

"I taught 34 pupils in the first eight grades," she recalled. "It was the traditional one-room school, heated by a big pot-bellied stove. But it didn't have a bell on the roof, I had a handbell I rang. Always wish I'd kept it, but of course, I had to hand it on to the next teacher."

Was she a strict teacher? "Well, I wouldn't say I was too strict — but they certainly minded me."

The McKinnons moved to Minot in 1922, where Jay was a carpenter for five years, then a city bus driver for 16. In 1942 recruiters came to town seeking men for war work at Marinship in Sausalito.

"I'd always heard a lot about California," recalled McKinnon, "so came to Marinship and worked as a chipper leadman at the shipyard." Mrs. McKinnon and the children followed and lived in Marin until 1945, when the family moved back to North Dakota and ran a grocery store.

"But we'd always had California in mind, and we had to get away from the cold," said Mrs. McKinnon. In 1951, they moved back to Marin County and bought their present property on Morales Avenue in Forest Knolls.

Both 75 years old, the McKinnons are in excellent health, which they attribute to the Marin climate. "We'd never go back to the cold weather again," laughed Mrs. McKinnon.

Chinese believe wisdom increases with age and the older a man is the more respect he commands.

Juvenile Hall Playing Field Work Asked

The Marin County Safety Commission yesterday recommended that the playing field at Juvenile Hall be resurfaced and returfed.

They took the action after learning that two counselors recently were injured in spills while playing touch football with boys at the hall.

Counselor Tony Astengo is still in Marin General Hospital in traction for a back injury suffered when a youth fell on top of him.

Ira Okun, Juvenile Hall superintendent reported that Astengo, weighing 150 pounds, was under the youth, who weighed 200 pounds.

That case was not officially before the commission, but Okun reported it to make his point that the field, now hard and rocky, should be returfed.

Before the commission was the injury suffered by Robert D. Atterberry parttime group counselor who bruised and scraped his right leg in a fall. An infection followed, causing loss of three working days.

The commission ruled that Atterberry had suffered the injury as result of an occupational hazard and should receive compensation.

Commissioner Mansfield Lewis commented that injuries to counselors seemed to occur frequently, but he could recall few injuries to the youths. Okun said the counselors did seem to suffer more injuries, but emphasized that the older counselors do not take part. Both Atterberry and Astengo are very athletic, he said.

Cave Explorers Seeking Support

NEW YORK (UPI) —A special underground movement is seeking official support. Russell H. Gurnee told a pre-college youth science seminar at the Explorers Club that while mountain climbers are free to clamber about in national and state parks, spelunkers, or cave explorers, are discouraged. Cave exploring is less dangerous, he maintains, although he says it can be hazardous without the guidance of an experienced speleologist.

Gurnee is a past president of the National Speleological Society, which is trying to convince authorities to make more caves available for exploration.

Employment Exams Listed

A statewide Civil Service examination for employment counselor positions was announced today by Edwin W. Ayer, manager of the San Rafael office of the California State Employment Service.

Pay range for the job is $644 to $783 a month, and the examination will be given by the State Personnel Board on Jan. 14. Deadline for filing applications is Dec. 23.

Application forms and information about the scope of the test can be obtained from the San Rafael office at 805 E Street.

Applicants must have a master's degree in the behavorial sciences or be registered for appropriate graduate courses.

The port at Liverpool, Eng., has over seven miles of docks to accommodate ships.

West Marin Plan, Bolinas Harbor On County Agenda

The West Marin plan and the Bolinas Harbor District master plan will both be up for discussion by the Marin County Planning Commission Monday.

The commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Discussion of the West Marin plan, sent back to the planning commission by supervisors for further study, is Item 15 on Monday's agenda. Discussion of the Bolinas Harbor proposal is scheduled as Item 16. Both will probably come up during the afternoon session.

Discussion of the East Mill Valley Plan, prepared for the city by consultants several months ago, is Item 2 on the agenda.

Development of the second phase of the road into Marincello is scheduled as Item 5, but the agenda notes that Frouge Corp., the developer, has asked continuance until Jan. 9.

Item 11 and set for discussion at the start of the afternoon session at 2 p.m. is San Geronimo Valley Properties' proposed 15-lot tract on 18 acres just east of the intersection of Nicasio Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Item 13 is discussion of a 61-lot subdivision on 6.6 acres in a cluster development planned on Quarry Road near McNear's Beach by the Draper Corp.

Item 17 is further discussion of the Muskrat Corp.'s proposed 11 home development on 15 acres on the northwest shore of Bolinas Lagoon.

Youth Is Certified To Juvenile Court

Kenneth Michael Giakovmis, 20, charged with two counts of burglary, was certified to Marin Juvenile Court yesterday by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

Giakovmis, of 10 Gary Way, Fairfax, is charged with burglary of Martin and Harris Appliance Service at 1604 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last Friday, and of Texaco Service Station at 2400 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, on Nov. 19.

Driver Fined $184

Frenchie Allen Blankenship, 42, of 1203 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was fined $184 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. San Anselmo police arrested him on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on Monday.

Defendant Not At His Hearing

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley did not appear before the Marin County Safety Commission yesterday for scheduled hearings on an auto accident Nov. 15 in San Rafael in which Bradley's car hit the rear of one that stopped suddenly on a street.

The hearing was continued until next month. Commissioner Martin E. Nelson conceded that Bradley, who ran against Coroner-elect Donovan O. Cooke, might no longer be in county employ next month.

Marin A.C. To Compete In Marathon

Runners from the Marin Athletic Club, fresh from a third place finish in the Western Hemisphere Marathon, will be trying for top honors Sunday in the Northern California Marathon Championships at Point Reyes.

Marin A.C. tied for third with Santa Monica Athletic Assn. last Sunday in the Western Hemisphere event at Culver City. The two teams had 35 points. The 14-team competition was won by Culver City A.C., with 18 points in the inverted scoring system.

Carl Jensen of Novato was top Marin A.C. performer in the Culver City event, covering the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 42 minutes and 30 seconds, good for 13th place.

Results of the other Marin A.C. entrants:

Ray Menzie of Mill Valley, 21st, 2:50:38; Darron Walton of Novato, 25th, 2:53:21; John Noonan of Novato, 28th, 2:56:12; Mark Reese of Sacramento, 43rd, 3:02:00.

A total of 234 runners competed in the event, sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union. Between 50 and 60 runners are expected to compete Sunday in the Point Reyes race, scheduled to start at 9 a.m.

St. Vincent's Wins

The St. Vincent's Eagles topped the Novato frosh, 31-18 for its second basketball win of the season against two losses. Ron Meyers showed the way on offense with 15 points, while Ed Breeze, Leroy Leonardt and Steve Black starred on defense.

Jack Martin Spills The Pins For 256-636 At Greenbrae

Martin, a milk truck driver, rolled a 636 series and a big game of 256 in the 865 Scratch League to snare high honors for the past week's league bowling at Greenbrae Lanes.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS — Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. McKinnon of Forest Knolls looked at a wedding photograph of themselves as they prepared to celebrate the 50th anniversary of that wedding.

MARIN WEATHER BETTER

Golden Wedding Pair Recalls Dakota Cold

If anyone in Marin appreciates the salubrious climate, it's Jay A. McKinnon of Forest Knolls.

"I used to keep the bus in the heated garage all night, then start in up and keep that old engine running for 18 hours all day. Never let it stop till it was back in the garage," said McKinnon, now happily retired in Forest Knolls.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon will celebrate their Golden Wedding next Wednesday, and a special party is set for Sunday when their two sons and their wives will visit, Gaylord from Colorado Springs, Colo., and Harvey from Portland, Ore.

The McKinnons were married Dec. 21, 1916, in Reynolds, N.D. Jay was a farmer; his future wife taught a one-room school in Cooperstown.

Mrs. McKinnon looks back on her six years as a school teacher with pleasure.

"I taught 34 pupils in the first eight grades," she recalled. "It was the traditional one-room school, heated by a big pot-bellied stove. But it didn't have a bell on the roof, I had a hand-bell I rang. Always wish I'd kept it, but of course, I had to hand it on to the next teacher."

Was she a strict teacher? "Well, I wouldn't say I was too strict — but they certainly minded me."

The McKinnons moved to Minot in 1922, where Jay was a carpenter for five years, then a city bus driver for 16. In 1942 recruiters came to town seeking men for war work at Marinship in Sausalito.

"I'd always heard a lot about California," recalled McKinnon, "so came to Marinship and worked as a chipper leadman at the shipyard." Mrs. McKinnon and the children followed and lived in Marin until 1945, when the family moved back to North Dakota and ran a grocery store.

"But we'd always had California in mind, and we had to get away from the cold," said Mrs. McKinnon. In 1951, they moved back to Marin County and bought their present property on Morales Avenue in Forest Knolls.

Both 75 years old, the McKinnons are in excellent health, which they attribute to the Marin climate. "We'd never go back to the cold weather again," laughed Mrs. McKinnon.

Chinese believe wisdom increases with age and the older a man is the more respect he commands.

Juvenile Hall Playing Field Work Asked

The Marin County Safety Commission yesterday recommended that the playing field at Juvenile Hall be resurfaced and returfed.

They took the action after learning that two counselors recently were injured in spills while playing touch football with boys at the hall.

Counselor Tony Astengo is still in Marin General Hospital in traction for a back injury suffered when a youth fell on top of him.

Ira Okun, Juvenile Hall superintendent reported that Astengo, weighing 150 pounds, was under the youth, who weighed 200 pounds.

That case was not officially before the commission, but Okun reported it to make his point that the field, now hard and rocky, should be returfed.

Before the commission was the injury suffered by Robert D. Atterberry parttime group counselor who bruised and scraped his right leg in a fall. An infection followed, causing loss of three working days.

The commission ruled that Atterberry had suffered the injury as result of an occupational hazard and should receive compensation.

Commissioner Mansfield Lewis commented that injuries to counselors seemed to occur frequently, but he could recall few injuries to the youths. Okun said the counselors did seem to suffer more injuries, but emphasized that the older counselors do not take part. Both Atterberry and Astengo are very athletic, he said.

Cave Explorers Seeking Support

NEW YORK (UPI) —A special underground movement is seeking official support. Russell H. Gurnee told a pre-college youth science seminar at the Explorers Club that while mountain climbers are free to clamber about in national and state parks, spelunkers, or cave explorers, are discouraged. Cave exploring is less dangerous, he maintains, although he says it can be hazardous without the guidance of an experienced speleologist.

Gurnee is a past president of the National Speleological Society, which is trying to convince authorities to make more caves available for exploration.

Employment Exams Listed

A statewide Civil Service examination for employment counselor positions was announced today by Edwin W. Ayer, manager of the San Rafael office of the California State Employment Service.

Pay range for the job is $644 to $783 a month, and the examination will be given by the State Personnel Board on Jan. 14. Deadline for filing applications is Dec. 23.

Application forms and information about the scope of the test can be obtained from the San Rafael office at 805 E Street.

Applicants must have a master's degree in the behavorial sciences or be registered for appropriate graduate courses.

West Marin Plan, Bolinas Harbor On County Agenda

The West Marin plan and the Bolinas Harbor District master plan will both be up for discussion by the Marin County Planning Commission Monday.

The commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Discussion of the West Marin plan, sent back to the planning commission by supervisors for further study, is Item 15 on Monday's agenda. Discussion of the Bolinas Harbor proposal is scheduled as Item 16. Both will probably come up during the afternoon session.

Discussion of the East Mill Valley Plan, prepared for the city by consultants several months ago, is Item 2 on the agenda.

Development of the second phase of the road into Marincello is scheduled as Item 5, but the agenda notes that Frouge Corp., the developer, has asked continuance until Jan. 9.

Item 11 and set for discussion at the start of the afternoon session at 2 p.m. is San Geronimo Valley Properties' proposed 15-lot tract on 18 acres just east of the intersection of Nicasio Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Item 13 is discussion of a 61-lot subdivision on 6.6 acres in a cluster development planned on Quarry Road near McNear's Beach by the Draper Corp.

Item 17 is further discussion of the Muskrat Corp.'s proposed 11 home development on 15 acres on the northwest shore of Bolinas Lagoon.
